THE GERMAN KITCHEN

Methods of "the Most Domesticated Women In the World."

NEATNESS IS PARAMOUNT.

The Science of Cooking and Keeping Clean—No Grimy Dish Rag For the Neat Hausfrau — Bunch of Dried Grass Instead.

German ladies are proud of being called "the most domesticated women in the world," and certainly, from the German empress down to the most humble hausfrau, the German women have due regard for what the German emperor called the three K's—kinder, kuchen and kirchen (children, kitchen and church). The way in which German women have made domesticity into a science was well illustrated at a recent domestic exhibition, where the very newest domestic appliances and many inventions to save time and trouble were surrounded day by day by interested crowds of housewives.

Not for the German woman is the dishcloth that has been used many times, that has reposed in an insanitary heap on the kitchen sink and that is, more often than not, when left to the mercies of "merely Mary Ann," simply a dirty and unsightly remnant. The German hausfrau has a bunch of dried grass, which she leaves to soak in a dish of pure cold water when she has finished with it. The grass does its work better, lasts longer and is much cleaner in use than any cloth.

A German woman doesn't hang things from the shelves which are also stocked, and if you think for a moment you will recall that it is this habit of ours that causes so much breakage and vexation of spirit in the American kitchen. A good plan, too, is that of having glass doors to the dresser shelves, for think of the many weekly dusting downs and incidental breakages this plan saves. In a corner there is always the kitchen rubbish box, which yawns complacently and receives all the rubbish except the refuse food, thus keeping the kitchen scrupulously clean.

The German stove always stands like a great iron table in a convenient part of the room, a spot from which all the little dressers and ice cupboards can be readily reached. It has, too, numerous little apertures for the saucepans and kettles to stand on, and these are all composed of a variety of iron rings, by the removal of which, one after the other, the heat may be regulated to any degree of intensity. The firing of these stoves is managed by briquettes of pressed coal, perfectly clean to the touch and so cheap that the cooking of a large family can be performed for twopence a day.

A new and most ingenious apparatus for cleaning windows consists of a flat piece of board furnished with an india rubber edge. The window is first wiped with a wet cloth, then the board is drawn across it, and, lo, it is as clean and clear as crystal. A new patent household ladder, furnished with a movable platform, on which a servant may stand to dust the walls or ceiling or clean windows, is a very ingenious contrivance. The platform is furnished with railings round it, so that one cannot fall off, and is so safe that a child might stand on it. It can also be adjusted to any height on the ladder.

Two Seasonable and Delicious Desserts For the June Dinner.

Strawberry Custard Pie.—Line a deep pie dish with good paste, fill it with uncooked rice or pieces of stale bread, and put on a top cover of the paste, but do not press the edges down. Bake it in a hot oven, and when done let get perfectly cold. Lift off the top carefully, pour out the rice and fill the pastry shell with fine, ripe strawberries, sprinkled with powdered sugar, then pour gently over the berries a large cupful of very cold rich boiled custard. Put on the pastry top, dust it with powdered sugar and serve. Do not put the berries and custard in the pie until time to serve.

Strawberries in Custard.—Make a rich boiled custard with six beaten eggs (omitting the whites of two), one small cupful of granulated sugar, a pinch of salt, one quart of rich milk and half a cupful of chopped blanched almonds. When done, remove at once from the fire and flavor with one teaspoonful of lemon extract. Put a layer of fine, ripe strawberries in a deep glass dish, sprinkle liberally with sugar and pour over a layer of the custard; add more strawberries and sugar and pour over the remainder of the custard. Whip the whites of the eggs to a very stiff snow, beat in two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and heap over the custard.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured a Severe Case of Anaemia and Weakness

Anaemia—poor watery blood — is the cause of most of the misery which afflicts mankind. The housewife especially falls an easy prey to it. The long hours and confinement necessary in performing her household duties sap her strength. She becomes run down and often suffers extreme misery. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the housewife's friend. They make new blood—lots of it—and pure blood banishes all women's ailments. Mrs. E. St. Germain, wife of a well known farmer of St. John des Chaillons, Que., found new strength through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "A year ago I was extremely weak. I could not attend to my work. I suffered from dizzy spells; my head ached; my blood was poor; I had cough and the doctors feared I was going into consumption. I followed their treatment for a time but without relief. I grew discouraged and finally gave it up in despair. I was strongly advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills so procured six boxes. Before they were all gone I felt relief. The headaches and dizziness became less frequent, and I felt a little stronger. I continued the pills for a couple of months, at the end of which time I had gained in weight; the pains had left me; my appetite was good, and I felt as strong and well as ever I did. I cannot say too much in favour of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I certainly owe my good health to them."

The woman in the house, the man in the office, the boy or girl in the school will always find a friend in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new rich red blood and good blood banishes rheumatism, general debility, kidney troubles and all those aches and pains, caused by over work or over study; Good blood builds up the tired, unstrung nerves and makes pale thin cheeks rosy and healthy. These pills are sold at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by all medicine dealers or by mail, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MILLINERY HINTS.

Two Variations of the Popular Poke Shape.

The becoming little poke in the front of so many of the hats this season gives a far softer effect than the stiff, straight lines of other seasons. Two hats are shown in the accompanying cut which would not be difficult for the home milliner to copy. The first is of black satin braid straw, with two large ostrich plumes at the left side and two pinkish brown roses on the opposite side of the brim. Satin ribbon is drawn around the crown, and there is a large bow of it under the brim in back.

The second will be found to be a shape that is becoming to nearly every one. Its bending brim seems to give just the right lines, and its low trimming is good. The straw is a dark blue braid, the roses are a cream yellow, and the loops at each side are of blue ribbon of a lighter shade. Foliage is combined with the roses and a full bow of ribbon is used in back.

Mice Like Bird Seed.

Did you know how easily mice are lured by bird seed? It's rather a suggestive idea in the setting of traps. If a deep ruffle is tied tightly under the cage and held over the feed cups by an elastic it will help to keep them away appreciably, and what a little tragedy it must be for the wee canary to see peeping in at him and stealing his provender a mouse, even though he is only of infinitesimal proportions. None of us likes thieves in the night. When a new box of seed is opened, it should be emptied into a clean tin box and the seed poured into the cup through a funnel. In this way none is wasted, and there is no invitation to four footed

GOWNS OF GRADUATES

Hints as to This Season's Costumes For Commencement.

SOME SURPRISINGLY CHEAP.

Many Lovely White Fabrics From Which to Choose—Dainty Dresses From Handkerchief Linen, Persian Lawn and Other Materials.

If for no other reason, woman is needed on school boards because she recognizes the futility of regulation commencement frocks. Every now and then a set of school directors decrees that every high school girl graduate must wear a cap and gown at the graduating exercises of her class. Perhaps some of those men were fathers and were moved to this innovation by an ulterior regard for the privy purse, but it's safe to say their preachments on extravagance do so little good as to scarcely make it worth while to deprive girlhood of one of its time honored privileges—a fluffy, becoming commencement frock.

Undoubtedly there is justice in the criticism that the dressing at graduation has been carried to excess and that some of the class perhaps face the alternative of an uncomfortable feeling of shabbiness or an expense they can ill afford. But things have changed much for the better from the days when a commencement gown meant heavy silks and rich laces and chiffons. Now the filmy lingerie frock is the only one considered for such occasions, and it is surprising how cheaply a really charming gown may be made.

Of course it must be white. Who ever heard of girlhood making her first bow to the workaday world of grownupness in pink or blue or lavender? Such white, lovely fabrics there are to choose from, too, for this all important commencement gown! As it does duty for a best dress all summer and for many an informal affair next winter, it is not such an extravagance after all. Mull, handkerchief linen, embroidered muslins, dotted batistes and swiss are the favorite materials, but equally fresh, dainty costumes can be evolved from plain india linen, dimity or Persian lawn. A very lovely soft sheer dress can be made of Paris muslin, which is wide and can be had in a really nice quality for 35 cents a yard.

When it comes to trimmings, naturally the cost of a gown may be extended indefinitely; but, after all, the prime requisite of a commencement frock is freshness and girlishness, and this desirable result may quite as often be gained by tiny thread tucks, fluffy ruffles of the material and a bit of lace at neck and sleeves as by the most elaborate motifs of lace and embroidery and the intricate trimmings of an imported model. One of the daintiest and prettiest of the lingerie gowns this year has no other trimming than multitudinous tiny tucks and the seams joined by a narrow beading.

AMY VARNUM.

For Round Shoulders.

To remedy round shoulders stand in the usual position and raise the arms sideways, palms up. Hold the head well back, chin in. With the arms thus stretched out on a level with the shoulders describe a circle with them about twelve inches in diameter at the finger tips. During this movement contract the muscles at the back of the neck and about the shoulder blades, holding the chest high and breathing deeply. This exercise, if practiced longer and longer each day, will straighten the back, raise the chest and tend to decrease the waist measure.

A Waste of Good English.

Bobby's mother was often distressed by her small son's lapses from correct speech, all the more because his reports from school were always good.

"Bobby," she said, plaintively, one day, "why do you keep telling Major to 'set up' when you know 'sit up' is what you should say?"

"Oh, well, mother," Bobby answered hastily, "of course I have lots of grammar, but I don't like to waste it on Major when he doesn't know the difference, being a dog."—Youth's Companion.

FASHION BRIEFS.

Reception Toilet — Marlowe Puffs a New Coiffure—New Hats.

A reception toilet is in ivory voileninon over a yellow foundation, the bottom of the skirt beautifully embroidered with white silk cord in a fantastic design.

An exquisite model in white crepe de chine has the hem of the skirt trimmed with a wide fringed trellis work in white silk, whereas the back and bodice are embroidered in white raised silk with a satiny sheen.

For morning wear there is the valkyre in steel gray and shaded blue feathers, and also a simple hat in gray straw, draped round the crown with cretonne ribbon and a voluminous bow. The cretonne, by the bye, matches the flowered waistcoats accompanying the up to date tailor costumes.

Marlowe puffs are the latest offering of the hairdresser to the woman who aims to do her coiffure in a mode both pleasing and bewildering to the person who does not understand how one crown of glory may be twisted into puffs that add two or three inches to the wearer's height, hang in ringlets colonial fashion down her back and wind into tiny curls on her forehead.

Charmingly pretty auto hats—at last! One is a green neapolitan poke, with a scarf of green chiffon folded softly around the high crown and ending in long scarf ends to twist around the neck. The greenness of the hat and trimming is relieved by two cabochons of natural colored straw set into the lower part of the crown on either side near the front.

The charming costume in the cut is of gray and white striped voile trimmed with gray taffeta. The little coat is one of the new cape Etons.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NOT LAID UP, BUT VERY TIRED.

You need a rest; you would take it if you could; your nerves are all upset, your stomach sour, and appetite poor. Urine is dark in color, with a heavy sediment, and bowels irregular. You are on a straight road to a general breakdown, and you will certainly arrive there if you do not take immediate steps to improve your condition. The age of miracles has passed, some diseases are incurable, but you can prevent contracting them. King Palmetto Compound will give you immediate relief. If you wait until Bright's disease develops it may be too late. King Palmetto Compound is not a patent medicine. Its formula is plainly printed. It is the result of scientific knowledge combined with plain common sense. Do not wait until actually laid up. Take King Palmetto Compound now. Give it a trial. SUNSHINE FURNACE is not appreciated by many furnace manufacturers or the general public as much as it should be.

Without the moisture evaporated from the water in the pan, the hot air distributed throughout the house is dry and dusty. Cracks and opens up the furniture—is not fit to breathe into the lungs.

Yet, mind you, some furnace makers place this important water-pan where there is often not enough heat to evaporate the water. Put it out of sight in an awkward position at the side or back, where it cannot readily be filled without being removed—and when filled it would take a juggler to replace it without spilling a big share over himself.

Note the convenient location of the large water-pan of the Sunshine—just above the fuel door. Takes but a moment or two to fill it.

THE AWKWARD COMMON WAY

THE EASY SUNSHINE METHOD

It is placed right in the path of the hot air as it circulates around the dome of the furnace. It is impossible for any heated air to pass out of the registers before extracting its due share of moisture from the water-pan. That means you breathe healthful, clarified air, free from dust and dryness.

For the sake of your furniture, your own health and peace of mind, you should decide on the Sunshine.

If your local dealer does not handle the Sunshine write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

Condemns Practice Of Selling Green Cheese

Mr. John Riddell, President of Peterborough Board, Writes Strong Letter to Canadian Dairymen—Urges Non-acceptance of Green Cheese.

THIS BOARD IS OPPOSED

The practice of shipping green cheese will not be tolerated by the Peterborough Cheese Board this year. The last issue of the Canadian Dairyman contains a letter on this subject from Mr. John Riddell, who comes out strongly against the practice. His letter is as follows:

Ed. The Canadian Dairyman: The shipping of green cheese is a practice in the cheese industry that has become much too common in a number of districts. This is a business transaction that cannot be too strongly condemned by all who desire the prosperity of the cheese industry in Canada.

At a number of the cheese sales reported weekly the week's make is sold. Such cheese are shipped almost immediately to Montreal, where they are received as No. 1. The action of those who, knowing the cheese to be immature, sell, as well as those who receive such cheese, merits the strongest condemnation that can be given to such a practice. So long as buyers will accept delivery of green cheese and pay top prices for it, they will find salesmen ready to deliver. But a remedy for this, how shall it be obtained? I fear that this is not as easy of attainment as it would appear to be, so long as buyers continue to give, in some districts, as high a price for green cheese as they give in other districts for cheese in good shipping condition.

Now, as to remedial measures—1st. That every cheese board see to it that nothing but reasonably cured cheese will be permitted to be sold and shipped from the territory under the jurisdiction of the board.

2nd. That dealers in cheese be urged to not accept green cheese.

The question will arise, how long shall cheese remain in the factory before shipment? To this question I would not give an individual opinion, but I think the general consensus of opinion here is that it should be held for from 10 to 15 days for the newest part of the shipment.

Peterborough Cheese Board is distinctly opposed to the shipping of green goods. Such cheese boards that do not countenance the shipping of green cheese should have some way of putting this fact before the public in Great Britain, who are the consumers of Canadian cheese.

The "Slater Shoe" Is Now A Million Dollar Company

New Stock Issue for the Purpose of Taking Care of the Enormous Expansion of Their Shoe Trade.

DIVIDENDS OF 7 PER CENT

The capitalization of the Slater Shoe Company, under letters patent issued by the Secretary of State will be increased to $1,000,000. Much of the new stock will be taken up by the present shareholders.

The announcement was made a few days ago, and naturally caused some inquiry. President Charles E. Slater, when seen at his office, said that the increase of the capital was rendered necessary by the phenomenal increase in the demand for the trade-marked and price-marked shoe—a demand which receives a new impetus, when the enormous increase in the cost of leather and all shoe materials induced many shoe manufacturers to cheapen and weaken their product. The people sought security in a shoe which bore the maker's seal and the maker's mark of worth.

From a trade of $500,000 in 1904, and $600,000 in 1905, the volume of business of the Slater Shoe Company has since leaped by compound increases of 25 per cent. each year, and will go well over the million mark in 1907. Such a rapid expansion of trade calls for a larger capital investment, more particularly as every sign points to an increase to over one million and a half ($1,500,000) before the end of 1908.

Applications for new Slater Shoe agencies are received almost every business day. It is the company's intention to at once double its present factory capacity. The Montreal plant is equipped with the most modern plant and machinery, and is devoted exclusively to the making of fine Goodyear welt shoes for men and women.

For the six months of the spring season of 1907, the orders taken were well over $575,000, or more than the total business of the company for the whole year of 1904. One traveller in one year booked orders for a quarter of a million dollars' worth of shoes. Of course the contract agency system helped in this, as well as greatly reducing the cost of selling.

The Slater business was founded fifty years ago, in the City of Montreal, and was taken over by the Slater Shoe Company, eight years ago. At that time it was believed that the then plant and premises would suffice for many years to come—for even the most sanguine friend of the company did not anticipate such startling progress. In ten Canadian cities there is to-day a market for a million dollars' worth of Slater Shoes.

The business has been profitable as well as progressive, the shareholders participating in the usual dividend of seven per cent. per annum. The investment is counted one of the most desirable in the line of Canadian industrials.

The directors are receiving numerous inquiries as to whether the public will be given an opportunity to subscribe for some of the unallotted stock. It is said that some of the seven per cent. preferred stock of the company may be offered to the public.

An American capitalist recently appraised the Slater Shoe mark as worth a million dollars—and yet the company had adopted the conservative policy of placing a nominal value on the good will of the business, and the "Seal of Certainty" trade mark. That is to say the "Sign of the Slate" was not included in the company's assets as having any large monetary value.

When the Slater Shoe Company purchased the business of George T. Slater & Sons eight years ago, the good-will and trade marks were then valued at about $100,000. This amount has been offset by earnings added to the Reserve Fund, created for that purpose.

A Boston shoe manufacturer a few months ago disposed of a trade-mark for $2,000,000, and it is said that a valuation of $5,000,000 has been placed on the trade mark rights of another American shoe concern. Both of these companies have taken lessons from and adopted certain systems formulated by the Slater Shoe Company.

As a sound, substantial Canadian enterprise, conducted with initiative and creative talent, of a high order, there is much in this splendid corporation of which Canadians may well be proud. fd

Orchard On Stand Adds More Tales of Horror.

RAN FACTORY BY BRIGHTON

Steunenberg Murder Climax of Many Atrocious Crimes — Witness Coolly Tells of Manufacturing Bombs—Many Fell Victims — Assassin Lay In Ambush—How Judges Were Stalked to Death.

Boise, June 7.—Harry Orchard, the man who says his true name is Albert Horsley, and who assassinated former Governor Frank Steunenberg at Caldwell, on the night of Dec. 30, 1905, resumed his gruesome story as a witness against William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, in the District Court yesterday morning. The fearsome relation of five years of crime has not been finished. The climax is yet to come, if indeed there can be a climax more terrible than the one already reached in the narrative told by the witness.

First Orchard gave the names of several persons he met in San Francisco when he went there to kill Fred Bradley, formerly manager of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, in the Coeur D'Alenes. Orchard part of the time was known as Barry. On returning to Denver, wearing a soldier's uniform, he called up Pettibone by telephone and told him Bradley was alive, but had lost his sight and probably would be deaf the remainder of his life.

A Living Example.

"Pettibone said that was better than if I had killed him outright—that Bradley would now be a living example," continued the witness. Orchard said he asked for money and received $125 from Pettibone.

Orchard said Haywood next asked him "to go to work on Judge Gabbert of the Supreme Court of Colorado."

"He said Judge Gabbert," Orchard went on, "had been rendering decisions against Moyer, whom we were trying to get out of Telluride on habeas corpus. I went to Judge Gabbert's house with Steve Adams and a shotgun, but we did not see the judge.

"Haywood also wanted us to try again at Governor Peabody, who was about to be re-elected, and to shoot Frank Hearne of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., and Dave Moffatt, president of the First National Bank, who were behind the first against the federation.

He and Adams had no chance to kill these men.

Another Judge Named.

"We were also to get after Judge Goddard, who, Haywood said, was instrumental in defeating the eight-hour bill, which had been declared unconstitutional," Orchard continued.

Orchard said he prepared a bomb in Pettibone's cellar, to place beneath Peabody's bedroom window at Canon City.

Orchard declared that Pettibone gave him $100 before he went to Canon City with the bomb, but that an explanation he had jokingly made in response to a question from a traveling companion, who had heard a clock ticking in the grip with the bomb, caused Pettibone to suggest that the attempt be deferred.

Something to Show.

As Pettibone wanted something pulled off before the convention, to show for the money spent, he and Orchard made a bomb for Judge Gabbert, and placed it in a vacant lot which the judge daily crossed. A wire was left outside of the bomb, to which a pocket book was to be attached, so that anyone picking up the purse would upset the sulphuric acid inside the bomb.

"Pettibone had to go next day to Salt Lake City to attend the convention of the federation. I was afraid to touch the old bomb, so I prepared a new one. As Judge Gabbert started out the next morning I rode ahead of him on a bicycle and fastened the pocket book to the wire. I rode away, heard an explosition an hour afterward. A man named Wally was killed. Judge Gabbert had passed without noticing the pocket book."

He said former Adjutant-General Sherman Bell, who had helped break up a strike, next was selected.

Wanted Too Much Money.

Orchard said Moyer told him they should get rid of Johnny Neville, "who knew too much about the Independence Depot affair and was demanding money." Haywood, Orchard continued, "said we ought to get ex-Governor Steunenberg. He thought that if we got him after letting him go seven or eight years, and then went back to Paterson, N. J., and wrote letters to Judge Gabbert, Judge Goddard, Peabory, Bell and the others, telling them they were not forgotten either, that would have a good effect. Moyer said it would better than killing them.

Ran Cheese Factory.

Brighton, June 7.—Alfred Horsley, alias Harry Orchard, the self-confessed assassin of ex-Governor Steunenberg now a witness in the trial at Boise, Idaho, ran a cheese factory about a mile west of here for a number of years. Not making much of a success at that, he left here for Vancouver about 1896, and has not been heard of since until the present trial opened.

Mutiny In City of Sana on Retreat of the Turks — Water Supply of Town Cut Off—Outbreak at Hodeida—Threat to Bombard the City—Yemen District Is Uniformly Bad.

Constantinople, June 7.—According to the latest reports from Hodeida, a Turkish force of six battalions has suffered a severe defeat at the hands of the Arabs, near Sana, and after the retreat of the Turks the city itself mutinied. Rumors are current that the Arabs, taking advantage of the confusion resulting from the mutiny, succeeded in regaining possession of the capital.

It is not unlikely that the rumors will be confirmed, as the recent news from Yemen has been uniformly bad. It has been known that the communications between Hodeida and Sana were not very good, and that insubordination was rife among the troops. Even at Hodeida there has been trouble with the garrison, and quite recently the water supply of the town was cut off for nearly two days by the mutineers, who went so far as to threaten to bombard the city if their demands were not granted.

Brockville, June 7.—Archie Kennedy, an Alexandria Bay lad, is in the hospital here, suffering from concussion of the brain and a fractured collar-bone, as the result of a fall. He was playing with several companions when some of them dared him to climb a telegraph pole. He reached the top safely, but when astride a cross-bar at the top grasped a live wire and fell to the ground, a distance of 40 feet.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

STOLEN HOTEL CASH BOX FOUND IN BOTTOM OF OTONABEE RIVER

Mystery of Last Week's Robbery at American House Cleared Up by Officer Newhall—Accused Pleaded Guilty and Awaits His Sentence on Monday.

MONEY BOX WAS SMASHED

With a web of evidence tangled about him so tightly that it was hopeless to resist, a young man by the name of Elliott pleaded guilty yesterday evening at a special session of the police court, to having stolen the cash box from the American Hotel on Hunter street, on Friday night of last week, and he now occupies a cell in the county gaol awaiting sentence on Monday. The facts surrounding the robbery, so far as can be learned outside of the official authority, are somewhat singular and remind one of the past when the crime of theft was more in evidence than it is at present, under our improved police protection.

The credit for the arrest of the guilty party falls to P. C. Newhall, whose detective instincts, it is learned were the means of placing the prisoner behind the bars.

The theft of the strong box was committed on Friday night of last week, and for a few days afterwards the whole affair was shrouded in a cloud of mystery. The box contained, the proprietor stated, about $5, composed of coppers, five and ten cent pieces, and one "shin plaster." It was principally by this knowledge that the prisoner, according to reports, was captured yesterday.

Sunk in the River

The police were working on the case for a few days and yesterday P. C. Newhall apparently obtained a clue as he was seen in a canoe on the river, opposite Simcoe street, groping for something in the bottom. There the pieces of the iron money box were found in a few feet of water. The prisoner had apparently broken the box to get the money and to hide his crime had sunk the remains the Otonabee River.

Elliot, it was learned, was seen throwing something into the water and suspicion rested upon him. The "shin plaster" was another stumbling block for him, as it was discovered that he had disposed of it to the crippled man who sits in the alleyway on Hunter street. By some good fortune the shin-plaster again reached Mr. Flynn's hands, and this also led up to the capture of the prisoner. The police officer, it appears, also found out where 25 coppers had been exchanged for silver, and decided to arrest Elliot on suspicion.

prisoner Arrested

In the afternoon of yesterday the police officer was seen going to the home of the prisoner, and shortly afterwards the latter was lodged in a police court cell. A special meeting of the court was held about 5 o'clock, with but a small audience in attendance.

The accused man decided to plead guilty to the theft of the box, and was remanded by Magistrate Dumble until Monday for sentence. He was afterwards taken to the county gaol, where he will be looked after until the beginning of the week.

THREW AN ELECTRIC LIGHT IN BURGLAR'S FACE THIS MORNING

Brave and Prompt Action on the Part of Miss Roxie Nimmo Resulted in Foiling Burglar's Plans.

JUMPED THROUGH WINDOW

Secured Entrance Through a Cellar Window at Three O'clock This Morning, at No. 14 Harvey Street.

With the blaze of an electric light suddenly thrown into his face, and the brave show of resistance made by a young lady who was awakened early this morning by a noise in her bed room, a would-be burglar was frightened away before he could carry out his evident intention of robbing the residence of Dr. Nimmo, 14 Harvey street.

The story of how three ladies put the intruder to rout gives evidence of their bravery. About three o'clock this morning Miss Roxie Nimmo was awakened by hearing someone in her room. She quickly divined that it was a burglar, and, jumping up she turned on the electric light, flashing the bulb in the eyes of the man who was in her room. He was evidently not expecting such a reception and was non plussed, turning on his heels made for the stairs. By this time other members of the household were awake and they joined Miss Nimmo in her pursuit of the burglar. A remark made by another young lady, who was staying at the house, to the effect that they "had better get the gun" put the finishing touch to the now thoroughly frightened intruder with the result that without waiting to find the door he jumped through a window in the cellar, shattering it, of course, into a thousand pieces.

He is described as a short man with red face and light hair, and it is understood that Miss Nimmo would be able to identify him should she see him again.

He secured entrance to the house through a window in the cellar, making his way up to the second story, before he was heard and a stop put to his marauding operations.

That his object was that of robbery there seems little reason to doubt, since, before going to the upper story of the house he ransacked the first floor. It is not thought, however, that he secured anything valuable.

The promptitude and bravery displayed by Miss Nimmo no doubt were responsible for the hasty retreat of the intruder and the circumstance that the intended robbery was not committed.

My Dear Sir,—In view of the unsatisfactory condition of my he now and for a long time past, feel that, in justice to myself a to the party which has on two c casions honoured me with their s fidence, I ought to make an nouncement sufficiently in advan of general provincial election, to p mit my friends to look about for successor to myself.

This announcement will be, and to the effect that it is my intenti to retire at the conclusion of t present Parliamentary term. I w therefore not offer myself again a candidate, nor accept nomina as I find that in my condition health I could not stand the str of a contest in a riding requiri as much travelling as East Pe borough, nor do my duty to the P ing as I should like to do.

It is a pleasure to me to see th the great public undertakings of t late Government are being brou to a successful issue, and that t criticisms then made are provi themselves to be unfounded, and t their policy and their course, mapped out by them, is resulti in the advancement and develop of the Province.

It is also a pleasure to me express my appreciation of the g choice made in selecting Hon. G. Graham as Liberal leader for t Province. He has proven himself capable leader of the party in t Legislature, and his advanced a sound ideas on public policy a his industry and qualities as a pl form speaker will make him a pow and influence in the Province large, and help make the Libe party, even in its short period Opposition, as it was in power, important agent in advancing t building up the Province.

In announcing my retirement which I do with regret, I would thank all those who have given their support and in any way test fied their confidence in my earn endeavour to assist in promoting t best interests of East Peterboro and the Province generally.

I have tried to perform my dut conscientiously, and if I have fa ed in any way, the fault rests h with my head, not my heart.

Hoping that my successor w have the same kindness and con dence that I have experienced b stowed upon him, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,
WM. ANDERSON.

CAMP MEETING IN FULL SWING

Toronto District of Free Methodists Encamped Near Jackson Park—Scene Presented at the Evening Service is a Striking One—The Speakers are Sincere and Earnest.

A large tent rigged up on two roughly hewn cedar poles illuminated dimly by flickering coal oil lamps and containing a strangely varied concourse of people seated in a semi-circle on benches of unsmoothed planks and facing a little platform built of the same material, was the striking scene that met the eyes of an Examiner reporter last night as he wended his way through the trees of the pine grove in which the Toronto District of the Free Methodist Church is holding its annual camp meeting. The experience was one that will be long remembered. The earnestness of the service and the novelty and beauty of the surroundings making a deep impression that will not soon be effaced.

The Free Methodists could hardly have selected a more beautiful spot in which to hold their meetings. The grove in which their camp is pitched, a few minutes' walk from Jackson Park, contains a large number of magnificent pines in the shade of which are the tents of those taking part in the services. The large tent used for assembly purposes, and called by the members of the community, the Tabernacle, is situated in the centre of the group of canvas homes. Last night the sides of the tent were raised and from everywhere came the delicious fragrance of the pines, wafted in on the summer breeze, which banished the odour of burning coal oil, and made the place seem indeed one suitable for the worship of the Creator.

The stillness of the spot was a feature that made an impression upon the reporter. With the exception of the earnest voice of the speaker ringing out on the night air, and an occasional exclamation from some worshipper, there was profound stillness. Even the small boys, some of whom were present as a matter of course, were silent. No rattling of wagons or noise of cars disturbed the worshippers and one could easily imagine himself miles away from the marts of trade.

The weather last night was favourable, the first fine evening the community have had since taking up their residence in the grove early this week. As a result there was a large number of visitors from the city, some to participate in the services, and the majority, perhaps, prompted by curiosity. The visitors could easily be detected by their dress, which formed a sharp contrast to the austere garb worn by the members of the community, the men of which wore no ties or jewellery, while the women are attired in plain, almost severe, straw hats and dull coloured clothing. In the crowd that filled the the tent the women had a decided advantage in numbers. While there was a good representation of the male sex present they, especially the visitors, showed a tendency to keep as close to the back of the tent as possible, while some contented themselves with remaining outside and listening to the remarks of the speaker from there.

Rev. W. H. Reynolds, of Bracebridge, was the preacher at last night's service, and delivered a very earnest address, in which he referred to the luke-warmness existing among those connected with church work. This luke-warmness, he said, existed in the pulpit as well as in the pew. There was a vast amount of mechanical work being done in connection with the church, but the right spirit was not being manifested. The preachers of the old guard were being relegated to the rear, as back numbers, while the minister with the superior education was being pushed into the van guard.

There was a sincerity and earnestness, as well as eloquence, about the speaker, that made a deep impression upon those present. He began his sermon slowly and calmly, but as he proceeded to develop the subject his voice became louder and more insistent, and he seemed to be on fire with sincerity and belief.

At the conclusion of his remarks a testimony meeting was held, in which many of those connected with the camp related the story of their conversion and gave thanks unto the Saviour.

To those who imagine that the camp meeting is nothing less than a picnic, the programme for each day may prove a revelation. The community is awakened every morning at half past five, by the ringing of a bell. At six o'clock sharp they assemble in the Tabernacle and hold a holiness meeting. There is a love feast at nine o'clock and preaching services at 10.30. In the afternoon there is a children's service at 1.30; preaching at 2.30, and a ring meeting at 6.30, and the day's services are brought to a close with a preaching service in the Tabernacle at 7.30 o'clock.

Last evening a large number of connected with the camp held a meeting at the corner of George and Hunter streets, in which the majority of the party gave their testimony. On their return trip on the street car they sang hymns all the way out, with a joyousness that seemed to show that they indeed found happiness in their belief.

AN INTERESTING GATHERING OF FREE METHODISTS

The camp meeting of the Free Methodist church near Jackson Park, which opened on Tuesday, is now in full swing. Despite the unfavourable weather of the earlier part of the week, there was great enthusiasm among the members of the community. The services begin at 6 o'clock a.m., and are continued at frequent intervals during the day.

MR. ANDERSON RETIRES

The retirement of Mr. William Anderson, M. P. P., East Peterborough, as indicated by his letter of resignation to be found elsewhere in this issue, will be regarded as a subject of very genuine regret, not only to his numerous political and personal friends of the Liberal party, but to the many friends, even among his political opponents, who cannot withhold their admiration of the solid and honourable elements of character, which his modest and unobtrusive bearing covered, but did not conceal. Mr. Anderson, in his representative relations to East Peterborough, has been a good but not showy member. He did good work, without ostentation, and it was always known where he was to be found. In the Legislature his good solid knowledge of matters and things municipal, and general also, secured by many years of fruitful experience in Otonabee township, made him a valuable factor in the committee work of the Legislature. His opinion was sought and deferred to, and his invariable quiet courtesy, made him popular and respected by all. He was indefatigable in his attendance upon his legislative duties, while in health, and, although he did not seek prominence as a speaker, yet it is certain that no member of the House became better informed than Mr. Anderson of the merits of the questions under discussion, nor better qualified to cast an intelligent vote. For a long time Mr. Anderson has been in firm health. He has never fully rallied from the acutely serious illness which followed his election campaign of 1904. But he has pluckily held on, and, in spite of physical infirmities — at even the last session — he attended to his legislative duties, till attacked with the illness from which he is still suffering, and from which the Examiner and his many friends hope he will yet recover.

LAUDABLE AMBITION

The Montreal Methodist Conference proposes appointing a lobbyist to operate at the Dominion Provincial capitals during the sessions in promoting legislation and administration looking to "Christian reforms, along lines, municipal, provincial, federal and imperial." The lines specified are: "Better enforcement of existing law; prevention of gambling; preservation of the Sabbath; defence of religious equality; repression of impurity; protection of young girls; banishment of the bar; prohibition for Canada; war on political partisanship; prevention of political corruption; appointment of clean men to public offices."

This ambition is a most worthy one, but the expert "Christian lobbyist" will find his work cut out for him, if he circumvents the worldly lobbyist, who is known to be wise as a serpent without the harmlessness of the dove. The Christian lobbyist will find that carnal weapons will be demanded, for, the professional politician and the politician for revenue have a ready ear for the material argument—the argumentum and crumenam. St. Paul's fighting the "beasts at Ephesus" was a "picnic" compared with the work of the Christian lobbyist in fighting the beasts at Ottawa or Toronto. The husbandman, be he never so zealous, will find the soil ill-prepared.

It seems that the church, in proposing to strike out a new line of work, is beginning at the wrong end—beginning at the effect, instead of the cause. The cause of the undesirable political conditions, inferred from the action referred to, has its origin in a deadened or dormant popular conscience. If the pulpit and the church organizations of all churches — not Methodists alone — would lay the axe to the root of the tree and cut that through, there would be no need of a "Christian lobbyist," no need of "fighting the devil with fire" and shouldering worldly weapons to destroy an Apollyon, vulnerable only to spiritual weapons. If the Christian pulpit could rouse and quicken the public conscience to a Christian use of the franchise, there would be elected men upon whom the wiles of the worldly lobbyist would be wasted. A stream is not expected to rise above its source. A Parliamentary representative cannot be expected to be better than his constituents. If the pulpit, represented by ministers, plunges into party politics, and its occupants show themselves strong partisans, they do their share by their votes, in sending men to Parliament who their commonest common sense tells them have no other fitness for the office than partizan rearing alone can justify. We have seen occasions when "war on political partizanship" should begin, not in the foetid air of a parliamentary lobby, but in the pulpit of Christian churches. When the church succeeds in so educating the popular conscience that the electors, as a body, will use their franchise conscientously, there will be no need of diverting good money from missionary and religious purposes by maintaining a lobbyist at Ottawa or Toronto. If the church, doing its full duty, cannot lay the foundations of moral reform, the irreverent and the scoffer will feel themselves justified in declaring, as they do, that they regard it as less a divine spiritual force than a highly respectable social club.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Toronto World credits the Conservatives of North York with a desire to invite Hon. Geo. E. Foster to be their candidate at the approaching Dominion elections against Hon. Mr. Aylsworth, Minister of Justice. What's the matter with North Toronto? Has it tired of Mr. Foster? His native province thrust him forth, it is true, but it had known him longer.

On a recent occasion, the Conservatives of Ontario held the Legislature in an all-night session fighting valorously for a two cent rate on railways. They declared that all railways receiving Government subsidies should be compelled to give a two cent passenger rate. They have forgotten all about this, apparently. They have been over two years in power, and haven't even tried to apply the two-cent rate to the railway now controlled by them, and provided for them and the public by the enterprise of the Ross Government. There's a wide difference between preaching and practice.

Mr. Borden, leader of the Dominion Conservative Opposition, is to tour, and talk party politics to, the West this summer. Who will be his running mates? Will he take with him Messrs. Fowler and Lefurgey, Bennet and Pope? These gentlemen were the great exploiters and discoverers of the alleged land scandals roasted in the West, and they could be made useful in showing the westerners how they have been swindled and oppressed, while Mr. Borden condemns the Grand Trunk Pacific and preaches the doctrine of "adequate protection." He might also pick up Mr. Hugh John McDonald to pick holes with a pitchfork and other agricultural implements in the National Policy. He was the original apostle of free agricultural implements for the West. If this policy is sound, as a principle, it should fit West as well as East.

The Montreal Star, the chief Conservative organ of Canada, seems to think that Canada is at the back of Laurier. It says: "Sir Wilfrid's statement that the preferential question is "a matter altogether in the hands of the British people," is precisely the statement which the Canadian people would have liked to have him make. We do not desire to coerce the British people to the slightest extent on a question which affects their bread and butter, and attacks one of their cherished prejudices. Our own attitude on the question is clear. We have given one preference and promised more, if a bargain is to be struck. But we must not make the mistake of associating ourselves in the minds of the British workman with any demand that he tax his loaf for the benefit of our farmers, whose prosperity he is constantly taught to envy."

The Mail and Empire claims the tremendous increase of Canada's industrial products, as revealed by the census returns, as a victory for the "National Policy." To justify its claim, the organ should explain why the spell did not work in Conservative hands. The Conservatives had the working of the National Policy when it was new, and for eighteen long years. It didn't make any such showing as has been made under Liberal administration of the National policy. In eighteen years of the "National Policy," the total exports of Canadian manufactures amounted only to nine and a half millions of dollars at the end of eighteen years. In only four years of Liberal administration the exports of industrial products of Canada increased from nine and a half millions to twenty and a half millions, and the increase has been growing for six additional years. If the merit was in the National Policy, why didn't it work as well for the "Tories" as it has done for the "Grits"? The explanation is simple. The Conservative tariff was protective, with all the limitation and disability that principle involves. The Liberal policy is auxiliary—lowering the cost of raw materials of manufacture, and leaving the issue to the unrumpered enterprise of our industrial citizens.

ANOTHER CORRECTION

Yesterday, under legal compulsion, the Examiner corrected a statement, in a despatch, which placed Peterborough in the seventh place among the cities of the Dominion in industrial importance and output. The correction placed Peterborough in the sixth place. Now the Brantford Expositor "goes us one better," and in making a comparison of increases in industrial out-put, puts Peterborough in the fifth place, ahead of Hamilton, London, Brantford, Ottawa and Quebec. We accept this bouquet, with suitable modesty.

FINISH SOMETHING

A postcard letter received this morning, printed elsewhere in this issue, gives another demonstration of the fact that the City Fathers have as little care for the appearance of our streets as for their vehicular quality. They don't seem to finish anything they undertake. A sewer or service trench is left in an abominably unfinished condition, and the rubbish left at Park Place, as referred to in the letter of an indignant resident of the vicinity, is a type of the conditions permitted to prevail in every part of the city. A rotten drain is taken up and repaired, and the decayed rubbish is allowed to remain cumbering the streets and destroying their sightliness, and no attempt whatever is made to compensate for the rough and rutty state of the roadbeds by at least keeping the streets clean. On many streets last years leaves clog, choke and disfigure the watertables, and gardeners fixing up lawns are allowed to dump their rakings and rubbish on the streets. It wouldn't cost much to keep our streets clean. Reverting to the little park, one is tempted to inquire why the city doesn't put a finish on anything it undertakes. This, however, seems to be the policy. The Board of Works outlines for itself a big programme of work this season. That is well enough in its way, supposing the work to be well done. But why not finish the work of last year, and, for the matter of it, that of the year before. A sewer was laid down on Rubidge street, from Simcoe to Brock, nearly two long years ago. This street has never been levelled since, and is in a disgracefully rough and uneven condition, more like a government road in government-neglected New Ontario than a street in the sixth best industrial, and otherwise most beautiful, city in Canada. The sewer was laid down on Downie street last year and has not yet been touched by way of repair. The grave-like mounds of service trenches, and the uneven hogsback in the middle of the street, remain in all their primitive crudity. The same applies to other streets upon which sewers have been laid last year. Why in the world doesn't the city finish such work as this? The primary objects of the streets is for the use of the citizens in the way of traffic. If vehicular traffic is made practically impossible with comfort and safety, and without needless wear and tear of vehicles, and wear and swear of drivers, the ratepayers are defrauded of their right to the use of good streets, and their money spent on them is wasted, to boot. Finish something in a workmanlike manner. The City Council should recognize that the streets are for the use of the citizens who own them, and not a ground for exploiting and demonstrating civic inefficiency, lack of system, lack of purvice trenches, and the uneven hogsback purpose and lack of finish.

ICE STILL REMAINS IN THE BACK LAKES

Land Surveyor on Trip, Meets with Man Obstacles in his Work

The Bobcaygeon Independent of this week says: Mr. Niven, with about 14 men from Harburn, started on Tuesday morning to survey a line near White River. He intended to commence May 24th, but had to postpone it on account of the severe weather, and possibly he will yet meet with a lot of hard hits, as the ice is not yet out of the waters. Mr. Niven hopes to be back again about September, but as he says, it all depends on the "winter."

Sang British National Anthem For A Guest

Signal Honour Bestowed Upon Mr. John Green at Buffalo During Past Week.

EVIDENCE OF FRIENDSHIP

As a pleasing contrast to the reports of opposition to British sentiment, frequently told by Canadians visiting in the United States, Mr. John Green, who returned last night from Buffalo, where he spent a few days, tells an interesting story. He was registered at the Court Inn, and, on the evening prior to the day on which he left for home, he was included in the guests of the proprietor of the hotel at a little dinner party in honour of the latter's birthday. Mr. Green mentioned, during the course of the evening, that he was leaving for home the next day, and as soon as the host learned this he gave some instructions to the orchestra, which plays from 10 o'clock in the morning until midnight, and it immediately struck up "God Save the King," and more remarkable still, every diner in the room rose and joined in singing the British National Antrem.

Among that party there was evidently no opposition to the British, and Mr. Green stated that it was a pleasant surprise to him. The proprietor of the Court Inn will likely be popular with Canadians after this story is told.

Follow Each New Discovery of Science

The great strides that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered, the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it. In a few years it will be rare to find a bald-headed man or woman. The falling out of the hair is due to a dandruff germ, and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Herpicide. Its success has been marvellous. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is also a delightful hair dressing, free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. # JASPER IS WELL-KNOWN HERE

Lindsay Watchman-Warder Has an Interesting Sketch of This Familiar Figure

WAS BORN IN THIS CITY

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder has an interesting sketch in this week's issue of a character, who is as well known probably in Peterborough as in Lindsay. The following extract may be of interest to the many local people who will remember having frequently seen "Jasper," who during his residence in Peterborough, used to play a tin whistle in the arcade on market days:

"Who is the man standing by the post office steps selling papers?"

"Why, that's Jasper!"

"'Jasper?' What's his other name?"

"Oh, just 'Jasper;' that's all I know."

Try it again!

"Who is the man selling papers over there?"

"Why, that's Jasper!"

"But what's his first name?"

"Why, 'Jasper,' of course."

"Then, what's his last name?"

"Jasper."

"Hasn't he any other name?"

"I don't know!"

Try it again.

Same result.

Try it again.

Same result, ad infinitum.

Yet "Jasper" is one of the most familiar sights in Lindsay on week days. Rain and shine, fair weather and foul, his peculiarly emphasized cry of "pas-purr," "pas-purr" is one of the standard noises of the day and his well known figure is as familiar to Lindsay people as the grumbling about the weather.

And he has a full and aristocratic list of names, too.

Mr. Bernard Jasper Lacombe, if you please, sir!

Mr. Bernard Jasper Lacombe says he was born in Peterborough, although he admits he doesn't remember much about it, being only an infant at the time.

The accident of such an unfortunate birthplace as Peterborough, however, was partially overcome by the family bringing Jasper to Lindsay at a very early age. And Jasper seems to be proud of the fact that he was raised, as he expresses it, in Lindsay town.

Jasper has been away from here several times. The last time he returned to Lindsay was about four or five years ago. And Lindsay seems to agree with his health. He was apparently almost blind some some time ago, and would have passed for what is known as an intermittent cripple. To-day he can get around pretty nicely, thank you.

Jasper is 45 years old. That is he has had 44 summers pass over him and 46 winters, counting the him and 46 winters, counting the two this season. And during all these long summers and hard winters Jasper has been consistently able to withstand the charms and blandishments of the fair sex, and still remains a bachelor, though he did get born in Peterborough.

Note by the Office Boy. — "Jasper's" infirmity — loss of sight — has doubtless something to do in accounting for his alleged partiality to Lindsay. Besides there are advantages in living in a place where there is not stir enough to create a risk of being run over in the streets.

Removes Poison From the Blood

There is a need in every home of a medicine that by cleansing and invigorating the liver, kidneys and bowels will remove all poisonous waste matter from the blood, cure biliousness, kidney derangements and constipation, and by so doing prevent fevers, colds, coughs and Bright's Disease. No medicine satisfies the need so well as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as is proven by the testimonials appearing in all the leading papers.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING

Annual Gathering of Bay of Quinte Branch Will be Held in Picton This Month

The annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will be held in Picton on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursady, the 11th, 12th and 13th, respectively, of this month. Representatives from the various churches in this district will be present and the meetings will be marked by the discussions of important missionary topics. Representatives will be sent from this city, Mrs. Jas. Kendry being sent from George Street Methodist Church, and Mrs. A. R. Campbell, also of that congregation, will be present in her capacity of vice-president of the society, which office she will fill. Mrs. Jos. Kilgour, organizer for the Peterborough district, will represent the Charlotte Street Church, and Mrs. S. Taylor and Mrs. M. W. Matchett will be present from Mark Street Church.

Massanogo

A lake, shaped something like a pair of spectacles—rather a pair of lakes joined by a passage some few feet wide—a lake immensely deep in parts, with sunny bathing beaches, perfectly safe along its shores. Beautiful woods all around, full of native life, unspoilt and largely untrodden; and, beetling over the water, just at the bridge of the spectacles, is the grand old rock, the crowning glory of Lake Massanoga. "The Gibraltar of Canada," it has been called, and fitly enough. A mile and more long, hundreds of feet high, rising sheer out of the calm waters of the lake, impressively beautiful by day, positively awe-inspiring in the moonlight, is this great stone mountain. In its shadow nestles Bon Echo Inn, as nearly perfect a summer hotel as one could wish to see. Hotel seems scarcely the word for Bon Echo, so homelike is it — the hotel feeling lasts no longer than it takes our genial host to express his welcome. Canoeing, sailing, rowing, swimming, all may be enjoyed at Massanoga; and down in the depths lurk gamey salmon trout. Massanoga is a resort recently discovered and known to comparatively few Canadians. But for people who want to get near to nature, and yet not get out of touch with civilization, who want to enjoy glorious air, brilliant sunshine, cool waters, and all the fascinations of a primitive region, combined with the comforts of a modern summer resort, Massanoga is the place. The nearest railway station is Kaladar, 150 miles east of Toronto, on the C. P. R. Illustrated folder and full particulars will be gladly mailed upon request by C. B. Foster, district passenger agent, C. P. R., Toronto. 3d

INTERESTING ADDITION TO THE MUSEUM

Historical Society Presented With Old Piece of Paper, by Mr. Hartshorne, of Chemong

A unique and interesting addition has just been made to the numberless curios lying within the walls of the Peterborough museum. It is a donation made by Mr. W. R. Hartshorne who at present is at his cottage at Chemong Park. The addition is a strip of the first paper manufactured on the continent of North America and has been torn from the ledger used for bookkeeping by some German business man, as the original writing will betray. The paper appears to be of a good quality as it is still in a well preserved condition although made in the year 1690, over two centuries ago.

The following written upon the other side of the paper from that on which the bookkeeping appears, explains briefly the age and the place where the paper was manufactured:—"A piece of the first paper made in North America. This was made in North America in the year 1690 by Claus Rittenhouse in paper mill run near Germantown, Pa., N. W. Rittenhouse."

Mr. Rittenhouse who has subscribed his name to the above is a descendant to the Claus Rittenhouse the owner of the first paper mill on the continent.

Peterborough Schools To Receive "Victory" Shields

Generous Offer Made by Lord Strathcona to Supply the Shields to Every School in Canada.

TO REMEMBER NELSON

It will be interesting news in this city to learn that the city schools will be presented with a "Victory" Shield by Lord Strathcona. In a letter received to-day by the Examiner from Mr. Edward B. Matthews, secretary of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, this announcement is made. He quots a letter sent by Lord Strathcona making the offer. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Matthews.—I am exceedingly sorry that my official duties make it impossible for me to be present at the anniversary meeting of your society this afternoon. You know I am entirely in sympathy with the work of your society, and it will afford me much pleasure to contribuling £1,000 for the purpose of providing a 'Victory' Shield to the schools throughout the Dominion, to be distributed as you suggest.—Believe me to be, dear Mr. Matthews, yours sincerely, Strathcona."

Commenting on Lord Strathcona's letter, Mr. Matthews says:

The society has undertaken a big thing for a big country. But I feel confident that, as heretofore, the Government will admit the Shield and souvenirs duty free, and that the Ministers of Education and various educational authorities and teachers will co-operate with us to ensure the successful carrying out of this project. The society has already spent several thousand pounds in its educational, patriotic and philanthropic work in connection with its Nelson Centenary and Anniversary Celebrations. In addition to the copper given to the society by the Lords of the Admiralty, taken from Admiral Nelson's famous battleship "Victory," all the copper left from Nelson's other historic flagship, "Foudroyant," was secured, to be used for the above purposes.

The stated promise made to the Admiralty when the material was given was, that any financial outcome should go for the benefit of seamen. In carrying out, therefore, by the kind assistance of Lord Strathcona, this great project in Canada, we are anxious that every school, however small in numbers, however far from the frontier, shall have its "Victory" Shield. But at the same time we would like to receive, even from the smallest school, not less than one dollar for the society's work for seamen. And every boy and girl giving or collecting only 25 cents will receive a "Victory" pharm made from the same copper.

To Make Inventory Of Dr. Campbell's Estate

Mr. John Green Returns From Buffalo, Where He Went to Look Into Estate of Deceased Doctor.

SOME NEW FACTS LEARNED

Last night Mr. John Green, who has been in Buffalo working on the case of the late Dr. Campbell, in the interests of the heirs here, returned, after spending a few days in the American city. He stated that the estate of the deceased doctor was in such a condition at the present time that it was impossible to obtain much definite information concerning it. Administration papers had been applied for by, and granted to, Dr. Edward N. Pfohl, who attended Dr. Campbell in his last illness, and who is a creditor against the estate to the extent of $200. In his application for letters of administration, he applied for them for the personal estate only, the laws of the United States making it impossible to take out administration papers for real property.

It has not been ascertained yet, the amount of the personal estate, though the amount named by Dr. Pfohl is $15,000, but it may exceed that materially. During his lifetime Dr. Campbell owned a ranch in Nebraska, and it is not known yet whether he disposed of that property prior to his death. If it is included in his estate, it will be a much more extensive one than the figure mentioned.

It has not yet been established, absolutely, either, that he died without a will, and Mr. Green, who was well acquainted with the deceased, finds it rather difficult to believe that he died intestate. He was considered a good business man, and it would seem unreasonable that a man of good business judgment, as he was, would have reached his age without making a will.

Mr. Green was not only acquainted with the deceased as a man, but he went to school with him, and he has been in touch with him more or less ever since.

After having received his primary education in Canada, when a young man he left for the United States and studied medicine, securing his diploma, and afterwards commenced practice at Black Rock, which was at that time a separate municipality from Buffalo. The late Dr. Campbell speedily built up a good practice among the working people of that section of what is now the industrial portion of Buffalo. He amassed a considerable fortune from his practice, and married a lady, by his union with whom his fortune was materially augmented. Following his wedding he removed into the city, where his practice grew rapidly, until he was recognized as one of the most prosperous as well as the most popular doctors in Buffalo. It was then that his domestic troubles were experienced, and the separation with his wife came.

What followed has already been well described.

Mr. Green will report the result of his trip to his clients, and it is not probable that any action will be taken in the meantime until an inventory of the estate has been taken, and an appraisement made of its value. Efforts will also be made to ascertain whether the deceased disposed of his ranch. Some delay will necessarily follow before the estate can be disposed of, because of the fact that some of the heirs, children of his brother, are minors.

Asked as to his impressions of the city, Mr. Green replied that he was so busy day and night that he had no time for sight-seeing—only time for the business in hand.

Concert Season In Victoria Park Opened By The Band

Citizens Gathered in Large Numbers to Hear the Sweet Strains of Music on the Night Air—First Concert Was Attended by Pleasant Weather.

MR. GLIDDON, DIRECTOR

The 57th Regimental Band under the able leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon gave their first open-air concert in Victoria Park last night to the expressed delight of a large concourse of the music-lovers of the city. The weather turned out to be pleasant, although the prospects during the past few days were not bright. However, considering the general conditions this spring, the opening concert was blessed with a fine night and it is sincerely hoped that as the the season advances the weather will become finer and not interfere with one of the best sources of summer enjoyment that the citizens are afforded. The verdant amphitheatre was thronged with young and old as it has been for years past, and the consensus of opinion was that the band's initial performance excelled that of any past summer. The bandsmen are not expected to play as well on their appearance as later on in the summer, and if last night's concert is a criterion the citizens may expect to hear better selections than have been ever before rendered in the park concerts.

The programme was varied to suit the tastes of every person. The individual numbers were presented with finish, from the expressive strains in the overture from Zampa to the catchy melodies of the darky number "Mumblin' Mose." The instruments followed the leader's baton with precision; the ensemble was balanced and clear and the whole performance was characteristic of the 57th when in their best form.

There were thirty-six pieces under Bandmaster Gliddon's direction and several of them are new to the organization. The bass portion is strong as it always has been and the same may be said of the cornets, but in the trombone and reed section there is an appreciable increased strength and improvement that give a good balance.

The band has been faithfully practising of late and their results should be pleasing to themselves as it was to the citizens.

The overture from Zampa was the most difficult number but was executed in a splendid manner each section of instruments being heard in their best in different parts of the selection.

Bandsman Walter Hughes in his cornet solo "Dream of Paradise" once more demonstrated his ability with that instrument. He is a favourite with the Peterborough people and is always well received. The serenade "D'Amour" and the dainty lullaby "Sweet and Low" were well rendered and contrasted vividly with the Southern sketch "Mumblin' Mose," and the three dashing marches, "Gloria," a new march has qualities that should make it a hit and "Mumblin' Mose" was played in a bright, catchy style. The crowd was delighted with a new medley, "Rumwick's Hits," including "When the Mocking Bird is singing in the Wildwood," "Why Don't You Try," "Sympathy" and many others that are general favourites.

The lights were not turned on and a delay was thus caused until the old reliable oil torches were procured. However, the crowd did not become over impatient and showed their appreciation when the cause of the delay was removed. The people last night were very well behaved and seemed to be present for the purpose of listening to the music. It was a jovial summer crowd and the band was pleased with the greeting that their efforts received.

It is hoped that fine weather will stay with the band and that by its future concerts it will strengthen its reputation locally so that the people may truly look up to it as Peterborough's pride.

WEDDING BELLS

CURRIER-BRADBURN

Under more than ordinarily auspicious circumstances, an interesting wedding was celebrated this afternoon at three o'clock, at the residence of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., when his only daughter, Olive Kathleen, was united in marriage to Mr. Cyril Currier, accountant of the local branch of the Bank of Ottawa, son of Mr. J. E. W. Currier, of Ottawa.

The wedding was witnessed by about fifty guests, near relatives and friends of the bride and groom, many of them from outside the city. The event was lent additional interest by reason of the fact that the principals have both been very popular, the bride having lived here all her life, while the bridegroom, since he came to the city about three years ago, has made a host of friends who will join in offering their heartiest congratulations and good wishes. Mr. Currier is an enthusiastic yachtsman, and has been since its reorganization, a member of the Chemong Yacht Club. He is also a hockey player of some note, though since he came to Peterborough he has not indulged in active participation in such sport. In sporting, therefore, as well as in business and social circles, the young bridegroom, who this afternoon wedded one of the city's fairest daughters, has many friends, and the wedding is a popular one.

The ceremony, which took place in the spacious drawing room of "Moira Hall," the family residence, was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's church. The bridal couple took up their stand beneath a large bell of apple blossoms, while lilies of the valley, palms and ferns, made very attractive decorations.

Miss Hazel Dean presided at the piano, and, as the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Rogers, of Kingston, and Miss Clare Currier, of Ithica, N.Y., sister of the groom, who was supported by Mr. George C. Easton, of the Bank of Montreal Montreal, formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. Gerald K. Rackham, of this city.

The bride was becomingly attired in an attractive costume of white Liberty satin, entraine; with embroidered chiffon yoke and flounce of Princess lace. She wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and pink orchids. The gown of Miss Rogers, one of the bridesmaids, was a blue mull, Princess, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, with blue mohair hat, trimmed with maline, and blue, rose and white maline ties. Miss Currier wore a pink mull Princess costume, with trimmings and hat similar to those worn by Mis Rogers. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Mrs. R. A. Morrow, aunt of the bride, was gowned in gray silk, trimmed with cream lace, with a black hat.

Miss Brown was dressed in Wedgewood blue eolienne, with trimmings of bebe Irish lace.

After the nuptials the usual reception was held, when hearty felicitations were accorded the newly-married couple. Refreshments were served in a large marquee on the spacious lawn, and the customary toast drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Currier, who left on the 4.48 C. P. R. train on a trip to Toronto, Buffalo and other western cities.

The bride travelled in a handsome suit of grey French vigeroux, trimmed with white broadcloth and black taffeta; black mohair hat, with black wings and touches of white. On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Currier will take up their residence at No. 3 Flemming Place.

The presents were in every way worthy and representative of the occasion, the bridegroom's gift to the bride being a pearl and amythest necklace, to the bridesmaids pearl initial pins, to the pianist, gold safety pin, while to Mr. Easton he gave a pair of opera glasses, and to Mr. Rackham, set of gold tie holders.

Among the invited guests from out of town were Mr. Frank Bradburn, Calgary, Alta.; and Mr. Ormond Bradburn, Montreal, brothers of the bride; Mr. J. E. W. Currier, Ottawa; Mr. E. Dyson Currier, Vancouver; Mrs. Craig and Miss Currier, Ithica, N.Y.; Miss Rogers, Kingston; Miss Boultbee, Toronto; Miss Howden, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilmot, Belleville; Mr. H. H. Grubbe, Toronto; Miss Hilda Eardley-Wilmot, Guelph; Mr. P. H. Le-Sueur, Ottawa; Col. and Mrs. A. P. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. W. Foster Wilson, Ottawa; Mr. W. S. Shaw, Saskatoon, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. McClymont, New York; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown, Dauphin, Man.; Col. E. B. and Mrs. E. B. Edwards, Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swinterton, Victoria, B.C., Mr. Sebert N. Glassco, Hamilton; Prof. A. Young, Toronto; Miss Dodge, Boston.; the Misses Hutchinson, Toronto; Major Howden, Port Hope; and others.

Piles Make Life Wretched

It is a mistake to imagine that the effect of piles are local, for as a matter of fact they sap the vitality of mind and body, and slowly lead to the ruination of health. Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief, from the itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles and is a thorough and positive cure for every form of this wretched torturing, and oftentimes, stubborn disease.

THREE VAGRANTS BEFORE THE COURT

Scot Free for One, One Month for a Second and Six Months for the Third.

Hector Baker appeared once more this morning at the police court, charged with being a vagrant, without any visible mode, sleeping in barns, and not being able to give a satisfactory account of his actions. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and the chief considered that the evidence should be taken. Police Officer MacDonald testified that he found Baker in Kelly's barn about one o'clock this morning with a woman named Nellie Drain. He arrested them both and brought them to the police station. Magistrate Dumble said that he knew Baker was living a blackguard's life, but he could secure work at his trade and he decided to let him go this time. "But," said His Worship, as Baker was leaving, "if you are ever brought before me again on a charge like this I will send you to the Central Prison."

Thos. McDonnell is an unfortunate cripple who has been standing on the street corners durring the day time and at night sleeping on the market steps. His feet are crippled in some way and he does not appear to be capable of doing hard work. He is known to nearly everyone as Mousie. He was charged with vagrancy. The Magistrate said that there ought to be a conveniently placed swimming pool to the police court for such characters. Magistrate Dumble wished to send him to the Central for six months, but the Chief informed him that he would not be given admittance to that institution. He was allowed three months in the gaol.

As the last offender was to be dealt with the Magistrate remarked of the "Last Rose of Summer." Nellie Drain, the woman in the case, was the third person to be accused of vagrancy. She comes originally from Norwood, but has been working about the city for several months. His Worship decided that she needed a month's rest and sentenced to one month in gaol.

BOYS PAID RESPECTS TO DEAD DOG

Taken Off by the Poison Route and the Boys of North End Were Disconsolate

A large Newfoundland dog, owned by Mr. White, on Victoria avenue, is one of the latest victims of the dog poisoner. Yesterday afternoon he partook of the fatal dose, and now he is no more. Last evening, just before dark, he was placed in a wheelbarrow, and, followed by a procession of twelve or fifteen small boys, whose lamentations were loud, and doubtless sincere, carried to his last resting place.

CANADIAN CORDAGE COMPANY'S PICNIC

Fine Weather With a Jolly Crowd Should Provide a Good Time.

The employees of the Canadian Cordage Company could not have chosen a more delightful day for their annual excursion. The morning broke bright and clear and gave promise of a fine day. The Water Lily with barge were engaged to convey the pleasure seekers to Idyl Wild, and when the steamer left her wharf she was taxed to her utmost limit with a jolly crowd, bent on enjoyment. The boat left the wharf in good time and should have made the trip in schedule time. The day was ideal for an outing, and the management had made every arrangement for a good time.

Eczema's Itch Is Never Ending

EXCEPT BY ACTIVE AND PERSISTENT TREATMENT WITH THE GREAT ECZEMA CURE.

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, causing keen distress from itching and covering the body with sores that refuse to heal.

Even with careful treatment, eczema is obstinate in yielding to curative measures, but the regular and persistant use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most certain means known, of overcoming this torturing disease.

Internal treatments for eczema have long since been discarded, except the use of medicines to regulate the bowels and enrich the blood, while local applications are used to relieve the itching and heal the sores.

It is the remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the cure of eczema which has given it world-wide recognition as the standard ointment for itching skin diseases.

Mrs. Robert Clendenning, Welland Station, Ont., writes:—

"For three years my dauthter, Fanny, was afflicted with eczema in an intense and persistent form, and long nine days she was totally blind. The burning, itching and disfigurement were horrible, her entire face being completely raw for months, and the distress so great that she could not sleep.

"The best efforts of two eminent physicians failed to even mitigate her awful suffering. One day I was low-spirited over my daughter's condition Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me and to our surprise Fanny was helped with the first box and she has since been entirely cured by this treatment.

"Her face is now as smooth as a baby's and she is in splendid health. The credit for this cure is entirely due to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I cheerfully give you permission to state my daughter's case, hoping that it will lead many others to secure the same good results."

There are a score of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment, with its extraordinary soothing, healing properties, is useful in every home; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 6

BUTTER WAS UNDER WEIGHT

Police Made a Raid on Market To-day —Fifteen Farmers' Wives in Police Court

A WAGON LOAD OF BUTTER

As the result of a raid made on the market by the police this morning, fifteen farmers' wives were brought before Magistrate Dumble at a special session of the Police Court at 11 o'clock. A wagonload of butter was brought to the court, where it was re-weighed by the officials. With the exception of three baskets, the butter was found to be under weight. In all but three cases the butter was from 1-4 to 1 1-2 ounces short in the pound.

Great excitement was caused among the farmers on the market over the affair and the police court was crowded while business in the market hall was suspended entirely. The women were very much affected by the case, some of them weeping in the court room.

The case was not concluded at the time of going to press.

MARKET REPORTS FOR TO-DAY

A Good Attendance of Farmers and Fair Prices Were Received.

The market this morning was fairly well attended by buyers and sellers alike. The first rumours were that potatoes were to sell at $1.25 per bag, and one farmer had actually demanded that price, and received it. However, the other farmers did not think that they could obtain that price, and so dropped it to last week's. Had they been able to get the increased sum they certainly would have asked it. Eggs are high again, selling at 18c a dozen. Hay is very dear, owing to its scarcity. Butter is selling at a fair price, the general rate being 25c a lb. There were plenty of young porkers for sale and quite a number were disposed of.

TENDERS CALLED FOR BELL CO'S OFFICE

Will Be Received Until Thursday of Next Week—Mr. Carmichael Here

Tenders were yesterday called for the erection of the new office building of the Bell Telephone Co. on Hunter street. The tenders will be received up to Thursday of next week, and the contract let as soon after that as possible. This will mean that within a few weeks' time the work of erection will be begun of the telephone building, which will add greatly to the appearance of that section of Hunter street where it is being erected.

Yesterday Mr. W. J. Carmichael, of Montreal, superintendent of construction for the telephone company, was in town, and the above is one of the results of his visit.

Another question which is being considered is that of placing the wires of the company underground, which was very prominent at the latter meetings of last year's council.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Postcard Column,

Dear Sir,—I should like to see the Special Committee entrusted with fixing up Park plaza, corner of Park and Charlotte streets, follow the fight to a finish. The ground have been filled in, levelled, and sown with grass seed, and a strong wire fence put up. But the rubbish raked off the ground, stones, chips, as well as shavings from posts, and other litter, surround this little park like a fringe, making it very untidy. Why not have this rubbish removed? It would add one hundred per cent. to the look of the park.

Yours truly,
PARK STREET.

Editor Postcard Column,

Sir,—As a contributor, by way of taxes, to the $500 paid the 57th Band, on condition of playing in Victoria Park, I protest against the action of benighted City Council in placing thousands of our citizens in a similarly benighted condition at Victoria Park last night. At eight o'clock the band and expectant thousands assembled in the park, but the former couldn't play till nine o'clock, after some skirmishing for torches. Is every part of the city mantine out of order?

Yours, Etc.,
BENIGHTED.

MORE CRIMES ADDED TO THE LIST

Still Further Record of Atrocities Told By Orchard.

TURNED AGAINST COMRADES

Witness Tells Story of His Wanderings—Became Jealous — Disclosed Train-Wrecking Plot — Gambled Away His Earnings — Made Bomb for Vindicator Mine—Defence Discredits Evidence.

Boise, Idaho, June 8.—Counsel for Wm. D. Haywood continued their attack on the testimony of Harry Orchard at both sessions of the trial yesterday. They made their strongest assault on the witness' connection with events beginning with the explosion in the Vindicator mine and ending with the earliest meetings between him and the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver. To the extent that traffic with "the other side" in the war between labor and capital in Colorado was discreditable, they succeeded in discrediting the witness.

Taking up the admission that Orchard made in direct examination that he was treacherous to his comrades in Cripple Creek by disclosing a train-wrecking plot, they developed that Orchard entered the employ of D. C. Scott, who had charge of the railway detectives. Orchard said that, with Scott, he met K. C. Sterling, a detective in the employ of the Mine Owners' Association, and that Scott paid his expenses and accompanied him to Denver on the trip when he first met Moyer and Haywood. He said that he had agreed to report to Scott, but that he lied to him, never intending to report to him, and never did report. The defence also tried to show that, because he stood well with the mine owners, Orchard was never molested by the militia in Cripple Creek during the strike. Orchard admitted that Scott had told him that if the militia interfered with him he was to send for him, and that the militia did not interfere with him nor search his house.

Orchard Became Jealous.

Orchard said he went to Scott first because he had not been paid for his work at the Vindicator mine, and he was jealous because he was given hard work like the Vindicator mine job, whereas other men were assigned the simple job of train-wrecking by displacing rails. More crimes, great and small, were added to Orchard's record yesterday. The Cripple Creek woman with whom he committed bigamy had three sons; Orchard stole high-grade ore from a messmate; he stole two cases of powder from the Vindicator mine; he stole powder to make one of the bombs thrown into the Vindicator coal pile, and he lied.

The defence endeavored in various ways to throw doubt and improbability around Orchard's whole Vindicator mine story, and the alleged connection of W. F. Davis and William Easterly with the affair, and the circumstances under which Orchard testified that he met Moyer and Haywood, and was paid for the commission of the crime. It also tried to discredit Orchard's story, that he was sent back to Cripple Creek with unlimited credit and orders to commit any act of violence that he cared to. They confronted Orchard with Easterly and Owen Barnes and paved the way for the contradiction by them of the story told by Orchard.

Counsel flared up several times during the day, and in the last passage-at-arms Mr. Hawley said that Mr. Richardson told a falsehood when he intimated that Orchard was a fixed witness.

The trial will go on to-day, and cross-examination of Orchard, who has been on the stand three days, will be concluded.

When Orchard again took the stand yesterday he said he had neglected to give the name of his sixth sister, Minnie Horsley, who married a man named Rogers and who lived in New York State. Orchard also said that he stated Thursday he had no partners in the wood business in Burke, Idaho. He remembered yesterday that there were two men to whom he owed money and to whom he had promised an interest in the business.

Orchard admitted that while he was in Idaho he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner and blow the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mills, and said he didn't remember.

E. F. Richardson, for the defence, took the witness through a description of the make-up of the train which took the rioting miners to Wardner. Orchard said it was composed of 13 cars, some being freight and others passenger coaches.

"I am sure," he said, "I lit one of the fuses which fired powder under the mill."

Went of Own Accord.

"Did you know Haywood, Moyer or Pettibone at this time?"

"No, sir."

"They were not with you at Wardner when the mill was blown up, were they?"

"No, sir; not that I know of."

Orchard said he left Idaho after the blowing up of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mills to avoid arrest. He was taken over the years from 1899 to 1903 in detail, explaining where he worked, where he got his money and where he went from time to time. Orchard said he worked on an average of 10 or 11 months a year in the mines of Utah, Nevada and Arizona. He gambled part of the time.

Orchard traced his journeyings from place to place. Orchard supplied the information, admitting that a large percentage of his wages went over the gambling table. He seldom remained more than from one to three months in any mining camp.

Up to the time he went to Colorado in 1902, Orchard said he had never heard of Haywood, Pettibone, Moyer or Simpkins.

Orchard said he did not hear of Governor Steunenberg's action in suppressing the Coeur D'Alene troubles until some time after he left Idaho.

Did Not Know Chiefs Then.

The witness said it was his own initiative which took him to Colorado. At that time, July or August of 1903, there was no trouble at Cripple Creek. Arriving in Colorado he went to work in the Trachite mine and renewed his membership in the federation, joining a local headed by W. F. Davis, who had been in charge of the party which blew up Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines.

Attorney Richardson asked the witness repeatedly about his gambling experience.

Torpedo Meets With Accident.

Washington, June 8.—The commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet has reported to the navy department by wire that the torpedo boat destroyer Hopkins broke a propeller strut off Hog Island light and is now in tow of the Whipple, bound for the Norfolk navy yard. Tugs have been sent from the Norfolk navy yard.

TELEPHONES FOR BRANDON.

Provincial Government Will Proceed With Work of Construction.

Brandon, Man., June 8.—It is the intention of the Provincial Government to proceed immediately with the construction of a telephone system in the City of Brandon within the next few days.

Hon. J. H. Howden, Minister of Railways, who has charge of the telephone construction of the province, will visit Brandon, accompanied by a department engineer, to look over the ground to decide upon various matters of importance in connection with the construction of the Brandon system.

It is probable that the first long-distance line for the Government system will be built from Brandon to Virden, and from there to Hamiota and Birtle, connecting up with the various municipalities' systems which will be in operation along the route.

AGRICULTURAL CLASSES.

May Be Extended If Experiment Is Successful.

Toronto, June 8.—Premier Whitney announced at a conference yesterday of representatives of high schools of six towns, in which agricultural classes are to be established, that if the experiment proves a success, the idea would be extended.

Premier Whitney said he was satisfied the classes would prove a success, and would lead to the establishment of agricultural schools as advocated by him in opposition. He hoped the schools all over the province would take advantage of the experiment now being launched, and he promised the Government grant would be continued and extended. If additional grants were needed the Government would be generous.

London, June 8.—The foremost Liberal principle of the Government, in the administration of Irish affairs, is that they should be conducted in accordance with Irish ideas," said the Marquis of Ripon. Lord Privy Seal, and Liberal leader in the House of Lords, speaking before the Eighty Club at the Hotel Cecil.

The Small Fruits And Vegetables Are Suffering

Report of Fruit Crop Issued To-day From Ottawa Gives This Information.

A VERY BACKWARD SPRING

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, June 8.—The first fruit crop report of the year has been issued from the Department of Agriculture, and indicates that the condition of the fruit crop is not altogether satisfactory, by reason of the cold weather. The report is in part as follows:

The exceptionally cold weather which has prevailed during the past month has resulted in keeping the buds back. The majority of correspondents from the entire fruit districts, remark upon the phenomenally backward spring. Somewhat severe late frosts are reported in the southern mainland of British Columbia; they have done very little harm because of th eopening of the bloom was considerably later than usual. The backward condition generally will have the tendency to make the crop much safer from late frosts. The crops suffering most severely are tomatoes, early vegetables generally and strawberries.

Apples

Apple blossoms are not sufficiently advanced to permit a full report. Districts 5, 6, 7 and 8 are so backward that is is somewhat difficult to form a correct estimate at this time. Yet it would appear that the outlook generally is a very promising one for a medium to a full crop of early, fall and winter apples.

Correspondents from British Columbia complain that the past winter has been exceptionally severe. However, the prospect there for all kinds of fruit, with the possible exception of pears and peaches, is very encouraging. A full crop of early, fall and winter apples, and a full crop of crab apples is reported. In districts 2 and 3 the crop of spies and russetts is more promising than at this time last year, and the indications are for a medium to a full crop. The duchess medium to full crop except in district 1, where it is reported light.

Baldwins for winter stock are reported medium to a full crop. Baldwins in the south medium; Nova Scotia, gravensteins are reported a light crop; greenings have an ex... showing everywhere.

The pear crop will be a good one, according to present indications in the Hamilton-Niagara peninsula. A medium to full crop is expected generally of both early and late pears. The late varieties on the whole are showing up best. Blight is only occasionally mentioned this spring, but may appear later. Bartletts a light crop in some sections, in most cases medium to full crop. A promising outlook in British Columbia and Nova Scotia.

Plums

The outlook for plums is very encouraging. Whe trees are heavily loaded with bloom in the commercial plum sections of Ontario. Generally speaking, Nova Scotia reports a medium crop. British Columbia a full crop. The Japan plums are showing much better than last year. The effects of recent frost is not determined, but damage has been done in some cases.

A medium to full crop of Japan, European and American varieties is the prospect.

Peaches

The peach crop will probably be below the average. A short crop in Essex and Kent. Many report an entire failure in this section. In the Niagara district the outlook is much more encouraging, and a good crop is looked for.

Young trees were root killed owing to absence of snow and long continued but not exceptionally low, temperature. The fruit buds in many cases were killed by cold drying winds. In fact, few trees not protected by shelter belts, buildings, or the lay of the land have escaped.

Cherries

Cherries show well everywhere Outlook favourable to a record breaking year in Niagara district.

Grapes

Grapes have wintered well and are looking generally thrifty and vigorous. If favourable weather prevails the crop should be a good one.

Small Fruits

Strawberries have suffered in all sections. They wintered poorly in southern Ontario, and in the majority of instances, where not covered, were severely killed back. Of the whole the acreage in Ontario is estimated to be slightly less than last year, and a light to medium crop is expected. The late frosts will materially lessen the quantity of the first early picking. An increased acreage of strawberries is reported in British Columbia, with a medium to full crop. Canners are contracting for large additional acreage at 5 and 6 cents per box.

Raspberries and blackberries have felt the effects of the open, cold winter even more than strawberries. The canes of the old patches especially were frozen back quite badly; but new patches generally wintered fairly well. The acreage of raspberries is about the same as last year. Prospects for a light to medium crop of red raspberries and a medium crop of blackberries is reported.

Tomatoes

This has been a very unfavourable season for growing tomato plants. Last month was so cold and there was so little sun that a great many plants were attacked by the seeds with the damping off fungus. In some instances a few were touched with frost. Weather conditions so far, have been ill adapted to transplanting. Outside of district No. 1 the season is too late for a full crop, except autumn weather should be unusually favourable. Many thousand plants just set have been destroyed by frost during the past week.

MINSTREL SHOW NEXT WEEK

Club Had Another Rehearsal Last Night —The Event of the Season.

The Minstrel Club had another fine practice last night and will finish preparations for the big show with another rehearsal on Monday night. Indications point to the fact that the enterprise will be a gigantic success and every effort is being made to provide an entertainment that from the point of merit has never been equalled in Peterborough.

A carefully trained, strong singing chorus of thirty-five voices, a splendid quartette and the best of the local male vocalists, six funny end men with an ever flow stock of jokes and breaks in which local people of prominence largely figure, a complete orchestra, specially designed costumes and scenery, the cream of the popular music of the day, and clever vaudeville acts, will be some of the features of the show. Everything will be bright, new and clean, and those who enjoy good music and a hearty laugh cannot afford to miss the entertainment.

The plan opens on Monday morning and the wise ones will get in line early as it is expected that the "S. R. O." sign will be called into force early on Tuesday next the first night of the show. The prices are 25, 35 and 50c, ridiculously low figure in view of the excellence of the entertainment.

ENTERTAINED FOR THE PASTOR'S WIFE

Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Lewis the Guest at Delightful Function in Otonabee on Thursday

On Thursday afternoon a delightful gathering was held at "Maple Villa," the residence of Mr. Wm. Sargeant, Otonabee, when Mrs. Sargeant entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid Society and Missionary Auxiliary of the Mark Street Methodist Church, in honour of Mrs. Lewis, who will be leaving the city in a short time. There was a large number present and a most pleasant afternoon was spent. Music was rendered and dainty refreshments were served at the close. Good wishes were extended Mrs. Lewis, who has been very popular with the ladies of the congregation.

BUY LUCKY BOYS

LARDER LAKE.

6 CENTS PER SHARE.

REMEMBER we sold 2,500,000 shares of Blue Bell in 25 days at 10 cents per share. We have 1,000,000 shares of Lucky Boys at 6 cents per share. It won't last long.

This will probably be the last opportunity to purchase Larder Lake shares of inside properties at such a low price.

We recently made a most successful flotation of the wonderful Blue Bell Gold Mines, Limited. We offered to investors half of the capital stock, amounting to 2,500,000 shares, at 10 cents per share. We stated to our clients and investors in general that the shares of Blue Bell were a great purchase, and that the amount offered would be fully subscribed. Our predictions in this respect were fulfilled—the full amount of shares offered have been subscribed for. We have had to return money and turn back many applications. Some of our clients and many investors were very much disappointed at not being able to obtain these shares.

We now offer what we believe to be an investment equally as inviting and one that also is as good an investment and which we believe will prove equally as profitable. The LUCKY BOYS shares at 6 cents per share will come within the reach of many more investors on account of the price and also on account of not so large an amount of money being required to be invested therein in order to obtain some of the shares. We will say with every confidence that the One Million shares of Lucky Boys which we now offer will be largely over-subscribed.

We want to serve every investor the same and advise all who want to make a safe, profitable investment, and one that will make you many times the amount that you invest, to PLACE YOUR RESERVATIONS AT ONCE. We will file all reservations in the order received, whether received by mail, telephone or telegraph, and will hold all such reservations for a sufficient length of time to enable the remittance for same to reach us.

The Lucky Boys claims were staked last summer and were well selected. Gold-bearing quartz is found upon each and every claim. Some of the claims adjoin the famous Reddick claims; others adjoin the well-known Proprietary Gold Fields Company, and others adjoin the wonderful Blue Bell properties. We can advise investors truthfully that there are no better claims in the Larder Lake gold fields than those of the Lucky Boys. We do not believe it is necessary for us to go into as much detail regarding Larder Lake, its possibilities and resources, as we have heretofore done in our advertisements pertaining thereto. All Canada must have heard of Larder Lake—the new Eldorado of northern Ontario—and of its wonderful gold deposits.

Our own expert miners and mining engineers who are now in the field are sending out reports to us almost daily of the great gold finds that are being made and of the wonderful extent of the gold veins and their remarkable widths. Mining men of experience and mining engineers of reputation and standing declare that there is nothing in the world that has ever been known to excel what is found there in the great lodes that lie open and are exposed to the surface, many feet in width and extending for miles.

The gold which is found at Larder Lake is most marvellously and equally distributed throughout the quarts. Of course it is only guess work at this time for anyone to say what quantity of gold will be taken out within the next year or two, but it is safe, from present indications, to count upon many millions. Cobalt is a wonder and has made a number of millionaires in the past three or four years, but the number of millionaires that will be made in Larder Lake gold district within the next year will be many times that which Cobalt has produced. There are many men to-day who have not more than several hundred dollars, or perhaps less, who will possess within the next year as many hundred thousands as they have hundreds of dollars to-day. The production of gold last year exceeded FOUR HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS. Somebody got this money. Most of it went to the people in ordinary circumstances. By investors placing their money in Larder Lake NOW, they will reap great profits. Many millions will be returned to those who have the courage and the judgment to invest their money now in Larder Lake. The secret of profitable investment in mining is the careful selection of a brokerage house which will first go to the pains and expense of finding out for an absolute certainty if the proposition they offer is reliable and has merit, and LAW & COMPANY HAVE DONE THIS and our facilities are such as to keep in close touch and know the actual conditions surrounding the properties which we advertise and recommend. We do not claim to have the only gold property in the Larder Lake district, or the only one that has merit. We do not claim that we are the only brokerage firm that is honest and reliable. We do not caution you not to buy other shares or of other brokers. We are not trying to build up our own reputation upon the ruination of others, but by upright, straight-forward business methods.

WE DO CLAIM, however, that we are sincere in what we offer—that we are honest and reliable, and that we have used every method and have obtained reliable information from the Larder Lake district as to its being a substantial gold field. We are satisfied that the Lucky Boys property is a good, safe investment, and one that will prove highly profitable. We know that the gold is on the Lucky Boys property, and we know that it is a very easy and a very simple matter to extract the same—that it is free milling ore, and that all that will be required is to place the machinery upon the properties, and we believe the results therefrom will pay millions of dollars in dividends to stockholders.

6 CENTS PER SHARE

Remember that we have but ONE MILLION shares of the Lucky Boys to offer at 6 cents per share. This is not half the number we offered in Blue Bell, and does not represent a total investment of one-fourth the amount to bring about an over-subscription.

We therefore urge IMMEDIATE ACTION by all those that failed to be in time to secure Blue Bell, and we further advise that investors should have no hesitation whatever; that Lucky Boys is absolutely as good an investment in every way as any Larder Lake mining company, regardless of price, location or results obtained.

The Directors, Officers and Management of the Lucky Boys are among the most successful mining men in Northern Ontario—men whose standing and reputation are beyond reproach—and every investor may feel assured that their interests will be looked after by these gentlemen properly and in a thorough and businesslike manner.

The entire country is waking up to the wonderful opportunities offered in the Larder Lake gold district. The opportunities offered now to make safe and enormously profitable investments will have passed within a very short time. Men representing millions are in the field looking over properties and purchasing. The opportunity offered now of buying Lucky Boys at six cents per share will undoubtedly be the last chance that investors will have of getting in on the very rock bottom, in the very heart of the wonderful Larder Lake district. It should be remembered that these properties are just as valuable and have just as good showing and with as much gold in sight, and are in every other way as good as the properties of other companies whose shares are selling to-day at $1.00 and $1.50 per share. We sincerely believe, and have good reason to make the assertion that Lucky Boys, which can be purchased to-day at six cents, will in a very short time be selling at $1.00 or more.

FAMILY TOOK COAL FROM CARTAGE COMPANY

Picked Coal Off C. P. R. Tracks and Then from the Sheds.

A family living in the south end, and not long residents in the country, have kept the family hearth aglow during the past winter by sending their children to the railway tracks to pick up the coal that had dropped from the tenders of the passing engines. Almost every day the youngsters were seen with their bags, picking up the black diamonds and struggling home with what they did as much as they could carry. Although there was possibly no harm in this, whatever the railways may think of it, still they did not continue in confining themselves to the coal on the tracks.

After the novelty had worn away they commenced to take the coal that had been dropped from the coal cars that were unloaded at the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company's sheds. Between the cars and the sheds a considerable quantity of coal had fallen, which would afterwards be picked up and thrown into the shed. But the children got on to the game and commenced to carry it away. The officials of the company discovered that their coal was being stolen, and they at last found the young culprits and took them to their parents and warned them not to come near the place again. In looking in the shed at the home of these people a large quantity of hard coal was found, besides the soft coal that is used on the railways. Thus it is supposed that they had taken this coal, which was really the property of the company.

The little boys probably did not know that they were doing wrong, and the cold blasts experienced last winter was an increased incentive to get all the coal that they could. The company did not desire to press the case, as they might have done, and let the people go with a warning.

Made a Home Run Off Parnell on Monday Night.

Ted Foley, the heavy hitter of the Lilies was given a finger glove by Mr. C. R. The interest shown by Mr. Banks is greatly appreciated by the different teams in the league.

This afternoon the Excelsiors and Karenots played a game at the Oval.

So far the league has been a success and has been benefitial to the players, and has secured that for which it was intended. Although Foley secured the glove, there is no doubt but that for consistent, heavy, timely hitting, the best man in the league is Lang, of the Karenots, who has batted in fine style in every game.

IDEAS IN THEIR HEADS BETTER THAN LETTERS ON PREACHERS' NAMES

This Opinion Was Expressed at Bay of Quinte Conference by Pastor of Local Church.

CONFERENCE YESTERDAY

Examiner Special.

The Methodists in session at Bowmanville, in the Bay of Quinte annual Conference, sat down hard on the new theology, and the candidates for the ministry were closely questioned as to their position on this point. The three candidates for ordination, however, were considered sound theologians, and were admitted. A despatch from Bowmanville, referring to the reception service, which was addressed by Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist Church, of this city, says:

In fear, lest the new treology expounded by Rev. Mr. Campbell of England might have gained as its adherents tre three young men who were to-night received into tre ministry, leaders in Conference have subjected them to rigid examination. The probationers were Messrs. H. H. Cragg, B.A.; T. W. Rolland and A. W. Shaver, B.A., all of whom are Victoria College men. They were found to hold strongly all tre orthodox principles of the Church. The reception of the three took place tonight before a large gattering. Rev. H. M. Manning spoke in offering the resolution of acceptance and enlivened the interest of the audience by vigorously expressing his conviction that preachers should get ideas instead of striving for letters to add to their names, that some of the noblest work done by ministers was on obscure circuits, not in the gilded pulpits of city cathedrals, and trat true religion could not be bought and sold, as some man apparently believed. A warning against the materialism of the present day was sounded by Rev. J. P. Wilson of Belleville, in seconding the resolution. President Richard Duke led in exercises.

Bowmanville, June 10. — At the meeting of the Treological Union, held on Saturday, Rev. J. G. Lewis, of Peterborough, was elected to the presidency.

Yesterday's sessions were attended by the largest crowds ever seen in the church here. In the morning, the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Chown of Toronto, and at night the sermon was preached by Rev. W. H. Emsley of Napanee. The Sunday school service in the afternoon was addressed by Rev. J. G. Lewis of Peterborough and Rev. H. B. Kenny of Fenelon Falls.

To Give Evidence In Charge Of Assault

Henry Walden Will be Tried Tomorrow at Cobourg on Serious Charge—Mr. Cochrane's Evidence.

THE CHILD WAS AFRAID

Mr. George Cochrane left at noon to-day for Cobourg, to attend the sessions of the High Court, and to give evidence in a charge of assault preferred against Henry Walden of that town. The facts of the case are that, following the death of Mr. J. W. McWilliams, his widow gave to Mrs. Walden, who is her sister, one of her children, a little girl. Information was subsequently received to the effect that the child was being abused and complaint was made to the officials of the local Children's Aid Society. Since it was outside the jurisdiction of the Society nothing could be done, except to confer with the Crown Attorney of the united counties, which Mr. Goodwill did, with the result that, upon learning of the facts of the case, Walden was arrested on a charge of assault, and his case will be heard to-morrow.

Mr. Cochrane went with the mother of the child when she was taken away from the Walden house, and saw the condition the little one was in. He stated that her face was discoloured from bruises, and on her forehead and the side of her head there were also signs of illusage. On her left leg there was a long bruise, extending several inches. There was a bruise on her forehead the size of an American silver dollar, and on her cheek a bruise as large as a fifty cent piece.

These facts will be brought out in the evidence of Mr. Cochrane, when he is called to give evidence in the case.

Hotel Proprietor Suddenly Lost His Power Of Speech

In Midst of a Sentence, Mr. Darcy, of Burleigh Falls, Found His Voice Had Left Him—Received Paralytic Stroke Shortly Afterwards — Occurred Yesterday Afternoon.

WAS TALKING TO HIS GUESTS

Bereft of his power of speech in the middle of a sentence, and felled with a paralytic stroke a few minutes afterwards, was the unfortunate experience which came to Mr. Thos. Darcy, the well-known and genial proprietor of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Darcy was sitting on the piazza of the hotel, talking to a number of his guests, when, with startling suddenness, his vocal chords refused to vibrate and he could speak no more.

Realizing his affliction, Mr. Darcy walked into the kitchen of the hotel and wrote on a slip of paper, "I have lost the power of sp—." Before, however, his pen had finished the last word he was seized with a paralytic stroke, and had to be carried by his sons to his bed chamber.

Dr. Fraser of Lakefield was quickly summoned by telephone and attended Mr. Darcy, whose condition yesterday afternoon was, indeed serious.

Later in the day he partially regained his voice, but tis articulations were very indistinct and scarcely audible. Mr. Darcy is a man well and favourably known not only in Peterborough County, but in the Province as well. He has entertained a good many guests at his hotel at the Falls, and should he not recover from this stroke, his familiar voice will be missed by the hundreds who frequent that pretty spot in the summer season.

FREE METHODISTS GENEROUS

Good Collections Were Taken at Services of Camp Meeting Yesterday

MANY CITIZENS ATTENDED

The purse strings of the Free Methodists attending tre camp meeting were opened wide yesterday, and record offerings were received. In the morning a special collection to defray the expenses of tre meeting, about $110, was asked for, and the five and ten-dollar bills immediately commenced rolling in, with tre result that tre amount asked for was soon realized.

In the afternoon one of tre brethren proposed that a collection be taken to pay the expenses of Elder Burnham to the annual Conference, to be held in Greeneville, Ill., tris month, and, trough the elder himself objected to the proposal, tre people would not listen to his objections, and in a few minutes a sum amply sufficient to pay his expenses to that gattering was received.

There were great crowds present at the afternoon and evening services particularly, and the usual enthusiasm was displayed.

Large numbers of citizens took advantage of the fine weather yesterday to pay a visit to the camp, to many of them this being the first opportunity they have had of witnessing such a gathering.

This afternoon again there was a big crowd in attendance, the citizens taking a deep interest in the meetings, and it is expected that, as a result, the membership of the church here will be materially increased.

GOLD BRICK WORTH $1,100 FROM STAR OF EAST MINE

Mr. R. J. Munro and Mr J. R. Steele, secretary-treasurer of the Star of the East gold mine, in Barrie township, Frontenac county, showthe Examiner this morning a genuine gold brick, the product of the mine. This brick weighs 62 ounces and 12 1-2 penny weights, and, placing its value at $18 per ounce—slightly under the real value — this beautiful bunch of bullion is worth a little over $1100. It is the result of fifteen days' operation of the mills, and the product is the run of the ore, not any special selection, in fact it is stated that the 350 tons represented in the brick, contained a good deal of quartz, of no ore value. It is discovered that there is some waste of gold dust in the tailings under the present process, and preparations are being made to save this product, which will add very considerably to the output and add proportionately to the productiveness of the mine, which has reached such a state of development, and the equipment and skill in handling have now been so [illegible] that the output exceeded expenses. With improvements of methods now under way, it is confidently expected that the Star of the East will continue on the list as not only a gold producer, but a dividend producer. Anyone at all familiar with mining, who has seen the ore veins, cannot fail to be confident, that with proper equipment and manipulation, the Star of the East will be a money-maker.

HUGH ELLIOTT ALLOWED TO GO WITH COSTS

Vigilance of the Police Srtisfactory to the Public

Hugh Elliott, tre man who was accused of stealing a cash box from the American Hotel on May 31, appeared in court this morning. He had nothing to say regarding the matter, but Mr. Flynn, proprietor of the hotel, asked that he be leniently dealt with. Magistrate Dumble gave the young man a severe lecturing, saying that had he thought about the act while he was doing it he would have considered the trouble that would be brought to his parents and family. "That you were drunk," said His Worship, "is no excuse, but quite the reverse." Young Elliott was allowed to go on suspended sentence, but had to pay the costs of the court, amounting to $6, besides returning the $5 that was stolen.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

DEVELOPMENT SURVEY FOR TELEPHONE WORK

For the purpose of making a development survey of the city, from the standpoint of the telephone, Mr. Carr, of the development Department of the Bell Telephone Company, is in the city. He will spend some little time here gaining information in reference to the city, and sizing it up with object of making an estimate as to the quantity of material which will be required in making the extensions in the system here. The local business is expanding so rapidly that it has become necessary to put up—or down—considerable more cable work. If an agreement is made with the city the work will be put underground, but, if not, there will be a further multiplication of the number of wires and cables on the poles.

M'COLLUM BROS. GOING OUT OF CAB BUSINESS

Will Make a Specialty of Liveries—Big Sale on June 18th

McCollum Bros. have decided to get out of the cab business entirely and to make a specialty of the livery business. To-day was the last day that any person could secure a cab from their barns, and after June 18, the date of their sale, will not rent their cabs for either weddings or funerals.

On June 18 they will sell by public auction, all their cabs, livery coats, cab horses and harness, and also the big Cleaneng omnibus. This will enable McCollum Bros. to attend especially to the livery department of their business, for which they are noted, and they undoubtedly prove themselves adepts in this respect.

THE SPOILS SYSTEM

We Canadians are wont to congratulate ourselves, perhaps, somewhat Pharisaically, upon the circumstance that we are better than our neighbours to the south of us in political and other morals. But it appears that we must revise ourselves. To the "Yankees," belongs the glory of having invented and copyrighted the "spoils system." But the Whitney Government has acquired the copyright and is making the best use of the opportunities for party capital it presents. We all know how the Whitney Government has achieved the dubious honour of adopting and practising one of the most odious and dangerous political doctrines that bedevil and impair our public service. We see the spoils system in operation in every sphere of provincial administration, and are inclined to regard it with a sort of toleration when it affects minor matters, though the viciousness of the principle remains. But, when the practice of the spoils system affects the dearest interests of our citizens, their health, their reason, and their life, the situation becomes much more serious.

Dr. Harry W. Miller, a clever young Canadian, has entered into possession of his post as psycopathologist at the Cook County Institution at Dunning (Chicago), Ill. Dr. Miller, a Canadian, born in Orillia, is a graduate in medicine—1895—of Toronto University. He has made a special study of what may be called mental pathology, and is considered an expert in the treatment of mental diseases, with a view to prevention, amelioration, and cure. He was a candidate for the post of assistant in an institution for the insane in Massachusetts. He was assured that merit alone would decide his claim to appointment. He felt, naturally, that, being an alien without "influence," political "pull" might interfere with his prospects. But he was disappointed, and his experience shows the extent to which civil service reform has progressed in the United States, and confirms the fact that the Whitney Government has acquired the copyright of the "spoils system." There were three places to be filled in the institution. Of the many candidates who wrote in the test examination, only two came up to the required standard and received appointment. One was a Canadian, Dr. Miller himself, and the other a Scotchman from Glasgow, both British subjects. Since that time Dr. Miller has become widely known by the profession as an authority on the pathological treatment of insanity, and has secured his present responsible and remunerative position entirely on his merits. Of the ninety candidates applying for the post in Chicago, Dr. Miller made the best examination recorded, and was at once given the appointment.

But there is another side to the shield. There has, of late, been a great awakening in the United States as to the need of a more scientific, humane and rational treatment of mental disease, with the object of cure or great amelioration. We in Ontario have begun to recognize this need, and also the fact that we are behind our neighbours in this regard. There is a feeling that the time has come when we should make an earnest attempt at improvement in this regard, and it was hoped that Dr. Miller would be secured to assist in bettering the conditions of the insane in this Province. But the spoils system was the lion in the path of reform. No matter if the lives and reason of our dearest were at stake, the appointment of a head for such an enterprise must be of the family of the faithful. It is asserted that if Dr. Miller had been a Conservative there would have been an attempt to secure him by the Ontario Government; indeed, it is said that one level-headed and patriotic member of the Cabinet was anxious to secure him for this work. But, in spite of the fact that Dr. Miller, because he is a Canadian, would have preferred to serve his native Province at a smaller salary than he is receiving in the United States, he was ignored, though at the head of his class. The "spoils system" stood in the way. He was not born in the political purple. This is a serious condition and shows how harmful is the thrall of the "spoils system." When it affects only the appointment of a fishery inspector we can afford to regard it with something like indifference; but when it affects the dearest interests of our citizens—something more important than the life—the reason—of our citizens, its real malignity becomes conspicuous.

Removes Poison From the Blood

There is a need in every home of a medicine that by cleansing and invigorating the liver, kidneys and bowels will remove all poisonous waste matter from the blood, cure biliousness, kidney derangements and constiptation, and by so doing prevent fevers, colds, coughs and Bright's Disease. No medicine satisfies the need so well as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as is proven by the testimonials appearing in all the leading papers.

BANCROFT VILLAGERS BADLY SCARED

Mr. Downer States It is No Place for Strangers

Mr. Wm. Downer, organizer of agencies for the National Cream Separator, returned home from Bancroft the other day, after spending a couple of weeks in the district, where recently the three desperadoes ran amuck and almost frightened to death the inhabitants of that tranquil hamlet. Mr. Downer states that since the occurrence the villagers have no heart for strangers and they are all eyed with suspicion.

One day he was going out about four miles into the country on business and seeing a farmer, who lived beyond this objective point, preparing to leave also began walking in the hopes of obtaining a ride. The farmer was driving a team of horses attached to a democrat and had, therefore plenty of room. But the agricultural man refused to take any chances and remained deaf to the solicitation of Mr. Downer who was forced to travel on foot.

Windows and doors of the residences and stables in Bancroft are now strongly bolted at night. Mr. Downer states, and it is almost impossible to gain admittance after night so great is the fear of the return of the dauntless three.

Mr. Downer also stated that the report that the Bancroft constable was shot in the nose is untrue. It is generally known there that he was struck with a boot from the hand of one of the robbers. Shots were fired but only to scare and not to kill.

BUSY WORKERS GAVE A CONCERT

A Delightful Entertainment Was Given on Friday Night in Park Street Church

The first social of the Little Busy Workers of the Park street Baptist church, was held on Friday afternoon. The tables were tastefully laid by the juvenile executive, and looked very tempting to the little folks. At 4.30 the officers were in their places, and the pastor called the meeting to order, and the president, Miss Bessie Mowry, presented the following programme:

Hymn, I'll be a Sunbeam.
Prayer, A. H. Brace.
Minutes of last meeting, read by Miss Lottie Davis,
Choruses.
Scripture reading by the president.
Recitation, Florence Sherwood.
Instrumental, Edna Davis.
Recitation, E. McGill.
Recitation, Pearl Pogue.
Motion Song, G. Killenbeck and 4 girls.
Recitation, M. Corsey.
Solo, Wilton Tranter.
Recitation, May Barrie.
Recitation, G. Killenbeck.
Remarks by pastor.

The programme was entered into with much enthusiasm. Several encores were requested but only the motion song was repeated. Ten new members were voted in.

Pearl Peters was called to the front and received birthday congratulations, with a suitable letter text and a pretty little shield.

About fifty sat down to tea and afterwards enjoyed themselves on the green plot around the church.

The next open session will be held in Jackson Park, the first week after the school examinations.

DR. JOHNSTON WAS INJURED

As a Result of a Collision Last Night—Badly Shaken Up

Last night about 11 o'clock, while Dr. Johnston, V.S., was driving out on the first line of Smith, he met with a collision which almost demolished his vehicle, in front of Mr. Wm. Swinton's residence. The doctor was going out to a farmer's residence on a professional visit, when he collided with a vehicle, eastward bound, causing the trouble. Both buggies were badly damaged, and Dr. Johnston also received some injuries.

The occupant of the other conveyance is unknown.

ROLLER HOCKEY VERY POPULAR

2,000 Persons Saw Fast Game in Which Rough Work by Baird Was Feature

Roller hockey is proving popular in Ottawa; 2,000 persons saw a game on Friday night, when Ottaw adfeated Victoria by 6—2. A feature of the game was the rough work of Baird, who was ruled of for 35 minutes by Referee Alf Smith. A despatch says the match was very fast and scientific, and that Shore, Roberts, Harrison and Young starred, while LeSuer's work in gaol was a feature.

STEADY PROGRESS FOR PICNIC BEING MADE

T. A. S. Committee Gathering in the Nets for a Big Outing of Fun and Pleasure

Only three short weeks intervene between now and the greeat picnic event of the year the T.A.S. picnic. The various committees are busily engaged in preparing the grounds which nature herself left in good condition, and a veritable lawn is promised. Mr. P. Kane with a gang of men made several trips to the grounds last week preparing trees for swings and generally laying out the place for the stands, etc. Every means are being prepared for enjoyment and recreation and with fine weather, this event should be a record breaker. Shooting galleries, ten pins, throwing balls at dolls and other games for cigars will be in position. A large dancing pavilion is being erected where young and old will delight in tripping the light fantastic by the river side. The committeee is striving hard to make every arrangement that will provide fun for the young as well as the old.

A DELIGHTFUL OUTING ENJOYED

Members of Mr. A. B. Cunningham's Sunday School Class Took Trip Down River

A glorious June day, the swiftest yacht on the river, a bevy of eighteen young ladies, bright, charming and jolly, a merrier party never sped down the winding waters of the Otonabee. These young ladies were the members of Mr. A. B. Cunningham's Bible Class of the Charlotte street Sunday School. Last Saturday afternoon they were out for a June jubilation and none were disappointed. The twelve mile run to Highland Park was made in a little over an hour, where delightful rambles for ferns and flowers prepared the party to do full justice to the refreshments.

The "Tootsy" and her chivalrous captain did their best, and passed everything in sight, while the chief engineer explained the details of his trim little engine. It is an unsettled question whether the engineer or the engine was most admired.

The return trip was filled with merriment, ice-cream and song, arriving at 8.30. Before capturing street car the party gave the cheers for their host and hostess and three for Captain Allen and the "Tootsy." Boys never cheered more lustily and at last accounts, the chief engineer was still explaining his engine to a young lady.

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price 75 cents per bottle.

GOOD ADDRESS AT MEN'S SERVICE

Rev. Percy Thornton, Speaker at Sunday Afternoon Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday

An address with a stirring evangelistic ring was that given by Rev. Percy Thornton, a recent graduate of Knox College, at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon. He spoke from the text "Behold I Stand at the door and knock," and the address was well received.

Mr John Tisdale led the song service and Mr. Duncan Campbell sang "Will There be Any Stars in My Crown." The musical part of the service added much to the stength of the meeting.

Put New Blood Into the Arteries

AND THE FEELING OF WEAKNESS AND FATIGUE WILL GIVE WAY TO HEALTH AND VIGOR

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

At this time of year nothing is of such great value to the human system as new rich red blood. Feelings of languor and depression, headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, impaired digestion, nervousness — these all tell of thin, watery blood and a run down system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all else a blood building restorative which puts new blood into the arteries and by so doing lays the foundation for health and vigour.

It sharpens up the appetite, and strengthens the nerves, which control the flow of digestive fluids, forms new firm flesh and tissues, and gives vigour to these vital organs of the body.

Mr. Fred H. Gould, Purdy, Hastings Co., Ont., writes: "I was troubled with nervous headaches, which at times were very painful and caused much suffering. It has been thoroughly cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can recommend this treatment most highly and believe that as a general system builder it has no equal.

Mrs. W. Chappel, Barrie, Ont., writes. "I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the nervous system and of improving the health generally and I have also found it a good remedy for female troubles.

"We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment as a household remedy for all kinds of sores and cuts and think it is a splendid ointment."

You can be sure that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing you good because each dose goes to the formation of a certain amount of pure, rich, red, blood. It cures by the building up process, and its cures are, therefore, thorough and lasting; 50 cents a box; 6 for $2.50, at all dealers; or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

COLD SPRINGS HALL OPENED

New Building of the Union Sunday School Now Ready for Service—Opening Yesterday

REV. MR. WEBB PREACHED

Yesterday was a day of double importance to the members of the Cold Springs Union Sunday school of Otonabee. It was the occasion of the 19th anniversary of the beginning of the school, but this was partially forgotten under the more prominent consideration of the opening of the fine new Sunday school hall, the erection of which has just been completed. The event was celebrated yesterday afternoon by a ceremony befitting the dual importance of the memorable occasion. There were present besides Rev. J. R. Webb, of the Murray street Baptist church, who was the principal speaker of the afternoon, two of the past superintendents of the school, Messrs. M. W. Matchett and H. P. Kennedy. Expressions of regret at not being able to be present, were conveyed from Messrs. R. A. Ward of Toronto, and Dawson Kennedy of Peterborough, who are also past superintendents of the Cold Springs Sunday school.

Nineteen years ago the Sunday school was inaugurated, and has ever since held its meetings in the public school of that community. The progress made has been beyond the anticipations of the founders, and it now holds a reputable position among the schools of the country. There are some seventy members on the roll, consisting of almost all religious denominations, with last year an average of over 55, a record of which the officials have every reason to feel grateful.

The new hall is a substantial building situated a short distance north of the public school, on one of the prettiest spots that could possibly be chosen. It is a two-story building, the basement of which will be used for teas, etc., and the other for Sunday school, and concert purposes. The interior is handsomely decorated and furnished and in all respects it is a building worthy of the members of the school through whose efforts it has been erected.

The ceremony yesterday was presided over by Miss Laura Bennett, superintendent for the past six or more years.

Before the speaker of the afternoon was called upon, short addresses were given by Messrs. M. W. Matchett and H. P. Kennedy. A vocal solo was also beautifully rendered by Miss Ethel McWhinnie of Peterborough, the accompaniment being played by Miss Elliot.

Rev. Mr. Webb gave a very impressive and instructive address, directed principally to the younger members of the audience, which filled the hall to the doors. His remarks bore practical lessons to both young and old on the attaining of a moral character. He spoke of the effects of influence upon the lives of the young and exhorted all to resist the influences which they knew would lead them astray. "Never waver for a moment when you know what you ought to do," was another motto referred to by the speaker, who dwelt at some length upon the importance of the conscience of the individual as a constant companion.

The last point in the address was upon the question of "opportunity," and to illustrate its importance, quoted from the poet, who said, "Opportunity is the flower of time; the stem remains long after the flower has been cut off."

Before the close of the service a short address was given by Mr. R. J. Kidd, superintendent of the Charlotte street Methodist Sunday school, who was also present. The music yesterday was of a special and appropriate character, in which the children of the school took a prominent part.

The anniversary services will be continued this evening, when a tea and concert will be held in the new hall.

Mr. Wm. MacLaren read a thoughtful paper on "Social Service to Men." The discussion of the subject was deferred until the July meeting.

A committee composed of Messrs. Shiner, Simpson, Cooke and Walker, was appointed to consider the advisability of running an excursion at the time of the Boys' Camp, as was done last year.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, Official Measurer at Galt Horse Show—Praises Town's Enterprise

The Galt Reformer, in its "Incidental Notes" on the recent Horse Show held in that town, refers to a well-known Peterborough horseman, in the following terms:

"A most popular visitor to the judges' and directors' tents was Mr. D. Hughes Charles, of Peterborough, and formerly of Galt. Mr. Charles is acting in the capacity of official measurer. He expressed regret to-day that he could no longer claim as his home the town which furnishes such an excellent show. Mr. Charles will remain in town to-day."

A PICTURE POST CARD STORE HAS BEEN OPENED

Novelties in Cards Offered by Local Young Man

Peterborough is becoming more like a city every day. The latest proof of this is the opening of a Picture Post Card store in the south half of Lindsay and Might's offices adjoining the Market approach off George street. In the cities a stranger finds these stores in which the picture cards are given sole attention. That there is a reason for this has been proved during the past two years when a fad that developed into a craze has become a settled fashion. Picture post cards are a boon to travellers and give the people at home an idea of the places that are being visited.

Peterborough should be able to support a store that is devoted to picture cards entirely and the people may feel assured that they can buy the latest in design and the prettiest cards that are manufactured. The proprietor is a young man of this city who feels confident that there is sufficient demand for novelties in this line and is determined to keep in stock only the best.

GOT A PAIN IN YOUR BACK?

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. You perhaps pay no attention to it. Backache is caused by imperfect action of the kidneys, in fact, is the first sign of kidney trouble to follow.

The kidneys, proper, are composed of a close network of fibrous tissue, interlaced with tiny elastic fibres. Their object is the excretion of the uric acid, and other poisonous matter composing the urine, from the blood.

They are continuously at work to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of kidney trouble, but do not suspect it.

Some of the symptoms are: A feeling of weakness in the small of the back, sharp pains in back, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the feet and ankles, urinary troubles such as suppressed urination, excessive urination, cloudy, thick or highly colored urine, etc.

Mr. J. L. Whiting, Conebrack Centre, Ont., writes: "I suffered for two years with kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back, hips and legs. I could not sleep and had a poor appetite. I took four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the pains left me, my appetite returned and I now sleep well. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

"Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses." Timothy 1st Epistle, vi., 12.

The occasion of the attendance of the officers and men of the 57th Regiment at the evening service at St. Paul's church yesterday, was one of special significance. It showed that the spiritual welfare of the soldiers receives careful attention from those in charge and that they aim at engendering in the rank and file a fervent loyalty for the King of Kings. It was a grand sight to witness the regiment on the march to assist in Divine service and it was doubtless a potent example to the vast concourse of citizens that lined the streets. The appearance of the 57th is always greeted by a great number of the people of Peterborough who are justly proud of their martial bearing and neatness in dress, but no Sunday parade has ever attracted as many as did that of last night. Both bands accompanied the soldiers and were in fine form. In fact the whole was a pleasing sight and the officers may feel elated that they have succeeded in turning out such a fine body of men.

The church was thronged with militia and civilians, the former occupying the centre aisles and the band was seated in the gallery. To Rev. Dr. Torrance fell the duty of delivering the sermon and his words were such as must have inspired the men to stand by their God first and their King and country afterwards.

The Address

His text was taken from the First Epistle of St. Paul to Timothy, vi, 12:—"Fight the good fight of faith," etc. He remarked that the great warriors, men who have accomplished those military deeds which have changed nations and made history, are given an important place in the chronicles of illustrous personages. Military art has justly demanded a place with literature, music, sculpture, etc., and has produced many famous men. Characters like those of Napoleon and Alexander have swayed the world, the speaker continued but they were powerless to control themselves and it was on this point that Rev. Dr. Torrance based his address.

St. Paul was a great warrior but a greater soldier of the Cross of Christ. There is a marked similarity between the spiritual and the actual warfare. The enemy and his resources must be reckoned with before the engagement. Not a loophole is allowed in the line, not a point of weakness tolerated. Such is the fundamental principle which soldiers follow and accordingly the followers of Christ Christ should be as precautious. The latter undergoes a life long siege, from day to day with three strong, watchful, stealthy adversaries banded together for the destruction of man in the sight of God. They are the devil, the world and the flesh. The speaker pointed out the methods which should be followed that these enemies might be met and overcome to the joy and delight of all Heaven, the individual's spiritual and moral good. There should not be a weak spot in the armour, nor a joint unprotected, while the weapons of assault should be ready at hand.

Rev. Dr. Torrance urged the soldiery to fight under the eye of the great Captain without being a traitor to Him. He asked that they fight the fight of faith for their own eternal welfare and in conclusion remarked that if St. Paul might, himself, address them his words would be those which he addressed to Timothy—"fight the good fight of faith."

The music rendered by the choir was appropriate and sung in a splendid manner. Special mention is due to Miss Davies, who took the solos in her customary artistic style.

The 57th Regimental Band, under the direction of Mr. R. Gliddon, played during the offertory. Their number was "A Dream of Paradise" in which Bandsman Walter Hughes had the leading cornet part.

After the service the band, while waiting for the regiment to file out of the church and form ranks, played two sacred selections, which delighted the thousands which thronged the adjacent street and park. Their selections were "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "Adeste Fideles." The regiment then marched between thronged pavements the entire route down Water, across Hunter, up George street, to George street to the armouries, where it "fell out."

The parade state is as follows:

AN EPIDEMIC OF PETTY BURGLARIES STRIKES THE CITY

Houses Broken Into on Saturday and Sunday—Provisions Taken From House in East City.

SOME OTHER BURGLARIES

Fifteen dollars, rent money, concealed under a piece of paper in a cupboard, was passed over by a man who broke into Mr. R. Whatley's house, on Burnham street early Saturday morning, but a dozen eggs, a bag of cakes and a piece of butter were more to his liking, and they disappeared. Mrs. Whatley about two o'clock on Saturday morning heard someone walking around the house downstairs, and called down to find out if it was one of the family. There was no response to her first inquiry, and after waiting some little time and hearing the sound of footsteps she wakened her husband and sons and, when the intruder heard them coming he made his escape, knocking over a chair in his efforts to get out of the house before he was discovered. He ran across Mr. Harry Neil's newly seeded lawn, and left his footmarks. Saturday morning, when Percy Neil went to feed his hens he found lying by the door of the hen house a bag containing ten of the dozen eggs originally in it, remnants of some cake and butter. The burglar had evidently left these in his hurry to get away.

When Mr. Whatley came downstairs of course there was no one there but there were evidences that the house had been entered; the furniture had been upset and the cupboard in the kitchen opened, but fortunately the money, which Mrs. Whatley had placed there only the day before, was still there.

The burglar secured entrance through the back door, which was unlocked.

The residence of Mr. Jas. Stadgett, Murray street, was broken open yesterday afternoon by burglars. Two desks containing papers and money were ransacked, but nothing valuable was removed, so far as can be discovered. Mr. Shadgett himself is out west, and the residence was in charge of his wife and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Mason. The two ladies went out for a walk, leaving the house about 3 o'clock and returning shortly after 5 o'clock.

They discovered that during their absence the would-be robbers had effected an entrance by the cellar door to the rear of the residence. From the cellar they were easily able to gain the interior of the house, where they began their work of searching.

Two desks were ransacked completely, Mrs. Shadgett finding the papers and books strewn all over the place. Her pocketbook was lying empty in a drawer, but she had placed $40 in bills in a book, which had been picked up, thrown down, left unopened. Mrs. Mason's pocketbook had been left hanging from the rear of the sideboard, and by some good fortune fell behind it. Some change had also been placed in a cup on the same piece of furniture, but as it was covered over with papers, was also left unmolested.

Evidently the burglars received a scare before their search was completed, as they did not get to any of the other rooms in the house. The dog belonging to Mrs. Mason was believed to have returned to the house while they were inside. His tracks were plainly visible in the cellar, and had he been there would certainly have made an uproar, considering its vicious appearance when a reporter called this morning.

Apparently Mr. Shadgett's house was watched, and as soon as the occupants left, was raided with the above results.

Mr. R. Hicks & Co's office was another of the places entered by burglars and so far as can be learned is the last the daring robbers who are doing up the city, have attempted. Their actions were discovered in time however, by two policemen, Messrs. Newhall and McDonald, this morning, 1 o'clock, and a rapid exit from the place was made.

The officers were watching in the vicinity for suspicious characters when they heard a noise near Mr. Hicks' office and made investigations. One of them tried the door and to his surprise it opened. Just then a window upstairs in the office was heard to lower and the two policemen quickly made the ascent. The robbers had gotten away by means of a roof leaning against the office and made their escape among the lumber yards.

Some of the drawers in the office desk were opened but nothing was found to be missing.

WEDDING BELLS

DAVISON-PRATT

Friends in the city of Miss Stella Pratt of Cobourg will be interested in the following report of her wedding, contained in the Sentinel-Star of Saturday:

At the residence of Postmaster and Mrs. Pratt on Wednesday, the marriage was solemnized of their second daughter, Miss Stella, to Mr. Bert Davison of Port Hope, Rev. W. Beattie performed the ceremony. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family the wedding was a quiet one. They left on the International Limited on a trip to western points, and they will take up residence in Port Hope.

BROWN-LECH

A wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Lech, 141 Dougall avenue, Windsor, Ont., on Wednesday afternoon, June 5th, at two o'clock, when their daughter, Alice, was married to Mr. Frederick Baylis Brown, of Montreal.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Tolmie, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The bride's gown was of white lace over chiffon and taffeta with rose point berthe and trimmings of seed pearls. She wore her mother's wedding veil with orange blossoms and carried a sheaf of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Amy Lech, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and was gowned in yellow mousseline de soie with insertions of white valenciennes lace and carried a sheaf of marguerites. Mr. George Gale of Ottawa, acted as best man.

The bride's mother was gowned in mauve Dresden silk with garnitures of green panne velvet and lace, Mrs. Brown, mother of the groom, was in grey colienne over taffeta with Duchesse lace yoke and berthe and black picture hat.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Hamilton, the bride's grandmother, Miss Dickson, Miss Martha Dickson, Mrs. J. B. Hunter, Miss Lillias Hamilton, Mr. Gerald R. Hall, all of Peterborough, the groom's mother, Mrs. Wm. F. Brown, Mr. W. Gordon Brown, brother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Gardinger, uncle and aunt of the bride all of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on the afternoon express for Toronto and Temagami Lakes, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in a suit of Delft blue Rajah silk with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Westmount.

O'RILEY--GRADY

St. Mary's church, Crysler, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on June 4th, when Miss Sarah Helen Grady, daughter of Mr. Michael Grady, Cahore was united in marriage to Lewis O'Riley, son of the late Hugh O'Riley, of Peterborough. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie O'Riley, sister of the groom, while Mr. Joseph Lynch, cousin of the bride, assisted the groom.

The bride was attired in a charming suit of gray Venetian lady's cloth, and wore a pretty white hat trimmed with white plumes and lily of the valley, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid looked charming in a white point d'esprit over white silk and wore a pretty white hat and carried pink carnations.

As the bridal party entered the church the wedding march was played by Miss Rose Lynch. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick after which the reverend father offered up the holy sacrifice of the mass for the special benefit of the young couple. After the mass the bridal party left for Ottawa, returning on the 5 p.m., when they were met by a number of friends who drove to the home of the bride's father, where a sumptuous wedding supper was served to about one hundred and sixty invited guests. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain. The bride received a large number of presents which testifies to the high place the young lady holds in the esteem of her friends, also receiving a cheque of one hundred dollars from her father.

On their return to Peterborough they will reside at 377 Stewart street.

OBITUARY

MARY QUINLAN

A sad death occurred this morning shortly after eight o'clock, when Mary Quinlan, the young wife of Mr. Albert Doris, passed away after a short illness. Besides the bereaved husband, an infant of two weeks, survives. It is healthy and progressing well. The late Mrs. Doris's mother, Mrs. D. Quinlan, two sisters, Mrs. Conroy, of Otonabee, and Miss Ruth at home, and two brothers, John and Thomas, at home, are also left to mourn her sad taking off.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from the family residence, 52 Weller street, to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

MRS. HENRY KELLETT

The death occurred yesterday at 1 o'clock, of Mrs Henry Kellett, who passed away after an illness of about three weeks, with kidney disease.

Hon. J. R. Stratton has purchased from the Indian Department, "Big Island" at the head of Clear Lake. Any person wanting an excellent location has now an opportunity of negotiating its purchase.

CANOE CAPSIZED IN THE OTONABEE

Almost a Drowning Accident—Attempted to Cling to Str. Monarch

A drowning fatality was narrowly averted at the locks bridge on Saturday evening, just as the steamer Monarch sailed out of the lock, by the capsizing of a canoe. The small boat was looked through at the same time as the steamer and in an attempt to save some energy by getting a tow down stream, one of the occupants secured a cold water bath and at the same time almost lost his life.

The two men in the canoe caught hold of one of the boat-fenders but he soon discovered that the little craft allowed the water to flow in over the gunwales. The one in the bow made a daring leap for life and succeeded in arriving safely on the Monarch. At the same time the water rushed to the stern of the canoe and together with the weight of the man forced it beneath the surface.

Eye witnesses of the scene state that the young man twice sank to the bottom before he was able to grasp the boat. Messrs. Seawright and E. Carr happened to be close at hand and came to the rescue. They towed the unlucky bather and his boat to land but a number of articles, including a camera and a pair of field glasses, were lost in the river. It was also reported that their prospective excursion was postponed. The two men are employees of the Bank of Commerce.

SEATS GOING FAST FOR THE SHOW

Minstrel Entertainment To-morrow Night —Great Programme

The final rehearsal for the Minstrel show which will be given by a large number of local amateurs in the Grand opera house to-morrow night and Wednesday night, will be held to-night when the finishing touches of the work will be put on. The entertainment promises to surpass anything in this line ever given in the city before. It will be especially strong in its musical feaures, as the chorus is composed of thirty-five of the best male singers in the city, who have been carefully trained and prepared for the event. The music is new and catchy, and those who have seen the rehearsals say that the part work surpasses anything ever given by Peterborough amateurs. There are a dozen solo numbers, including beautiful ballads, new "coon" songs, and funny end numbers.

The jokes will be many and funny, and local people, and things, will be touched up in a manner that would make a man forget his mother-in-law. There are six funny end-men, who will do their best to drive away the cob-webs.

The plan is now open at the opera house and the seats are going fast. If you intend going to-morrow night it would be wise to see about your tickets at once, as there will not be any to spare to-morrow night.

IS POOR ECONOMY FOR FARMERS

They Should Grow Wheat Instead of Spending Money for Manitoba Flour

About the poorest economy our farmers can practice is to give up raising their own wheat, and to spend their money for Manitoba flour. It is downright extravagant, for they lose money both ways. In the first place there is a steadily growing demand for a blended flour, which is milled of Manitoba wheat and Ontario wheat.

No flour milled of a single kind of wheat can be as good as a blended flour. For instance Ontario wheat lacks strength, although it makes very fine white bread and light pastry. Manitoba wheat makes a big loaf that is very nutritious, but the bread is coarse and yellow. But a blended flour — containing both Ontario and Manitoba wheat—supplies what each single kind of wheat lacks and contains the good qualities of both.

Then, look at it another way. If our own farmers buy Manitoba flour they are making another province rich at the expense of our own. The money which they earn in Ontario is turned over to the farmers and millers of Manitoba.

What all our farmers and what all our housewives should do, is to get together on this flour question. Every farmer in Ontario should raise winter wheat—as big a crop as his farm will justify. He should not only raise Ontario wheat but he should also make it a point to buy a blended flour, made of this same home-grown wheat.

The money is made here — the money should be spent here, and kept here.

Our women folk can help this cause along by using a blended flour for all their baking. The more they use the greater will be the demand will be for Ontario wheat. As this increases naturally the farmers will go in more for wheat. Every person will thus share in the rejuvenation of a failing industry, and rejoice in the greater prosperity of our farming population.

Plucky Rescue Saved Boy From Drowning

Fred Feenie Plunged Into Lake at Jackson Park to Save Comrade—Was Going Down Third Time.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE

David Aherne, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. Geo. Aherne, Elm street, had a very narrow escape from drowning at Jackson Park yesterday afternoon and had it not been for the bravery and presence of mind of a companion, but slightly older than himself would have undoubtedly been drowned. Young Aherne decided to have a swim in the artificial lake. A number of other boys were near by but none of them were bathing.

The little fellow, who could not swim, ran down the bank and into the water at a point in which he thought the lake was shallow. Instead he plunged into a hole where he could not touch bottom. He shouted for help and was going down for the third time when Fred Teenie, a fourteen year old boy, who was nearby, plunged into the lake without waiting to doff his clothes, and after a hard fight succeeded in bringing young Aherne to the bank where he quickly recovered.

Their butter was returned to them and in no way were they held liable for selling under weight, so that they were very indignant at having to appear in police court.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. P. SIMONS, SR.

Last Respects to Popular Merchant and Citizen Paid by Many Friends

The mortal remains of Peter Simons were laid at rest yesterday, in St. Peter's cemetery, accompanied with unusual evidences of public and private respect and esteem for a citizen who has spent most of the years of a respected and upright life in Peterborough. The deceased gentleman was a native of Brockville, and came with the family to Peterborough at an early age. Of the family that then made this town their home, only four survive—two brothers, James, of Erie, Pa.; and John, of Toronto; and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, and Mrs. Justus B. Dunn, city.

The funeral was one of the largest in attendance of recent years. A procession, composed of over two hundred members of the C. M. B. A. of which deceased was in life a member, of the Catholic Order of Foresters, and of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, escorted the remains to St. Peter's Cathedral. As the catafalque, bearing the remains, was advanced to the altar, the choir sang, "Nearer My God to Thee," producing a solemn and impressive effect upon the large congregation, which filled the church, and at the close of the service for the dead, celebrated by Rev. Father P. J. Kelly, nephew of the deceased, the choir sang, "Dear sacred Heart."

There was a profuse offering of floral tributes, showing in what esteem the late Mr. Simons and his family were held. Messrs. John Simons, of Toronto; Danny Simons, Boston, Richard and Mrs. Simons, of Altoona, Pa.; and William Simons, Canandagua, N.Y.; were in the city, for the funeral.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. H. LeBrun, George Ball, H. Phelan, Thomas Doris, H. Carveth and Jos. Picard. At the conclusion of the services at the church, the remains were escorted to the cemetery by the societies, and followed by a very large number of citizens in carriages. At the grave Rev. Father Kelly performed the burial service.

At eight o'clock this morning a solemn Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Kelly for the repose of the soul of the late Mr. Simons.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

MRS. THOMAS J. BEGLEY,

MORNING'S HAPPENINGS AT THE POLICE COURT

Mr. C. B. Routley's Yard the Cause of a Little Trouble

The week started off well at the Police Court this morning. Almost every kind of a case was heard, from "bike" riding on the sidewalk to larceny.

Jos. O'Toole was up first for riding a wheel on the sidewalk. He pleaded guilty and was fined $2 to be paid in ten days.

Mr. C. B. Routly pleaded guilty to an infringement of the bylaw regarding the collection of boxes and inflammable material within the city limits. He explained that his business required a certain amount of crates to be left at the rear of his store, as he receives new ones every day. He placed them against a fire-proof wall away from other buildings, and further claimed that he had the cleanest store yard in the city. The Magistrate said that the object of the law was to prevent the collection of boxes, etc., and if a man tried to keep within the law it was not fair to punish him. The case was enlarged for eight days, when the yard would be inspected again.

THREE LADIES HAD NO LIGHT WEIGHT BUTTER

Indignant at Having to Appear Before the Magistrate

The farmers' wives who appeared in the Police Court on Saturday morning, charged with exposing for sale on the market butter that was under weight, and against whom the charge was proven, were fined $2 each by the Magistrate. Mr. Dumble did not confiscate the butter as he might have done, but, after a warning, allowed the women to take the dairy produce away. They were sufficiently punished, however, as all chance of disposing of it on the market was gone.

The track was torn up for several yards. A wrecking crew left North Bay about 9.30 and worked all night. The baggage car and one coach were got on the track, and the other three coaches tipped over to enable trains to pass.

Both north and southbound trains were held up from eight to eighteen hours.

Peterborough Won Good Game From The St. Andrew's Nine

Flaherty's Great Pitching Was the Feature---Score Was 9-6 in Favour of the Locals Who Pounded Out Three Runs in the Eighth---Game Was Played in Driving Park

By outbatting and outfielding the St. Andrew's team of the West End Senior League of Toronto, the Peterborough baseball team won their third victory of the season on Saturday afternoon after a see-saw contest in which the game, in its earlier stages, looked to be anybody's. Flaherty's great pitching undoubtedly won for the locals. He was in fine fettle Saturday and held the visitors down to five singles, three of which, had it not been for the nature of the ground, would certainly have been out off by the outfielders. After the second innings it was a complete mystery to the Saints, they only securing one hit in the last seven innings, while fifteen of the visitors were fanned.

He had speed to burn, and, coupled with it control and steady pitching. Monteith, the elongated slab artist with the languid delivery, who occupied the slab for the visitors, pitched a good game, but he was hit when hits meant runs, the locals managing to rap out eleven hits, while Mr. Monteith contributed three complimentary passes.

Neither pitcher was given the best of support and the misplays all counted in the run-getting. With perfect support Flaherty would have pretty nearly shut the visitors out, as it was costly errors in the first and second and again in the eighth that allowed the visitors to score.

The game was played at the Driving Park and the crowd was fairly large, but there is no provision for spectators, and the field itself is far from perfect. The contest was pulled off at the east end of the grounds where, while the diamond is fairly accurate and fast, the outfield is cut off on each side by judging rings. A ground rule had to be called into force, hits into the enclosures allowing the batter one base. Three of the hits registered against Flaherty were fast easy flies that dropped into the rings out of the reach of the fielders.

The game was exciting, and in spite of errors was a good exhibition.

The visitors started out well. In the first, after Sweetman had flied out to Johnston, Kion singled, stole second and scored on Burridge's low throw to third. Acherson and Smith both struck out. Three more came in the second on singles by Currie, Copping and Kion, coupled with a wild throw to first by Flaherty and infield outs, allowing three of the visitors to cross the plate. For the next five innings they were blanked, Flaherty striking out three in a row in the third. Peterborough scored their first in the second chapter. Connors led off with a two-bagger to left and stole third, counting on Sheridan's single to centre. Sheridan was out at second in an effort to stretch his hit to two bases.

Although there were two on the bags, with no one down in the third, the locals failed to score. Flaherty was given a base on balls and Graham was safe on Sweetman's error. A moment afterwards Flaherty was caught off second, and then Graham was nipped in an attempt to purloin the middle station. Burns retired the side on a grounder to short.

It was the same story in the fourth when Callaghan singled and Burridge was safe on fielder's choice, the throw to second being too late to get Callaghan. Connors and Sheridan fanned, and Quinlan's effort was a pop fly to pitcher, leaving our two gladiators stranded on the outfield.

It was in the fifth that we got to their Mr. Monteith in proper style. Johnston, first up, grounded out to short, Flaherty was safe on Sweetman's fumble of his grounder. Graham was out on a grounder. Singles by Burns, Burridge and Connors, with another error by Sweetman, however, allowed Flaherty, Burns, Callaghan and Burridge to cross the rubber. Monteith was in more trouble in the sixth, but a double play helped him out of the hole, Sheridan and Johnston were safe on errors by second and first. Flaherty's grounder to short forced Sheridan at third. Graham beat out a bunt and the bases were full with but one out. Burns hit a fly to Smith, however, and the Saints' shortstop snapped the ball to second for a double play.

The locals increased their lead to two in the seventh on singles by Quinlan and Burridge.

The Saints tied up the game in their half of the eighth. Burns' wild throw to first after a neat pick-up of Acherson's grounder sent the runner to second, from which station he scored on Currie's single. Currie stole second and third, and came in on Monteith's long fly to Connors. The latter made a good throw to the plate, but it was too late to cut off the run.

With the score a tie, Peterborough went in to bat in their half of the eighth. Johnston was safe on a grounder to Smith which that individual allowed to get away from him. Flaherty fanned, but Graham was handed a pass. Burns' single sent them both across the plate, and an error by Sweetman, with Quinlan's hit scored Burns.

With four to make to win, the visitors went to bat in the ninth. Sheridan dropped D'Eath's easy fly, but the next three were easy outs and the game was over.

W. Wareham gave satisfaction as umpire.

KARNOTS STILL HEAD THE LEAGUE

Defeated Excelsiors by a Garrison Finish on Saturday Afternoon

The Karenots still lead the City Intermediate Baseball League as the result of their third straight victory, which they won from the Excelsiors at the Oval on Saturday afternoon. The game was by far the best that has been played in the league so far this season. Both teams fielded cleanly and errors were few and far between. The contest was of a see-saw nature, and during the early stages it looked as if the Excelsiors were going to pull out a victory. When the Karenots went to bat in the ninth the score was 7 to 5 against them, but timely batting and a couple of errors gave them six runs and the game by a majority of four. It was a great finish and caused much excitement among the good-sized crowd of fans present. Long and Bellegham both pitched good ball and were not hit very freely, although the Karenots got to the latter in proper fashion in the ninth. The fielding feature was a one-handed catch of a long fly to left by Borradaile of the Karenots.

Fred Headip umpired to the satisfaction of both teams.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:—

Karenots — Long, p; Lang, c; V Craig, 1b; Conroy, 2b; Gaske, ss; Ray, 3b; Borradaile, lf; Johnston, cf; Lees, rf.

Excelsiors — Bellegham, p; Billington, c; Coughlin, 1b; O'Shea, 2b; Guerin, 3b; Clancy, ss; Russell, rf; Tobin, cf; Staunton, lf.

QUAKERS MASTERS OF OMEMEE

Defeated Them in Second Game in Lindsay on Saturday Evening by Score of 2-0

CROUGH SCORED TWO GOALS

Examiner Special

Lindsay, June 10.—In one of the best exhibitions of football ever witnessed here, the Peterborough Intermediate Quaker team white-washed the Omemees eleven on Saturday evening by the score of 2-0. The match was played on the Exhibition Grounds before a fairly large crowd, composed chiefly of Lindsay spectators, and the occasion was greeted with fairer weather than that which the weather man was responsible for on Wednesday night at the previous game here.

This was the fourth match which these two teams have played this season, and by winning it the Quakers have won their district and proved themselves masters of the Omemees bunch. Both teams arrived in town on the same train and were lined up ready for play about 7 o'clock. They were apparently evenly matched in weight, but the city youngsters showed up better in the game.

The Quakers' first goal was scored in the first half by Crough, the centre forward, who put up a fine game throughout. He was also instrumental in notching the other in the latter half. He was very ably assisted by the remainder of the forward line, with Brodie and Yates, and Hamilton and Caniff playing the wings. The former had several shots on goal during the game and he was a puzzler to the Omemees defence. Their combination was a feature of the match, and in this respect they surpassed the Omemee attacking line, which had only two shots on Lang, who handled them nicely.

Dingman, Deforge and Archibald on the half-back line played steady games and scarcely allowed the ball to pass their territory. The two backs, Scrimshaw and Sullivan, had little to do, but they did that well.

For Omemees, Jardine, Brereton and McGee were always prominent, but all their men worked like Trojans against the inevitable. Mr. M. Sherin of Omemee carried the whistle, and his decisions were never disputed. The teams lined up as follows:—

| OMEMEE | QUAKERS |
|---|---|
| Goal. | |
| Ingram | Laing |
| Backs. | |
| Jardine | Sullivan |
| Hayes | Scrimshaw |
| Half-Backs. | |
| Sisson | Archibald |
| Brereton | Dingman |
| McGee | Deforge |
| Forwards. | |
| McGee | Hamilton |
| Nugent | Caniff |
| Mitchell | Crough |

GROVE TEAM WON MATCH

Defeated the Junior Colts After a Good Game at the Oval on Saturday

SOME SPLENDID BOWLING

An interesting game of cricket was played on the Oval on Saturday afternoon, when the Grove School team, of Lakefield, defeated the Peterborough Junior Colts in a two innings game, by 100 runs to 37. The visitors scored 39 in their first innings, while the Colts made 21. In the second the Grove boys put on a score of 61, of which Patterson I. scored 17, and Lumsden I. contributed a useful 15. The local eleven succeeded in scoring but 16 runs, finding the bowling of Patterson and Barron very hard to hit.

The Colts, the majority of whom are playing for the first time this year, made a good showing, and, with some practice, will make formidable adversaries. Their fielding on Saturday was very good, some pretty catches being made.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL TO BE CONSIDERED

Committee Appointed to Gather Information From Similar Buildings

The Isolation Hospital problem was again introduced by the Mayor last night at the Committee of the Whole meeting, who explained how matters stood so far as the Board of Health was concerned. Plans and specifications have been made galore and the estimated cost of a building suitable to the Board of Health was $7,000. The two hospitals have refused to take in persons with infectious diseases and this was pointed out by some of the aldermen to be detrimental to the health of the city as houses in which these diseases are will have to be closed up.

The Mayor considered that the council should not vote the money directly to the Health Board before the question was placed before the people.

Ald. Elliott was strongly in favour of such an hospital but believed that buildings as near to the present hospitals as the law allows, would be sufficient.

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Duncan, that a committee consisting of Ald. Bradburn, Elliott and Wilson be appointed to collect information from other hospitals and report as soon as possible.—Carried.

The important problem before the Committee of the Whole council at its meeting last night was the consideration of the bylaw proposing to aid the Colonial Weaving Company, which is seeking a new location upon which to erect extensive buildings. The outcome of the discussion was the approval of a by-law presented by the Manufacturers' Committee and the decision to have it go before the people on July 11th next for their endorsation or disapproval.

The Manufacturers' Committee recently held a meeting and drew up the bylaw which was presented by Ald. Morrow, the chairman. The company request from the city $3,500 for a free site and a fixed assessment at the cost of the land for ten years, beginning Jan. 1st, 1908. The company will agree in exchange to construct a building 200 feet by 60 feet, to instal $30,000 worth of machinery and to employ 60 hands.

The various clauses were gone over separately when some changes were suggested and some approved of.

Ald. Morgan strongly opposed the idea of giving a bonus to the company as he did not believe the citizens had any right to pay taxes for any company. Ald. McIntyre also stated he was absolutely in opposition to bonus the company.

Ald. Bradburn in answer to Ald. Morgan, stated that the city's importance was due to the manufactures here and he believed that all should be encouraged. He and Ald. Elliott expressed themselves as being strongly in favour of assisting the concern and of the passing of the bylaw.

Ald. Morrow and Leary moved that the bylaw be approved of and that it be submitted to the people on July 11th.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Morgan and McIntyre that the council do not proceed with the confirmation of the bylaw unless a majority of 150 was secured. This was lost by 10 votes to two.

The committee then appointed the poll clerks and deputy returning officers for the various sub-divisions.

FALSE THEORIES

Lead to Worthless or Harmful Remedies

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or capsicum nor alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation, or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insidious germ that dries up the scalp int itle scales calleda dandruff, and absorbes the vitality of the hair, causing failing hair, and finally baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only really scientific preparation to cure dandruff, prevent failing hair and baldness. Sold by leading druggists. # JIMMY REYNOLDS IS CONFIDENT

Port Hope Barber Believes He Can Walk From That Town to Toronto and Return in 38 Hours

IN VERY GOOD CONDITION

Referring to the walk, which "Jimmy" Reynolds of Port Hope, undertakes to take from Port Hope to Toronto and return, the Toronto News says:

"James Reynolds, the famous Port Hope, 'walking barber,' was in town to-day and expressed the greatest confidence in his ability to cover the 134 miles from Port Hope Hope to Toronto and return, in 38 hours.

"Mr. Reynolds will start his walk at ten o'clock on the morning of June 24th, two weeks from yesterday and stands to win several hundred dollars if he covers the journey in the stipulated time, but to do so he will have to walk 3 1-2 miles an hour over the entire journey.

"Mr. Reynolds is 56 years of age, of sturdy build, and exceptionally active for a man of his years. He stands about 5 feet 6 inches high. "Yesterday he walked about 25 miles and this morning declared that he was feeling no ill effects from his long tramp. He now weighs about 145 pounds, but expects to be down to 140 by the day of the race."

DEPARTMENT OF CITY ENGINEER

Mr. James Bogue Condemns Administration of This Department of the City

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I would like to know what our city council is doing towards remedying the condition of affairs connected with the City Engineer's department. Surely, the council is not justified in continuing to allow the present occupant of that position to expend the taxpayers' money in the manner he has been doing. The mismanagement, mistakes, etc., are continuous. It is not only the Romaine street sewer, but I fear our entire sewerage system is defective, and some day the citizens will get a rude awakening to the fact, that local improvements are being done in an irregular manner. The owners have no protection against his extravagance, as unsatisfactory statements of costs are given. Who will pay for re-building the sewer on Romaine street? Not the property owners, I am sure. Perhaps, if the owners of property objected to the manner things are being done the city would find trouble to dispose of their debentures. The council should do no more local or other improvements until there is a proper person appointed as City Engineer, as it is just wasting money that the people expect value for. One has only to look around at the crossings that have been put down to see the need of a change.

Yours, etc.,

JAMES BOGUE.

Peterborough, June 10, 1907.

PARK STREET CHURCH NOTES

July 10th Has Been Selected as a Date for the Picnic

A very solemn service was held on Sunday night at the Park street Baptist church.

A man and his wife were baptized after a searching sermon on "Regeneration."

On Sunday next the Rev. A. H. Brace will preach the re-opening sermons at the Campbellford Baptist church and will give a lecture on Monday.

July 10th has been selected as a date for the Sunday School picnic. The Water Lily and large scow have been chartered for the occasion.

The programme for the week is as follows:—

Tuesday, Ladies' Circle. Miss M. Mann in the chair.

Wednesday, Public Service. Rev. A. H. Brace will preside.

Friday, Building Committee. President, Mr. F. Coon.

INTEREST ON THE NEW CHURCH

A Window Sends $2 to the Park Street Building Fund

Interest in the new church for which the congregation of the Park street Baptist church is working, is on the increase. A letter has been received from a widow lady not a member of the congregation who had read of the project in the newspapers and enclosed $2 towards the fund. Her letter in part said: "Having read in the papers that you are building a new church for Park street, I thought I would like to help.

Counsel Appointed For York Loan Shareholders

Eight Different Classes of Shareholders Who Will be Represented in the Process of Winding Up Company.

PROGRESS IS BEING MADE

Many persons in this city, who were shareholders in the York Loan and Savings Company, have been making inquiries as to the condition of affairs in that company at the present time, and in view of this fact the following from the Toronto News of last night will be read with interest:

Under the provisions of the Act passed at the last session of the Dominion Parliament, amending the Winding-Up Act, Mr. Neil McLean, Official Referee, Osgoode Hall, this morning, upon the application of the National Trust Company, Limited, liquidator of the York Loan and Savings Company, made an order appointing counsel to represent eight different classes of shareholders and creditors, in order to speedily determine the rights of the parties. But for the amendment of the Winding-Up Act, obtained by the liquidator from the Dominion Parliament at its last session, it would have been necessary to make personal service upon about one hundred and thousand shareholders, located at different places from one end of the Dominion to the other, and many in foreign countries, the expense of which would possibly have exceeded one hundred thousand dollars.

By this legislation, however, the court was authorized to appoint representatives of the different classes after publishing a notice to the shareholders, and without personal service of notice upon them, so that all matters in question may be disposed of much more speedily, and at a very large saving of costs to the shareholders.

The solicitors appointed by the Official Referee to represent the different classes were: Messrs. C. A. Masten, Alfred W. Briggs, W. M. Douglas, K.C.; W. N. Ferguson, W. H. Hunter, W. J. Tremear, Toronto, and Mr. S. D. Bigger, Hamilton.

The Barnardo Home Will Not Leave Peterborough

Press Reports Without Foundation —Spitting By-law to be Enforced —Steam Heating Question Left Over—West End Public Playground Question Not Seriously Considered.

GENERAL COUNCIL NEWS

Contrary to rumours which were first aired in the Toronto papers to the effect that the Barnardo Home was being removed to Toronto, that institution will still remain in Peterborough. This information was reported by one of the of the aldermen at the Committee of the Whole Council held last night, when the question of the Home being removed from here was brought up, on the advice of the Board of Trade.

The Property Committee was authorized by a motion last night, to have notices posted in public places, indicating that it was against the bylaw to expectorate on the city sidewalks. Besides these, a number of other questions, including the steam heating problem, were discussed.

Those present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Duncan, Elliott, McIntyre, Wilson, Morgan, Johnston, Phelan, Morrow, Leary, Bradburn, Stevenson.

Ald. Morrow at a previous meeting called attention to the great danger at the C. P. R. crossing, on Aylmer street. The city clerk had written the officials of the railway and received a reply from Mr. Jas. Oborne, stating that the matter would be looked into.

Bylaw Referred

In connection with the Night-soil Bylaw, it was moved by Ald. McIntyre and Morgan that it be left over until the Garbage Bylaw is taken up.—Carried.

Dr. Morrison, chairman of the Board of Trade, called the attention of the Mayor to the fact that there was no public playground in the west end of the city, and that the Board would like the council to consider the matter. They advised the council to purchase ten lots on the Boswell property for this purpose, and reported that these could be got for $200 each. Moved by Ald. Leary and Wilson, that no action be taken.—Carried.

Barnardo Home

Dr. Morrison on behalf of the Board of Trade, also advised that the council take steps to attempt to keep the Barnardo home, which some times go was reported as about to be removed to Toronto. The Board advised the council to make some enlargements, as it was understood that they were necessary. The building and grounds are owned by Senator Cox, who gives the free use of it for the Home purposes.

One of the aldermen informed the council that he had been told by Mr. Owen, the president, that the officials had no intention of moving the Home to Toronto, and that he did not know where the Toronto press got their information.

The question was no longer discussed.

Mr. Carveth waited on the committee complaining of having been charged $3 insurance on the new fire hall during construction, which he never expected, and did not believe that he should be made to pay for. On motion Mr. Carveth's request was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Will Post Notices

In connection with the Spitting Bylaw, it was moved by Ald. Leary and Stevenson, that notices indicating that expectorating on the sidewalks was prohibited be printed and posted up in public places, and that the property committee look after this.—Carried.

The District Steam Heating proposition, was the last on the list of question and in connection with this Ald. Bradburn stated he was strongly opposed to granting a franchise of the streets until a definite agreement is made for paying for the franchise. Ald. Elliott and Johnston moved that no action be taken this year with reference to the "Hot Air Scheme."

ARCHITECT BELCHER TO PREPARE PLANS

For Remodelling of the City Buildings, Including Old Fire Hall

The question of remodelling the old city firehall was taken up last night by the Committee of the Whole, when the revised plans, as made by the City Engineer, were presented. The City Engineer, in his report on the estimates of proposed changes, made these estimates over $1,000. This was over $500 more than the Council had thought of appropriating for making the alterations.

His estimate of constructing the offices, etc., was $915; office furnishings and lights, $145, and public lavatories, $255.

Ald. McIntyre moved that the plans, as submitted, for the remodelling of the old firehall, be accepted, and that the work be proceeded with by the Property Committee.

Ald. Morgan seconded this motion which carried.

Ald. Wilson and Bradburn moved that the plans and specifications be gotten out to allow for the calling of tenders.

Ald. McIntyre and Morgan moved an amendment that the work be constructed under the supervision of the Property Committee, to employ such foremen as they desired. The motion was carried.

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Leary, that Mr. Jno. Belcher be employed to draw up plans for the remodelling of the whole city buildings, to find out the cost, and to report the same to the Council.

Ald. Johnston thought that the building was too old to expend too much money for its improvement.

Ald. Morrow's motion carried, and that of Ald. McIntyre was rescinded for the time being.

ORCHARD KEPT COOL UNDER FIRE

Was Searchingly Cross-Examined By the Defence.

HORRIBLE TALE OF CRIME

Haywood's Counsel to Show Orchard Was Hireling of Mine Owners—To Wipe Out Union Labor—Trafficked With Detectives — Guarded Moyer Against Thugs—Sends Money to Wife in Canada.

Boise, Idaho, June 10.—The cross-examination of Harry Orchard, by his own confession the slayer of eighteen men with bullet and bomb, is likely to last through Monday and Tuesday of next week, possibly longer. Orchard has now been on the stand for 14 hours. The state had him in hand for nearly eight hours. In that time he told a horrible tale of crime during the last eleven years of his life.

Orchard spared no incident under questioning by the state, which might prove to the jury his readiness to slaughter for low pay and his utter indifference as to the number or condition of his victims.

Under cross-examination by E. F. Richardson, counsel for W. D. Haywood, Orchard has so far described the series of tragedies prior to the year 1904. Three more years and may murders are yet to be analyzed. For purposes of its own, not so far revealed, the defence is determined that Orchard shall relate in his testimony the most diabolical or the most squalid detail. Slowly but surely the defence is developing the lines by which it hopes to break down Orchard's testimony, so far as it affects Haywood. If it is possible to heap further obliquy on the witness, they have done so by proving him capable of petty crimes.

No Crime Too Low.

By his own admission, Orchard is a bigamist, a thief, a liar and an incendiary; he has been treacherous to his employers; he has deserted two wives, and his children. All of these offences he has been forced to confess, but notwithstanding a gruelling examination by Mr. Richardson he has stuck stubbornly to his story.

By its questions the defence has plainly indicated its intention of proving that Orchard was the hired agent of the mine owners, who, harrassed by the Western Federation of Miners, and determined to wipe out union labor at the Idaho and Colorado mines, planned assassinations, train wrecking and mine explosions which could be laid to the federation and thus keep militia on the ground while non-union men worked the mines.

It has been shown under cross-examination that Orchard trafficked with railroad detectives in the mining region of Cripple Creek during the great strike there, while almost at the same time he was in the confidence of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners. Led on by Mr. Richardson, Orchard has stated that he was hired by Moyer, president of the federation, to act as his guard against alleged thugs said to have been hired by the mine owners to attack and terrorize Moyer.

Orchard the Coolest.

The coolest man in the court is Orchard. Under Mr. Richardson's grilling he has seldom changed the tone in which he first told his awful tale. His answers come without hesitation. So far he has not made any material contradictions. From time to time he has actually corrected the record itself when his answers of the day before have been read and transcription shows an error. At times his reply to an assertion made by Richardson is positive in the extreme. "I made no such statement," or "I said nothing of the kind," is a frequent answer, and when he finds some statement not to his satisfaction he will change it, always preceding the change with: "I beg you pardon, sir, but I would like to change that answer."

Another Week of It.

At the close of Orchard's cross-examination the state will take him in hand for re-direct questioning. Then will come the renewed cross-examination. It seems hardly possible that he will be dismissed before the end of next week. He may be recalled afterwards as the case develops. The warden at the penitentiary says that Orchard shows no sign of nervousness or strain. He eats well, and speaks without particular emotion of the events of the day.

One of the interesting features of yesterday's examination was that Orchard sids his first wife, whom he deserted in Canada in 1895 to run away with another man's wife. He testified that since imprisoned he sold a locket and chain and other objects for something like $115, the greater part of which he had sent to his wife. The objects, beside the locket and chain, were a fishing-rod, a gun, a revolver, and some little things. He said that the warden disposed of these for him, with the understanding that the person buying them could have them "after the trial."

Wife to Testify.

There arrived in Boise yesterday, Mrs. Ida Toney-Orchard, a widow, with three children, whom Orchard married, notwithstanding he had another wife in Canada, and known there under Orchard's true name, Horsley. Mrs. Toney will testify, it is said, that while Orchard lived at Cripple Creek he was in the employ of the mine owners. It is expected by the defence that she will be able to throw light on the motives of Orchard, and that she will strengthen the assertion of the defence, that the mine owners, and not the Western Federation of Miners, were the conspirators who employed Orchard to murder.

Some new light has been thrown on the murder of Lyte Gregory in Denver. According to statements made by the police in Denver, Orchard, or Simpkins, or whoever Orchard's accomplice was, were suspected of murder. Bloodhounds tracked the murderers to the yard behind Pettibone's store, where Orchard says he hid his guns. Other evidence was also discovered. The police were about to arrest the two men when, the story goes, orders came from some mysterious source that the man were not to be molested, and Orchard was allowed to leave town. This statement is said to have been made by Chief of Detectives Loomis of Denver, Paul Gregory, a brother of the murdered man, has made a similar statement. It is likely that both will be called as witnesses.

DROWNED IN THE LAKE.

Wife of Alleged Murderer Suicides—Could Not Bear Disgrace.

Karlsruhe, Germany, June 10.—Karl Hau, professor of Roman law at the George Washington University, Washington, who is in prison here charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, was visited by the governor of the prison Saturday and informed that his wife had committed suicide by drowning in a lake near Pfaffikon, Switzerland.

The governor had quite a lengthy conversation with the professor, which led to a report that he had confessed that he had murdered his wife's mother, which he has strenuously denied. The state's attorney subsequently denied the report that Hau had made a confession.

Mrs. Hau came to Karlsruhe two days ago and had a long talk with her husband. She left the prison in a state of the utmost depression and went back to Pfaeffikon.

On arriving there Mrs. Hau went directly to a bathing establishment on a small lake near Pfaeffikon and requested to be given a separate dressing room. The attendants later saw her swimming out in the lake, but soon afterwards they observed that she was no longer moving.

A boatman rowed out to the spot and brought the body ashore, where a physician, who was hurriedly sent for, attempted in vain to resuscitate the unfortunate woman.

Confessed to Wife.

It has not been possible to discover the origin of the story that Hau had confessed the murder of his mother-in-law to the governor of the prison, but it is assumed here that Hau did make a confession to his wife when she last saw him.

JAPS WANT INDEMNITY.

Apology to Be Demanded for Violence at San Francisco.

Washington, June 10.—That the Japanese of the Pacific coast and the Progressives, a political party of Japan, have entered into an alliance which has the earmarks of an international conspiracy, with the overthrow of the present ministry in Japan and the annulment of the clause in the immigration bill excluding Japanese coolie labor from continental United States, as the ultimate objects, was learned authoritatively here yesterday.

The preliminary steps in this scheme, it is said, will be to induce the Tokio Government to recall Viscount Alki, the Japanese Ambassador to the United States, and to demand an apology, and, perhaps, an indemnity from the American Government for the alleged acts of violence against Japanese subjects residing in San Francisco.

DOOMED TO BE SHATTERED.

France's Position at Coming Peace Conference at the Hague.

Paris, June 10.—The press in general approves of the prudent tone of the definition of France's position at the coming peace conference at The Hague, made Saturday in the Chamber of Deputies by Foreign Minister Pichon, and agrees that there is little prospect of accomplishing anything definite on the question of the limitation of armaments, which is considered illusory.

M. Honataux, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, and one of the greatest French authorities on diplomatic relations, in an article in a weekly review, says that compulsory arbitration or the limitation of armaments is a magnificent ideal doomed to be shattered.

Strike at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 10.—Four hundred freight handlers on the Canadian Northern went out on strike Saturday morning for an increase of wages.

They ask 25 cents an hour for day work and 30 cents for night work, and double for Sundays.

The steamer Majestic, which arrived Saturday, was unloaded by her crew, and the steamer Saronic had her crew at work last night.

Superintendent Cameron states that the company will not meet the demands of the men, and he notified the committee to this effect yesterday afternoon.

Three hundred men will be brought in from the West.

HOUSES SWEPT AWAY IN CYCLONE

Tornado and Cloudburst Unite in Doing Deadly Work.

29 DEAD; SCORES INJURED

Village of Gradyville Almost Entirely Destroyed — Bridges Carried Away by Flood—Twenty-Nine Lives Lost — Property Damage Many Thousands of Dollars — Sleeping Town Was Struck.

Chicago, June 10.—Twenty-nine known dead and forty persons injured constitute the list of casualties resulting from storms of wind and rain which swept over Southern Illinois and Indiana and Central Kentucky Saturday night and yesterday. These fatal visitations came in the shape of cloudbursts, high winds and electrical disturbances. The property damage is many thousands of dollars. Houses were swept away, bridges demolished and thousands of acres of growing crops destroyed.

Gradyville was the worst sufferer, twenty-one persons being drowned or crushed by falling houses.

The disaster was due to the erratic behavior of Big Creek, which was already swollen by recent rains. When the cloudburst precipitated 6 inches of rain in an hour on Gradyville and vicinity, the creek took a new course, with the force of a tidal wave.

Inhabitants of Gradyville were nearly all in bed when the foaming waters struck the town carrying away six residences, a mill and a number of small houses. Nearly all the victims were drowned, but four were crushed by the collapse of dwellings.

Gradyville is a village of 175 inhabitants in Adair County, six miles from Columbia, and 187 miles from the nearest railroad station.

At New Minden, Ill., a tornado killed five persons and injured six others.

At York, Ill., three persons were killed and thirty injured by a tornado which descended on the town Friday night.

The storm broke while most York people were at supper. Entire families were buried in ruins of houses. The storm lasted less than 4 minutes. All outside communication was cut off until yesterday.

At Duquoin, Ill., many houses were blown down around the outskirts of the town, and four persons were injured.

BIG WALL FELL DOWN.

$10,000 Damage to Cockshutt Plow Co.'s Calgary Branch.

Calgary, Alta., June 10.—On Saturday the whole side of the wall of the large wholesale building of the Cockshutt Plow Co. fell with a crash, and crushed in the roof of the Alberta livery stable next to it.

It made a hole about 15 feet square through the roof of the stable, and crashed through the floor of the loft and came down in a stall in which two horses were tied. They were unhurt, but one horse that was loose in a corral at the rear of the stable was buried under the debris.

It was a new building, and an addition to the main building that faced the street, facing the lane at the rear end, and was about 50 feet long, with two storeys.

The damage will likely be about $10,000.

SHIPS FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Government Will Be Permitted to Spend Appropriation Locally.

London, June 10.—(C.A.P.)—A Cape Town despatch states that the Admiralty has permitted Cape Colony and Natal to spend their naval contribution of £65,000 locally. It is understood the money will be devoted to the upkeep of a ship supplied by the Admiralty for the development of naval volunteers and the formation of the nucleus of a local squadron.

Tried to Wreck Train.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—According to the statement of railroad officials an attempt was made Saturday to wreck the southbound Southern Pacific overland train, a short distance north of this city.

A track walker found a heavy log-chain bound across the rails at a siding switch, which, if not discovered, would have thrown the train off the track.

The scene of the attempt was three miles from the river station to Los Angeles, and a short distance from West Glendale, where a passenger train was recently thrown off a trestle through the alleged efforts of train wreckers.

A freight train passed over the track an hour before the chain was discovered.

Killed By Pitched Ball.

Seymour, Conn., June 10.—While playing a game of ball Saturday afternoon, Harry Randall, aged 16, who was at bat, was struck over the heart by a pitched ball, and instantly killed. The game was between shopmates. The pitcher's name was Gryza. Randall was the son of Edward R. Randall.

FUSHIMI AT MONTREAL.

Addresses At City Hall and Afternoon At Races.

Montreal, June 10.—Prince Fushimi and party, who arrived here from Quebec on Saturday afternoon, received a rousing welcome. A large crowd of people had gathered at the Grand Trunk Station, and when the special bearing the prince and party arrived, shortly after 2 o'clock, he was received with rousing cheers and the playing of the Japanese National Anthem. The prince and party were escorted by a guard of honor to the city hall. Proceeding to the council chamber, an address of welcome was read by the mayor, to which the prince replied in felicitous terms.

After holding an informal reception the prince left, and afterwards attended the horse races at Blue Bonnets, in which he showed much interest. In the evening he was the guest at dinner at the Mount Royal Club. While in Montreal he is the guest of Sir Montagu Allan.

MODISH HINTS.

Black Velvet Ribbon to Be Popular For Hats—Lace Stocks.

Streamer trimmings are to be popularized this year, and black velvet ribbon is the favorite. No matter what may be the color scheme of the hat, black velvet streamers are used.

The lace stock with ribbon and frills of a season or two ago is now distinctly passe. To be quite up to date one must wear linen of good quality made up into ascots, four-in-hands or even bands running round the neck with stitched stripe buttoned on the front and extending down the shirt waist plait.

FOR SUMMER MORNINGS—5117, 5072.

An importation of very sheer hand embroidered fichus shows them almost cape depth, with long stole ends to be knotted at the corsage. As yet they are only to be had in white.

Some of the pretty novelties in footwear are the Vassar boots, the buckle Wellesleys and the patent calf Oxford kid. The first is a high laced boot, the second is a strapped shoe with Cuban heel and the last a low shoe with wide ties and black and white ornamental stitching. The Cuban heel has an extension edge.

The cut illustrates a comfortable negligee dress of flowered batiste made in simple though modish fashion. It may also be made in dimity, gingham or any other of the pretty muslin fabrics with which the market is so well stocked this season.

FASHIONABLE CONCEITS.

Jewelry Is In Great Favor—Some Shades In Fabrics Defined.

Jewels are in as great demand as ever. Brooches, chatelaines, charms, pencil cases, tiny watches and bracelets are having an immense run. Long gloves have been the means of giving great popularity to the bracelet, for not in twenty years has it been so much sought for as at present. Stiff and flexible, plain or heavily jeweled, it coils tightly or lies loosely about the arm. The serpent of fiery eye and the queer little lizard with shapeless head brightened with gems are both in vogue.

You will count no convivial occasion complete without this pure charged water, once you discover the zest it adds to spirits and its thirst-quenching qualities. We vouch for its absolute excellence, even compared with the few imported waters which are nearly as good. Of course, you can pay more for them if you see fit, but—why should you?

Organdie parreaux is plaided with slightly raised lines, and epingline is a chiffon cotton fabric in poplin weave. Jacquard means a woven brocaded design that is either all over or else in detached figures. It is often woven more lightly in some places than in others. Brpche is a woven raised design, more pronounced than jacquards, and ombre stands for shaded effects.

The shantung frocks that are being made up for summer are very attractive. The garniture most a la mode is filet lace—the coarse genre that closely resembles net worked over. It is really a modification of old world mosquito netting with a finer mesh. Used for yokes, for panels of sleeves or skirt the filet is charming. A dress does not need a large quantity of the lace to secure a good effect.

Jasper means black and white threads woven to give a steely color that has a two toned or shot effect. Hussar is a light blue, nearly a light navy. Dead leaf brown has a light coppery glow, as dead oak leaves have with the sun shining brightly upon them.

The little dress illustrated is of checked French gingham trimmed with white and having a bertha of embroidered lawn. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONABLE HINTS.

A Gorgeous New Mantle—Apricot Shades Very Modish—Ruches.

The maharajah mantle seems to be coming into vogue. It is of voluminous capacity and has full draped sleeves of chiffon, the body being of satin. It is a very oriental looking wrap and is not destined to become popular.

The apricot shades which have appeared in such variety are destined to become popular, and there are so many of them that they suit almost all complexions. They are particularly attractive in pongee.

Net and chiffon ruches are always pretty and give just the right touch to the frock. The marabou, coque or ostrich boa is warmer, but these are always worn by some people. Some of the new ostrich and coque boas are white on one side and colored on the other. Little marabou neck pieces with ostrich tips scattered through them are exceedingly attractive.

The homemade ruches constructed from plain net are often more effective than those seen at the shops. By putting on little rosettes and bowknots, which cost hardly anything, a really imposing neck piece may be fashioned.

The gown illustrated is made of the new and favorite marquisette. It is pale gray in color, with applique trimming and a guimpe of cream lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SARTORIAL WRINKLES.

Brown Hats Reign Supreme—Brick Red Also Very Modish.

The brown hats for the moment are quite supreme. Only for a moment, though, can they count on their success, for the new shades of blue are so effective that it will not be long before every woman thinks it essential to her happiness to wear a blue hat with jacket of the same color. The gown itself must also be blue, but of a lighter shade. If so desired, it may be made over a lighter blue lining.

In innumerable and various ways fashion is dealing with brick red. It is seen as tiny taffeta lapels on the gowns of serious looking cloth jackets, as elaborate petticoats peeping from under black skirts, as tulle under the brims of hats and wherever embroidery, braiding and color are necessary.

Colored silk skirts with hats to match are again to be in fashion this year. Certainly the style is an effective one and at the same time is practical, for with a smart little coat and hat a gown that in itself lacks some quality that renders it ineffective can be transformed into a most charming costume. Last summer the fashion was attempted, but was so badly carried out that it met with no success. Now it is being revived again, but with quite mannish changes, and bids fair to be most popular.

The picture illustrates a dress of linen lawn for a little girl. It may be made of any washable fabric and will be found to be a most desirable style.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

GIRL'S LINEN LAWN DRESS—5651.

Liking For Brown Wall Effects.

The increasing liking for chocolate tones in a library or sitting room is worthy of remark. Engravings and photographs, as well as gold framed oil paintings, show well against it, and the brown shades are restful to the eye, particularly if the room is a sunny one.

The difference between chocolate and mustard tones must be understood. For a dark room or one with a northern exposure mustard shades are better. There is a pretty design in felt, with a lower wall showing small dark brown fleur-de-lis against the mustard background, while the upper wall and ceiling are of plain mustard. With walnut or dark oak furniture and dull blue velour hangings such a paper is very pretty indeed.

TREND OF LA MODE.

Some Fashionable Shades In Fabrics and Trimmings—Graduation Frocks.

Cedar brown is in several shades from the color of the bit of wood in a pencil to the richer shade of the cigar box. Leather color, according to Vogue, is taking to itself the yellow tone instead of the reddish shade that it might.

The ombre stripe, plaids, dots or figures this season, however, mean that the stripe or plaid is formed of lines that graduate in size instead of the color deepening or paling, the lines also placed closer together or further apart to get the effect of shading by this contriving. In the dots or figures the rim or outline varies in width in some, and in others the sizes increase, but no difference is being shown in color.

Cotton voiles make charmingly fresh looking gowns both in all white and in the striped patterns of delicate colors. Blue and white, pink and white and green and white are so decorative that they almost trim themselves.

White frocks with touches of delicate coloring in their finish are most used, but any becoming color is suitable for graduation gowns.

The essential point is to choose a model that is suitable and to see that the details of the toilet are carefully matched up. Shoes, hosiery, sash, gloves, etc., in perfect accord and of nice quality make an unpretentious gown smart, while the smartest frock is spoiled by ill matched accessories.

The square Dutch neck is popular for girls with well rounded throats, and the others wear it nicely by filling the opening with lace or mull.

Embroidered and spotted muslins are again very much to the fore, and these make up prettily with very little trimming.

The cut shows a very tasteful gown of foulard having a ground of nattier blue with rings of white. It is trimmed with black velvet ribbon and cream lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Family Makes the Home.

The home is not four walls and a table and laundry within them. The home feeling does not depend upon such isolation. A family may live in a flat and have its washing done out and its meals in a restaurant, and yet its home sentiment may remain intact.

It is the family which makes the home.

The home does not, except in the deep ethical sense, make the family.

And so long as men love their wives and wives their husbands, and so long as they both love their children and try to bring them up with ideals of truth and duty, so long will the home survive and flourish, whether the washing and ironing and cooking go on inside or outside of the rooms where the family sit and sleep.

Feminine Fancies.

The smartest note paper is either white, pale gray or pale blue. White sealing wax answers for all three, but a pale gray matches the gray paper if you would do your sealing correctly. Block initials in rather large letters and distinctly cut are stamped on this new paper in self tones.

Parasols for bridesmaids are an innovation on bouquets. At a fashionable wedding to occur soon, half the bridesmaids will carry pink parasols with exaggerated long handles and the other half yellow to match their frocks.

All by Accident Too.

George—Well, life is worth living, after all. Jack—What's happened? George—I went to a railway station to see my sister off, and by some chance Harry Hansom was there to see his sister off, and in the rush and noise and confusion we got mixed, and I hugged his sister and he hugged mine.

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

CANADA'S LOVE FOR BRITAIN.

(From Canadian Poets.)

We love those little lonely isles,
Which nestle in the sea,
We love their towers and bulwarks grand;
Their glorious minstrelsy.

We love old England's bosky dells,
Proud Scotia's mountains hoar,
Sweet Erin's fields of "living green,"
Their history and their lore.

Dear Avon's banks where "free to roam,"
Sweet songs, sang glorious "Will,"
"Ye banks and braes of bonny Doon"
Where "Rab's" ghost wanders still

Where "Irish Nora's eyes grow dim,"
When Moore's sweet songs of love,
Suffuse their mystic influence round,
Like incense from above.

The cities by 'Old Father Thames,"
Whence wealth and learning flow,
The silver Forth, "Dunedin's towers,
Their glamor and their glow.

The ancient hills of proud Argyle,
Loch Katrine's rugged shore;
Where Scott, writ sweet, of love and hate,
To charm us evermore.

Where angry Scott, in ancient kilt,
Descended from the North,
With slogan cry, and barbarous shout,
To drive the Southern forth.

When tartan'd clans, fierce, battle made,
With buckler and claymore;
Where Melrose shed her mystic light,
Amidst the clash of war.

In thought we fly to Flodden Field,
Where Scotia's noblest fell,
'Gainst serried ranks of the gallant South,
As ancient legends tell.

We glory in Great Britain's fame,
Her sons and daughters fair,
Her mighty strength, her vast renown,
And her protecting care.

So we, "The Maple Leaf Forever,"
With loyal voices sing,
In union with, each patriot's song,
"God Save our Gracious King."

—Robert Stark.

LACERATING THE RICH.

British Cabinet Minister's Plan to Reform the "Smart Set."

Mr. Augustine Birrell ventured recently to assume the mantle of the saint whose name he bears, and lectured the "smart set" on their iniquities.

He was discoursing affably on politics at a banquet of the Bradford Liberal Association, and brought out the aphorism: "Those who are wise always have their mind on the great body of the people."

"The 'top' may be disregarded," he said. "Their conversation, I suppose, is banal, their taste is low, and their width is great. We can afford to dispense with them.

"I have no particular sympathy with the Rev. Father Vaughan and that class of divine who is always attacking—and perhaps gaining notoriety from so doing—the habits of the idle and worthless rich.

"I agree that they need a missionary, but I am afraid that the publicity given to their sins is a thing they enjoy rather than otherwise.

"I would prefer a divine who would shut them up in real reformatories where they would lacerate themselves with a very stiff kind of wire rope, and take it out of themselves in that way."

Then Mr. Birrell contrasted the rich with the great body of the people. The tastes of the latter are slowly and steadily improving, he said. They are looking for refinement in their entertainments, and they are becoming more temperate.

THE EXODUS TO CANADA

IMPRESSIONS OF SALVATION ARMY IMMIGRANTS.

British Journalist Makes Trip on Emigrant Ship—How the Army Works—Men for Special Harvesters—Enterprising and Ambitious—Work Ready and Waiting For the New-Comer—Road to Independence

The current issue of Pall Mall Magazine of London contains an interesting article by Olston Black on the emigration work being carried on in England by the Salvation Army. The Army is sending to Canada thousands of people who cannot find work in the old land. Mr. Black made the trip on an emigrant ship, and writes:

A tall young man pushed his way to the gangway through the crowd of emigrants on deck, exclaiming: "I'm going ashore."

The stout little officer in charge put his arm across the narrow passage, with "Stand back, please."

"I'm going ashore, I tell you," repeated the young man in a higher key, excited by resistance. "Let me pass, will you?"

The little officer took another turn. "Well,' said he, "there's no need to alarm yourself. The tender's coming back again. I've got to go ashore too."

"You're sure she is?" said the man.

At this point a man, whom I shall call the "Man in Charge," strolled up to him with his hands in his pockets, and asked in a disinterested sort of way, "What's the matter? Feeling a bit out of sorts, eh?"

The young man turned on him with quick suspicion, which, however, stopped at his lips, and he frankly unbosomed himself. "You see," he said, "I've been knocking about too much already, and since I got home from Australia I've been—I've been celebrating, and my nerves aren't—see what I mean? I thought I'd go to Canada, but—I daren't. I'd go mad before I got there."

"Oh no, you won't," said the other, with perfect assurance. "Take a dose of bromide and go to bed, and you'll be all right in the morning." With that he strolled along a bit; but he took care to stay pretty near the top of the gangway.

The young man stood irresolute, then sat down on another passenger's box and watched the tender puffing away to the Liverpool landing-stage.

I sat next the dissuader at lunch in the saloon, and found that he was the "Conductor" of the largest party of emigrants on board the Lake Abtitibbi — a Salvation Army party. "And are you a—" I began.

"No," said he, "but I've seen a great deal of their work, and the more I know the more I admire them. Then I lived in Canada a good while, and know the ways of the country pretty well, so they asked me to take charge of one of their conducted parties. They'll have sent out about thirteen thousand people by the end of the season. It's a bit late now, and a good many of this party are the wives and children of men who have had time to settle down and make homes for themselves over yonder. But I've got a lot of men going out on their own account. A lot of them are going out on special harvesters' tickets. If they agree to do not less than four weeks' work harvesting wherever they may be sent on the prairie, they get all the way from Liverpool to Winnipeg for £8."

"And are all these people Salvationists?" I asked.

"Dear me, no!" said the Man in Charge. "And they don't belong to the class that the Salvation Army has most to do with at home either, though some of them would have if they stayed in England much longer. Most of them are leaving because of no work, or slack work, but a good many simply because they are enterprising and ambitious, and want to be independent, and don't see that the work they had would ever lead to anything but the workhouse at the end."

"Here are some of the questions they have to answer: 'Are you strong and able-bodied?' 'Do you understand the management and handling of horses?' 'Do you know anything of country work?' 'Are you willing to accept any kind of employment on arrival?' 'If family not sailing with you, state how they are provided for.' Some of them, of course, are Salvationists, and in that case they are asked to give their record."

The emigrant is told that he ought to have at least £1 in his pocket for contingencies on his arrival, or £5 if he is a married man.

"That seems little enough if he has to keep himself in Canada till he gets work," I said.

"Yes, theoretically, but as a matter of fact every single man so far sent out has found work ready and waiting for him before his arrival.

The emigrants were not all anxious about their future, though some who seemed least anxious had really most cause for anxiety—young men of the happy-go-lucky sort, for example, who would speedily discover that in Canada they were at least a million miles from Happy-go-lucky Land. There was a good sprinkling, too, of genuine farm laborers, whom the Dominion absorbs as thirstily as a dry sponge sucks in moisture.

Most of them had only a vague idea what part of the country they were going to.

Two Beds For Big Family.

Bishop Reeve of the Mackenzie River district states in letter read recently at the meeting of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary that at Wapuskow, a post in the far north, he stayed in a shack which possessed but two beds. In one the good man of the house slept with his wife, seven children and the hired man, while the reverend bishop slept in the other.

The bishop said that to the north of Vermillion, nearly within the Arctic circle, a farmer had planted 160 acres with grain and produced a crop of 6,000 bushels.

CANADIAN BEAVER FARM.

Clergyman Rears Colony of These Interesting Animals.

Beavers have always proved a study of most absorbing interest to naturalists, and the Reverend W. E. Christmas, of Oxbow, Canada, has exceptional facilities for investigating the habits of these curious animals, possessing as he does one of the few beaver farms of Canada. This remarkable property is situated on the banks of the River Souris, which, being fringed with poplar-trees, provides the beavers with the best building material in addition to their food. No less than two hundred of the industrious creatures are contained within the five large dams composing the extent of the farm. According to a law passed in 1836, says the New York Evening Post, it is illegal to kill beavers until the autumn of 1908, consequently this colony is waxing strong and multiplying very rapidly. Having been protected from the trappers for the past ten years, they are becoming very tame, and do not seem to mind a casual onlooker, although they do most of their work by moonlight.

Felled Many Trees.

One night these beavers cut down fifty-two trees, according to the Reverend Mr. Christmas, who takes a great deal of interest in his little tenants and watches carefully to see no harm comes to them. These beavers are very energetic, and have no use for one of their number who refuses to do his share of the work. When an idle member of the flock is noticed the others drive him away to live in solitude, and such a beaver found by a trapper is known as a bachelor. It takes the beavers but a short time to fell a large-sized tree, and they are able to threw it in any direction desired. When once felled, the tree is quickly cut up into length for houses, dams, or food, as may be required. The house of the beaver is built on the bank of the river, with its entrance under water. Once having built the entrance, the rest of the house is started, the whole colony working at the house until it is finished, and when completed it is warm, dry and cosy.

Skins Are Valuable.

Although it is impossible for the beavers to live for long under water, the entrance is built for some distance under the water, and then there is a long tunnel connecting the house with the water. A beaver family usually consists of four or five, and comes into the world with its eyes wide open. The young ones live with their parents for two years, and then they are made to shift for themselves. The full-grown beaver measures about two feet in length, with a tail some ten inches long, which he can use as a spade or trowel as well as a paddle. The average age is fifteen years, although some have been known to be as old as twenty, but such cases are said to be rare. When the animal is nine years of age its pelt or skin is at its prime, and will fetch from twelve to fifteen dollars.

CANADA'S NEW CITIZENS.

Englishmen Coming This Way, But All Countries Contribute.

Analysis of the Immigration Department's figures for the nine months ending March 31st, comprising the last fiscal period, shows that England is supplying by far the largest number of Canada's new citizens. After England comes the United States, and then in order of descending figures come Scotland, the Jews of Russia, Poland, Austria-Hungary, etc., Italy, Ireland, the Slavic races, India, Japan, Germany, France and Sweden. Almost every country in the world sent its quota of immigrants to Canada last year, but those just named were the most important contributors to the swelling tide of Canadian immigration.

From the United States there came during the nine months 34,658 new settlers, of whom over 2,500 were repatriated Canadians. During the last four years "the American invasion" of the Canadian west has brought over the boundary a little over 150,000 people, of whom some 15,000 have been Canadians re-immigrating back home.

British immigration for the past fiscal period totalled 55,791 as compared with 37,621 for the same period of 1905-06. Of this number 41,658 were from England and Wales, 10,729 were from Scotland and 3,404 from Ireland.

Of these Ontario got 18,244 English, 3,782 Scotch, 1,343 Irish, and 205 Welsh, Quebec got 6,314 English, 2,007 Scotch and 713 Irish.

Canada is evidently becoming a popular objective point for the harassed Jews of Russia, Poland and Austria-Hungary. A little over 6,000 of them came to the Dominion during the past fiscal period. Quebec Province seems to be their rendezvous. Nearly half the total number, or 2,864, settled in Quebec.

Mormons In Canada.

The London Presbytery at its recent meeting discussed the subject of "The Mormons in Canada," and adopted the following overture to the General Assembly, submitted by Rev. W. H. Geddes of Ailsa Craig:

"Whereas the presence of the Mormon element in certain parts of the Dominion and the danger thereby of the perpetuation of the practice of polygamy is a serious menace to the morals of our land, and

"Whereas the people of the United States have for years suffered very seriously from the same element.

"This Presbytery overtures the Assembly to take such action as will arouse the whole Church to the peril of those parts of the Dominion affected, and at the same time approach the other branches of the Christian Church to take joint action in the matter."

DEAKIN A NOVEL READER.

Famous Australian Statesman Delights In Fiction.

Many of the ablest statesmen of the present day are inveterate novel-readers, but none of them are likely to carry their taste for fiction-devouring as far as Mr. Deakin, the Australian Premier, who, it is said, has more than once been seen on the Treasury Bench in the Australian Chamber deep in the pages of the latest novel, while the members of the House are engaged in debate. Indeed, it is to be doubted whether many professional critics could equal Mr. Deakin's varied and extensive knowledge of contemporary fiction. He has been at all times an omnivorous reader, and does not disdain the epithet of "bookworm."

In appearance Mr. Deakin is by no means the typical Australian. There is about him none of the bluff breeziness which was so characteristic of the late Mr. Seddon, of New Zealand. A tall, thin figure, with the look and bearing of the scholar rather than the platform orator, Mr. Deakin is, notwithstanding, a speaker of unusual charm and eloquence.

Spiritualist and Journalist.

In his early days Mr. Deakin was keenly interested in spiritualism, and it was whilst pursuing his studies in the occult that he first met his wife, who is the daughter of Mr. Hugh Browne, for many years one of the leading figures in the spiritualistic circles of Melbourne. As may be supposed, political cartoonists of the day were not slow to take advantage of the young statesman's hobby, and the whole city laughed to see him depicted in a white sheet.

It was at this time that Mr. Deakin did a great deal of journalistic work for The Melbourne Age, in regard to which an amusing story is told. Conversing one day with Mr. David Syme, proprietor of The Age, the Hon. John Gavan Duffy, one of Melbourne's sharpest wits, remarked, with a twinkle in his eye: "My dear Syme, you really ought to have something more than a Deakin on your staff. You ought to have a Bishop in the office." "A Bishop! Why?" "Because, you know, your statements are so sadly in need of confirmation."

When cleaning the kitchen range, if the iron work is discolored by heat brush well over with soap, then cover thickly with black lead and allow this to dry before removing it. Repeat the process once or twice if necessary. If ammonia is used into length for the blackleading, a surface of very intense black will be obtained. To remove grease rub with a rag dipped in soot. To get rid of tarnish scour with a little vinegar while the stove is warm and then wipe well with a rag wetted in cold water. To remove varnish stains from the hands rub with a little methylated spirit, wipe on a rag and wash thoroughly in soapy water.

Women Not Improving.

Mr. Plowden, the Marylebone magistrate of London, has come to the melancholy conclusion that woman is changing for the worse. He drew attention to the metamorphosis in a striking speech in his court, suggested by an assault case in which a woman took part.

A certain class of case which came before him constantly, he said, suggested that women's nature was undergoing very considerable modifications in the twentieth century.

The gentleness and spirit of dependence and the "sweet reasonableness" that used to distinguish the sex were giving place to a love of advertisement and a taste for unseemly scenes of rowdyism and violence.

The doves were changing into eagles. Even the hatpin, designed for such innocent purposes, was becoming, in the hands of women, as much a weapon of danger as the stiletto or the revolver.

These changes in the nature of women were forced upon his attention by what was constantly occurring in the police courts.

Italy's Dwindling Population.

Some strikingly curious population statistics are now being published in Rome. Some years ago the Italian population was one of the most prolific in Europe, and in one period of twenty years increased from 23,000,000 to 33,000,000. Now the tendency is strongly in the opposite direction, while, at the same time, emigration, which now reaches a million souls a year, is leaving whole rural districts depopulated. The natural increase had declined from 7.38 per thousand in 1901 to 6.1 in 1906. In the flourishing industrial districts there is some progressive increase, but in the rural provinces, like Labuan, Auplia, Sicily, and the Campagna, it dwindles down as low as 1.1 per thousand.

Bible For Botha.

When the new legislative assembly of the Transvaal met for the first time at Pretoria, the committee of the Bible Society provided two Bibles, one in English and one in Dutch, to be used by the members of the Assembly in taking the oath. These books will be suitably inscribed and afterwards presented to General Botha, the first Premier of the Transvaal, as a souvenir of this historic occasion.

BEAUTIFUL CHURCH DESTROYED

Sacred Heart Building At Ottawa Reduced to Ruins.

FIREMEN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Damage Estimated at $155,000 With Insurance of $90,000—Boys Smoking Supposed Cause of Fire — Vestments and Sacred Vessels Were Saved—Was One of the Most Beautiful Edifices in City.

Ottawa, June 11.—The Sacred Heart Church, considered the most magnificent Catholic edifice in Ottawa city, was totally destroyed by fire last evening, entailing a loss of $155,000 with insurance of $90,000.

The fire broke out shortly before six o'clock from a cause apparently unknown. There were no fires on in the building at the time, and the electric current was turned off. The flames originated in the main entrance, and by some it is thought that boys smoking cigarettes in the main entrance were responsible.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was noticed, and in spite of the fact that the whole brigade was called to the scene it was impossible for them to do anything to check the total destruction of the church.

Rev. Father P. De Chanslois rushed into the church and saved the blessed sacrament, and Rev. Father F. Auclair rescued the vestments and sacred vessels.

Two firemen had narrow escapes from death by a falling stone wall. The church is the property of the Oblate Order of Priests, who, a few years ago, suffered considerably from fire, when Ottawa University, also their property, was destroyed.

It was considered the church of the high-class French-Canadians, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Hon. J. I. Tarte were among its parishioners.

MINORITY ON CHURCH UNION.

Assembly Asked to Declare Question Is Still Open.

Montreal, June 11.—Church union was before the Presbyterian general assembly yesterday afternoon, but the hour of adjournment was reached before the debate was concluded, and it will be resumed when the business committee can find an opportunity.

The weight of the assembly is evidently with the union committee, but an insistent minority, with the plea of conscientious opinion, wishes to place a dragbreak on the movement. Rev. John Mackay, Montreal, who is the spokesman of the party, is of the narrow, sacredotal type, though he fancies himself as an evangelist, and has published a volume on religion considered as friendship with God. He declared yesterday afternoon that he believed Presbyterianism to be the highest type of church life, or he would not be a Presbyterian. The inference was somewhat obvious.

The debate was on Principal Patrick's motion to receive the report of the union committee to send down to the presbyteries, sessions and congregations to ask for suggestions to be sent to the committee not later than March next, and to reappoint the committee. Mr. Mackay's amendment was intended to emphasize the point that the whole question was still open, and that the church was not committed to the principle of union, which he thought wholly undesirable.

ESCAPED FROM HOSPITAL.

Delirious Patient Spends 12 Hours in the Pouring Rain.

Fredericton, N. B., June 11.—Warren Allen, 29 years of age, a fever patient in the Victoria Hospital, while delirious, escaped at four o'clock yesterday morning. He rushed to the bathroom, which is on the ground floor, and jumped through the window. He was clothed in his nightshirt only.

All day a searching party, including members of the fire department, endeavored to locate him, and late in the afternoon he turned up on University avenue, and was removed to the hospital. All the night and all day it poured rain incessantly.

The supposition is, however, that he traveled from the hospital to the I. C. R. freight shed, where he remained until he recovered consciousness.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Trainmen Put on Trial For Causing Death in Collision.

Parry Sound, Ont., June 11.—Conductor F. Graham, Brakemen Locker and Lighthall, and Fireman H. Gendreau appeared before Magistrate J. H. Knifton here yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, the result of a collision between two Grand Trunk trains on the morning of May 31, near here, in which Brakeman Alexander Rochon was killed. Gendreau was acquited, and the others were committed for trial, all being released on bail afterwards.

Engineer Champness did not turn up, and is believed to be in the United States.

The first witness was Dr. O'Gorman of Depot Harbor, who testified to the awful injuries suffered by Rochon.

Allan Kilpatrick, assistant trainmaster, testified as to the rules of the road and the assignment of train crews and their duty.

Trainman Kerr of the eastbound train, on which Rochon was killed, was in the engine at the time, and was partially injured. He said the collision occurred at 1.50 a. m., and the night was clear and the moon shining. The westbound train was ordered to sidetrack at Beatty's siding and wait for the eastbound. In some mysterious manner the westbound train passed the siding, although it is easy of discernment, has semaphore lamps as well as switch lights, and there is a lumber yard and a small mill and settlement at the point, as well as a large water tank.

PASSENGERS HAVE KICK.

Were Landed at Wrong Place and Suffer Long Delay.

Halifax, June 11.—Twenty Maritime Province passengers by the Empress of Ireland from Liverpool, arrived Saturday night in a very angry frame of mind. They bought their tickets in London on the explicit understanding, they allege, that the Empress was to land them at Sydney. Two days after leaving Liverpool the captain announced that he had received orders to proceed to Rimouski.

The passengers protested, but in vain. Off Cape Race they sent a protest by wireless telegraphy to Sir Richard Cartwright, acting Premier, but got no reply. Then at Rimouski, they were told the sea was too rough and the tender too small to disembark, and they were taken on to Quebec, where, they say, they were left to look out for themselves, while their baggage was sent on to Montreal by mistake.

Had they landed at Sydney, Halifax would have been reached Wednesday night.

Woman Defies Police.

Springfield, Ohio, June 10.—After firing three bullets into the body of her husband, whom she charged with infidelity, Mrs. Ritta Fillinger, Saturday night barricaded herself in the rooms of her own house, and for some time defied the attempts of the police to arrest her. Fillinger is in a critical condition. She held the police at bay until a squad entered her home by a rear door, taking her a prisoner.

COLD STORAGE FACILITIES.

Beef Commission Begins Its Enquiry Into Cattle Industry.

Medicine Hat, Alta., June 11.—The Beef Commission, which is to prove the whole western cattle industry, began work yesterday afternoon.

The evidence showed that the ranchmen could see little evidence of competition among the buyers. It seemed that the buyers arrange certain districts and only one buyer appears in that district. None of them could account for the spread between the prices they received and those charged in retail butcher shops.

James Hargrave, a rancher of Medicine Hat, said he disposed of his cattle to local buyers or by shipping direct. Prior to three years ago animals three years old averaged $35 to $45. In 1905 four-year-olds averaged $49. Last year buyers seemed more anxious for stock and the price was about $47. Buyers deducted five cents from the weight of the animals to make up for shrinkage of the trip. This did not seem fair, but ranchers had to put up with it.

Prices were regulated by the British market. The cattle were not fit for beef in the early season and the result is heavy selling in the fall. Where feed is plentiful it would pay to fatten the cattle for the early summer market.

Witness knew very little about the sheep industry of this district. He heard there was not enough to meet local demands. Feed was too scarce to make hog-raising a paying industry. Pork was brought from the Edmonton district.

"Why did you change from shipping your cattle direct to Great Britain to selling to local men?"

"Because charges were so high and very frequently we struck a bad market. The total charges averaged $33 to $35 per head."

IMPRISONED BY FIRE.

Six Men Meet Death In an Alberta Mine.

Strathcona, June 10.—A mine disaster Saturday in Ross & Walters' coal mine, adjoining the town, resulted in the loss of five lives and the injury of many other miners, and the destruction of considerable property.

The miners were caught underground by a fire which started in the elevator shaft and smothered them like rats in a trap.

The dead men are: J. F. Tealey, G. Tepot, W. McLellan, Percy Harrington and Joseph Hardy.

Smallpox at Athens.

Brockville, June 10.—Dr. Bell, inspector for the Provincial Board of Health, spent the past few days in the Village of Athens, near Brockville, investigating some alleged cases of smallpox. The suspicions of the villagers that smallpox really existed seem to have been confirmed. Three houses are under quarantine, the sick parties in each case being males, who have been or are suffering from the disease.

The Board of Health has ordered a general vaccination of the villagers, including the pupils of the public and high schools.

Buried In a Creek.

Bala, June 10.—In Shaw Creek there lies the body of an Italian in four feet of water.

Last winter he died and his body, in a coffin, was being taken down the river on the ice for burial in Toronto. But the sleigh carrying the body went through the ice, and the coffin disappeared.

The Italian mourners decided not to search for the body, but to wait until the ice cleared away and then pick up their sad task. This they have done, but the body is still in the water. The lid is off the coffin, and the situation is becoming a scandal.

DISCREDITS ORCHARD'S STATEMENTS

Defence Draws Out Story of His Early Crimes.

BECAME AN INCENDIARY

Received $900 Insurance After Fire at Brighton — Defence Says Witness Has Mania for Confessing and Is Controlled by Detectives — Orchard Swears He Received Blood-Money—Life Cheap.

Boise, Idaho, June 11—Into the further cross-examination of Harry Orchard yesterday, counsel for William D. Haywood repeatedly injected the suggestion of a great counter conspiracy, formed and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners, and indicated a determination to direct the main line of the defence in that field.

They carried Orchard by slow steps through the minutest details from the dynamiting of the Independence, Colorado, station, down to the attempt on the life of Fred Bradley and his family in San Francisco.

Besides a series of particular attacks upon the credibility of the witness and the general probability of his stories, and in preparation for their own testimony in rebuttal, the defence sought to show that Orchard has a mania for boasting of the commission of imaginary crimes, and that he is testifying under the control and at the suggestion of Detective McPartland.

Line of Defence.

The defence began yesterday by making it clear that so far as Orchard knew, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone had nothing to do with inspiring, planning nor carrying out the Vindicator mine explosion, and that Haywood and Moyer had nothing to do with inspiring or planning the murder of Detective Gregory.

Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from Pettibone, who used the name of "Pat Bone" in transmitting it. In making this clearer yesterday, the defence evidenced an effort to show that this money was sent under Pettibone's disguised name by persons plotting against the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard denied that mine owners or railway men had any part in the Independence Station outrage; denied that he had a mania for confession to uncommitted crimes, and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McPartland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he firmly held to all of his first stories, and was calm and certain throughout the long, trying examination. Two more crimes were brought home to him. He confessed that he burned a cheese factory in Ontario to get $600 insurance, and that he began his life of crime by selling cheese at short weight.

Orchard Corrects.

Harry Orchard was still on the stand when yesterday's session was begun at 9.35 a.m.

Orchard first asked permission to correct two statements made by him on Saturday, one that Bill Easterly and himself had made bombs with "Pettibone dope" at Cripple Creek, and the other that he and Steve Adams had carried their shotguns in holsters when they were stalking Governor Peabody. He said Billy Ackerman, and not Easterly, made the experiments with him, and that he and Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Attorney Richardson, for the defence, brought out that Orchard was in conference with Detective McPartland yesterday morning, and with McPartland and Attorney Hawley before, and that each morning he visits Hawley's office.

"Didn't McPartland speak to you about the method by which you could withstand cross-examination?" demanded Mr. Richardson.

"No, sir," replied Orchard, "but he spoke of what gave me strength to go through the examination."

Orchard has professed religion.

Orchard said he had first discussed the blowing up of the Independence depot with Parker and Davis, the strike managers in the Cripple Creek district. Haywood whispered constantly to his attorney at this juncture.

Federation In Jeopardy.

Orchard said he later discussed the Independence matter with Parker and Davis in Denver, and in the lobby of the miners' convention, which then was in session. The witness declared that it was because Haywood's control of the federation was in jeopardy in the convention that the leaders wanted "something pulled off."

Richardson next jumped back to the Lyle Gregory murder in Denver, asking if Orchard had not gone to the Adams Hotel that evening.

"No sir," replied the witness, "I first went to Pettibone's backyard and buried the sawed-off shotgun and then went home." Orchard denied he had jumped from a window of the Adams Hotel, while Detective Chief Loomis of Denver sought him.

Attorney Richardson finally asked Orchard suddenly: "Look here, have you been cautioned not to give definitely any time or place during this cross-examination?"

"I have been cautioned as to nothing but to tell the truth," retorted the witness.

First Money From Pettibone.

Orchard thought the first money he received from Pettibone was paid him in the rear of the latter's store. Usually no one was present at the interviews regarding money, except himself, Adams, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. During the time he and Adams were "working on Mr. Peabody," Orchard said they got $50 or $100 whenever they worked for it.

"Now these defendants had nothing to do with planning the Vindicator mine explosion?" suggested Richardson.

"Nothing, other than to pay it," replied Orchard.

"They had nothing to do with any of your outrages until the Independence depot affair?"

"I believe they had something to do with it; yes sir."

"I mean as to planning."

"No, they didn't plan it."

OTTAWA WELCOMES FUSHIMI.

Japanese Prince Guest of Governor-General at Capital.

Ottawa, June 11.—Prince Fushimi arrived in Ottawa at 1 o'clock yesterday and was received at the Central Station by a large number of citizens and by a guard of honor drawn from the Governor-General's Foot Guards. The station, the city hall, and many private buildings were hung with flags in honor of the distinguished visitor.

As the prince stepped from the tram he was greeted with the strains of the Japanese National Anthem. His Excellency Earl Grey met his guest on the station platform, and after an inspection of the guard of honor the party drove off to Government House.

During his stay in the capital the prince is the guest of His Excellency Earl Grey at Government House. Immediately after his arrival he was entertained to luncheon at Government House. In the afternoon at 3.30 o'clock he received a civic address of welcome at the city hall, and had an opportunity of viewing the Parliament buildings and the experimental farm.

A state dinner was given in his honor last evening, followed by a reception, at which a large number of Ottawans were presented to his imperial highness.

This morning Prince Fushimi leaves for Brockville and the Thousand Islands, en route to Toronto.

Property Is In Danger—Progressives In Tokio Adopt Resolution Demanding Safety of Compatriots In America—Government Attitude Not Considered Satisfactory — Should Prevent Outrages.

Tokio, June 11.—The council of the Progressives at a meeting yesterday adopted a resolution, the substance of which was as follows:

"The anti-Japanese feeling upon the Pacific coast of the United States, especially in San Francisco, culminated in an assault upon Japanese trading places last month, constituting a most flagrant violation of the rights guaranteed by the treaty concluded upon an equal footing between the two nations.

"The anti-Japanese acts are not of a temporary nature, and the federal Government at Washington must be held responsible for its failure to prevent such outrages.

"The attitude of our Government towards that in Washington has so far been unsatisfactory to the nation, and it is necessary that proper steps should be taken by our Government in order to maintain the national dignity and permanently ensure the safety of the rights and property of our compatriots in America."

SUMMER HOTEL BURNED.

Fifty Guests Have Narrow Escape—Two Girls Missing.

Norfolk, Va., June 11.—The famous Princess Anne Hotel at Virginia Beach was burned early yesterday, the fire originating supposedly in a defective flue.

There were 110 guests and employes in the building, and all escaped with the exception of a negro chambermaid and a white steward. The loss on the building, which was not equipped with fire escapes, was $185,000. Several other buildings, including the Norfolk and Southern Railroad station, also were destroyed.

Sergeant Carl Boeschen of the Richmond Light Infantry, saved many lives by rushing from room to room, awakening the inmates. He finally fell exhausted and was carried from the burning building.

KILLED BY ELEPHANT.

Boy Trampled to Death During a Circus Parade.

Buffalo, June 11.—Gasquale Tigniatoro, an Italian, 13 years of age, was fatally injured by an elephant, part of a circus parade which passed up Main street yesterday. The boy died a few minutes after his admission to the General Hospital.

Archie Dunlap, in charge of the elephants, was arrested, and is held on an open charge.

Reports are conflicting as to just how the boy met his death. One report has it that the forward elephant reached out with his trunk and dragged the boy into the street, where he was stepped on by one of the elephants.

Another report says the boy attempted to pass between the first and second elephants, fell, and was stepped upon by the second one.

Dunlap was afterwards released.

BARGE SINKS IN FOG.

"Cornwall" Laden With Coal Runs Aground and Goes Down.

Brockville, June 11.—Coming down the Canadian channel early yesterday morning in a heavy fog, the barge Cornwall, laden with 1,200 tons of soft coal, ran aground at the head of Isle Royal, a short distance above Brockville.

The Cornwall, together with the Augustus, Princess and Arcadia, the last two grain-laden, were in tow of the tug Emmerson, and although the tug grated her keel all escaped the rocks but the Cornwall. An examination showed the barge to be in a bad way, and she filled so rapidly that the pumps were of little avail. However, she was kept float until the afternoon, when all effort was abandoned, the boat finally becoming submerged in about 15 feet of water amidships. Her bow and stern are not so deep, and it is feared she has partially broken in. Her present position would indicate this.

Bold Youth Steals Fare Box From A Street Car

A Series of Burglaries and Attempted Hold-ups Which Indicate Presence in the City of Petty Thieves.

THE POLICE ARE ALERT

An East City Man's Experience Early This Morning—Citizens Are Warned to be on Their Guard.

Is Peterborough being infested with a gang of petty thieves? The incidents of the past few days would seem to give rise to a suspicion that this is the case. Within less than a week half a dozen robberies or attempts at robberies have taken place, and while none of them have been large, they have been sufficiently serious to cause apprehension and to give ground for the belief that there is in the city a gang of men who are carrying on a campaign of thieving, and unless greater care is exercised a more serious robbery than any yet reported may be expected.

The police force, in view of the situation, is particularly active, and the whole city is being patrolled, and the guilty parties will eventually be captured. In the meantime, it would be wisdom for householders to take precautions to see that their premises are securely fastened at night. It is incredible that there are persons who go to bed without locking their doors, and in the face of this it cannot be wondered at that burglaries take place. In a case of this kind there is no one to blame but the victims themselves.

YOUTH STOLE FARE BOX FROM STREET CAR IN CONDUCTOR'S ABSENCE

While Conductor Solmes of street car No. 29, was walking over the C. P. R. tracks last night, to ascertain if the way was clear, his cash box was stolen by a young man, who jumped on at the rear, grabbed it, and disappeared in the darkness east of George street. The robbery occurred shortly after ten o'clock, and apparently had been mapped out before hand, as it worked to perfection.

The conductors are obliged to precede their cars over the tracks, and this leaves the rear of each car unguarded, so that practically it is an easy matter for a sharp thief to steal the cash box, as it is always left at the conductor's end of the car.

Car No. 20 is a round trip car, and it was returning from the river with but two passengers on board at the time. When the conductor got off the car it was stopped,, until he gave the signal to proceed across the track. The people on the car believe that they heard a noise as if the conductor was taking down the cash box, but a moment later saw him get on the car when it had crossed the tracks. It was then discovered that some one had stolen the box. The car came on up town and the loss was reported at the office. The box was fairly well filled as the people had been out in large numbers for a breezy ride. It had been emptied at seven o'clock, but undoubtedly was well filled by 10.15. The car was the new open car and it can be readily judged there was a tidy sum in the lower compartment of the box.

It is regrettable that the car was not stopped at the C. P. R., and a search made. It is a coincidence that Police Officers Newhall and Macdonald were not far away at the time and they would have been hot on the chase, had they been told of the matter then. Officers Adams and Meharry when apprised of the robbery by 'phone, searched on Water street south and along the spur line, but the culprit was not found.

The authorities have an idea that they know the guilty party and are confident that they will solve this problem as they have done others recently.

A LESSON TO PERSONS WHO DISPLAY THEIR JEWELLERY CARELESSLY

A little incident occurred in East City last night which shows how hold-ups are encouraged and how robbers are tempted to relieve people of their valuables. Two of the local police officers happened to be on Hunter street in the vicinity of the coal yards at a rather late hour about one o'clock. In the light of a street lamp they saw a young man ap-

Better Arrangements For Baggage At Military Camp

This Year, Barryfield Camp, at Kingston, Will See Many Important Improvements.

THE COMPOSITE COMPANIES

Examiner Special.

Kingston, June 11.—A week from Monday next the military camp on Barrifield Heights will open, and for the next twelve days about 3000 men will be trained in the art of war. An addition will be the Prince of Wales Dragoon Guards of Ottawa, who will take the place of the 5th and 8th Field Batteries, which formerly camped here and which now go to Petawawa for their training.

Barrifield Camp will have the best camp administrator in the Canadian military service in the person of Col. Gordon, the C. O. of Eastern Ontario. His assistant, Lieut.-Col. Hemming, C.S.O., is an old-timer at Barrifield, having been there twenty years ago, and also having been assistant to the late Col. Montizambert.

Better arrangements are to be made for looking after the baggage of the troops coming to camp here. Formerly, the regiment officers failed to pay attention to this important matter, and as a result there was always a mix-up when the transport trains arrived. Nobody was on hand who knew where the things were, and sometimes it was the following day before matters were righted. The camp commandant, Col. Gordon, has notified those in command of corps to detail an officer to look after and be responsible for the baggage.

Aldermen Had A Warm Debate Last Night

Aldermen Johnston and Morgan Mixed it Up Over Fire Department Matters — Duel Lasted Some Minutes.

THE ENGINEER'S SALARY

The feature of last night's meeting of the City Council was a set-to between Ald. Johnston and Ald. Morgan over Fire Department matters. The debate was a warm one while it lasted, and the rest of the Council set back in their chairs while the two doughty aldermen flashed bitter repartee at each other.

The trouble arose when Ald. Johnston reported that the reason Mr. Wainwright, engineer of the firehall, is not getting his raise in salary, is that he is not subordinate to his superior officer, Foreman Packenham, who complains that he has more trouble with Wainwright than any other man in the hall.

Ald. Morgan replied that Wainwright is being run by so many bosses that he does not know where he stands.

Ald. Johnston suggested that Ald. Morgan is creating too much trouble by carrying tales to the firemen contrary to the city's interests.

Ald. Morgan retorted that Ald. Johnston has always been opposed to Wainwright and wants to free the city from his services. "I am a friend of the firemen," continued Ald. Morgan, "and will not see them run on."

Ald. Johnston replied that he had stood Wainwright in good stead when the Council contemplated discharging him.

The chairman said that he had the him. The chairman said that he had them.

Ald. Morgan retorted that the firemen had their knife in Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and intended ousting him from his position.

The Mayor replied that that is where the trouble lies, and the situation must be adjusted. But Wainwright must be obedient to his superiors. His increased salary was dependent upon his producing a satisfactory certificate as to his competency as an engineer. If this was produced his salary would be increased.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that the Ontario Association of Engineers be asked if a third-class certificate is sufficient for the care of a fire engine and operation of a steam roller.—Carried.

HUMAN SKULL FOUND IN OLD FIRE HALL CELLAR

Concealed in a cotton bag, carefully stowed away in a window in the cellar of the old firehall, a human skull was found at noon today by Mr. Jas. Rose, contractor, who is tearing down the tower of the building. Mr. Rose noticed the half-rotted bag in the window behind the door, and, in removing it, observed that something weighty was contained inside. He drew the hard substance out with his hand, rolled up in a piece of old newspaper, and to his horror made the gruesome discovery of a human skull.

Upon examination it was found that the top of the skull had been sawed off and that a little flesh still clung to parts of it. All the teeth were gone but three, and these were badly decayed and on the verge of falling out. So far as can be learned, the discovery remains in a cloud of mystery, and it still remains unexplained.

ARMOURY GRADE MAY BE CHANGED

Is Belief of Contractor Proctor, Who is in the City To-day

Mr. Proctor has another big contractor for the Peterborough Armouries, was in the city to-day inspecting the work so far done, and expresses himself as being highly satisfied with it. He leaves this evening for Ottawa in connection with the proposed raising of the grade of the Armouries to the same as that of the Collegiate Institute.

He stated to the Examiner that nothing definite had yet been heard from headquarters, but he believed that the change would be made.

If such were the case there would be additional expense in raising the foundation on the north side, which has already been begun, to be symetrical with the Collegiate Institute grade.

Mr. Proctor has another big contract on hand, which is now nearing completion. He is erecting a $30,000 summer hotel on the shore of Lake Huron, in addition to four expensive cottages for the Lake Huron Beach Hotel Company. It will be opened about July 1.

CHARGES WERE MADE AGAINST A MINISTER AT THE CONFERENCE

Rev. J. J. Rae, Former Pastor of Peterborough Church, the Victim of Circumstances---Is Left Without Station at His Own Request.

NATURE OF THE CHARGES

He Is Said to Have Taken Souvenir Post Cards From the T. Eaton Co's Store in Toronto --- An Explanation Offered by Mr. Rae.

Examiner Special

Bowmanville, June 11. — The recommendation in the report of the Stationing Committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist church, meeting here, to the effect that Rev. J. J. Rae, who has spent three of his four years' pastoral term at Picton, be left with a station this year, a request having been received from him to this end, conveys considerable to those who know the meaning of this apparently simple statement.

As the retiring president of the Conference, Mr. Rae was to have preached the ordination sermon on Sunday morning, when three young men were received into the ministry. He did not preach that sermon, however; Rev. Dr. Chown, of Toronto was sent for, and was the preacher.

The retiring president appears to be the victim of circumstances of a most distressing character, and this is the explanation for the change in the preacher for the ordination sermon, and the announcement that he would not be given a station this year.

The charge was made in one of the sessions of Conference, it is alleged, that Mr. Rae, who is well known here, having spent a four years' term as pastor of the Methodist church, while in Toronto during the past year, for the purpose of ordaining a young man to the ministry, was in Eaton's store, and took some souvenir post cards, without paying for them. As he was about to leave the store, he was detained by an officer, and was taken to the office of Mr. Eaton, where he made an explanation. Rev. Dr. Carman, the General Superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada, was sent for, and Mr. Rae's explanation was repeated to him, with the result that there was nothing further done in the matter, the three three persons, Mr. Eaton, Mr. Rae and Dr. Carman, each undertaking to keep the affair a secret. Mr. Rae's explanation is said to have been that he was looking at the cards, and at the time there was no one whom he could pay. He carried them in his hand until the clerk should be disengaged, and, in the meantime the doors to the dining room opened, and, as he was in a hurry to take luncheon, he forgot about the cards, and made for the dining room. It was after he came out of the dining room that he was detained.

When the charge was made at Conference, through a letter sent to one of the members, Mr. Rae again made the explanation, it is stated, substantially as outlined above.

He is naturally feeling very badly over the matter, and he has a great many friends throughout the Conin the affair, which has created a sensation among both the lay and ministerial members of the Conference.

He requested the Stationing Committee to leave him off the list of stations this year, though in the first draft he was down for Picton. He had been invited to become pastor of the Port Hope church in succession to Rev. G. W. Henderson, who goes to Peterborough in 1908.

---

The information concerning Rev. J. J. Rae, contained in the above despatch will be learned with great surprise in Peterborough, where he is very well known and highly respected. He was for a term pastor of the Charlotte Street Church and was one of the most popular and most successful pastors the church has had. He was also recognized throughout the Conference as a thoroughly honourable man, and was in great demand as a pastor, having been pastor of the best churches in the Conference. He is a comparatively young man of more than usual promise, and deep regret is felt at the circumstances which have had the effect of forcing him under this, it is to be hoped, passing cloud.

NO MARCH-OUT OF REGIMENT TO-NIGHT

Several Members of the Band Unable to be Present

There will be no march out of the 57th Regiment to-night as announced, owing to the fact that a number of members of the band are connected with the Minstrel performance and will therefore be unable to be present at the drill. The Regiment will however, hold its usual weekly drill at the armouries and the largest turnout of the season is looked for.

Twenty-First Crossing On Buying Expedition

Mr. S. Dickson Hall Leaves Tomorrow on Ten Week's Tour of British Iles and Continent.

DIRECT FROM THE MAKERS

On his twenty-first crossing of the Atlantic Ocean, in the interests of his firm, Mr. Dickson Hall, of the firm of Richard Hall & Co., will leave the city to-morrow for Quebec, where he will board the steamer "Empress of Ireland," on a purchasing trip of ten weeks' duration, in which he will visit the buying and manufacturing centres of the British Isles and the Continent, purchasing for his firm.

In every case he will make his purchases from the manufacturers direct, saving the middleman's profits, and giving the patrons of the local store the benefit of the reduction in price, and at the same time insuring to them the very latest styles.

Mr. Hall will sail on Friday, and, arriving at Liverpool, he will remain there a few days, going from there to London. After spending a short time in the World's metropolis he will go to Berlin, Germany, where he will make his purchases of ladies' coats and mantles. Returning from the continent he will again visit London, and go from there to Nottingham, the great lace manufacturing centre, and buy his curtains and laces direct from the looms. Bradford, the woollen centre will be the next place visited, and here he will make his purchases of woollen goods for the fall and winter season. To Belfast, for linens will be the next item on the programme, and, crossing to Scotland Mr. Hall will spend a short time in Glasgow, where the head office of the Canadian Dry Goods Syndicate, of which the local firm is a member, is located.

London and Paris will again be visited, and in the latter city millinery will be bought. Novelties will also be purchased in the French city, which is the recognized leader in fancy wearing apparel.

Mr. Hall, during the trips he has made to the manufacturing centres in the Old Land, has become thoroughly familiar with the markets there and is, therefore in a position to buy intelligently and economically. The wholesale district of London, the greatest in the world, is as well known to Mr. Hall as is that of Montreal.

Mr. Hall will, on this trip, be accompanied by Mrs. Hall.

The next meeting of the Trades and Labour Council will be held tomorrow night, when a number of important matters will be discussed, among them the Garbage bylaw, upon which it is expected that some opinions will be expressed by the members of the Trades and Labour Council.

CRITICISM OF SOLDIERS' CONDUCT

Some Members of 57th Reg. Who Remained in Park Instead of Going to Church Sunday Night

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Whether from force of habit, from religious scruples, or for other reasons, I know not, but on the battalion entering the church last Sunday a number of bandsmen and tail-enders might have been seen making their way to the band stand in the park, to smoke away the short time that, by the courtesy to the minister of the church, they had been invited to participate in the services rendered for their special benefit. The men doing this were not juveniles, but men well up in years, from whom one would expect something better. It appears to me that, for the credit of the battalion, for their own credit, and out of courtesy to those inviting them, it would be very much better for such men to remain at home than to bring discredit on the officers commanding them and on the whole battalion.

Yours truly,

DISCIPLINE.

WANT CONDITIONS THE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Contractor Mahoney Complains to Council in Connection With River Dredging

Mr. Mahoney, who has the contract for removing the dredgings from the dredge Trent, was present and addressed the council regarding difficulties he claimed to have been having with some of the officials of the Government. He asked that he be allowed to fulfill his contract under similar conditions that last year was done by Mr. Conroy.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn that the clerk be authorized to write Mr. Hall asking him to have the contract carried out under the same conditions as last year's contract was done.—Carried.

Yet He Advises Two Extra Manholes to be Constructed—His Report Presented Last Night—Extra Cost Will be $100.

HIS ADVICE TO BE TAKEN

Again last night did the famous Romaine street sewer question come before the Committee of the Whole, when the decision reached was to construct two extra manholes in the sewer, on the advice of the City Engineer. Contrary to the opinions of a large number, the Engineer still believes that the sewer was satisfactorily constructed, and relies on a continuance of dry weather to remove the sand which, he says, yet remains in two sections.

The two extra manholes proposed will cost $100, and he claims, when these are constructed, that the sewer will be in first-class working order.

He and Mr. White looked over the situation, and submitted the following report, which was read by the Mayor:

Gentlemen—Accompanied by Mr. W. H. White, I examined the Romaine street sewer on Saturday, June 8, and found as follows: The first three sections are in the same condition as when work was suspended on May 8, after being cleared of sand and water at the same level and running with a good current. The fourth and fifth sections still have a quantity of sand in them, but apparently no more, and the head of water has been reduced ten inches. I am satisfied that the sewer is all right, and, with a continuance of dry weather, the water pressure will be still further reduced and will allow of the sand being removed, but would recommend that two additional manholes be built, one in each of sections 4 and 5, to facilitate the removal of sand, and also that the use of a steam pump be procured.

Yours truly,

T. A. B. HAY,
City Engineer.

The Engineer stated to a question, that the two extra manholes would cost about $50 each, and with these he was quite satisfied that the sewer, which has a fall of four feet, would then be satisfactory, Mr. Hay also said that the levels of the sewer were not fixed by him, as the Mayor understood from the School Board.

Ald. Bradburn and Elliott thought that if $100 would fix the sewer, it should be accomplished at once.

The Engineer considered that if the work was left over for a couple of weeks the water would then be ten inches lower, and this would therefore facilitate matters. Only the fourth and fifth sections were unsatisfactory, he said, and the distances between the manholes there were over 3000 feet, which was too long with but a four-foot fall.

Ald. Morrow urged that the work be done as soon as possible, as it should be ready for use for the School Board by September 1.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Leary, that the Engineer be authorized to have two extra manholes constructed as soon as he considered it advisable to begin work.—Carried.

EVIDENCE OF GROWTH

No better evidence of the marvellous growth and prosperity of Canada under Liberal administration can be found or is needed than is furnished by the report of the Department of the Interior. In every direction — in immigration, homesteading, population and revenue from Dominion lands—the advance has been phenomenal. The figures of immigration alone bear testimony that during the past ten years this country has grown as in no former period. The best showing ever made by the Conservatives in this respect was in 1896, their last year in office, when 21,716 immigrants landed in Canada. The record since then has been one of increase, year by year. That for 1906 being the greatest in history. The story is well told in the following figures for the past six years:

| Year. | Arrivals. |
|---|---|
| 1900-1901 | 49,149 |
| 1901-1902 | 67,379 |
| 1902-1903 | 128,364 |
| 1903-1904 | 130,331 |
| 1904-1905 | 146,266 |
| 1905-1906 | 189,064 |

The greater part of this immigration, of course, found its way to the Canadian West, the result being the bringing into existence of new towns, the raising of older ones into the dignity of cities and adding immensely to the population of the older cities, in some instances more than doubling it. The following table shows the growth of population of Western cities in five years, and it may be taken for granted that, with the tide of immigration that is pouring into the Canadian West this year from Europe and the Western States, the close of 1907 will see a still further vast increase:

| Place. | Population. 1901 | 1906 |
|---|---|---|
| Winnipeg | 42,340 | 101,100 |
| Brandon | 5,283 | 10,520 |
| Calgary | 4,152 | 17,500 |
| Edmonton | 2,626 | 11,000 |
| Indian Head | 788 | 2,100 |
| Medicine Hat | 1,973 | 3,500 |
| Moose Jaw | 2,042 | 6,500 |
| Portage la Prairie | 3,850 | 5,500 |
| Prince Albert | 2,193 | 5,600 |
| Raymond | 7 | 2,000 |
| Red Deer | 851 | 2,000 |
| Regina | 2,645 | 9,400 |
| Saskatoon | 0 | 3,000 |
| Strathcona | 1,550 | 3,400 |

The showing as to homesteading, which is closely associated with immigration, is scarcely less marked. This is a matter in which the Conservative Government took especial pride, as furnishing proof of a vigorous policy; yet, in the light of the record under Liberal administration, the 2,462 homesteads taken up in 1895-1896 cut but a sorry figure alongside the returns for the past five years, which follow:

| Year. | Homestead entries. |
|---|---|
| 1901-1902 | 14,673 |
| 1902-1903 | 31,383 |
| 1903-1904 | 26,073 |
| 1904-1905 | 30,819 |
| 1905-1906 | 41,869 |
| Total | 144,817 |

Striking, also, is the revenue from Dominion lands, which has increased from $174,509 in 1896 (the last Conservative year) to $1,701,580 in 1906. The figures for the past five years are:

|---|---|
| 1901-1902 | $1,254,333 56 |
| 1902-1903 | 1,716,597 20 |
| 1903-1904 | 1,478,106 23 |
| 1904-1905 | 1,314,485 40 |
| 1905-1906 | 1,701,580 71 |
| Total for five years | $7,465,103 20 |

Equally marked is a ten-year comparison between the revenue from the Conservative and the Liberal Government. For the ten years from 1886-1887 to 1895-1896, the total revenue was $2,343,835.95, as against $13,139,941.78 for the period 1896-1897 to 1905-1906.

Of the whole Interior Department the total revenue was, in 1896, $241,431. Last year, under Liberal rule, it advanced to the immense sum of $2,526,123—a truly marvellous showing.

Great as has been the advancement of Canada during the past ten years, there is every reason to believe that our growing time has merely commenced, and that the years approaching will witness an expansion far greater, until the Dominion rivals in population and wealth, as it does in every other respect, the great nation to the south. That wise and vigorous administration, not only of the Interior, but every other Department of Government, has much to do with this wonderful growth not one will honestly dispute.—London Advertiser.

PATERNITY OF THE PREFERENCE

The British preference is of Liberal origin, and when it was first proposed the Conservatives, at Ottawa, who arrogate to themselves the sole possession of loyalty and imperial sentiment, opposed it, tooth and claw. In the House of Commons in 1892, Mr. (now Sir) L. H. Davies, moved his amendment declaring that "the present scale of duties on goods mainly imported from Great Britain should be reduced," that amendment was supported by the whole Liberal party in the House of Commons and as vigorously opposed by the Conservative government and party of that day. While the proceedings of a party caucus are never wholly made public, it is no secret that Mr. Davies' resolution was the result of a conference of the then Opposition in caucus assembled and that it represented the policy of the whole Liberal party.

In the course of his speech in the House of Commons on April 25, 1892, Mr. Davies said:—

"I will propose to reduce the duties on goods from England now, out of the adundance of my loyalty and goodwill, whether England discriminates in our favour or not. * * * I intend to invite the hon. gentleman to support a resolution declaring not that we will concede to Great Britain a reduction of duties in return for some advantage which we ask her to grant, but out of the abundance of our loyalty and devotion and in consideration of all that she has done for us, what she is doing now and what she will do in the future for us that for all these reasons and also because they are unnecessary we offer to reduce or remove the duties upon English manufacture. * * * Let us show our loyalty in something more than mere phrasology."

Other speakers upon the Liberal side warmly supported the resolution, and there was no doubt that it was settled policy of the Liberal party in the House. Consistently with what the Liberals advocated in Opposition, Sir Wilfrid, after he came into power, at the first opportunity gave effect to the loyal policy of the Liberal party. On April 22nd, 1897, at the first session, after the Liberal government came into power, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Finance Minister, introduced his preference legislation, and the British preference became the law of the land. Canada may not contribute directly to the maintenance of the Imperial Navy, but by her preference she contributes to the entente cordiale and the decided strengthening of the bonds of Empire. This stands to the credit of the Premier and the Liberal party.

CONTEMPTIBLE SPOILISM

The Toronto News, often very friendly to the Conservative Government, Toronto, has the following strictures of that Government's relation to the application of the spoils system, in the Vansant case:

There is nothing quite so contemptible about the dismissal of Mr. Vansant, (Governor of Toronto gaol), as the means by which it was accomplished. For many months gossipers and maligners were at his heels. All his words and actions were misrepresented. He was the victim of bitter and malicious criticism outside, and of organized disaffection inside, the jail. Spies dogged his footsteps. Slander was busy with his name and reputation. It was determined to accomplish his removal, and it is only singular that it should have been necessary to reveal so much meanness and meatiness in the pursuit of one defenceless public official. It would have been far better and far manlier to have cut off his head at once, and have saved the community from all the slander and backbiting to which Mr. Vansant was subjected, and the partisan investigation, on the strength of which he was removed. It is not pretended that Mr. Vansant had special qualifications for the office of jailer, and it is certain that under any proper civil service system he never would have been appointed. It is just as certain that if he had been a Conservative, he never would have been removed, and that the party sleuths who dogged his steps and the Ministers who cut off his head, would have been united in his defence, and even ferocious assailants of his critics. There are few Conservatives in the Federal public service who could survive the methods employed against Mr. Vansant, and we have seldom had a more pitiful exhibition of the evils of the patronage system as it obtains in Canada. Altogether it was a miserable killing, and the group of greedy spoilsmen by whom it was accomplished, when they think it all over in cold blood, surely can find no real satisfaction in the achievement.

Forks In England.

The enormous ruffs so much in favor in later Tudor times are responsible for the introduction of forks in England. The difficulty of reaching one's mouth when so adorned must have impressed itself very forcibly on every one, and so the invention of some means of prolonging the reach became an imperative necessity, and thus, as demand usually creates supply, forks came into existence.—Captain G. A. Hope in Grand Magazine.

Hardy's First Novels.

When Thomas Hardy took the manuscript of "Under the Greenwood Tree" to Mr. Tinsley, that enterprising publisher offered the novelist the sum of £25 down for the book. Mr. Hardy accepted the sum, although he owned that he was a "bit disappointed," adding that nevertheless he "meant to keep on." Next came his book "A Pair of Blue Eyes," for which Mr. Tinsley gave the novelist £100, saying, "There is no great money in the book, but I can see that Hardy is going to get a grip some day."—London Saturday Review.

FOUGHT WITH ANARCHIST.

Thrilling Experiences of Detective Walsh of Scotland Yard.

Some dramatic stories of his detective experiences are related by Inspector Walsh, who is leaving Scotland Yard after twenty-nine years' service. He has been one of the most noted guardians of royal visitors to this country, and leaves the Metropolitan Force to enter upon a private inquiry agency.

It was Mr. Walsh who arrested Francois, the French Anarchist. "We found out," said Mr. Walsh, "that Francois was living in a street in Poplar. I went down with three others to arrest him. We traced his house, but before entering it decided to take some refreshment at a nearby public-house. That decision saved our lives.

"While we waited Francois came out of his house and we arrested him in the street. He was a perfect giant, and the five of us rolled over in the gutter together. We knocked several costers' stalls over in the struggle. The crowd were sympathizing with our prisoner, so I shouted, 'Don't meddle; he's "Jack the Ripper." We had no end of a job to save him from the crowd.

"Francois told me afterwards that he never meant to be arrested without costing twenty lives. In his room we found a revolver loaded and fifteen cartridges all laid out ready."

"As to my experiences with kings and queens," said the detective, "I was told off to look after the German Emperor when he visited this country as the guest of Queen Victoria. Later, I was looking after the Prince of Naples, the present King of Italy, when he first visited England, and then the Czar when he visited the Queen at Balmoral. Between then and the visit of the King of Portugal I, among other things arrested Mr. Arthur Lynch, the journalist who fought for the Boers.

STORIES OF LADIES' GALLERY.

Communications Between M.P.'s and Their Friends in the "Cage."

It may not be generally known by outsiders that if a member of the House of Commons desires to converse with a lady in the gallery he may do so for five minutes only. Members, especially the young and impressionable, make frequent visits to the cage. Of course it is for the purpose of pointing out the celebrities on the benches below. But if in so doing he should exceed five minutes—and so many are the celebrities that he thinks it essential to linger at least a quarter of an hour by the side of his fair friend—the gallery attendant is empowered to call his attention, courteously but firmly, to the fact that he has outstayed his limit.

While one of the reporters was busy taking notes of the speeches a piece of paper fluttered down on his book. At first he thought it was a note from a colleague, but his surprise may be imagined when on opening it he read penciled in a lady's hand-writing on half a leaf of notebook, gilt-edged and dainty, the mysterious message: "How much longer, pet?"

The message was not intended, certainly, for the reporter into whose hands it fell. Nor is it likely that it was written to any journalist in the reporters' gallery But the lady in this case was not only indiscreet but ignorant of the ways of the House of Commons. She could have sent her message through the attendant, sealed and addressed, with the certainty that it would have been delivered to the proper man.

A fan has also fallen from the ladies' gallery into the press quarters below, causing the hearts of susceptible journalists to flutter. That was unintentional presumably. But on one occasion a lady deliberately dropped some documents. It was on the night that Mr. Plimsoll, infuriated by the withdrawal of the Merchant Shipping Bill, went up to the table and, shaking his fist at Disraeli, declared he would be responsible for the lives of the sailors who went to the bottom in unseaworthy vessels.

His language became so violent that he was obliged to withdraw before he could complete his protest. Then his wife, who was in the ladies' gallery, dropped copies of the protest on the heads of the reporters.—Lady's Realm.

Boy Musical Prodigy.

Lionel Ovenden, the little 13-year-old English violinist and pianist, has been attacked, somewhat ungenerously, for attempting too much. That he is equally master of two instruments is, according to some critics, against precedent, and, therefore, impossible. Nevertheless, the boy has made up his mind to continue as both pianist and violinist, and in this dual capacity he appeared last night at Queen's Hall.

For the violin he brought forward Godard's Second Concerto, a work of somewhat ephemeral charm, but with plenty of technical difficulties, which the young artist surmounted in masterly fashion. Following this he gave a splendid performance of Beethoven's First Pianoforte Concerto.

The mere effort of memory alone is remarkable in a youth of 13, but the performance of both a violin and pianoforte concerto in the same evening is an unprecedented feat, even for an artist of mature age.

Austria's Venerable Emperor.

Despite his seventy-six years, the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is enjoying wonderfully good health, and has gone through the trying winter and spring entirely free from coughs and colds. His doctors take the utmost care of him, and not once this year has His Majesty been seen out of doors on foot. This is the more remarkable, as he is fond of taking early morning walks in the park at Schonbrunn. He knows every inch of the place, and is quick to note the slightest changes in woods or gardens, and woe betide the official who has cut down old trees or made any other alterations or improvements without his previous knowledge and approval. But this season the Emperor's favorite crocuses and snowdrops in sheltered spots in the woods have bloomed and died without his having once seen them. But in the affairs of state His Majesty is as keen and laborious as ever. He is at his desk before 6 o'clock every morning, and frequently drives in to the Hofburg in Vienna before 8 o'clock. He has been holding general audiences once or twice a week without any interruption, despite the fact that these are most trying affairs, requiring him to stand the whole time. These audiences not infrequently last two hours.

ROUTINE BUSINESS OF COUNCIL

Manufacturers' Committee Decide to Advertise the City—Committee Reports

THE BY-LAWS PASSED

At the meeting of the City Council last night the routine business done was not as extensive as usual, only two bylaws were passed and reports were received from the Manufacturers' and Legal Committees.

The Typographical Union complained that notwithstanding a resolution of the council to the effect that all city printing should bear the union label, this measure was being overridden. This matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Ald Phelan submitted the following:

Legal Report

Gentlemen, Your Legal Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1. In regard to the letter of the secretary of the Underwriters Association in reference to boxes, etc., in rear of stores, we instructed the city clerk to send him a copy of the provisions of the bylaw prohibiting boxes and other waste material being left near a building in the fire limits and to tell him that the committee thinks this sufficient but that if he has an amendment to suggest they would be glad to receive it and that the police are enforcing the bylaw in accordance with instructions from the council.

2. We requested the chairman of this committee to arrange with the warden and council of the county for a conference with reference to the admission of indigents from the city to the county house of refuge.

This was adopted as read.

To Advertise the City

Ald. Morrow submitted the following:—Gentlemen, —Your Manufacturers' Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1. We have had a bylaw prepared to aid the Colonial Weaving Company, which will be submitted to you.

2. We recommend that the chairman be authorized to have a number of small folders advertising Peterborough revised and reprinted.

This was adopted as read.

Alarm Cards

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the clerk be authorized to purchase 100 large cards with fire alarm box numbers printed thereon, to be placed in various public places for the public's benefit.—Carried.

Bylaws

A bylaw to aid the Colonial Weaving Company passed its first reading.

A bylaw to authorize the execution of an agreement with Daniel Mahoney for handling the river dredgings at 8-1-2c. a cubic foot, passed its several readings.

A Recognition

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the thanks of the council be forwarded T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., for his courtesy in giving the city a handsome map of Ontario Province.—Carried.

Ald. Phelan moved seconded by Ald. Leary, that the Mayor and chairman Board of Works be a committee to interview R. R. Hall, M.P., with a view to securing the same treatment of Contractor Mahoney by the government dredge employees as was accorded Mr. Conroy last year.—Carried.

Pains in the Back Over the Kidneys

TELL OF DISEASED KIDNEYS AND THEIR PROVEN CURE FOR THIS DREADFULLY PAINFUL AILMENT IS

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

When kidney disease does not arise from exposure to a draft or chilling of the body it is usually developed gradually as a result of liver and bowel disorders.

It is because of the intimate and dependent relations of the liver, kidneys and bowels, that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure diseases of the Kidneys when mere kidney medicines fail.

By quickening the action of the liver and bowels this treatment immediately lessens the work of the kidneys, and at the same time restores their natural vigour. In this way the most serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys are thoroughly cured.

Miss Della McDermott, 373 Main street, Moncton, N.B., writes:

"For some time my mother could not walk across the floor, or stoop over because the pains in her back just over the kidneys were so severe. She had severe headaches, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many remedies without obtaining any relief. The doctors of our town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life.

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this great medicine she was perfectly cured and the old trouble has never returned."

Mr. J. Edwards of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy and Davis Milling Company, Lindsay, Ont., states: "I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time and can positively say they are the best medicine I have ever used. I was troubled very much with my kidneys, and had dreadful pains in my back, which increased by leaning over.

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone inquiring about them.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

EVERYTHING READY FOR SHOW

Minstrel Club Had its Final Rehearsal Last Night—A Genuine Treat

THE CHORUS A FEATURE

Everything is ready for the first presentation of the big minstrel show under the auspices of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club in the Grand Opera House to-night. The final rehearsal was held last night, and the whole performance went through without a hitch. A genuine treat will be given those who patronize the entertainment to-night. Particularly to the lovers of good singing will the event be a memorable one. A more capable male chorus has probably never been organized in Peterborough before, and the chorus numbers will be one of the outstanding features. The chorus is 35 strong and has been carefully trained for the production. Splendid opportunities are given to display their ability as the music is bright and tuneful. There are a dozen solo numbers and a superabundance of funny features in the first part, while the olio will be comprised of a number of acts that cannot fail to delight the audience. A surprise will be afforded the patrons, as some outside talent of recognized ability will appear in the part of the programme, as well as the best of the local entertainers.

Special scenery and costumes have been secured for the event, and an augmented orchestra will take part. At the prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents, you cannot afford to stay away. The plan has been rapidly cleared out, but there is a number of good seats left for to-night's performance.

JACKSON PARK WAS OPENED

The Band Gave a Splendid Programme Last Night

The summer season at Jackson Park was opened last night, when the 57th Band gave a programme of popular music, that was greatly enjoyed. A big crowd was present for the opening, the outgoing cars being crowded all evening.

The park promises to be more popular than ever this season, and when the various attractions are ready, there should be enormous crowds on hand every night.

The Colluseum in the building formerly used as a box ball alley, is nearly ready for opening, while the Ocean Wave is now running.

The band will be at the park again to-night.

STAFF BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

Famous Salvation Army Band Will be Heard Here To-night in Barracks

To-night the Territorial Staff Band Band of the Salvation Army, will give a musical festival in the barracks. This band, which was organized for the International congress in England in 1904, is composed of officers and employees attached to the headquarters staff, Toronto, and the majority occupy positions of importance. The following departments of the work are represented: The Accountants' and Cashiers', Finance, Property, Trade, Social, Immigration, together with members of the Commissioner's and Chief Secretary's Secretarial Staff.

The band will arrive on the local C. P. R. train, and will be met at the station by the local Salvation Army Band, which will play the visitors up-town. After the concert, the band will spend the time intervening between the meeting and the departure of the midnight train at the barracks. They will be accompanied again to the station by the local band and soldiers of the corps. A splendid programme will be given at the concert.

Nearly all the officers were present, including Major Young, Capt. Hall, Lieut. McDonough, and Veterinary-Lieut. Blanchard. # AN ENJOYABLE TIME AT SURPRISE SOCIAL

Ladies of All Saints' Church Steadily Raising Their Share of Funds for New Church

The ladies' of All Saints Church held a successful surprise social in the Sunday school room and provided a good time for those who were present, last night. There was a large attendance and the ladies managed the affair in a creditable manner. As each person entered, he or she was given a ticket, with a number on it, and the person with the duplicate number had to be found. An enjoyable time was thus spent in social intercourse. A short musical programme followed after which light refreshments were served. The programme was as follows:

Piano duet, Misses Gladman.
Vocal solo, Mrs. Evans.
Recitation, Miss Titterson.
Vocal duet, Messrs. Wilson and Flowers.
Recitation, D. Layfield.

The proceeds were for the Building Fund of the new church, and a good sum was realized. The ladies are to be congratulated on the success of their social, which resulted pleasantly for all concerned.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post-Card Column.

Dear Sir,—Between Hunter and Simcoe streets on Bethune street there is a nuisance being committed, which I think should be looked after by our new sanitary inspector. There is a little colony from Sunny Italy living in that section, who to my mind, have no regard for the health of their fellow citizens, and persist in throwing waste water and slops of various descriptions on the street. The sanitary inspector, I understand, is paid to look after such things, and he should see that the nuisance ends with the present.

Yours, Etc.,

The deadly effects of poison was instrumental in doing to death yesterday evening about six o'clock, the big St. Bernard belonging to Mr. Achilles Turner. # RIPE TOMATOES GROWN IN THIS DISTRICT

Mr. Frank Kitney Tried Experiment Which Was Successful

Yesterday Mr. Frank Kitney, an Otonabee gardener, showed the Examiner a couple of fine ripe tomatoes of ordinary size, which he had grown this year in his own green house. This circumstance is a novelty in this district as none of the local gardeners have yet tried the experiment of growing tomatoes in green houses.

The Examiner, too, can assure Mr. Kitney that the tomatoes taste just as deliciously as those grown in the open air.

Presbyterian Church Will Hold Services in This Connection on June 30th

Examiner Special.

Keene, June 10.—Mr. Bruce Powell of Toronto is spending his holidays in Keene the guest of his aunt, Miss Jessie Read.

The Keene football team defeated Hastings by a score of 1-0 at Hastings Saturday afternoon.

Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, June 30, when Rev. Mr. Duncan of Toronto will conduct the services.

Mr. A. D. Anderson took a party of gentlemen down to Hastings to attend the football match at that place, in his yacht, "The Boots."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warner of Hastings visited friends in Keene on Sunday.

THE LARDER LAKE BOOM NOW ON

New Liskeard, June 11.—Now that the snow has almost entirely disappeared New Liskeard is the busiest place in this northern camp. The stampede to Larder Lake has now almost attained fever heat and the supply merchants experience great difficulty in getting the supplies through and keeping up their stock of miners' supplies on account of the heavy demand for camping outfits.

Hundreds and hundreds of prospectors, miners and capitalists are passing through here on their way to and from Larder Lake. Arrivals from Larder Lake are arousing great enthusiasm on account of the magnificent specimens of quartz, showing plenty free gold, which they display, the best of which were obtained from the Lucky Boys' properties. Intense interest is taken in these properties and it is reported that mining claims adjoining same are fetching fabulous prices. Their development is being anxiously watched, owing to the number of rich veins which have been uncovered. Additional interest is taken in Lucky Boys owing to the fact that the parties interested are all prominent residents of New Liskeard who are also connected with the most successful mining interests in this country. These properties are regarded as the richest in Larder Lake, as they were the second claims staked in the district.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT COLD SPRINGS

New Sunday School Hall Now Formally Opened—Proceeds Over $50.00

The new hall of the Cold Springs Union Sunday School, of Otonabee, was not large enough to contain the crowds that gathered there last night to assist in the celebration of the 19th anniversary of the founding of the school. From six o'clock until eight supper was served in the basement of the hall to over 300 persons after which a musical and literary concert of special merit was presented.

Mr. Frank Kitney, assistant superintendent of the Sunday School, presided over the entertainment and in the opening address gave a brief account of the rapid progress made in the erection of the hall. The following programme was then presented:—

Soli, Mr. R Henderson.
Recitation, Miss Roxie Downer.
Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade.
Solo, Miss Effie McWhinnie.
Recitation, Mr. A R Mann.
Solo, Miss Bertha Curtis.
Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade.
Solo, Mr. Burt Dyell.
Recitation, Mr. A R Mann.
Solo, Mrs. Greenslade.

The proceeds of the tea and concert amounted to over $50, which, in addition to $19, the amount of the Sunday collection, will greatly assist the school in meeting expenses for the new hall.

Prove Great Benefit To The Dairying Industry

Mr. T. H. Bennie Writes Interesting Article on Economic Feeding for the Summer Months.

INCREASED MILK FLOW

Mr. Thomas H. Binnie, who is filling the position of milk tester, in the Cow Testing Association, formed in the Peterborough District, has contributed to the Examiner a valuable article in reference to economic feeding of cows during the summer months. The dairy industry has reached such proportions now that its interest extends beyond those who are directly engaged in it; for it has now extended its operations until it affects directly or indirectly almost every branch of business. In view of this fact, it will be seen that whatever benefits the dairy industry will also prove a benfit to other lines of business. Mr. Binnie's article will be read with deep interest especially by those engaged in farming, but it will also bear careful purusal by those who are not directly interested in this industry. He says:—

One of the greatest problems before the dairy farmer is that of economic feeding. During the summer season this is comparatively easy but even then it becomes, at times, perplexing. This present season with its coldness and backwardness, has caused much worry and care in cow-feeding so that the cows may be kept at their full flow of milk.

The man who has a silo is indeed very fortunate, but he who has not must depend upon the regular winter rations to keep the milk up to its full flow, because there has been as yet little pasture grass. Has any preparation been made for the time when grass becomes dry and scarce? Does not the farmer want a full flow of milk all summer instead of a rapid decrease when the hot dry weather comes? Is he going to allow his cows to become run down in flesh and be in poor condition for the coming winter? To keep up this flow and to keep his cows in good condition the best and most economical method is that of soiling or, in other words, the growing of crops for feeding green.

Prof. J. H. Grisdale, of the Central Experimental Farm, at Ottawa, has sent out the following recommendations for each ten cows in the herd:—

1. "Clover 1 acre—To have been sown with the mixture of peas and oats the previous year as described below.

Feed off June 20 to July 15.

2. "Peas and Oats 1-2 acre—Sow one bushel peas, 1 1-2 bushels oats and 5 lbs red clover seed on 1-2 acre of land, about the first week in May. Feed off July 15, to 31.

3. "Peas and Oats 1-2 acre—Sow same mixture on another half-acre about 3rd week in May. Feed off August 1 to 15.

4. "Corn, 1-2 acre—Sow 10 lbs. Longfellow corn, or other small variety, in hills 3 ft. apart each way. Sow 3rd week in May or as early as possible. Sow on well-drained land, clover sod manured at rate of 20 loads (tons) per acre. Feed off Aug. 15 to 30.

5. "Corn 1-2 acre—Sow 12 lbs. Leaming, of other medium variety, same way as above. Feed off in September."

Red clover is found to be very palatable and gives a fair yield of rich feed for early soiling. In the mixture of peas and oats probably the best varieties to use are the Early Britain or American Wonder peas, and the Siberian or Banner Oats. Sow a variety of oats that is a heavy yielder of both straw and grain and matures about the same time as the peas. In sowing corn it is well to sow rather thickly. Prof. Grisdale advises sowing in hills 3 feet apart each way, but with this method there is a tendency to grow too much to stalk and not enough to leaf. I should advise sowing corn in rows about 2 1-2 feet apart and comparatively thickly in the rows. By this method the tendency will be to a fine stalk and much leaf growth.

Soiling crops should be sown so as to come in succession at maturity and just enough should be sown so that it will be all used by the time the next crop is ready. All crops should be cut when in full bloom and should be allowed to wilt before being fed, as in this condition they are more palatable and appear to be more relished by the cows, always feed in the stable as there is less waste and it is advisable to keep the cows in a cool, dark stable during the heat of the day. If the soiling crops are fed in a wilted condition the cows will eat more and they will not be forced to take more water than they really need.

BOLD YOUTH STEALS FARE BOX FROM A STREET CAR

proaching some 75 yards away. He was apparently lost in thought and in the balmy night air was walking along with his hands in his pockets, hat back on his head, coat wide open displaying an immaculate white vest and against his dark trousers a large gold watch fob gleamed in the lamplight.

The police thought that they would show him how easy it was to be robbed and stepped back in the shade. Just as he reached their secluded spot the police both stepped out in front of the young man, and frightened him so badly that he could scarcely walk. He jumped back and barely breathed "Oh", he was so surprised. One of the officers assured him that he was all right and told him who they were. They called his attention to his careless indifference in walking the street at that hour and advised him to at least conceal his jewelry and be on the safe side.

The scare was a good thing for the young fellow who braced up as he continued on his way home, a few doors east of the place.

This should be a warning to those who are out late to be cautious in their actions, as a glint of gold in a distant lamp light may tempt the weaker minds.

EAST CITY MAN HAD AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE; ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP

Another attempted robbery was added to the already long list that has been prosecuted (with varying success lately, when Mr. Matthew McMahon was accosted on Driscoll Terrace, East City, by two suspicious looking characters. Mr. McMahon is an employee of the Quaker Oats Co.'s works and was working last night until midnight. On his way home along the east side of Driscoll Terrace, two men came out of Mr. Alex. O'Brien's yard and commenced to walk along, one on each side of him. "Follow that man ahead, and don't make a mistake," one of them said, but Mr. McMahon could see no one ahead and is confident that there was no one. The men fell back, and Mr. McMahon continued on ahead of them.

By this time he was sure that the two men were up to no good, and it was a lucky thing that his brother, Mr. John McMahon, lived close at hand. His residence is No. 480 Driscoll Terrace, and as soon as he arrived at the gate Mr. M. McMahon darted in and was soon safe in the house.

Mr. McMahon is not certain, but he thinks that the men ran as far as the gate and then turned about, discouraged and beaten. After resting for a short time in his brother's home, Mr. McMahon continued to his own residence, 242 Munro avenue. This experince was certainly anything but pleasant and Mr. McMahon adopted the wisest course; he says the men wore caps with the peaks well down over their eyes, and their whole appearance boded no good.

EACH MAN HAD TO PAY HALF THE COSTS

County Court Held in Lakefield Yesterday Afternoon

Magistrate Edmison was in Lakefield yesterday afternoon holding County Police Court. Only one case was on the docket and this was quickly disposed of. It was a charge of assault preferred by one man against another, but the Magistrate finding that both were to blame, assessed each with half the costs.

TRUMPETS FOR BUGLE BAND

Ten Instruments at J. M. Greene's Store for Members of Bugle Band

Mr. J. M. Greene announced this morning that he had received the trumpets which Mr. Walter Hughes had ordered for the bugle band. Altogether there are ten of them, and apparently they are fine instruments. They are regular military trumpets, and have a splendid mellow tone. They are superior to the bugle in many respects and if the local bugle band succeed in learning them, the citizens may be assured of having a treat when they appear with the regiment. Mr. Hughes, the instructor of the boys, is confident that they will master the trumpet in a short time, as it is much easier to blow than the bugle. Mr. Hughes' progressiveness is surely appreciated by the members of the bugle band, and under his instruction they should arrive at a high state of efficiency.

A pavilion, similar to the one at Juniper Island, will be erected at Crowe's Landing, and other improvements are contemplated by the Cottagers' Association. Mr. H. G. A number have already subscribed substantial sums.

WEDDING BELLS

SORBEY-BORRADAILE

Beautiful June weather smiled this afternoon on the nuptials of one of Peterborough's esteemed young ladies, Miss Aimee Borradaile, who became the wife of Mr. Edgar Sorbey, of Montreal, Que., and formerly of London, Eng. The interesting ceremony, which was choral in character, was performed this afternoon at two o'clock in St. John's church, by Rev. Canon Davidson, in the presence of a large number of guests, many of whom were present from Toronto, Montreal, Cobourg and Niagara. The bride was very becomingly attired in white chiffon taffeta with a berthe of real lace and wore a tulle veil and orange of roses and lily of the valley. The roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaids, who were dressed in beautiful blue and white checked muslin, were Miss Myfanwy Owen of Toronto, and Miss Borradaile, sister of the bride. They carried pretty bouquets of marguerites. The groom was assisted by Mr. Walter Breckon of Montreal, the ushers at the church being Messrs. Garnet Greer and Fred Collins.

At the church, which was handsomely decorated with lilac a choral service took place under the direction of the organist, Mr. R. J. Devey. "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," sung by the male choir, led the procession, immediately after which Hymn 378 was sung, followed by "Hail to the Bride," —Lohengrin. The happy couple left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, "Midsummer Night's Dream," played by Mr. Devey. The organist played selections on the organ before the ceremony, as follows:

"Braule des Lubats," A. H. Brown.
"Pilgrim chorus," Wagner, (Tannhaurer.)
"Cavatina," Raff.
"Postlude in D Major," Bach.
"Air," varied, Hayden.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of Mrs. Laura Borradaile, mother of the bride, at 617 George street, where a reception took place, and where the wedding dejeuner was served. The floral decorations at the house were pinks and white carnations and white lilacs. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the happy couple by their friends, including the berthe of real lace, the gift of Mrs. Chipman, a relative of the bride, in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs Sorbey left this afternoon on the 4.48 C. P. R. train for western points, on their honeymoon trip. The bride's going away dress was a grey Eton suit with invisible checks, and she wore a white chip hat with cream roses.

On their return from the west Mr. and Mrs. Sorbey will reside in Montreal, where Mr. Sorby is connected in business wi thhe Allan Steamship Company.

ARMSTRONG-WHITEN

A recent issue of the Kenora Miner has the following reference to the wedding of Miss Alice, M. Whiten, daughter of Mr. G. E. Whiten, of Kenora, and formerly of Peterborough:—

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E Whiten, on Saturday, June 1st, at one o'clock p.m., when their daughter, Alice M., was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Herson E. Armstrong, manager of the Traders Bank, Kenora.

The bride entered the drawing-room, leaning on the arm of her father, carrying a shower bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley, looking very sweet and girlish in a gown of cream silk chiffon applique; also seed pearl trimmings. Her hat was very becoming, being of cream mohair with tulle and ostrich plume falling gracefully on the hair. Her only ornament was a sun-burst pendant of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her going-away gown was of blue grey new lane cloth, with grey broadcloth trimmings, the coat opening over a white silk embroidered muff waist. Her hat was a very neat Tuscan shade with trimmings to match. The maid of honour, Miss Eleanore Whiten, sister of the bride, looked very dainty in a lingere robe of white embroidered silk mull, with large white picture hat, trimmed with pale pink roses and forget-me-nots. She carried a large bouquet of pink sunset roses and maiden hair fern. The groom's gift to the maid of honour was a gold pendant cross set with pearls.

The bride's mother wore a becoming gown of black silk with cream silk applique trimmings, with hat of Copenhagen blue. The bride's gift to the groom was a tie pin of white pearls. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. The happy couple left on No. 97 for Winnipeg for a short trip, and in a month's time it is their intention to visit several eastern cities.

The bride was the recipient of a number of beautiful and valuable gifts, including a silver tea service from her parents, and a cut glass berry bowl and service from the staff of the Traders' Bank.

A. Y. P. A. TENNIS CLUB SEASON NOW OPENED

Very Enjoyable Time Spent at the Tea on the Oval

The tennis courts at the Oval were stormed and captured last evening by the enthusiastic players of the St. John's A.Y.P.A. Tennis Club. The members of the society to the number of about 40 assembled about 6.30 p.m. and partook of a sumptuous tea in picnic fashion on the green sward. After this very necessary function had been attended to the nets were arranged and seven double courts were occupied. The shades of night had fallen before many of the players had given up the game. The evening was voted the most enjoyable of the nature which the club has held. The courts are open each evening at the Oval.

BASEBALL

As a result of the first four innings played in the Intermediate City Baseball League last night, the West Ends are three runs ahead of the Lilies, the score for the first part of the game being 8-5 in their favour. The game was played on the West End grounds and was witnessed by a large crowd of fans, who rooted like Chicago bugs. The contest, while exciting, was anything but a good game [illegible] on both sides being decidedly bad. Butcher's gifts and errors by the Lilies won the game for the West Enders. The southpaw twirler had better control and more speed than Foley, who occupied the box for the Lillies. The latter was not hit hard, but his support was poor and he was wild when his wildness counted in the run-getting. The game will be finished on Wednesday night, and the finish should undoubtedly be exciting.

The teams were as follows:
West Ends—Butcher, p; McNirn, c; King, 1b; Halpin, 2b; Rose, ss; Cameron, 3b; Hagerman, lf; Dobson, cf; Moore, rf.
Lillies — Graham, p; Hillier, c; Price, 1b; Barclay, 2b; Foley, ss; Connor, 3b; Simmons, lf; Brion, cf; Dunsford, rf.
Umpire—F. Craig.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 10.—(Special.)—Cable advices from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle were firm, with sales at 12¼c to 12¾c, and advices from Glasgow stated that trade was good, prices firm and prospects favorable. Exports for the week were 1992 cattle.

At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 8 were 3186 cattle, 165 sheep and lambs, 4488 hogs and 11,443 calves. The offerings this morning were 900 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 150 calves. A feature of the trade was the easier feeling in the market for cattle, and prices show a decline of ½c to ¼c per lb., as compared with those paid this day last week. This was to some extent due to the easier feeling in the western market at the latter part of last week. The demand from local jobbers and butchers was much better than last Monday on account of the fact that they were pretty well cleaned out of supplies, and, besides, the weather was favorable for killing. On the whole a fairly active trade was done, with sales of choice beeves at 6c to 6¼c; good at 5½c to 5¾c; fair at 5c to 5¼c, and lower grades at 3½c to 4½c per lb. The condition of the market for hogs was unchanged. Supplies were fairly large, but in spite of this fact and the easier tone of cable advices on Canadian bacon, prices for hogs were maintained, as the demand from both local dealers and packers was good, consequently an active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $7.75 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. There was considerable enquiry for small stocks, but owing to the limited offerings of such, business was checked to some extent and prices ruled firm. Sheep sold at 5c per lb.; spring lambs at $4 to $6 each, and calves at $2 to $4 each, as to size and quality.

Sheepdog Trials.

Sheepdog trials are becoming popular in Canada, and there is some call for them in the neighborhood of New York. But the East can hardly be called a sheep country, and where there are no sheep there can be little use for working sheepdogs. Sheepdog trials are looked upon as a sort of national pastime or game in Wales and Australia, and to watch the dogs work is to recognize the marvelous intelligence of these aids to shepherds.

The great Toronto Show or Fair is now the gathering place of the sheepdog owners, and the entertainments that their dogs have given have been greatly applauded. Major G. M. Carnochan is the chief supporter of the trials near New York, and his dogs have given very good exhibitions.

The uses of these competitions are manifold. They point to the dog as a utility animal for man, and of what service he is particularly to the shepherd. In the great paddocks of Australia and on the mountains of Wales and Scotland one dog can do the work of a hundred men; he is an indispensable animal. Again these trials give to townfolk an inkling as to the intelligence of a dog, and it is to be hoped they will treat him accordingly. —Country Life In America.

London's Chief Magistrate Visits Scene of Childhood In Historic Cornwall—Made a Freeman of Helston—Old Time May Fete—Local Officials and Leading Men Participate In the Festivities.

From the popular point of view the feature of the lord mayor of London's Cornish tour was the visit to Helston when his lordship danced the "Furry dance."

Great as is the attraction of Helston "Flora Day," or "Furry Day," in ordinary years, the presence of Sir William Treloar added vastly to the interest displayed in this year's proceedings. The townsfolk outdid themselves in the adornment of the streets, and at either entrance to the town the lord mayor was greeted by huge arches, bearing the inscription, "Wendron greets her son—Helston her youngest freeman." An unpropitious morning did not deter people from all parts of the country coming to the little western borough, and the excursion trains brought thousands of visitors.

The first event with which the lord mayor was concerned was the conferring on him of the freedom of the borough, which ceremony was performed in the Guildhall, in the presence of a crowded assembly. Sir William was accompanied by Sheriff Dunn, the city marshal, the city swordbearer, and the city macebearer; while the ceremony was attended by the high sheriff of Cornwall and the mayors of Truro, Penzance, Bodmin, Launceston, Penryn and Falmouth.

The hour now approached at which the far-famed "Furry dance" was to commence. It is one of the curious old-world ceremonies of which it is difficult to trace the origin. It is probably the survival of the ancient British custom of the welcoming of spring with dance, flower and song.

To a sprightly old British tune the dancers proceeded through the streets and through people's houses. The inhabitants consider it an honor to have their residences visited, as if acknowledging the welcoming of spring. The sun, which had been obscured by heavy clouds, shone brightly as the dancers entered on their tour of the streets of the town.

Through dense crowds over forty couples made their way. H. M. Rogers and Miss Tyacke led the way, and they were followed by the lord mayor and Mrs. Rogers, the "steps" not presenting the slightest difficulty to Sir William. Sheriff Dunn participated in the dance, as did the sheriff of Cornwall, the under sheriff and many of the leading county people, the gentlemen wearing the regulation attire of silk hat and frock coat.

KING EDWARD'S CUP.

Trophy Presented By His Majesty to the Jamestown Exposition.

Several distinguished personages have donated cups to be competed for, including King Edward, the President of the United States and Sir Thomas Lipton. The King's gift is of fine silver gilt, the cup and covers being mounted on an ebonized base. The body and cover are ornamented with handsome inlaid scroll, mask and strap work. It is of early Georgian design, with two massive scroll handles, twenty-two inches long. The diameter of the body is twelve inches and the weight is 278 ounces.

KING EDWARD'S CUP.

"On the front are the King's crown and personal monogram, beautifully interwoven. Underneath appears the following:—'Presented by His Majesty King Edward VII. to the Jamestown Exposition Regatta, 1907, Hampton Roads, Virginia, U. S., in Commemoration of the First Permanent English Settlement in America, 1607.' The reverse shows the following inscription:—'This cup to be competed for by yachts of Class Q in the international races at the Jamestown Exposition in September, 1907. Won by ——.'

"A feature of these races is that the cups become the permanent property of their winners. The King's Cup was made by Messrs. Carrington & Co., of London, and is a genuine work of art.

The Bird's Third Eyelid.

Many birds are provided with natural spectacles in the shape of a transparent membrane called the third eyelid. This third eyelid when not in use lies folded in the inner corner of the eye. Two muscles work it, spreading it over the eye or folding it up again much more cleverly than a man can put on and take off his spectacles. But for its third eyelid the eagle could not look at the sun.

For the Late Sleeper.

In the morning when thou risest unwillingly let this thought be present: I am rising to the work of a man. Why then am I dissatisfied if I am going to do the things for which I exist and for which I was brought into the world? Was I then designed for nothing but to doze and batten beneath the counterpane? Do I exist then to take pleasure and not at all for action or exertion?—Marcus Aurelius.

IMPROVISED GRILL.

Easy Methods of Improving the Appearance of a Doorway.

There are often times when a door in a house is in the way or detracts from the appearance of the apartment into which it opens. There are many ways of overcoming this defect, one of which is to take the door off, remove the hinges and fixings from the casing, putty up and varnish the screw holes.

IMPROVISED GRILL.

put in a grill and hang a pretty portiere. The illustration shows an improvised grill that was used in such an emergency in a doorway in a nice home. It was made from the joined sides of an old fashioned nursery cradle that for many years had reposed in the attic. A rod may be inserted under the grill for holding portiers if desired.

Sunday Night Luncheo.

The Sunday night lunch should be a simple meal which requires but little time or work. One family always serves it during the warm summer months on a pleasant, screened porch.

Circular nickel trays, with a fringed napkin on, are passed, which saves setting a table. Sandwiches, olives, fresh cookies or cake, with ice cream, lemonade or other fruit juice, constitutes the customary meal, with occasionally the addition of a salad.

There is always such a variety of sandwiches to choose from that they need never become monotonous.

Chopped celery added to a salad dressing makes a most appetizing filling; also lettuce, peanut butter, chopped nuts with salad dressing and orange marmalade. Cold meat run through a meat chopper and seasoned is a good filling.

Sometimes olives or sweet cucumber pickles are chopped fine and added to the meat (chicken, ham, tongue or lamb), with enough salad dressing to spread easily.

Fruit salad with crisp wafers makes a pleasing lunch. Pineapples and apricots, apples, bananas and celery, oranges or grapes, with celery and nuts, are all nice for salads.

To take care of herself without losing faith in her fellows.

Never to let friendship infringe upon self respect.

Always to stand erect and look the world squarely in the face.

Even With Long-Tongued Wife.

A man who, during his life[illegible] kept a little inn in a village near [illegible]wich, England, was cursed with a sharp-tongued wife, who nearly [illegible]ried the life out of him. He often used to say, "Some day I'll get even with you, Nan." And when he died and his will was read, it was found that he had kept his word. He had left a snug sum of money, but before his wife could touch it she had to agree to the following conditions: Upon every anniversary of her husband's death, she was to walk barefooted to the market-place, and, standing there with a lighted candle in each hand, read a written confession of her cruel conduct had shortened her husband's life. Not unnaturally the good lady flatly refused to do anything of the kind.

Her refusal cost her dear. All she received was a legacy of one year, for the purpose, as the will [illegible]er had grimly written, "of keeping her off the parish."

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

Immigration Work Of The Army Is Quite Satisfactory

Major Morris, Secretary of the Department, Tells of the State of the Work — 35,000 Will be Brought to Canada.

TWO-THIRDS ALREADY OUT

"We are extremely gratified with the result of our imigration work this year," said Major Morris, secretary of the Immigration Department of the Salvation Army to an Examiner representative just before the midnight train, on which the Staff Band, of which he is conductor, left the station this morning.

About thirty-five thousand persons will be brought to Canada this year through the instrumentality of the Salvation Army, and of these, fully two-thirds have already arrived and have been placed.

Major Morris explained that special care was being taken by the Department to bring out only the most desirable class of immigrants, and the result of the operation of this policy is that there is very little trouble being experienced with those brought here and placed in positions.

There has been a greater demand for men that the army has been able to supply, though parties are being received almost by every steamer which crosses the Atlantic.

The thrift and industry, as well as the uniformly good character of those brought to Canada by the Army has been the best advertisement that branch of the Army's work could have had, for wherever a man or woman, placed through this instrumentality, gives satisfaction, as they invariably do, others who want help naturally turn to the Army to supply their wants.

So far as the future work of the department was concerned, Major Morris was unable to speak definitely, though he expressed his opinion that it would be conducted in the future with as much vigour as had characterized it during the present and past seasons. At the present time Adjutant Jennings, who was stationed in Peterborough for some time, and who was afterwards appointed to this branch of the work, is in England looking after the transportation of parties being sent to this country. He is attending to the affairs of this department in the Maritime Provinces, where a number of the new-comers are now being placed.

DEMENTIA FREE METHODISTIA; IS THIS THE LATEST CONDITION?

The religion exemplified by the Free Methodists, at least makes men pay their debts. Last night at the open air meeting, conducted at the corner of Hunter and George streets, a young man from Warkworth, one of the band of Pilgrims, holding meetings in the grove, gave his testimony, stating in the course of it that yesterday he had gone to a local jeweller and paid him for a watch he had stolen from his store before he became a member of the Free Methodists.

He gave this as one of the evidences that his habits and desires of life were changed since he affiliated himself with this organization, and any who saw him, and heard his testimony, can have little doubt that at that particular time, at least, he was feeling happy. He was not the only one who gave evidences of joy. A lady, who had passed middle life, to all appearances, gave her testimony, and in the midst of it, danced around in the ring like a girl in her teens, to the intense delight and interest of the hundreds of bystanders.

THE FREE METHODISTS TO BUILD A CHURCH IN PETERBOROUGH

First Donation of $100 Was Made Yesterday—Announcement Was Made at Camp Meeting Last Night.

TO COMMENCE WORK SOON

As a result of the meetings which have been held under the auspices of the Free Methodists, in the grove west of Jackson Park, during the past week, and the interest shown in them by the citizens, a church of that denomination will be built in Peterborough in the near future, and the mission, which now represents that denomination here, will be raised to the status of a church.

This was the announcement made at the closing meeting of the camp last night by Elder Reynolds, of Bracebridge. He pointed out that yesterday an offer of $100 had been made by one interested in the cause the sum to apply on the erection of a church, and, as a consequence of the reception of this donation, and the evidence given thereby of the sympathetic feeling entertained by the people of the city for the Free Methodists, and the form of worship used by them, a new building will be provided as quickly as possible.

In a short time a subscription will be taken in the city, and the erection of the building will be proceeded with.

NORMAL CONTRACTOR IS HERE TO-DAY

Foundation of New School Will be Concluded This Week

Mr. S. F. Whitham of Brantford, Normal School contractor, was in the city to-day, looking after the work on the school at Dixon Park.

Mr. Whitham stated to the Examiner that he was greatly pleased with the progress so far made with the foundation, which will be concluded about Saturday next.

The contractor expects that during next week, the brick work will be begun. He intends to visit the various labour unions in the city to obtain the best possible workmen for the brick and carpentry work, etc., as it is his custom, he says, to have the labour kept amongst the workmen in the city where his contract is, as much as possible.

The work in Stratford is being conducted with all possible speed, and in three weeks time he expects that the roof will be on. The Hamilton school is also progressing rapidly.

Mr. Whitham will leave to-night for Toronto, where he has some business with the Government; from there he will go to North Bay, and will arrive at his home in Brantford about Sunday next. He trawels about 1400 miles every week by rail.

Peterborough Pastor Is Named For Chairman

Rev. H. M. Manning Will be Chairman of This District—Conference Closing at Bowmanville Yesterday.

CHANGES IN STATIONS

Examiner Special.

Bowmanville, June 12. — The draft of stations, as recommended by the Stationing Committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and adopted by the Conference, provides for a number of changes. Rev. V. H. Emory, who has been in Bowmanville for two years, and who was down for the same church again in the first draft, goes to Picton First Church, instead of Rev. J. J. Rae, and Rev. John Garbutt will succeed him in Bowmanville. Rev. David Balfour will go to Havelock, succeeding Rev. J. H. Locke.

As the session yesterday, too, the chairmen of the districts, were named. For Peterborough district Rev. H. M. Manning is appointed chairman, while Rev. J. P. Willson is named for the Belleville District, Rev. G. W. Henderson for Cobourg, and Rev. Robert McCullough for Lindsay. All the other chairmen were appointed.

Petitions to the Ontario Government for the repeal of the three-fifths clause, to enact legislation making local option in city wards possible, and to regulate the sale of cigars and cigarettes in townships were passed. The Dominion Government will be asked to prohibit the manufacture and sale of cigarettes, prevent any increase in the number of breweries, prohibit gambling on race tracks, and the sale of liquor at military camps.

BASEBALL HIT SHOT GUN WHICH WENT OFF WOUNDING TWO BOYS

Examiner Special.

Fenelon Falls, June 11. — Three boys of the name of Byrnell, two brothers and a cousin, were out hunting for crows yesterday. Tiring of that sport they laid the gun on the ground while they engaged in a game of catch with a baseball. A ball which the catcher failed to catch passed on, and is supposed to have struck the gun, which lay a short distance away, charged with buckshot, causing it to go off. It wounded the eldest of the three boys in the abdomen and leg. He is the 17 year old son of Widow Byrnell, and is dangerously wounded. His cousin, Rupert Byrnell, is also wounded in the wrist, two grains of shot having struck him there.

Doctors will try to locate the shot to-day, if the boys are able to stand the ordeal.

NO INJUSTICE

The approaching opening of the military camp at Petawawa re-opens the question of the outrage on provincial rights claimed, by the Whitney Government, to have been committed by the Dominion Government. The former wished to make a deal of political capital out of the belated solicitude of the Conservative party for provincial rights. It was something of a tempest in a tea-pot an illustration of the Psalmist's saying, "then were they brought into great fear when no fear was." The correspondence upon the subject has been issued in pamphlet form by the Ontario Government, and in the very first letter the Under-Secretary-of-State asserts that it is not the intention of the Government "to interfere with the existing rights of the said licensees or with the present interests of the settlers in possession." The previous Provincial Government had promised the Dominion Government a lease of lands within the site of Petewawa Camp for 99 years. Hon. Mr. Cochrane, on behalf of the Whitney Government, refused to carry out the promise of the lease, without the consent of timber licensees, the latter demanded what was considered an exorbitant figure —$112,000—in quittal of their claims, and, acting upon the advice of the Minister of Justice, steps were taken to assume the lands under authority of Section 117 of the British North American Act—the Act of Confederation—which reads:—

The several provinces shall retain all their respective public property, not otherwise disposed of in this act, subject to the right of Canada (the Dominion Government) to assume any lands or public property required for fortifications or for the defeone of the country.

The primary object of the militia is "for the defence of the country" so that the Dominion Government was acting in accordance with the law and with its duty by assuming the Petawawa lands for the purposes of military drill, to promote the efficiency of the militia "for the defence of the country." In another part of the correspondence it is made plain that the compensation of timber licensees is regarded as an obligation by the Dominion Government and that no private or provincial rights will be disregarded or outraged.

A FARMER'S TROUBLE WITH LOAD OF RYE STRAW

Narrow Market Scales Broke His Waggon Rack

The market scales were yesterday found to be much too narrow to admit of the passage through of a load of rye straw in the sheaf, which had been brought into the city from Smith township, near Young's Point, by Mr. R. Kidd. The owner left home in the forenoon arriving at the market about 2 o'clock. In attempting to drive on the scales the straw caught on the scales breaking the three bows of one side of the wagon rack and spilling the greater part of the load.

Mr. Kidd was taking the load to Ackerman's harness establishment and there was probably no man who ever had any more trouble. After forking on the straw which several times had slid off in going the three blocks, he reached his destination at 5 o'clock. He afterwards had to return for the remainder which lay strewn all over the street—and all this occurred on account of the narrowness of the market scales and all before the farmer had had any dinner.

I tried everything I could get but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects and am strong and well again."

SUCCESSFUL YEAR IS REPORTED

At Annual Meeting of High Court of Canadian Foresters at St. Thomas

REPORT OF CHIEF RANGER

The 28th annual session of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, opened in St. Thomas yesterday with a large number in attendance, including High Court officers and delegates, representing subordinate courts of every province in the dominion. A civic welcome was extended to the delegates by Mayor Lawrence, the aldermen, Chairman Saunders of the school board, and others, and replied to by the High Chief Ranger.

High Chief Ranger Stewart of Perth, submitted his annual report which gave a most encouraging review of the state of the order.

On the first of January, 1906, the order had a membership of 60,241, and there were initiated during the year, 4,241 new members, being an increase of 335 over the previous year. During 1906 2,947 members lapsed and 380 died, leaving a net membership at the close of the year of 64,055. The membership as at the 31st of May, 1907, was 64,184.

The increase in the insurance reserve of the order during the past year amounted to $225,010.30. On the first of January, 1906, the amount on hand in this branch was $1,949,662.15, and at the close of the year it had reached the magnificent sum of $2,174,872.45. The amount paid in death claims during the year was $980,127.20.

WEARY WILLIES NABBED BY POLICE

Three In Court This Morning—What Happened Two of Them

Three vagrants that the police have rounded up lately, faced Magistrate Dumble this morning. One was remanded until to-morrow, a second was bluntly told to get out of town, and the third was given six months in the Central Prison. The first is a well known individual, who has a police court record of some pretensions. Mr. Thomas Redner and his son, Newton Redner, and Mr. J. D. Craig, gave an account of this man's actions on Saturday night at a late hour on Brock street in the vicinity of Mr. Craig's store. His pedigree was laid bare by the several policemen who have watched his actions of late. He was remanded until to-morrow when the Chief intends to have a few important witnesses present.

William MacPherson was another of those who apparently prefer to live on Easy Street. They either have that tired feeling with which the spring air is laden or like Rip Van Winkle the greatest error in their composition is an insuperable aversion to all kinds of profitable labour. MacPherson said his home is in Omemee, that he is a baker by trade, and has been in the city only a short time. He has had quite a few drinks since arriving in Peterborough, and has been in bad company all the time. Magistrate Dumble said: "Now, get back to Omemee just as quickly as you can. It is fifteen miles of a walk, and if you are arrested in this city again it will be a Central Prison term for you!"

The change of season affects pianos, as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with twenty-eight years' experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store. dtf

TO OPEN THE WHARF ON SATURDAY

New Landing Place at Smithson's, on Otonabee River, Will be Officially Declared Open

On Saturday afternoon the new wharf at Smithson's on the Otonabee will be opened for traffic. A party including Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the canal and others will leave here on the steamer Sovereign at 3.30 for the wharf, which will that day be officially declared open. The construction of this wharf has been expeditously accomplished, and a good job done. It will prove a great convenience to those who live in that section of the County. Mr. Hall, who secured the appropriation for this work deserves credit for the speedy manner in which it has been carried to completion.

AMUSEMENT AT THE JACKSON PARK TO-NIGHT

Restaurant, Collesceum and Shooting Gallery Ready

There promises to be a big crowd at Jackson Park to-night, when a number of the amusements will be open for the first time. The restaurant will be open and ice cream and soft drinks will be available. Scott's Colliseum, with moving pictures, illustrated songs and other features, will be in full swing in the main building, and Yeates Bros.' shooting gallery will also be ready for use to-night. The band will render a choice programme.

5 DOLLARS TO WALK WITH GIRL

Vincent Elliott Tried It in a Ruffianly Way and Appeared at Police Court as a Result

MAGISTRATE IS DETERMINED

Magistrate Dumble is as good as his word. His sympathies are entirely adverse to young presumptious fellows who, with insulting effrontery and disrespect, accost unaccompanied girls and young ladies with whom they are not acquainted, with the purpose of "seeing them home." If the girls had any respect for themselves they would turn them down in a ladylike way without any cause for continued conversation, but the majority of girls have not the will and the necessary avoirdupois of common sense to send them about their business.

His Worship will not countenance such acts of hoodlumism and a warning was given a short time ago that they would be severely dealt with if arraigned before him. To-day the first case was heard, and Vincent Elliott of the North End of the city was fined $5 to be paid forthwith. The youth coughed up the necessary greenbacks.

The Incident

On Sunday night, as Miss Hattie Whitely and her sister were returning home from church service, young Elliott and a chum with two little boys commenced to follow them. They pushed the small boys against the girls, knocking them off the sidewalk. If the girls walked faster, the boys followed them. Finally, Elliott, so Miss Hattie Whitely said, tried to put his arm in hers, asking if she wished for "company." She replied that she knew the way perfectly well and wished that he would mind his own business. The girls returned down town, the boys following for a short distance. They met a policeman and asked his protection, which was willingly given.

Magistrate Dumble denounced boys of Elliott's type in strong language. A young lady is entitled to go home without being disturbed by objectionable fellows. His Worship said that there are a great many young blackguards who insult girls and do them a great injustice in many cases. They show no respect for them as passers-by will stop and wonder, and the girls are generally greatly worried about it.

A fine of $5 to be paid forthwith was demanded, and, in default of this, ten days in jail. Elliott had the money on his person.

This may serve as a warning to others, and, if not, repeated cases will impress respect for the gentler sex in the minds of ruffians, well-dressed or not.

MARCH-OUT ON NEXT TUESDAY

REGIMENT WAS 240 STRONG

Owing to a number of the members of the 57th Regimental Band not being able to attend, there was no march out last night, so that the second street parade of the season was postponed until next Tuesday evening. The total strength of the Regiment at their weekly drill was 240 officers and men, the drill consisting almost entirely of company movements. Another drill will be held on Thursday night.

The following orders were issued last night by Lieut.-Colonel Miller,

No. 2. Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Capt. McWilliams.

No. 3. Lieut. H. I. Fairweather, 74th Regiment, "Brunswick Rangers," is hereby posted for drill to A Company.

No. 4. Regimental Order No. 4, dated June 6th, is hereby cancelled.

To Keep the Skin in Health

AVOID PORE-CLOGGING POWDERS, AND CURE ALL SKIN IRRITATIONS AND ERUPTIONS WITH

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is quite possible that, while you know of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema psoriasis and the most severe forms of itching skin disease, you may have overlooked its value as a beautifier of the skin.

There are minor forms of skin trouble, such as rough, red, skin, chafing, chapping, pimples, blackheads, blotches, irritation, or poisoning from the clothing, etc., which disfigure and form a starting point for serious trouble.

A few applications of Dr. Chase's Ointment at such times not only remove these blemishes, but also restore the health and beauty of the skin, and positively prevent further development.

Miss C. Stanley-Jones, professional masseuse and nurse, 243 Simcoe street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "In my occupation as a nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary results. One case I recall was that of a child of sixteen months, who was in a bad way with scaly head. It was a really nasty case, causing the child to suffer very much and to be very troublesome. I persuaded the mother to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in ten days the child was entirely cured.

"Another case was that of a lady who was greatly troubled with eczema on the face. The doctor was dosing her with medicine, which was doing no good. In this case cure was effected in seven days with only one box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Both of these cures were lasting."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is delightfully pure and creamy, is pleasant to use, and is rapidly absorbed. It acts as a food for the skin, making it soft, smooth and velvety. By its soothing, antiseptic and healing properties it allays inflammation, relieves itching, and heals sores, wounds and ulcers; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Points Out That Bandsmen Were Not to Blame for Actions on Sunday Night

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I saw in your paper a letter yesterday, signed "Discipline," complaining that some members of the band at the church parade on Sunday, instead of going into the church with the rest of the battalion, adjourned to the band stand in the park near by to enjoy their pipes. It seems to me that they were excusable. In the cramped seats of a church there isn't room for a man and his musical instrument, which he must take with him, especially if is the bass drum, the snare drum, the bass or the trombone. Besides, though it is the duty of even a gallant soldier to obey orders and conform to discipline, I am not much in love with church parades once a year. In garrison, of course, church parades are weekly, and men get into the habit of worshipping throughout the year. No doubt, most of the members of the local regiment go to the church of their choice every Sunday. I don't go much on religious worship to order. With the Sunday parades of societies I have a scant sympathy—the chief merit in them is the recognition of religious obligations. Without imputing motives, I venture to say that very few of the members go to church parade services with the single object of worship. They go as members of the society to make a good turn-out. Attending church once a year, as a matter of society obligation, seems to me a sort of companion joke to that turned on a man charged with the offence of an annual bath. I mean no disrespect of religion—I am not bitten with the new theology microbe. I hold that religion is too serious and solemn a matter to be made the excuse of show and display—or to be practised to order like the goose-step. Worship to be acceptable, to be a righteous act, and not a profanation, must be "in spirit and in truth." "Discipline" must be a bit of a Pharisee—great on the letter of religion, a stickler for form. In this regard he beats the band.

Yours truly,
SINCERITY.

REV. DR. BISHOP, FOR BELLEVILLE

Lindsay Preacher to Succeed Rev. J. P. Wilson in 1908

The next pastor of the Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville, will in all probability, be Rev. Dr. Bishop, of Lindsay. An invitation has been extended to Dr. Bishop, to become pastor of the Belleville church, at the close of the pastorate of Rev. J. P. Wilson, in 1908, and it is understood that he will accept. Dr. Bishop has filled only one pastorate in the Bay of Quinte Conference, coming here from the London Conference, where he had been for a number of years.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post-Card Column,

Dear Sir,—Some time ago I noticed in the papers that the Property Committee had been instructed to have constructed a shelter for the use of the carters of the city. I would like to ask if this shelter is completed, and, if not, what is the cause of the delay? Surely it will not take the Council a year to construct a simple building suitable for the purpose. This morning I counted five carters' trucks at the corner of Simcoe and George streets. The project had better be sent to the dead letter office with the Isolation Hospital and Garbage Bylaw.

Yours truly,
ANXIOUS.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CHURCH SERVICE

Court Stanley, A. O. F. Will Attend Knox Church on Sunday, June 23rd

A very successful meeting of Court Stanley, A. O. F., was held last night in the S. O. E. hall, with Bro. T. Hendry, C.R., presiding. Seven applications were received for membership into the order in this city. It is going ahead by leaps and bounds, no less than five or six new members being admitted every meeting night, and thus being accomplished without any paid organizers. The last yearly report showed a net increase in the funds of the order to $1,510,000. The committee, composed of Bros. T. Hendry, R. J. McWilliams and S. Aldam, who were appointed to arrange for the annual church service, reported their arrangements were made to attend divine service in a body on Sunday evening, June 23, at Knox Church, when the Rev. H. J. Keith will deliver a special sermon to the order. Sister Court Queen Alexandra has been invited, and they have accepted the invitation and will also attend the service. Several members who have been away from the city were present. Bro. J. O. Moss and A. E. Hopkins gave addresses, and were pleased to be back to attend court meeting. Sister Court Queen Alexandra is holding an excursion to Idyl Wild on July 1. The new steamer Otonabee has been secured, and to all who want to spend a pleasant outing, go with the committee of Forestry on July 1.

EXCURSIONS TO THE DAIRY SHOW

Arrangements Being Made to Secure a Large Attendance at National Show

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN

Interest in the coming National Dairy Show is deepening, and if the prospects are realized the show will be a great success. The Canadian Dairymen, referring to the preliminary arrangements being made for it says:—

Arrangements were made last week for a strong deputation to wait on Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, on Wednesday, June 12, to ask his support for the national dairy show that it is proposed to hold in Toronto next January. The deputation was to be composed of representatives of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association, Toronto Board of Trade, Toronto City Council, Toronto Agricultural Society and members of the county and township councils of York County. It was understood that the deputation would make two requests of Hon. Mr. Monteith, first, that he give his permission for the Eastern and Western Ontario Dairymen's Associations to take part and to assist in the management of the show, and, second, that he arrange to introduce educational features. In the event of Hon. Mr. Monteith's consenting to do this, it was understood that the members of the deputation would pledge themselves to raise all the funds required for the proposed show, and that they would see that the show was conducted in a manner satisfactory to the Department of Agriculture.

Should Interest Dairy Farmers

In the event of its being ultimately decided to hold the show, the committee from the two Ontario Dairymen's Associations and from the Dairy Cattle Breeders' Associations, which will have charge of it will have their hands full when they come to make arrangements for the show. So much interest is being manifested already, and so many interesting features are being suggested, that it will not be an easy matter for the committee to decide what arrangements it will be best to make.

While it is hardly to be expected that the attendance at the proposed show would be as large the first year as at the Guelph Fat Stock Show, it is believed that it would be very large. In this connection, excursions could be run from both Eastern and Western Ontario by the Dairymen's Associations. The cheese boards at the various centres throughout Eastern and Western Ontario and in Western Quebec might be utilized to help work up interest in these excursions.

Bancroft People Are Suspicious Of Strangers

Recent Desperadoes' Visit to the Village Make Them Afraid to Take in Peddlers—A Cold Reception.

LOCAL MAN'S EXPERIENCE

The people of Bancroft are taking no chances these days on strangers travelling around that village, and pedlars might as well out out their stops at that town—there is but scant welcome for them. A local agent recently returned from Bancroft, after spending a couple of weeks in the district, where recently the three desperadoes ran amuck and almost frightened to death the inhabitants of that tranquil hamlet. He states that since the occurrence the villagers have no heart for strangers, and they are all eyed with suspicion.

One day he was going out about four miles into the country on business, and, seeing a farmer who lived beyond his objective point, preparing to leave also, began walking in the hopes of obtaining a ride. The farmer was driving a team of horses attached to a democrat, and had, therefore, plenty of room. But the agricultural man refused to take any chances and remained deaf to the solicitations of the agent, who was forced to travel on foot.

Windows and doors of the residences and stables in Bancroft are now strongly bolted at night. It is stated that it is almost impossible to gain admittance after night, so great is the fear of the return of the dauntless three.

It is also stated that the report that the Bancroft constable was shot in the knee is untrue. It is generally known there that he was struck with a boot from the hand of one of the robbers. Shots were fired, but only to scare, and not to kill

WEDDING BELLS

DILLON-CAMPBELL

A wedding of considerable local interest took place in Toronto, on Monday morning, when Miss Maud Campbell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Wolfe street, was married to Mr. Edward Dillon, of this city. The young couple were unattended, the wedding being a very quiet one. The bride was given evidence of the esteem in which she was held by the reception of a large number of very valuable gifts, among them being a cheque from the groom for one hundred dollars, another cheque from Senator Cox, as well as a handsome present from her cousin, Dr. Burke of Hamilton. The friends of the groom in the Canadian General Electric works, presented the young couple with a handsome Morris chair, while a number of his friends in the city were represented by a cabinet of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon arrived in the city last night, and in the meantime will reside with the bride's parents on Wolfe street.

WALSH-DILLON

This morning at 7 o'clock an interesting wedding took place at St. Peter's cathedral, when Miss Nellie Dillon, only daughter of the late Bernard and Mrs. Dillon, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Walsh, of Keene, the wedding ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Galvin, in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Walsh, sister of the groom, while Mr. Ed. Dillon, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. After the wedding the party drove to the home of the bride, Sophia street, where the wedding breakfast was served, about forty persons participating in the wedding festivites. This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Walsh left on the 2 o'clock train for their new home in Keene, followed by the good wishes of their numerous friends.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of very handsome and valuable presents.

MORTON-RIDPATH

The wedding was quietly celebrated at Fraserville, on Tuesday of last week, of Miss Margaret Jane Morton, daughter of Mr. Robt. Morton, to Mr. Fred J. Ridpath of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Weatherall of Fraserville in the presence of a few immediate friends of the contracting parties. Miss Bella Johnston of Hamilton was bridesmaid, and Mr. Charles Morton, borther of the bride, was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome brooch set in pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Ridpath have taken up residence at 478 Rubdige street, city.

Serious Losses To The Shareholders Of Bank

Rest Fund of $2,000,000. of Sovereign Bank Wiped Out by Recent Losses.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

Local shareholders in the Sovereign Bank will be interested in the following despatch from Toronto, reporting the annual meeting of the shareholders of that institution, when the announcement was made that the bank had suffered serious losses during the past years. The despatch is as follows:—

Toronto, Ont., June 11.—That the entire rest fund of over $1,200,000 had been wiped out and that it would be necessary to cut the capital from $4,000,000 to $3,000,000, this providing another $1,000,000 for losses, is the report the board of directors of the Sovereign Bank of Canada had to make to the shareholders at the annual meeting held at the head office in Toronto.

To say that the announcement came as a surprise to the large number of shareholders that gathered for the meeting, is putting it mildly. Almost every shareholder present had come prepared to receive a report that certain losses had been sustained but there was hardly a man present that suspected that such an enormous loss had been sustained.

The cause of the big change in the value of the assets of the bank, as explained by Mr. Amelius Jarvis, the new president, and Mr. Jemmett, the new general manager, are, that in assuming the direction of the bank they had placed a new valuation on all assets and had to take the facts as they had found them.

The reserve and the amount that is being secured by the reduction of the share capital by over a million dollars, is being used principally in two contingent funds, one of over $500,000 and another of over $900,000. Of the first of these funds, the general manager stated that he expected very little but that of the second, quite an amount should in time, be realized on the securities held. The collateral should increase in value.

Mr. Jemmett admitted that it might be charged that they had been too drastic, but he maintained that he had been forced to state the facts as he found them, and wherever there was a question of doubt the amount had been written off entirely.

When the shareholders had recovered from their surprise at finding that they would have to sanction a loss of twenty-five per cent. of their holdings, or at the rate of one share in four, the question they were most interested in was in what way the losses had been sustained, in loans that had not been sanctioned by the board of directors.

Massanogo

A lake, shaped something like a pair of spectacles—rather a pair of lakes joined by a passage some few feet wide—a lake immensely deep in parts, with sunny bathing beaches, perfectly safe along its shores. Beautiful woods all around, full of native life, unspoilt and largely untrodden; and, beetling over the water, just at the bridge of the spectacles, is the grand old rock, the crowning glory of Lake Massanoga. "The Gibraltar of Canada," it has been called, and fitly enough. A mile and more long, hundreds of feet high, rising sheer out of the calm waters of the lake, impressively beautiful by day, positively awe-inspiring in the moonlight, is this great stone mountain. In its shadow nestles Bon Echo Inn, as nearly perfect a summer hotel as one could wish to see. Hotel seems scarcely the word for Bon Echo, so homelike is it — the hotel feeling lasts no longer than it takes our genial host to express his welcome. Canoeing, sailing, rowing, swimming, all may be enjoyed at Massanoga; and down in the depths lurk gamey salmon trout. Massanoga is a resort recently discovered and known to comparatively few Canadians. But for people who want to get near to nature, and yet not get out of touch with civilization, who want to enjoy glorious air, brilliant sunshine, cool waters, and all the fascinations of a primitive region, combined with the comforts of a modern summer resort, Massanoga is the place. The nearest railway station is Kaladar, 150 miles east of Toronto, on the C. P. R. Illustrated folder and full particulars will be gladly mailed upon request by C. B. Foster, district passenger agent, C. P. R., Toronto. 3d

DOUBLE QUICK SELLING OF DRESS FABRICS

AT this Cut Price Sale we will sell Dress Fabrics faster than ever before. Now if you know how busy our former sales have been, you will understand how strong this headline assertion is, and what it implies. And even now we consider the claim a very mild one. Lower prices have never been attached to fabrics so desirable and seasonable. Nowhere can you duplicate our sale offerings for less than one-fourth more. We wish you would try to duplicate them. If you are the least sceptical, failure would convince you of the true merit of these sales.

GOOD PROGRAMME BY BAND

touring Staff Band Gave Musical Festival at Salvation Army Barracks Last Night

SPLENDID ORGANIZATION

Last summer the music lovers of the city had the pleasure of hearing the Salvation Army barracks, the ample Band from Toronto, generally considered as the best musical anisation among the soldiery of Army in Canada, and last night terborough was again favoured h a visit from another band, the ter in its class. This band, the itorial Staff Band, is composed officials of the Territorial Headarters, Toronto, and was recentre-organized, though in 1904, it in London attending the Inational Conference. The band ow on its way to Quebec, to at the reception which will be ered the General in that city. on the way, stopped here for night. They came in on the d, and left on the midnight train Montreal, where another concert be given to-night.

The band is a splendid aggregaon of musicians, the band being posed entirely of brass, no reed ruments being used. It numbers about twenty-five, and the gramme given in the barracks s by no means a light one, and is given with a finish which would redit to the best military bands the province. In addition to the band selections, a number of vocal numbers were given, the programme being delightfully varied one.

The band is under the leadership of Major Morris, a cornet player of unusual ability; and his work in training this band does him credit as a conductor. The following was the programme:—

The Minstrel Performance Was A Grand Success

Most Enjoyable Entertainment Under the Auspices of Peterborough Lacrosse Club---A Lengthy Programme of Genuine Merit---Will be Repeated To-night

The success of the season, was the verdict of the big audience that greeted the Peterborough amateur Minstrels at the Grand Opera House last night, when they played the first of a two nights engagement for the benefit of the Lacrosse Club. From the viewpoint of merit there have been few performances on the local boards this year that equalled last night's entertainment. The programme was a lengthy one, but every number was a gem, and the whole bill was a genuine treat to the audience, who showed by their unstinted applause how thoroughly they enjoyed the performance. It was a programme executed in a manner that would have done credit to a company of professional minstrels, and that it was the work of amateurs makes the production all the more praiseworthy. The outstanding feature probably was the musical numbers. The chorus work was decidedly clever. The voices blended well and the execution of the different chorus parts was well nigh perfect, showing the effects of the careful training of the conductor. A better male chorus has rarely been heard in Peterborough, and many were the words of praise heard among the audience in reference to this feature.

The first part opened with a hidden chorus, "The Suwanee River," well rendered by the company. The opening chorus was a medley composed of "The Big Brass Band," "Cheyenne," "Alice, Where Art Thou Going" and "The Leader of the German Band." This was rendered with a vim and precision of attack that elicited much applause from the audience. Mr. Hugh Brady found the ballad "Sweet Adeline" an excellent vehicle upon which to display his splendid tenor, and the beautiful song was rendered in faultless fashion. The chorus was sung by a quartette composed of Messrs. Brady, Keon, McIlroy and Denham, whose work was one of the most enjoyable features of the programme. A more evenly balanced and clever quartette has seldom been heard here, and the applause that followed the number was long sustained. Mr. McIlroy's end song, "Let It Alone," made a big hit and was, of course, well rendered by that gentleman. The second verse contained a number of local references that were well received. To Mr. Vernon Morphet fell the lot of singing one of the most tuneful numbers on the programme, and his rendering of "She is a Grand Old Lady" was most successful. The chorus is particularly melodious and was well sung by the company. Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., sang that pathetic song, "Good-bye, Mr. Greenback," in which he had to say farewell to his last dollar bill, and his rendition of the number met with much favour. Mr. B. G. Gill, who is the possessor of a magnificent bass, was heard to great advantage in the solo, "Asleep in the Deep," in which the resonant qualities of his voice were fully set forth. He had to respond to an encore in answer to the applause. Mr. Walter Davidson's song, "Nobody," was one of the big hits of the performance. In it the Trent Canal, the City Council, the fire alarm system and other local things were held up to ridicule, and the audience found the references highly amusing.

The tuneful little waltz song, "Just for Fun," was admirably suited to Mr. Hague Sawers' voice, and his rendering of the number was greatly enjoyed and an encore had to be given.

Another of the song successes was Mr. Geo. Lynch's end number, "Never," in which the street railway system, Ald. Morgan's tax on Italians, Ald. Tovey's bachelor bylaw and other matters of local interest were touched upon, much to the amusement of the audience. Mr. Lynch had to respond to a recall.

Mr. E. J. Keon's fine tenor was admirably exhibited in the beautiful ballad, "My Creole Sue," and he sang the number in perfect fashion. The quartette was again heard to great advantage in the chorus. Masters Carl and Frank Halpany were heard to good advantage in the melodious coon song, "Cindy, My Black Girl," the two young voices blending most acceptably in the selection.

The first part was brought to a close with a rousing finale, in which the end men went through a lively drill, while the chorus sang "Darktown is Out To-night," with solo by Mr. Davidson.

Between the songs the endmen kept things on the move with a lively stream of witticisms, funny stories and local hits, that convulsed the audience with laughter. The six funny men were Messrs. Davison, Frank Clarke and J. McCabe with the tambourines, and Messrs. George Lynch, W. McIlroy and J. J. Turner, Jr., with the bones. Mr. W. H. Denham made a most capable interlocutor. The costumes and stage setting for the first part is worthy of special mention, and the whole reflects great credit upon those who had the arrangements in charge. The orchestra work was a feature, and the musicians proved of great assistance in the singing.

The second part was fully up to the standard set in the first, and the audience found the different vaudeville numbers very entertaining.

The first number was a monologue by Mr. Walter Davidson on the subject of "Quaker Oats," which, to use a hackneyed phrase, simply brought down the house. Such whirlwind eloquence has never been attempted, let alone executed, in the local Opera House, and a staff of men has been engaged all day in sweeping up the pieces of Webster's that littered the building after he finished. The local references were much appreciated.

Prof. Nelson of Galt made a hit in his slack wire specialty, in which his difficult feats were received with great applause. Undressing on the wire and juggling umbrellas, sticks and other things were some of the features of this clever act. He was assisted by Mr. Jack Connors, who did some clever tumbling in a manner that showed he has not forgotten his early training in this line.

The dancing of Masters Robert and Russell Gilray of Toronto, was one of the best acts of the evening. The two youngsters appeared in costume in the Highland Fling, Sailors' Hornpipe and Irish Jig, and their dancing was decidedly clever, and merited the outburst of applause with which it was greeted.

The Mandolin Club, composed of Messrs. Cranfield, Tovey, Brightman, Holland, Mendel, Theobald, assisted by Mr. Arthur Mann, rendered a medley of comic opera selections, in faultless manner, and had to respond to an encore. The setting for their number was picturesque, the boys being grounded around a camp-fire, and the scene added effect to the number.

An instrumental duet by Mr. McKenna, on the one stringed violin, and Mr. Clarke on the banjo, was cleverly given and much enjoyed.

Mr. Barton has a clever juggling act in which he toys with tennis balls, plates, knives, umbrellas, and other articles, in a very entertaining manner.

The entertainment was under the patronage of the following ladies and gentlemen:—Hon. J. R. and Mrs. Stratton, R. R. Hall, esq., M. P., and Mrs. Hall, T. E. Bradburn, Esq., M. P., Mayor and Mrs. McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neil.

There should be a capital house tonight, when the entertainment will be repeated. To those who were not present last night, the best advice that can be given is to see the performance to-night. It is certain that you will not regret the visit to the opera house, as the programme is one of the most enjoyable of the season.

To those who have laboured so faithfully for the success of the affair the result must have been gratifying. Mr. McIlroy, as manager, Mr. Davidson, as secretary, Mr. Lynch, and the others, who have been instrumental in arranging the bill, are to be congratulated upon the treat which they have provided for the people of Peterborough.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE ANNUAL PICNIC

Great Event at Tara Grove in Ennismore on June 18th.

Arrangements have been made by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, parish priest of Ennismore, for his annual picnic, which will be held again this year in the beautiful Tara Grove, south of the church. The date has been fixed for Tuesday, June 18, and from the present prospects the picnic this year will be the most successful in the history of the parish.

The speakers will include Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. J. P. Downey, M.P.P., Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.P., Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mr. D. O'Connell, Rev. Father McGuire and others. As usual, there will be a programme of athletic events, and valuable prizes are being offered. The ladies of Ennismore are noted for the excellence of their dinners, and this year greater efforts in this direction are being made than ever.

TERRIER BELONGING TO MR. STOREY POISONED

Latest Victim Reported of the Poisoners' Wrath.

From the effects of poison, swallowed on Monday evening, the fox terrier belonging to Mrs. Jas. Storey off Weller street passed out of this life last night. The dog got the drug about 6 o'clock Monday evening, but before it had had time to cause death, Mr. Storey forced a quantity of butter down the canine's throat, and the poison was ejected. However, last night the dog died, and its death is very much lamented by the members of the family.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

BISHOP REEVES WILL BE ASSISTANT

This Morning Anglican Synod Voted Money For His Stipend and He Will be Appointed.

MR. DAVIDSON APPOINTED

Examiner Special.

Toronto, June 12.—This morning Right Rev. W. D. Reeve, Bishop of Athabaska and MacKenzie River was elected by the Synod of the Anglican church for the Diocese of Toronto, as assistant to the Bishop and money was voted for his salary.

The question of providing episcopal assistance for the Archbishop was the live topic of discussion at the afternoon and evening sessions which convened for business in St. James' schoolhouse yesterday at 3 p. m. A lengthy and lively debate arose over the report of the Executive Committee, which was taken up early in the afternoon. The debate was continued throughout the evening session, and, though the whole discussion was at last ruled out of order, cries of "Vote" were becoming numerous just as the hour of adjournment — 10 o'clock — came, and as a signed request was handed in for a vote by orders the matter was left over till this morning.

The Executive Committee's report notified the Synod of the desire of the Archbishop to have a suffragan and co-adjutor Bishop nominated by the Synod, and of his willingness to accept the alternative of the provision of such sum as required to give him such assistance as he may require during the ensuing year. Owing to the impossibility of securing a coadjutor Bishop, because of the Executive not having provided the salary, the Archbishop withdrew his request for a coadjutor, and, asked for the voting of a sum sufficient to secure an assistant. A stipend of $2,000 is named, and travelling expenses, amounting to perhaps about $250, would be also voted.

Rev. Canon Davidson, of Peterborough was appointed on the Committee on the State of the Work, by the Bishop.

FARMERS' EXCURSION WAS WELL ATTENDED

Over 800 Left Here on C. P. R. Special This Morning

Ideal weather accompanied the departure of the excursionists to Guelph this morning, the destination of the Farmers' Institute excursion. The trip was taken per the C.P.R., and was one of the largest excursions that has ever went to the experimental farm. About 800 were on board altogether, every coach leaving here being well filled.

FRENCH MAYORS RESIGN.

Civil Strike Begins—Flag Lowered and Crepe Substituted.

Montpelier, France, June 12.—After the announcement of the resignation of the municipal council here on Mouday evening in connection with the wine growers' program, the arrest of a youth for carrying a banner bearing the inscription: "March on Paris; Long Live the Revolution," led to serious disorder. Hussars were called out and charged the people repeatedly. A number of persons were injured, and calm was only restored by the release of the prisoner.

Narbonne, France, June 12.—In the presence of an enormous crowd Monday night the mayor announced publicly that a civil strike had begun, and hauled down the flag of France from the city hall, replacing it with a long crepe streamer.

The discontent caused among the men of the 100th Regiment of Infantry by their confinement to barracks for the last five Sundays, on account of the wine growers' manifestations, was brought to a head Monday night by a dispute between the privates and the non-commissioned officers, who tried to pull down men from a wall whence they were cheering passing trains loaded with wine growers going to Montpelier.

The soldiers informed their colonel that they absolutely refused to march against their friends and relatives.

Mayors Resign Seats.

Paris, June 12.—Up to a late hour Monday night no change had been recorded in the situation growing out of the movement on the part of the wine growers, and the news received from the south shows that a number of mayors are carrying out their resolve to resign, with calmness and determination. No disorders, however, have been reported.

Timber Lands Fire Swept.

Toronto, June 12.—Word was received yesterday by the Provincial Lands Department that forest fires had broken out in the Townships of Soeble and Parpoonge, on the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway. These townships are partly settled, but the greater part is covered with jackpine. Deputy Minister White had no information as to how serious the fires are, but expects more news today.

STATE'S WITNESS STICKS TO STORY

Orchard's Testimony Against Haywood Remains Unshaken.

BOUGHT DYNAMITE FOR BOMB

Adams Will Not Corroborate — May Have to Face Second Murder Charge —Orchard Completes Details of Attempt Upon Bradley — Used Cook as Innocent Accomplice —Explosives In His Room.

Boise, Idaho, June 12.—When the Haywood trial was resumed here yesterday at 9.35 a.m. Harry Orchard continued his testimony.

Attorney Richardson continued to question the witness about the attempts he made upon the life of Fred Bradley in San Francisco. Orchard said he roomed near the Bradley home, being able to overlook it from his bedroom window. He had bought some dynamite for a bomb before the attempt to poison Bradley with strychnine in the milk failed.

Orchard thought it was the Judson Powder Company that he bought the explosive from.

Asked the appearance of the clerk who waited on him. Orchard said he was youngish looking.

In buying the powder Orchard was required to give his name. He could not remember what name it was—a fictitious one. As an excuse for buying ten pounds of dynamite, Orchard told the clerk he wanted to blow out some stumps on his ranch.

"Don't you know there are no stumps within 150 miles of San Francisco?" demanded Richardson.

"I know that there are—I've seen them on the way to Caliente Springs."

Orchard gave as nearly as he could a description of the various places where he had lived while in San Francisco.

He could not remember the names of the streets or the numbers of the houses.

Next Orchard told of a pleasure trip he had taken to Caliente Springs while waiting for Bradley to return from Alaska.

"Playing cards while there?"

"Yes."

"You were a card sharp?"

"No sir."

Orchard was living near the presido when he bought the dynamite for the Bradley bomb. He did not remember whether he took a box of giant caps to San Francisco or bought them at the Judson Company. Orchard kept the dynamite in his room and took it with him when he moved to 1,326 Washington Street, within half a block of the Bradley home.

What Will Adams Say?

There is much speculation as to what Steve Adams will say when placed on the stand as a witness for the State against William D. Haywood. Orchard has said that Adams was his partner in many of his most desperate undertakings, such as the blowing up of the Independence Depot. Adams, who came to Boise Monday from Shoshone County, where he is awaiting trial for murder, is said to be in a sullen mood, and not likely to answer any of the questions. It is known that his repudiated confession is in the hands of counsel for the prosecution of Haywood, but it is doubtful if this confession can be brought within the cognizance of the jury, unless Adams himself consents. Mrs. Minnie Adams, who has been in Boise since the trial began, and who is in daily attendance at the courtroom, saw her husband at the county jail last night. Mrs. Adams is credited with much influence over her husband. It was at her solicitation, it is said, that he repudiated the confession he made last year. He went so far after making the confession as to travel to Colorado with General Bulkeley Wells, and report has it that under the direction of Adams, evidence was discovered that cleared up the mysteries of the several disappearances. Skeletons of non-union miners, who were believed to have been killed, but the proof of whose death had never been found, were discovered.

Another Charge of Murder.

It is said that should Adams be acquitted of the murder for which he is yet to stand trial, the Colorado authorities will requisition the Governor of Idaho, and will try him on the charge of the murder of Collins. There is some belief that Adams may yet repeat his alleged confession. Counsel for the prosecution say that they are not depending upon Adams to confirm Orchard, but that they have sufficiency of corroborative testimony.

Harry Orchard goes on for his fourth day of cross-examination. He shows not the slightest sign of fatigue. On the contrary, he grows apparently stronger, clearer and more unshakable every minute. Even counsel for the defence admit that he is a marvel.

Yesterday he completed his story of the attempt to kill Fred Bradley, formerly manager and now president of the Bunker Hill Mine, which was blown up by the striking miners in 1899. The prosecution attaches much importance to this part of Orchard's testimony. A number of witnesses are here from San Francisco to testify in support of the attempt on Bradley's life.

Orchard Strengthens Story.

In the rest of his cross-examination, Orchard under the fire of questions, has only strengthened his direct testimony as to the San Francisco story. He is going into the most minute detail and has given the names of a dozen people who can confirm or deny. For instance, he has said where he bought the strychnine for the milk, where he bought the gunpowder, how and where he got the money from Pettibone, and the names of the servants. He took the cook to the theatre, he said, in order to find out from her the habits of the household, and as the climax of his dramatic rehearsal he told how he placed the strychnine in the milk that by his own admission might have poisoned a baby, the mother, three women servants, and Fred Bradley.

Orchard will be on the stand under cross-examination at least until the close of the afternoon session, and it is possible that Mr. Richardson will not conclude until to-day.

In fact, there is an idea that one of the purposes of the close and exhaustive detail is to wear the witness out, but unless all signs fail, Orchard will be the last man to give way under the strain.

FIRST LACROSSE GAME OF THE SEASON

Will be Played To-morrow Night, When Millbrook Juniors Will Play Here

To-morrow night at 6.45 o'clock the first lacrosse match of the season will be played at the Riverside Park, when the Millbrook team, which defeated the Peterborough Juniors on Victoria Day in Millbrook, will play the return game. The Millbrook team will be the same as that which played against the tourist Souris team last summer, when the latter came east to try for the Minto Cup. The local juniors will make a big effort to attone for their defeat in Millbrook on the holiday, and a good game is assured. The juniors this year have a fast bunch, and those who have seen them in practice predict that they will have a successful season.

LACROSSE EXCURSION TO TORONTO

A special train will leave on the C.P.R. at 1 o'clock, and will arrive in Toronto in ample time to reach the Rosedale grounds, where the game will be played. The return fare is $2.05, and the tickets are good to return until Monday or on any regular train on Saturday or Sunday. This will be a good opportunity of seeing the local team in its first game of what promises to be a most successful season.

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD.

PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?"

The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, which is not affected materially by other organs, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay. A few doses of taken in time, often saves years of suffering, and in many cases life itself.

They stimulate the action of the kidneys, enabling them to perform their duty perfectly.

Miss S. C. Fyr, Econ Scom, N.S., writes: "For the past three years I have been troubled with a very bad pain in my back and kidneys. It was so bad it was impossible for me to stoop or bend. I had several doctors attend me, but found no relief until I picked up one of your Egyptian Dream Books, and found out about your remarkable remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured two boxes and their action surprised me, for they completely cured me. I don't think they have an equal for kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

NORWOOD TEAM LOST AT MARMORA

Score in Baseball Game Was 12-8 in Favour of the Home Team

Examiner Special.

Norwood, June 11. — The Norwood high school baseball team journeyed down to Marmora on Friday last, where they met defeat at the hands of the intermediates by a score of 12—8.

The Norwood boys were not in their class as the Marmora bunch were big husky fellows of the senior type and played well. Norwood lost the game by not knowing the diamond, which was very small, and thus the local boys made some high throws at critical times, which accounted for Marmora getting at least half their runs; while on their part they were perfectly familiar with the field, which was built after the Rocky Mountain style.

Kempt pitched for Norwood and played his position well, and kept many reputed heavy hitters from connecting with the ball. Hendren caught for the first four innings, while Finlay did the look stop work for the remaining five. Both did excellent work. Cumming, Huyck and Edwards, played their positions well, but Cummings outshone his companions in many brilliant feats in the field, while his timely hitting was a feature of the game. The fielders also showed themselves at several occasions. The local's pitching staff was not all represented there, as Kempt was the only one of the pitchers who was able to go, and this was a considerable drawback to Norwood.

The teams lined up as follows:

| Marmora. | | Norwood |
|---|---|---|
| Smith, | Pitcher, | Kempt, |
| Wells, | Catcher, | Finlay, |
| Blucker, | First base, | Edwards, |
| Murphy, | Second base, | Huyck, |

| McWilliams, | Short stop. | Hendren, |
| Shannon, | Rift Field. | Guffman. |
| Greeves, | Centre Field. | Juniac, |
| McWilliams, | Left Field. | Scott. |

The return match will be played here on Wednesday afternoon.

FELL FROM THE ROOF OF COTTAGE

Bridgenorth Painter Was Injured Yesterday—Paint in His Eyes

Wm. Ball, a Bridgenorth painter, who was at work on Commodore Bull's new cottage at Chemong Park, was painfully injured as a result of a fall from the roof of the building. A few minutes previous Fred Joplin, another painter, had met with a fall in the same way, but had escaped without injury. Ball was engaged in staining the roof which was very slippery and in some manner fell off, lighting heavily upon the ground. He was badly shaken up and bruised while the paint he was using was spilled all over him, a quantity entering his eyes and caused him great pain.

A BAD BREAK IN WHEAT MARKET

July Wheat Sold Down to 90 Cents Today—Rest of the Market Fairly Firm

(J. R. Heintz & Co. Special.)

New York, June 12. — Professional hammering, lack of definite support and a waiting attitude, had the effect of producing a dragging stock market to-day wherein not much stock came out, but no inclination to be bullishly aggressive was found. The result is a dull security list that may drag till overcold again.

The wheat market was demoralised to-day and broke over three cents, no support whatever being offered it. July sold down to 90 cents. Oats were weak in sympathy, but corn held firm, declining but 1-4. The weather is as if made to order for all grains. The break in wheat had but little effect on stocks, but there was a little rally at the close, which was firm. Regular dividends were declared to-day on New York Central and Western Union.

Annual Provincial Convention of Catholic Order of Foresters in Session at Chatham

Chatham, June 11.—In spite of threatening skies and a sprinkle of rain, the first day of the Catholic Order of Foresters' Provincial convention was a huge success. The procession to St. Joseph's Church this morning from the gathering point at Centre and Fifth streets was the largest of its kind ever seen in the city, over 500 delegates, visitors and local members being in line. All along the line of march flags fluttered and bunting and banners evinced the welcome tendered by the body of citizens to the visitors.

PRESENTMENT OF THE GRAND JURY

Made This Morning to His Honor, Judge Weller—Judgement Reserved in Lawless vs. Crowley

CORDAGE CO. VS. McGINNIS

The June session of the County Court and general sessions of the peace was resumed this morning before His Honour Judge Weller, when the Grand Jury made their presentment. In their trip of inspection through the gaol they found everything in first class order and recognized that few prisoners were lodged therein.

The first case tried yesterday was that of J. A. Lawless vs. T. H Crowley in which the former was suing the latter for $166.08 board bill and costs of the action. In his defence the defendant claimed that Mr. Lawless agreed to pay the sum of $500 on a mining transaction which he alleged had not been done. The Judge heard the evidence in the case yesterday and reserved judgment until some laws on mining were investigated. Mr. S. T. Medd, of Hall, Medd & Davidson, appeared in the interests of the plaintiff and Mr. A E Dixon, of Edmison & Dixon, for the defendant.

This afternoon the case of the Canadian Cordage Company vs. McGinnis, over the payment of a promissory note, was considered. Mr. S. T. S Medd is looking after the case for the Company, and Mr. A. T. Boles, of Leamington, for the defendant.

Jury's Presentment

The following was the Grand Jury's presentment made this morning:—

Peterborough, June 12.

To His Honour Judge Weller:

We have inspected the gaol and found everything clean and in a sanitary condition and very happy to find so few prisoners therein.

We did not deem it necessary to visit the hospitals and other institutions as we understood it had been recently done and everything satisfactory. We heartily congratulate you on your renewed health and trust you may long be spared to fill your honourable position.

Yours respectfully,
I. N. ACKERMAN,
Foreman.

OBITUARY

JOHN J. HURLEY.

This morning the body of the late John J. Hurley, of Lindsay, whose death occurred on Monday, was brought to this city and the funeral took place in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The deceased was the fifth son of Mr. John Hurley, grain inspector, of Peterborough, and was in his twenty-seventh year.

The deceased lived the greater part of his life with his aunt, Miss McHugh, except two years attending the Business College, Peterborough, and was highly respected by all who knew him. During his illness he was never down-hearted, always merry, having a cheery word for everyone. The flag at the Court House in Lindsay was at half mast in his memory. He leaves a father, mother, one brother, Frank, and three sisters, Misses Mary, Margaret and Loretta to mourn his loss. The many floral tributes showed the esteem in which he was held. The funeral took place to-day at 8.30 a.m., to St. Mary's church, thence to Peterborough for terment The pall bearers were his cousins, Messrs. John Grey, John Hurley, John Hartnett, John Twohey, James S. Diament and George Brady. In addition to these Mr. John Brady, of Toronto; Mr. John Twohey, of Lindsay, uncles of the deceased; Thos. Hurley, also an uncle; Mrs. P. J. Hurley and son, Clare, and Mrs. J. W. Diament attended the funeral.

HELL AS A PLACE OF TORMENT, DESCRIBED BY CAMP MEETING ORATOR

In These Days, He Declared, Preachers Spoke Too Little of This Place of Punishment for the Sinner.

CAMP MEETINGS CLOSED

The belief in a literal hell — a place of torment—was expressed last night at the closing meeting in the series of camp meetings held by the Free Methodists, in an impassioned sermon preached by Elder Norrington of Warkworth, who, for fifty-five minutes, preached on the subject of hell, its nature, those who shall be turned into it, and the condition of the occupants of the place of punishment.

He pictured, in plain and forcible language, the place described as the ultimate end of those who reject God, and warned his audience against the horrors of hell, which he declared God's Word said, was a place where the occupants were forever dying and never dead, where they become more conscious of their suffering condition every hour. The speaker believed God's Word when it stated that hell was a lake burning with fire and brimstone. This place of punishment, he declared, was inhabited by fallen angels and men who sinned against God and were unrepenting.

In answer to the opinion expressed by some persons, who said that hell did not mean all that the Free Methodists made it mean, he declared that it was not what they said it meant, but what God made it.

People these days, the speaker said, did not like to hear preachers refer to hell, and the sad thing about it was that they did not hear much about it from the modern pulpit orators, who preferred to tickle the people's fancy by telling them about the pearly gates of heaven.

For nearly an hour the speaker, becoming more and more enthusiastic, told of the torments of those who were, because of their sins, sent to hell, and appealed to his hearers to turn to God and escape the results of their sin.

There was, last night, one of the largest crowds of the series, the tent being crowded, while many stood around the outside. The usual scenes of enthusiasm incidental to these meetings were witnessed last night, and at the close there were at times a score talking and praying at one time.

In response to the speaker's invitation to come to the penitent bench, about ten responded. And the pilgrims gathered around these and sang and prayed until after eleven o'clock, when the meeting dispersed and the camp meetings were at an end.

At the opening of the meeting, Elder Reynolds expressed, on behalf of the Methodists, their appreciation of the treatment accorded them by the people of Peterborough during the time they had been holding their meetings here. In no place, he stated, had they been better received, and in no place had there been better order maintained in the meetings than in Peterborough, and he hoped it would not be long until another gathering of a similar kind would be held here.

SIX MONTHS IN CENTRAL PRISON

Robert Newman, "Vag" Received Scant Mercy in Peterborough

Robert Newman, charged with vagrancy, was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison this morning by Magistate Dumble. Newman, from the evidence of the policemen, was acting suspiciously two weeks ago on the 26th and 27th of May. He was arrested at that time but has not received a hearing until to-day. His home is in Colorado; he has wandered about Ontario for the past couple of months, but ran amuck in Peterborough. He is a cocaine fiend, but the confinement in the gaol has broken him off the habit and he says he will not go back to it.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

OBITUARY.

MRS. THOMAS COUCH

At twelve o'clock last night the death occurred of Mrs. Thos. Couch, at the age of 80 years. The immediate cause was bronchitis, although old age was a potent factor. Mrs. Couch was born in North Devonshire, Eng. She was married in 1847, and the happy couple came to Canada, and to Peterborough, in 1874, from South Wales. Mr. Couch has been in the employ of the William Hamilton Co., since his first year in the country, and is still on duty.

The surviving children are Mrs. W. F. Shepley, of Gilt Edge, Mont., U.S.; Mrs. William Barrie, Bolivar street, city; Mrs. F. Coon, Stewart street, city, William and John, Toronto, James of Canterbury, Eng.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence, 513 Reid street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

POPE REFUSES PROFERED AID

Of American Capitalists, Who Would Make Donations to Catholic Church on Condition

Examiner Special

Paris, June 12. — The Main publishes a despatch from Rome, saying that two wealthy Americans, Roman Catholics, recently informed the Pope that Roman Catholicism would make great strides in America if Archbishop Ireland were made a Cardinal, and that they would at once donate one million dollars to the church. # Tried Twice In One Night To Rob The Same Man

First Attempted to Break Into Store and Afterwards Entered Proprietor's House and Bedroom.

A STARTLING COINCIDENCE

There is a young business man in this city who is under the impression—and facts seem to warrant it—that he was to have been made the victim of a robbery last night. He was working in his office rather late, posting his books, and was startled to hear someone making an attempt to gain entrance to the back door of the store. He listened for a short time to assure himself of the intentions of the housebreaker, when he hastily loaded his revolver and made for the back door to make a capture, if possible; but his movements were evidently communicated to the man outside, for when he opened the door the would-be robber was just disappearing around the corner.

His experiences were not over, however, for after going home and to bed he was awakened early this morning by a man in his room. Fortunately he was sleeping lightly, and the first moves of the intruder awakened him, and again he frightened him off before he had an opportunity of getting away with anything.

How he secured entrance to the house at that hour of the morning is still a mystery, but that he was there, the narrator of the story has no doubt, and he believes, too, that it was in all probability the same man who tried to break into the store the same night. After this he will probably sleep with a revolver under his pillow, as well as having one in his office.

Will Ship Hardwood From Peterborough District

Raw Material From This Section for Furniture Factories at Newmarket—New Branch to the Canal.

OPENING NEW LIFT LOCK

Ottawa, June 12. — The Department of Railways and Canals is expecting soon to award the tender for the canal from Newmarket to Holland Landing, and hopes to have the work commenced this summer.

When this four-mile canal is finished, and the Holland River to Lake Simcoe is deepened, Newmarket will be in communication with the Trent Valley Canal system, which this summer will afford communication from Lake Simcoe to Hastings, considerably east of Peterborough.

Later, when the canal is completed from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay, Newmarket will be in touch with the Upper Lakes. The immediate specific advantage lies in the fact that Newmarket now has a large furniture industry, and that a particularly good supply of hardwood in the vicinity of Lindsay and Peterborough could be transported to it at very cheap rates.

The formal opening of the Kirkfield Lift Lock will take place in the first few days of July. With that Peterborough will have water communication with Lake Simcoe.

A Shooting Affray In A Hotel In Kinmount

It Was, However, Only an Intoxicated Lawyer, Shooting at Imaginary Foes During the Night.

THE EXPLANATION GIVEN

The Lindsay Post has the following story:—

A gentleman staying at a certain hotel in Kinmount had an unpleasand and startling experience early this morning. It appears that among the guests was a young member of the legal profession, who, after doing the business he ostensibly went to Kinmount for, thought he would have a "drink." This must have been followed by others too numerous to mention, and in the result it went from bad to worse, for by 3 a.m. he evidently was suffering from a bad attack of the "blues." Whether he imagined he was being attacked by a regiment of rats ,or burglars, or what, we cannot say, but anyway, he brought out from somewhere a six shooter and began to blaze away at the walls, the ceiling and the floor of the room.

The gentleman after the first shot came whizzing through the wall of his room, evidently realized that absence of body and presence of mind are essential in an awkward predicament, so he placed all the available bedding between the wall and his back, rolled himself up into the smallest ball he possibly could, and waited with feverish anxiety the denouncement. The landlord thought nothing short of murder or suicide had been committed, and was for breaking in the door, but the timely arrival of a friend — a fellow guest who had taken the precaution to look the lawyer's door over night —made that unnecessary. When the door was opened, behold the cause of all the trouble, half stifled with smoke, but still able to gasp, "Let's have anoth, old chap."

HOW TO KEEP EMPLOYEES

Semi-ready Company Solves Problem of Holding Good Men

Far away from the smoke and dust of factory and railway, the Semi-ready buildings in Montreal are models of puritan simplicity and generous proportions. They are on the street leading to the beautiful park on the top of Mount Royal.

Both light and ventilation of the factory are perfect for the finer work which calls for good eyesight and good health. A dainty dining-room on the first floor is large enough to seat 300 employees.

The Semi-ready workman knows that such a factory adds ten years to his life. When a journeyman tailor spends three years forgetting his old ideas and learning the Semi-ready system he cannot be coaxed from such attractive surroundings.

ANOTHER UPSET AT THE LOCKS

Two Canoeists Get an Unexpected Bath Yesterday

The dangerous currents below the locks came very near claiming two victims yesterday afternoon. Two young men attempted to paddle up the stream, but when they reached a point a few feet east of the long pier they found the current too much for them. The bow of the canoe swung around, and almost immediately the craft was capsized, throwing the two into the swift current. Both were able to swim and managed to reach and cling to the canoe, which they finally worked into shore.

There have been many complaints about this point, and unless something is done to remedy the conditions there will be a fatal accident there.

CONDUCTORS NOW CARRY GUNS

Night Conductors Prepared for Any Emergency—Late Disturbances Have Impressed Them to be Careful

IS A GOOD PRECAUTION

As a result of the recent epidemic of attempted robberies and thefts, there is a certain amount of alarm felt by some of the citizens. In particular, it was reported that the street railway conductors, the men that carry so much loose change and bills in their pockets, are becoming more cautious, and are adopting measures to be prepared for all emergencies. The conductors who have the evening runs are not finished work until after 11 o'clock, and it is generally at this witching hour that the hold-up man starts out to get in touch with belated citizens. The conductors of the street cars are supposedly well laden with cash and they would make desirable game for the man with the gun. Knowing this, and wishing to be prepared for any event, it is learned as a fact that some of the conductors intend to arm themselves, and it is very likely that since the theft of the fare box they have done so.

The men intend to take no chances, and it will not be well for the thief who tries the "con" game on any of the conductors. They have little silver-plated punches with which the transfers are marked, and these, in the dark, look very much like a revolver. Now, doubly armed, they will be loaded with guns, like a party of Apaches on the warpath. However, although this may appear like a canard, it is a fact that the men referred to have determined to carry firearms, and their pockets are probably bulged with a Smith & Wesson.

COBOURG'S GOOD PROSPECTS

Mr. Geo. Cochrane Greatly Impressed With the Material Prosperity Given Evidence to in That Town

MANY RICH RESIDENTS

Mr. George Cochrane returned to the city this morning after having been in Cobourg giving evidence in the case of assault preferred against Robert Walden, by Mrs. McWilliams, Cobourg, Mr. Cochrane states is making great material progress, and during recent years has taken rapid strides city-wards. The principal factor in contributing to this prosperity is the fact that a large number of rich American citizens are making it their summer home. Immense summer residences are being built and hundreds of thousands of dollars spent in beautifying the grounds surrounding them. It was Mr. Cochrane's opinion that there are nearly as many men cutting lawns in Cobourg as would take to harvest the crop in the Canadian Northwest. In some cases horses are used to mow lawns. Mr. Cochrane was very favourably impressed with the prospects of this town, and believes that at the present rate of progress it will only be a matter of a few years until it will have reached the status of a city.

A large staff of men is employed at the present time building the new landing dock for the car ferry which will run from Cobourg to Charlotte. This ferry will it is expected, be in operation this summer, and will give a still further impetus to the business of the town.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

THE YOUNG MEN'S GUILD EXCURSION

St. Paul's Young Men to Institute a New Plan for Outing This Year

This promises to be one of the most enjoyable outings of the season. The new steamer Otonabee has been chartered for the occasion and the excursionists will be taken from the street railway wharf to Idyl Wild, in two hours time. The boat will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 p.m., and the street railway wharf at 2 o'clock. The friends of the Guild are asked to bear the date in mind.

A SUCCESSFUL TRIP TO GUELPH

Farmers' Excursion Attended by Over 700—A Visit to the Experimental Farm

RAILROAD COMPANY BLAMED

The City of Guelph, the destination of the excursion of the Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterborough and East Durham, yesterday contained several hundred excursionists from this district. The special train began its journey at Tweed and took on passengers as far west as Burketon, there being altogether in the neighbourhood of 700 persons who bought special tickets. The excursion was therefore one of the best in the history of the Institutes so far as numbers were concerned. Each little village along the route of the C.P.R. between Tweed and Burketon sent its quota while the majority boarded the train at Peterborough, many of whom drove in from Keene, Hastings and other southern points on the Grand Trunk.

The weather man, too, smiled on the excursion and the beautiful June atmosphere was greatly responsible for the large attendance which was highly gratifying to the committee in charge.

The train left Peterborough yesterday morning at 7.25 arriving in Guelph at 12.06, just three minutes after it was due. Many of the excursionists got off at North Toronto and remained in Toronto until the special returned.

The stay in Guelph during the afternoon was a most pleasant one. Everything around the Experimental Farm is looking bright and attractive, although the growth is a little backward on account of the recent cold weather. The excursionists were greeted with the usual cordiality shown by those in charge of the buildings. Lunch was served just after their arrival and according to those who accepted of this hospitality it was an excellent one.

One of the pleasant features of the trip was an address by the President of the Agricultural College, Mr. G. C. Creelman, who in the course of his remarks complimented the committee on the large attendance from Peterborough district and particularly on the attendance of so many of the young people.

Professor Zavitz next conducted the crowd through the experimental plots and explained the extent of the various growths. Professor Day then took them through the live stock stable after which they scattered and took different courses through the horticultural, domestic science and dairy and poultry buildings.

Credit is due Mr. Wm. Collins for the excellent manner in which the excursion was conducted. Everything went harmoniously except for the fact that the railway accommodation was not just as expected. Mr. Collins stated that the committee was promised first class coaches but when they arrived in Peterborough, six of them were colonist cars. The committee he said, were given a good deal of trouble and annoyance on this account as the passengers were somewhat indignant in not getting what was promised them. Also the train left Guelph, he said, later than scheduled so that it had to wait at the Union Station, Toronto, until the midnight left. This delayed them considerably and they did not arrive home until almost 2 o'clock.

The committee in charge of the excursion consisted of Messrs. F. Birdsall, E. Hawthorne, and Chas O'Reilly, of East Peterborough; J. N. Telford and Wm. Collins West Peterborough, and Arthur Vance and A. J. Fallis, of East Durham.

Only a few of the excursionists returned home last night, the majority remaining the time limit of their tickets.

A COMMISSION

The administration of civic affairs by a commission is a problem which has been considered more or less seriously for some time, and, indeed, it has been put into practice in at least one city in the United States. The proposition has been made that such a form of government might work but to advantage in a city like Peterborough, though possibly the matter is sufficiently open to form a good subject for discussion. In view of the fact that it has been suggested, however, the following from the Ottawa Free Press may be of interest:

One of the great problems of the day in the United States—and in at least two cities in Canada — is what is the best mode by which to administer the government of the municipality. The ward system has undoubtedly failed most miserably in places like New York, Chicago, Boston, Detroit and Montreal. But the problem is as to what shall take the place of the old system.

The student of civics comes to the consideration, after a careful review of the whole situation, that the best solution of the problem has been found by the city of Galveston, Texas. Although having a population of only 35,000 it is the second port of export of the United States, and is undoubtedly a very busy place. Prior to 1895, the city government was administered by a mayor and a board of ward aldermen. When this form became unbearable, by reason of the boodling which was its concomitant, the city changed its system and elected all its aldermen at large, but this method, while better morally, was ineffectual in bringing affairs down to a business basis. After the great flood and hurricane, in which half the city was annihilated, it was found that the corporation was practically bankrupt. At this crisis the city government went to pieces, and the Business Men's Association of the city took the matter up. They decided that they must have a real city government based upon business principles, and it was decided that the city should be governed by commission. One member, the mayor, is the general manager. The other four are heads of various departments. This board of five managers decides all matters by a majority vote, and, it is claimed, runs the city as if it were a private business.

The result is that politics have been eliminated altogether from the municipal administration. The water supply, the care of the streets, the conduct of the police and fire departments are managed as if they were branches of some great business house. Taxes have been brought down to the vanishing point except the ward heelers, who find their occupations gone.

SUPREMACY IN MANUFACTURES

The Winnipeg Free Press takes considerable credit to that city for the expansion in the volume of its manufactures, as indicated in the last report issued from the Census Bureau. Some comparisons of the manufactures of Winnipeg, with other cities in the Dominion are made, and it will be a matter of some surprise to learn that Winnipeg, of which so much is being heard these days, as the city which will in a few years be the metropolis of Canada, is only in the fourth place, and Peterborough is but two points behind.

After all the chief point in determining the prosperity, from a manufacturing standpoint is the volume of business per head of population, and, judged by this test, Peterborough leads the other five cities whose total volume of manufactured products exceeds that of Peterborough, by a wide margin.

It will be interesting to make a comparison, on this standpoint, and see where this city stands. Here are the figures, based on the last available record of population and the returns for the manufactured products:—

Peterborough, $733 per head of population.
Hamilton, $312 per head.
Montreal, $280.
Toronto, $280.
London, $266.
Winnipeg, $190.

It will be seen from these figures that while possibly the population of Peterborough is not growing at such a rapid rate as some of the cities in the west, there is a producing population here. The supremacy of Peterborough in this respect is such as to give rise to some reflection.

Referring to the progress in the west, the Winnipeg Free Press says:—

Worthy of special note is the place held in this list by Calgary, Brandon, Portage la Prairie and Kenora. Calgary's output in 1901 was $599,446; in 1906 it was $2,303,617. Brandon's figure in 1901 was $541,327; and in 1906, it had risen to $2,097,995. Portage la Prairie was shown in the census of 1901 with an output of manufactures amounting to $808,290; in 1906 the amount had risen to $1,858,000. Edmonton advanced from $243,778 to $943,526, Lethbridge from $29,900 to $146,809, Moose Jaw from $135,040 to $486,855, Prince Albert from $123,600 to $487,547, Strathcona from $177,314 to $592,797, and Medicine Hat, Regina and Saskatoon, to $127,350, $223,335 and $130,800 respectively. Kenora's advance was from $807,111 to $1,311,346, ort William's from $111,507 to $581,896, and Port Arthur's from $105,000 to $686,837.

Winnipeg's output last year exceeded the combined output of Vancouver, Victoria, Rossland, Revelstoke, New Westminster, Nelson, Nanaimo, Kamloops and Fernie by $1,560,223. In 1901 the combined output of these nine British Columbia places was $10,904,182, or $2,247,934 in advance of Winnipeg's output in that year. The combined output of the ten New Brunswick cities and towns that figure in the returns was exceeded in 1906 by Winnipeg's output to the extent of $3,562,001, though their combined output in 1901 exceeded Winnipeg's in that year by $1,336,233. Winnipeg's output last year is all but within [illegible], almost equalling the combined output of Halifax, St. John, N.B., and Sydney, N.S.; it exceeds by $1,111,587 the combined output of Ottawa and Brantford; by $977,100 the combined output of Peterborough, Chatham and Galt; and by $216,157 the combined output of Sault Ste. Marie, Sarnia, Walkerville, Woodstock, Dundas and Brockville.

ANNOUNCE SUCCESSFUL TENDERER

For Construction of the New Bell Telephone Company Building Will be Announced To-morrow

Mr. W. J. Carmichael, the Superintendent of Construction for the Bell Telephone Company, is in the city for the purpose of opening the tenders for the construction of the new building of the company on Hunter street, and awarding the contract if the price is considered fair.

The tenders will be opened to-night and an announcement as to the result will be made to-morrow, it is expected.

AN APPROPRIATELY DECORATED WINDOW

Mr. C. E. Frost Pays a Tribute to the Lacrosse Club

Mr. C. E. Frost is one of the progressive merchants who seeks to exhibit the spirit of the moment in his window dressing. The neatly arranged window of his jewelry establishment has been attracting considerable attention during the past few days, and is a graceful tribute to the Lacrosse Club, their colours, blue and white, being prominently displayed in the decorative scheme. The cup donated for competition in the intermediate city baseball league is on exhibition in the centre of the display.

CARTER'S SHELTER BEING CONSTRUCTED

Mr. Thomas Irwin, contractor, to-day began the work of transforming the old National Hotel sheds into a carters' shelter. There will be a room, 15 feet square, constructed in the shed, where the carters will be able to congregate. The city council would now be doing a good act if they would have the eyesore to the north of the sheds removed, which has been for many years a dumping ground for ashes and rubbish, and brighten up the appearance of the grounds.

BIGGEST OF SHOWS IS COMING

Forepaugh and Sells' Big Shows Due Here on Tuesday, June 25th—A Mammoth Aggregation

Again comes the announcement that Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros., circus is to exhibit in Peterborough on June 25th, and the news has additional interest because of the wonderful growth of the organization since it was last seen in this part of the country.

So much that is novel has been added and so many of the 300 performers are from Europe that a circus of entirely original ideas and absolute newness is the result. With three rings, two stages and a vast hippodrome track, the performance takes place under the largest canvas ever made into one tent. The circus employs 1,200 men, women and children and 500 horses and has besides three herds of elephants, 600 other animals and the brightest and best equipment ever owned by a circus.

The free street parade represents an outlay of one million dollars, which shows itself in one long line of surprises, unfolding themselves in endless variety. There is twice as much to the parade as there is to that of any other circus, and every feature in it is exclusive. As to the performance, it is the par excellence of arenic entertainment, filled with European novelties, and offering only the best and newest. Thus the management has gotten completely away from the path well beaten by other circuses.

Another fortune has been spent on the fire spectacle, "Fighting the Flames," which takes the place of the old-time grand entry. It represents a busy city on a fete day threatened with destruction by a fierce fire. A battalion of forty professional firemen battles with the flames and rescues women and children from high windows by means of life-nets and ladders. The climax of this fire-drama is most thrillingly beautiful. The mimic city fills the entire arena of the main tent and requires a trainload of scenery. To give the streets natural animation 1,200 people, 500 horses and hundreds of vehicles are used.

The trained animal features are another instance in which this circus excells. Chief among these acts is that of the great Spessardy and his bears. Spessardy is Europe's greatest trainer of wild animals, and this is his first American tour. Some of the most ferocious of jungle beasts go a big act on a steel arena. Nothing to compare with it was ever before seen in America.

UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION

Benefort Union Sunday School Brought Good Crowd to City To-day

This morning an excursion was brought to the city by the steamer Monarch, under the auspices of the Union Sunday school of Benefort. A good crowd was on board the steamer, which went over the lift lock and for a trip up the canal as far as Nassau.

Mr. John Riddell, who was for a number of years before his removal to the city, the superintendent of the school, met the excursion at the Locks, and went on the trip over the Lift Lock with them.

The steamer returned to the city during the afternoon and spent a few hours here before leaving for home.

ANNUAL EXCURSION OF MARK STREET SCHOOL

Will be Run on July 9th to Gore's Landing by the Steamer Monarch

At a meeting of the Sunday school Committee of the Mark street Methodist Sunday school, held last night it was decided to hold the annual excursion on Tuesday, July 9, to Gore's Landing, and the steamer Monarch has been engaged for the day. The usual good programme of games will be provided.

Fastidious people prefer York Sparks (sparkling York Springs Water) for its known absolute purity. Women like it at dinner, because it quenches thirst and improves digestion, yet quite lacks the metalic flavor of imported waters. It blends most perfectly with spirits, and adds zest to summer drinks. Try

FIRE BRIGADE HAD GOOD DRILL

Engine Tested at the River—Jumping Into the Net Was Very Interesting

MR. M. C. TOOLEY A HERO

Mr. M. C. Tooley, the proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, was the hero of the fire brigade's net drill last night. A large crowd had gathered in front of the fire hall, and waited in breathless expectation, while the firemen spread the life net below the windows. There was no one apparently willing to make the first leap from the second story window. One of the firemen got out on the sill, and, after regarding the net for some moments, decided that he would walk down stairs. Mr. Tooley was in the crowd and he volunteered to make the leap for life. By this time the excitement was intense. The big hotel man climbed out of the window, and, without a moment's hesitation, his pounds crashed down into the waiting net, held by six firemen. For a movement the pavement seemed to be the only thing that would stop his fall, but the firemen held him up when within a few inches of the concrete. The exploit was greeted with a round of cheers from the crowd, to which the hero duly bowed his acknowledgments.

The ice once broken, the members of the brigade joined in the fun, and the practice was found most amusing by the crowd. Ald. Morgan, in response to a dare from the spectators, made the leap in safety.

The experiment was sufficient to show that the net will answer the purpose for which it was purchased in the case of a serious fire.

Earlier in the evening the brigade had a most successful "wet drill" at the Quaker Oats Company's buildings. A double stream was attached to the nearest hydrant in the first place and the water was thrown as high as the cupola of the building. Then the engine was tried, and it was found possible to throw a stream forty feet over the top of the building. This is regarded as most satisfactory by the chief, and the members of the brigade.

The drill attracted a large crowd who apparently found the manoeuvres decidedly interesting.

A NEW WHARF AT IDYL WYLD

Will Greatly Facilitate Navigation at That Point—Will Soon be Ready for Opening

Steamboats calling at Idyl Wild this season will find navigation at the wharf there greatly improved, after the completion of the new wharf now under construction at the island. The Department of Railways and Canals is building this wharf, and it is expected that it will be ready to be officially opened in a short time. Idyl Wild is in the constituency represented in the House of Commons by Mr. J. B. McColl, M. P., and on his recommendation the new work was decided on. It is being built under the direction of the local officials of the canal.

Put the Blood In Condition

BY THE RESTORATIVE BLOOD-FORMING PROPERTIES OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is weakness that causes most of our sufferings — weakness of the heart, weakness of the stomach, weakness of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

The result is feeling of langour and depression, and impaired action of the vital organs, headaches, indigestion, spells of dizziness and weakness, sleeplessness, irritability, and a general rundown condition of the system.

Put the blood in good condition by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you have a foundation for health to build on. Weakness and disease will give way to new strength and vigor, and angour and discouragement will yield to ne hope and happiness.

Mr. Fergus Conn, Lily Oak, Ont., writes:—"As a result of the severe winter and an attack of la grippe, I was all run down this spring. I soon improved very much by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. My appetite is better than it has been for years, and though sixty years of age I am able to do a man's work on the farm following a team. I believe that I owe my good health to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Mrs Geo. Rattie, Carr's Brook, Colchester Co., N.S., writes: — "Last spring I was very much run down, felt tired all the time and did not seem to have life or energy enough to do my work. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food did me a world of good and made work a pleasure to me. I have not had occasion to use any medicine since, and have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all my friends.

"We always keep Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house to be used for constipation, pains in the back and stomach troubles."

By means of good blood only can Nature make weak people strong, and Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the most powerful blood-forming elements known to medical science. Every dose is bound to be of some benefit to you; 50 cents a box, at all dealers. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 10

MINSTRELS AGAIN ENJOYED

Second Night's Programme Was Thoroughly Appreciated by the Audience

SOME NEW FEATURES

The attendance at the second performance of the Amateur Minstrels last night in the Grand opera house, was not as large as the excellence of the programme deserved. There was ample evidence, however, that the audience warmly appreciated the work of the performers. The programme last night was given with more smoothness than was evidenced on the first night, and a number of new features were introduced and added to its effectiveness.

It is unfortunate for the sake of the cause, for which the entertainment was arranged, as well as for those who have spent so much time in its preparation that their efforts were not more fully appreciated by the citizens, as a whole.

The entertainment was one deserving of the highest commendation and it was somewhat of a revelation that amateurs could give a programme combining so many excellent features.

The musical numbers again last night proved popular with the audience, each singer being warmly encored, while the work of the two dancing boys was again a pleasing feature.

The Examiner is informed that the harmonized chorus work, as well as the excellent quartette settings of the various songs used at the two concerts, were arranged specially by Prof. Alfred Davies. The effect produced in these numbers was most delightful, and Mr. Davies is to be commended in his efforts to beautify the various programme numbers.

TWENTY-TWO STITCHES NECESSARY

Mr. Mat Armstrong, Eureka, Cal., Recovered From Effects of Stabbing

The many friends in the city of Mr. Mat Armstrong, of Eureka, Cal., will be glad to learn of his recovery from the effects of a stabbing affray in that city some time ago, in which he was the unfortunate victim. In a recent letter to friends here he states that it necessitated 22 stitches in his neck before the wound was closed, but that he is now out of the hospital there and that he has now almost regained his former strength.

Mr. Armstrong hinted at coming back east and that he might probably be renewing old acquaintances in Peterborough in the near future. This will be welcome news to many here and particularly to the Quaker football team of which he was a prominent members last year.

CONTRACTOR CONROY TELLS ABOUT CARS

They Were Bought For Less Than $50 for Junk and Yet $600 is Withheld From Contract

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have noticed in your paper quite a discussion regarding the fulfillment of my contract with the town for dumping dredgings on the town property.

I thought a little explanation might enlighten the Mayor and the Chairman of the Board of Works, who from their actions show a decided lack of knowledge concerning the existing circumstances.

When I entered into an agreement with the town to fill in their property with the dredgings from the river bed, they agreed to let me have the use of the old cars that were then on the work. Now the history of those old cars is as follows:—

They were bought by Corry & Laverdure eight years ago. They were used for six years in building the lift lock. Mr. Geo. Stevens then bought them for junk for a paltry sum of less than $50.00. They were again used for a season north of Hunter street bridge. Then by Mr. Meldrum and the city, before I came into possession of them. I then used them for four months, and Mr. Meldrum again used them for about two months.

You can imagine the condition of those old cars, during all the time that I used them on my contract, and the expense I was put to in keeping them in repair.

Now, what degree of legal talent must Mayor McWilliams possess, when he, foolishly, tries to withhold the balance due me of over $600.00 for the purpose of trying to make me replace new cars for this mass of junk?

Thanking you for this space, I remain,

Yours truly,
D. CONROY.

Peterborough, June 13.

PLEASED WITH WORK OF THE BRIGADE

Peter Hamilton Company Sends Cheque for $15.00 to Secretary of Fire Brigade

That the work of the fire brigade in the recent fire in the works of the Peter Hamilton Company, Limited, was satisfactory to that firm, and that it is appreciated, is evidenced by a letter sent to the secretary of the brigade by the company. Fifteen dollars is sent in payment for the services of the men who remained at the fire all night and watched the building. The letter received by the secretary is as follows:

John Gibbs, Jr.,
Secretary, Peterborough Fire Brigade, Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—We have your favour of the 8th, and enclose you herewith a cheque for $15, as requested. We would also ask you to convey to the the officers and men of the Peterborough Fire Brigade our thanks for the very efficient way in which they handled our recent fire. We quite agree with what Mr. Corey, the insurance adjuster, who adjusted our loss said, namely, that he did not think that any brigade in Toronto or elsewhere could have handled the fire any better than your brigade did.

Again thanking you, we remain,
Yours truly,
Peter Hamilton Co., Limited.
Jas. Hamilton,
Secretary.

SHUNTING CARS BROKE HOGS' LEGS

So States Mr. Stabler—Three Said to Have Suffered Last Night

Mr. Wm. A. Stabler, live stock dealer, stated to the Examiner to-day that as a result of some heavy shunting of cars laden with hogs, near the C.P.R. station last night, three of the animals had their legs broken. This morning when they were taken from the cars they were unable to walk. Mr. Stabler also stated that once, when two cars suddenly came together, the hogs were all shunted into the front half of the car.

WALL PAPER SALE

Up-to-Date Wall Papers Selling at Half-Price

A great many have availed themselves of our clearing sale of Wall Papers to secure new papers for one, two or three rooms. Bright, handsome papers for halls, dining rooms, parlors, bed rooms and dens, in designs that have proven throughout the spring season to be among the most popular we have shown.

Figure it out—

And see how little it costs to paper a large room. Suppose your room is 14 feet square by 8 feet high, it would take 12 rolls of wall paper, 7 rolls of ceiling and 2 rolls of 9 in. border—21 rolls in all. Now if you bought one of our special 10c papers the half-cost would be only $1.05. Our assortment is complete from 6c. per roll up, Border same as paper—sold by the roll. Clearing all small and broken lots—large enough for one room only.

Remnant Wall Papers

The remnants around a wall paper store this time of the year are designs that have been swift sellers and come down to one room lots, at least this is the way we come to be advertising good remnant wall paper.

The Port Hope Guide says:

Herbert Brown, youngest son of Mr. William Brown, residing about two miles west of Carmel, met with a fatal accident on Monday last. One of the sills broke and the unfortunate young fellow was crushed to death. Deceased was 30 years of age and unmarried.

Fire, Water and Light Committe Will Decide Upon Location of Lights

The Fire, Water and Light Committee will make a tour of the city to-night for the purpose of deciding upon the best locations for street lights. ## THE MOULDERS TO VISIT COBOURG AGAIN

Practically Decided that this Town Will Be Objective Point of Annual Excursion.

It is expected that the Peterborough moulders will run their annual excursion this year to Cobourg again. An invitation has been received from the Mayor of that town, asking that they make that town the objective point of their trip this year again. The moulders enjoyed their former visits to the lake town so much that it has been practically decided to go there again. The date has not been settled upon yet but it is probable that in the course of a short time it will be announced.

MILE AND A HALF OF PAVEMENT LAID

Foreman Thirnbeck's Gang Has Made Rapid Progress in East City

The city's sidewalk laying gang, with the exception of a few short stretches, has finished its work in East City for the season. The work has been carried forward very rapidly under the supervision of Foreman John Thirnbeck, who has not only accomplished rapid but good work. Since the gang commenced operations this season, a mile and a half of concrete sidewalk has been laid in East City, which comes very near to constituting a record. The only sections left undone are cases in which the residents on the street cannot agree whether they want the pavement inside or outside the tree line.

BAND WILL MEET THE VISITING MOULDERS

Preparations to Receive the Excursionists on Thursday Next From Port Hope and Cobourg

On the occasion of the visit of the Cobourg and Port Hope moulders to Peterborough on June 20th—a week from to-day—the local moulders will receive their brother tradesmen in a royal fashion. The band has been engaged, and will meet the visitors at the station, and a deputation from the Moulders' Union here will welcome them to the city. On the occasion of the Peterborough moulders' visit to Cobourg they were entertained in a most hospitable manner and they will try and show their last year's entertainers, when they are here that they appreciated it.

The feature of the day will be a baseball game with the Port Hope team. It will be played at the Riverside Park.

A GRATEFUL MOTHER'S MESSAGE

Zam-Buk Cured Her Child of Eczema When All Else Failed

In gratitude for the great benefit her child received from the use of Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm, Mrs. R. Gentleman, of 1090 St. James street, Montreal, gave the following details for publication. She says:—"My little daughter, Lydia (2 years), was troubled with eczema on her body and face for six months. During that time we tried several advertised remedies, but the disease had too well hold of the child for these to overcome, and finally we were obliged to consult a doctor. He treated the little one some time and gave us prescriptions for various salves and medicines. We tried them, and tried them well, but the child got no better. When she got warm the itching was terrible, and then the pain made her cry and be very restless. One day somebody strongly advised me to try Zam-Buk. We obtained a supply, and it was really wonderful how the Zam-Buk cooled the sores and gave almost instant relief. It stopped the itching, healed the sores and in six weeks from first commencing it the child's skin was as smooth as when born.

Zam-Buk is compounded from rich, healing, herbal essences, and is an ideal natural combination of power and purity, suitable for the delicate skins of infants.

For summer skin troubles, sore feet, insect stings, chafing sores, bruises, ulcers, abscesses, skin eruptions, scalp sores, Zam-Buk is unequalled. It also cures piles. All druggists and stores at 50c a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

Will Give Reports

At the meeting of the Chosen Friends to be held to-morrow night in the S.O.E. Hall, Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. Anderson, who were delegates to the Grand Council meeting, will present their reports. A full attendance of the members is desired.

BIG CROWD AT TH PARK

Many People Spent the Evening in That Beautiful Spot

The warm weather and the opening of new amusements had the effect of attracting a big crowd to Jackson Park last night and the evening was most pleasantly spent in the shadow of the pines. The band played an enjoyable programme, their music being greatly enjoyed. The Colosseum with its moving pictures and illustrated songs was a popular feature that was well patronized during the evening. The restaurant was also open, much to the satisfaction of the patrons of the Park, and Mr. Hooper's staff was kept busy in serving frozen delicacies. The street car service was all that could be desired.

DOUBLE QUICK SELLING OF DRESS FABRICS

AT this Cut Price Sale we will sell Dress Fabrics faster than ever before. Now if you know how busy our former sales have been, you will understand how strong this headline assertion is, and what it implies. And even now we consider the claim a very mild one. We would still speak conservatively if we put the announcement more strongly before our readers.

Lower prices have never been attached to fabrics so desirable and seasonable. Nowhere can you duplicate our sale offerings for less than one-fourth more. We wish you would try to duplicate them. If you are the least sceptical, failure would convince you of the true merit of these sales.

The items of Wool and Cotton Dress Materials tell of fabrics of up-to-the-moment fashionableness—plain, fancy and mixed effects. New weaves, new colors, and at a wide range of prices—All Reduced.

Alleged Egg Thief Is Brought From Belleville

Mr. Geo. Cochrane Arrested John Donnelly at Belleville for Offence Said to Have Been Committed in Otonabee.

HAD AN ACCOMPLICE

Yesterday, John Donnelly, who is wanted in Peterborough on a charge of having stolen 200 eggs from Mrs. Manley in Otonabee some months ago, was arrested in Belleville by Mr. Geo. Cochrane, High County Constable, and brought to this city, where he will be up before the County Police Magistrate to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. He will be remanded to-morrow for a week, it is expected. The facts of the case have already been recorded. It appears that Donnelly and a chum, who has since disappeared, went to Mrs. Manley's home with a democrat wagon, representing that they were selling varnish and buying eggs. Mrs. Manley told them that she did not want to buy the varnish, but they insisted on varnishing at least one chair to give a demonstration of its alleged good qualities. While one of them did the varnishing the other visited the hen house and took the 200 eggs from under sitting hens, and the two drove hurriedly off.

Mrs. Manley soon discovered her loss and reported it to the police, and in the meantime the two men tried to dispose of the eggs. They first offered them for sale in Keene, but it is understood that they were unsuccessful, the dealer there refusing to take them. It is not believed that they sold them at all, though Donnelly stated to Mr. Cochrane yesterday that the other fellow, whom he accuses of stealing them, sold the eggs to a local dealer.

Most Successful Summer School At Chemong Park

Elaborate Preparations Being Made For a Large Attendance of Young People of Methodist Church.

FROM JULY 2ND TO 7TH

In the early part of July the Methodists of the Bay of Quinte Conference will hold a Summer School at Chemong Park. It will be attended largely by the Young People of the Epworth Leagues and Sunday schools, in the Conference, for whom it is especially designed. This week's Christian Guardian makes the following announcement in reference to it:—

The Conference Summer School will be held this year at Chemong Park, near Peterborough, (a Union School,) and is known as the Kawartha Lakes Summer School, date, July 2nd to 7th. This beautiful summer resort has been secured with all accommodation for all who may attend. Rates at the Park Hotel are $5 for the school term, or $1.00 day, or a limited number can get board and lodging in the village of Bridgenorth near by, for $3.50. Accommodation may be reserved by writing Rev. C. E. Cragg, B.D., Manilla, Business Secretary. A strong programme for the school is arranged for. Some of the teachers and speakers are: Rev. R. Emberson, Japan; Rev. Dr. W. F. Adams, China; Prof. J. F. McLaughlin; Rev. Eber Crummy, D.D.; Mr. Thomas Keough, Toronto; Rev. Geo. Bishop, D.D.; Rev. W. G. Clarke, B.A., B. D.; Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K.C.; Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D., and others from this Conference.

The best school ever held within the bounds of the Conference is confidently expected. Convention rates will be given on all railways and on the lake boats. The Rev. A. H. Foster, Smithfield, Ont., who is Programme Secretary, will send out the school booklets about the middle of June to each pastor and each league. Every League and Sunday school should send a delegate, though all are welcome. Motor car or bus will meet all trains at Peterborough and convey all delegates to Chemong with their luggage for 25 cents. Write the secretaries for all information.

Home Heathen Hardest To Bring The Gospel To

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Gave Address on Subject of Missions at Synod Meeting in Toronto Yesterday.

INTERCHANGE OF PULPITS

The claims of the country rector were championed at the meeting of the synod yesterday by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who spoke on the question of missions, and contended that there were heathen at home as well as those abroad, and those at home were the most difficult of reaching. The Mail and Empire, reporting Mr. Langfeldt's address, says:

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, made a special plea for the country clergyman. While he admitted the heroism of the missionaries who went to the far North and to foreign lands, he maintained that there was none greater than the man who went along the back concession lines, and none met with greater discouragements. He advocated the establishment of some scheme of promotion by which the man doing the hard work would be assured of a share of the good things of life and would not be compelled to stay in a difficult charge all his life. He favoured the establishment of a system of interchange of parishes. The country ministers were just as good as those in the city churches, but their wives had to undergo things that women in the city would not stand. He appealed for the building of houses for the clergy and asked for more money for the home field, saying that as the city congregations were largely recruited from the country parishes, it was to their advantage to have the youth so trained that they would become good citizens.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—In connection with the Minstrel Show I would like to express to the management my appreciation of the orchestra which is of the strength that ought to be engaged for the year as their work was excellent and a pleasing feature of the performance. Their playing was efficient and in quantity was not stinted. It is to be hoped that on future occasions the patrons of the Grang may have the pleasure of hearing a full orchestra.

Yours truly,
GRATIA.

LEAD DEPOSITS IN GALWAY TOWNSHIP

Mr. Peck Brings Home Samples of the Ore—Visiting Timber Limits

Mr. E. A. Peck who recently returned from Galway township where he spent a few days in the interests of the A. McDonald estate, brought with him some good samples of lead deposits which he found in his travels. Mr. Peck also states that a number of prospectors are working near Kinmount on what they consider to be silver deposits and that the residents of that township have sanguine hopes of Galway becoming a mining centre.

Mr. Peck drove over the limits which consist of 49 square miles—half the area of the township. He had a pleasant trip and expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the exhilarating atmosphere in the northern part of the county.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

BISHOP O'CONNOR'S GREETINGS

Were Sent to the Catholic Foresters Convention at Chatham Yesterday

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE

Chatham, June 12.—The feature of the Convention of Catholic Foresters to-day was a deluge of telegrams of congratulation and felicitation received from various sources. Yesterday afternoon one was received from Bishop Mac Donell of Alexandria, while this morning words of cheer were received from Rev. A. J. Savage of St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton; Bishop McEvay, Philip McKeuni, Gustave Keller, G. M. Legaillieur, J. O. Routhier, R. A. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough, and J. G. Warnock, Pembroke.

During the morning session committee reports continued to be received and voted on. A main point this morning was the resolution dealing with the election of the Investment Committee by the High Court, which becomes necessary in view of the immense reserve fund. The resolution was that the Investment Committee should be elected by delegates to the International Convention and that they should hold office for two years, re-election being possible.

Another resolution was for legislation to leave the control of the sick benefit fund of the province absolutely in the hands of the Provincial Court.

In the afternoon the supplementary report of the Constitution Committee was read, in which they recommended that the convention take up the matter of increased rates and make a recommendation on the subject to be laid before the International Convention to be held in St. Paul in August.

OBITUARY.

JAMES TWOMEY

After a lingering illness, James Twomey passed away this morning at his residence, 315 Murray street, at the ripe old age of 80 years. The deceased was highly respected in the township of Ennismore, where for a long time he was influential in its general municipal affairs.

The late Mr. Twomey was born in Ireland, and coming to Canada, soon settled in Ennismore, where he had resided for fifty years. During the past eighteen years he had lived in Peterborough.

Shortly after coming to this country he married Margaret Doherty, who predeceased him five years ago. The children who survive him are Thomas and Maurice of Emily, Timothy of Peterborough, Sister Veronica in the Convent at Port Arthur, Mrs. Michael Cavanaugh and Mrs. P. J. Scollard, Ennismore, and Miss Mary at home.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 7.30, from the family residence, Murray street, to St. Martin's church, Ennismore, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

A LARGE BARN FRAME ERECTED IN OTONABEE

Several Peterborough friends of Mr. Thos. Hefferman, Otonabee, attended an important event at his farm yesterday, it being the occasion of the raising of the frame of a barn 60x40 feet. The work was very successfully accomplished before dark, and was followed by a pleasant evening spent in games and dancing. Among those from Peterborough were Mr. and Mrs. David Flynn.

THE SECRET OF PERFECT HEALTH.

It used to be the general idea that there was some mystery about getting well and staying well. Sellers of quack nostrums took advantage of this fact and grew rich. We are growing wiser, however, and know that good food, fresh air and cleanliness are all that are required. Cleanliness, however, means that you must be clean inside as well as outside. If your kidneys, liver and bowels are not properly performing their functions, they are accumulating a mass of filth, as a result of your violation of some natural law, and you must assist nature in nature's way to cleanse the system. No necessity, however, to risk using some secret preparation. You can obtain a perfect compound of vegetable remedies, everyone of which is endorsed by your physician. The formula of King Palmetto Compound is printed plainly on the wrapper. No secret, no mystery, just plain common sense. King Palmetto Compound will regulate the liver, bowels and kidneys, tone the system and prevent serious results which might arise from neglect. Give it a trial. Write for a free sample bottle to the King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

Sold and guaranteed by McDermid & Jury, druggists.

CONSTABLE FROM OMEMEE IN THE CITY

John English Arrested This Afternoon —Will be Taken to Omemee

John English of Omemee was arrested this afternoon by County Constable Mitchell of Victoria County for not having paid his fine that was made against him some time ago by F. D. Moore, County Magistrate. English, it seems, was arrested for a breach of the fishing laws several months ago and should have paid a fine of ten dollars and three dollars and sixty cents costs. He has been working of late in one of the city's manufacturing houses, and was arrested this afternoon by P. C. McDonald and Constable Mitchell.

TORONTO MURDER CASE.

Boyd Claims He Shot Man in Self-Defence.

Toronto, June 13.—Self-defence is the plea which T. C. Robinette, K. C., will urge on behalf of John Boyd, who shot Edward Wandle Tuesday afternoon.

Boyd says he went to the restaurant in the morning in search of the woman with whom he had been living. He had heard that a tall colored man, who kept a restaurant on York street, had called for her on a bicycle at her "boarding house" to "fix some clothes" for him. Boyd asked civilly for the woman, and says Wandle told him he did not want him round, struck him with a billy, and threw him into the street. Being afraid, he then purchased the revolver.

Later he walked north on York street to get a shirt. Suddenly, as he was passing Wandle's, he received "two bings on the head." Wandle grabbed him by the vest and shirt, tearing them, and jerked him into the restaurant, saying, "Now, I've got you!"

Wandle, he says, kept on pounding him with the billy, and jerked him into the hallway. Then Boyd fired two shots at random and turned to run, but was swung back toward the stairway, up which he fled, followed by Wandle. He went on down the hall, searching for a room in which to hide.

Wandle disappeared, and Boyd went up the hall to Mrs. Isaac's room. The inner partition looked like a good cover, and he entered, when Wandle appeared from behind the partition and struck him over the head with a chair. The revolver being still in his hand, he fired blindly, and fled.

"Mrs." Boyd, a decrepit woman of about 50, declared that a week ago, the negro gave her an awful beating, and threatened to shoot her with a revolver he then had.

PINNED BENEATH GIRDER.

Workman Crushed to Death Under Eight Tons of Iron.

Toronto, June 13.—A misplaced roller caused fatal injury to Charles McGinnis, at a new Hyslop building here yesterday.

McGinnis, with fourteen other men, was moving an 8-ton concrete girder. It tilted and fell across his abdomen, crushing his legs to a pulp.

A heavy block and tackle was necessary to move the beam, and ten minutes elapsed before McGinnis could be taken away. He was conscious all the time. He died at St. Michael's Hospital.

McGinnis was 32 years of age, and leaves a widow.

DROWNING FATALITIES.

Three Perish At Twin Chutes—Two Englishmen In Montreal River.

Cobalt, June 13.—A. E. Hogue, managing engineer, and H. B. Munroe, a Cobalt broker, returned yesterday after a hard trip to Lake Abitibi.

They report the death by drowning at Twin Chutes, on Lake Abitibi, of three men, named Thorpe, Crerar and Blundell. Thorpe was the assayer at the Mosher Camp, near Beaderman's Narrows.

A report has also reached Cobalt that two Englishmen were drowned Tuesday in Montreal River. A third one was saved.

London, June 13.—(C.A.P.)—A Melbourne despatch says the Attorney-General is considering legislation to remove the anomaly of the high court and privy council being the ultimate and final courts of appeal on questions arising between the Commonwealth and the states.

SUNSHINE FURNACE
UNBREAKABLE FIRE-POT
The lower portion of a fire-pot is usually nearly or partly filled with dead ashes, leaving the live, red-hot coals in the upper part. The result is that the upper portion expands much more than the lower.

This uneven expansion causes a strain too great for a one-piece fire-pot to stand. Sooner or later it will split, allowing precious heat and sickening gases to escape.
But the fire-pot of the Sunshine is constructed to meet this condition. It is in two sections. The upper half expands, as much as necessary, independently of the lower. When cool, it contracts back to its original size, fitting to the lower half perfectly.
And this strong, unbreakable, gas and heat-tight, two-piece fire-pot is just one of the many superior features of the Sunshine.

The West Ends and Karenots are tied for the leadership of the Intermediate City Baseball League, with three victories each. Last night the second half of the game between the West Ends and Lillies was played, the score at the end of three innings being a tie, one run each, which gives the West Enders the game by a score of 9-6. ## MILLBROOK WILL PLAY HERE TO-NIGHT

First Lacrosse Game of the Season This Evening

The first local lacrosse game of the season, will be played to-night at the Riverside Park when the Millbrook team will meet the local junior C.L.A. twelve.

The game will be called at 6.45 there should be a big crowd on hand to see the juniors perform and to give them a good start for the season. Expenses have been heavy, and so far there have been no receipts so that a good gate to-night would be very welcome to the management. The Millbrook team succeeded in defeating the Shamrocks by a small score on May 24th, but the locals are confident of reversing the score to-night. At any rate the game should be a good one. The teams appeared to be very evenly matched on the the holiday, and there will be few changes on the line-up to-night.

BOWLING

There were four games played yesterday evening, but the scores were not handed in. Players are requested to leave a record of each game on the paper provided for that purpose in the club house.

The lawn is now in the best condition that it has ever been in and the lamps are all in, and it is expected that the games will hum for the balance of the season.

Two rinks from Millbrook are coming up this evening for a game, so that those who wish to play should be on hand.

BASEBALL

The Young Lillies and All Saints' played the return game on the latter's field, in which All Saints' were the winners by the one-sided score of 29-8. Tovey's pitching was the feature for the winners, and the losers could not solve his curves for the losers, Shephard's batting was good. Batteries — For the winners, Layfield and Tovey; for the losers, Cunoinnon and Dayner.

ANOTHER YOUNG MAN FINED A FIVER

Busy Half Hour at the Police Court This Morning—Money Collected

The city's treasury was strengthened somewhat this morning by a string of fines for minor offences. A young man who was in company with Vincent Elliott, on Sunday night, when they tried to force their attentions upon Miss Mabel and Miss Hattie Whitely, as the latter were on their way home from church, was first called. The young men were handed a juicy lemon by the girls, but it remained for Magistrate Dumble to give them their due deserts. Elliott was fined $5 yesterday, and his chum brought the same sum to court this morning, and was gently relieved of it. The young man to-day said that he did not assault the girls, nor did he even act rudely towards them. His Worship replied that he did not act as a gentleman and try to stop the boys whom he was with, but encouraged them by his silent approval. This may serve as an example and a warning to other smart youths who imagine that the girls are "just crazy about them," and have the audacity to insult decent girls and young ladies who may be compelled to walk unaccompanied on the streets.

Jack Oldham was charged with not having procured a tag for his dog. He pleaded not guilty, and said that he had procured a tag every year. Mr. Armstrong happened to be present, and Mr. Dunnole asked him when Mr. Oldham had purchased his tag. Mr. Armstrong laughingly replied: "This morning." "Two dollars and sixty cents," said the Magistrate, who explained that there are people who try to evade the law until the police get after them and then they are willing to pay. His Worship believed that constant reminders should be sufficient and when people did not pay attention they should suffer the consequences of their neglect.

William Morrow was also taxed $2.60 on the same charge. A man by the name of Roberts was fined $4.60 for not having bought a tag at all. There are more people who are booked to appear before the court on this charge and they might as well bring along a five dollar bill with them as there will be but little left of it when the law has been appeased.

Yesterday afternoon John Simpson was seen on the streets with a lovely jag on. He was having a jolly time as he bumped along from store to store and making a general nuisance of himself. He pleaded guilty to having been drunk in a public place and was fine $2 to be paid forthwith. Simpson produced the greenbacks and mournfully said good-bye to two of them.

CORDAGE COMPANY WINS SUIT

Leamington Man Must Pay $514.00 for Goods Bought, But Which He Claimed Were Inferior.

THE GOODS FOUND PERFECT

Last night judgment was given in the County Court in the case of Canadian Cordage Company against Thos. McGinnis, of Leamington. In this suit the Cordage Company claimed $514 for a bill of goods, bought from them by the defendant. In the statement of defence it was charged that the abole bought was not properly made and inferior in quality. The evidence in this case was heard in court yesterday afternoon a large number of witnesses being called and the merits and demerits of rope and cables and the process of manufacture gone into in detail by expert witnesses for both sides. The addresses of the counsel in the case took up the evening session of the court. Judgment was given in favour of the Company for $514, the court finding that the workmanship and material satisfied the warranties, and that the quality of the goods supplied was equal to any that could have been made. From samples of the rope produced in the court it was found that the strands were full length, and that the material and workmanship were all that could be expected.

The Canadian Cordage Company was represented by Mr. S T Medd, and Mr. A T Boles, of Leamington, represented the other side.

Fewer Books Read

The Lindsay Post says: The fact that there has been a falling off in the borrowing of books from the Public Library for May from the number borrowed in the same month last year, is one that will arrest the attention of many. The circulation for May, 1907, was 1940, and for May, 1906, 1788. The books for juveniles is where the falling off in the circulation occurs. Either the books at present on the shelves have been universally read, or the children are losing interest in the reading of them.

An Explanation

Mr. Mathew McMahon, whose experience with two men on his way home a few nights ago was recorded in the Examiner wishes to make a statement in connection with the matter. As a matter of fact he knew the two men, and did not make the remark, as alleged, that they were rough looking. He was not ill-treated by them, nor was he chased, as the report was at first circulated.

MODIFICATION OF THE SYSTEM

Inspector Crowley Has Recommendations to Make Concerning Continuation Classes

The total abolition of the present system of graded continuation classes, and the creation of but one type of class at school, is recommended by Government Inspector Cowley, in his report to the Minister of Education, which was issued yesterday.

He also holds that there should be at least one perfectly qualified teacher devoting the whole time to pupils who have passed the Entrance or equivalent examination.

Mr. Cowley also suggests the establishment of a new examination, having the standing of a senior Entrance examination, the certificate admitting the holder to the middle school and serving also as a district certificate in the districts where such is still necessary.

Mr. Cowley's recommendations will have the careful consideration of the Department. The fact, however, that its policy is towards the reduction of examinations, and the eventual discontinuance of the district certificate, may cause some revision prior to their adoption.

The grant for continuation classes has this year been increased from $32,000 to $40,000, and the County Council will be asked to increase their grant in proportion.

WANT MILK TESTS PUBLISHED

Trades and Labour Council Take This Position—Ald. McIntyre Comes In For Censure

THE GARBAGE BY-LAW

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labour Council was held last evening in the Labour Hall, with President Alexander in the chair and a good attendance of members.

Delegate's Report

Mr. T. J. Bagley, who represented the Council at the Labour Educational Association Convention in Hamilton, presented his report of this highly successful gathering. He also urged upon the meeting the necessity of supporting the new labour paper soon to be issued in Toronto, and distributed to the members copies of the Industrial Banner.

Milk Inspection

The chairman of the Legislative Committee reported in reference to the milk inspection by-law. The committee felt that it was an injustice to the ratepayers, in not having the results of the milk tests published. The Trades and Labour Council claimed credit for the introduction of this measure, and it was claimed that without the publication of the results of the tests the by-law was ineffective. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the City Clerk and ascertain why the results of the milk tests are not published, and also suggest the advisability of enacting legislation towards having the butter inspected which is offered for sale on the city market.

Day Labour System

This committee also reported regarding the satisfaction given by the day labour system on city work. The city aldermen were scored for their opposition to this system, and Ald. McIntyre, who, it was alleged, claimed to be a staunch supporter of the day labour system, came in for some hard raps for voting, as a speaker said, against his convictions.

The Garbage Bylaw

The proposed garbage bylaw came up for consideration during the evening, and the opinion was freely expressed that if the Sanitary Inspector did his duty and enforced the sanitary legislation at present on the statute books, there would be no necessity for any further legislation. The consensus of opinion seemed to be unfavourable to the bylaw, but no direct action was taken, the matter being left over for further consideration.

Assessment Question

The assessment request of the Colonial Weaving Co. came up for consideration, and, while no decided stand was taken in opposition to the request, the City Council was condemned for over-riding the verdict of the ratepayers, who recently voted down a fixed assessment proposition at the polls. The City Council afterwards sought and secured legislation at Toronto to grant the request of the company interested, and established a precendent which would cause trouble in the future.

Trades Union Revival

A proposition was submitted last evening, and which was accepted with considerable enthusiasm, which has for its object the organization of unorganised labour in the city. The members entered heartily into the scheme and it is expected that in the course of a few months a trades union revival will be in full swing. The members were instructed to boom the proposition, and at the next meeting of the Trades and Labour Council definite action will be taken.

During the evening several hundred Typographical Union label stickers were distributed to the members present.

SOME FEATURES OF CONFERENCE

Rev. J. G. Lewis States That in Some Respects the Recent Bay of Quinte Conference Was Most Successful Ever Held

PRAISE FOR THE PRESIDENT

Rev. J G Lewis, pastor of the Mark street Methodist Church returned last night from Bowmanville where he had been attending the Bay of Quinte Conference, which closed on Tuesday. Mr. Lewis stated to-day to the Examiner that the Conference was in every way a success; the attendance of ministers was fully up to the usual number and there was also a good number of laymen present.

The special feature of interest in the Conference was the unusual excellence of the evening meetings. The speakers obtained, were the best possible in their respective fields, and their addresses gave delight to all who heard them.

For this feature special credit is due Rev. J. J. Rae, the retiring president of the Conference who had much to do with the arrangement of the evening meetings' programmes.

Mr. Lewis is this year the assistant secretary of the Conference, and, with the duties attached to that office and as a member of the Stationing Committee and President of the Theological Union he was a very busy man during the ten days of Conference. Mr. Lewis will leave in about three weeks for Picton, to assume his new pastorate.

Three Thousand Converts In Five Weeks' Visit

This is the Record of General Booth in Japan, From Which Kingdom He Has Just Returned.

IN QUEBEC LAST NIGHT

Examiner Special.

Montreal, June 14.—Three thousand converts to Christianity in five weeks is the record claimed by General Booth, as a result of his tour of Japan, from which he has just returned. He takes this result as a denial of the statement that the Japanese are an unemotional people and hard to reach by Christian teaching.

The head of the Salvation Army arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on his way home to England from the Orient, and was given an enthusiastic reception at the Windsor Station by the principal officers of the Army in Canada, who had gathered for that purpose.

The General was only in the city a short time, going out again during the afternoon to Quebec, where last night he was tendered a demonstration. This was the first meeting he had held in the ancient capital during this tour, and elaborate preparations had been made for his reception.

Commissioner Nicol, Col. Higgins and Brigadier Cox, the officers who accompanied the General to Japan, spoke in the most glowing terms of the condition and prospects of the Army in Japan. The General, they said, has been received in the most gracious manner by the Emperor of Japan and the leading nobles of the court. He had heart to heart talks with Field Marshal Oyama and Admiral Togo, and addressed large gatherings of the Japanese students and educated classes.

The Army has been placed on a basis in the Flowery Kingdom that augurs well, say these officers, for the conversion of the Japanese masses to Christianity. While in Japan the General appointed Commissioner Estelle to be head of the Army in the Far East.

Hundreds of Buddhists, of Shintoists, and persons of no religion rushed to the penitent form, fell prostrate on the ground, and called upon God to save their souls.

The General believes that there has been nothing quite like this Japanese mission in the present generation. In importance it ranks with the great revivals of old times.

Another Attempt Made; An Old Man Assaulted

Mr. Washington Morse, 91 Years of Age, Was Seized by the Throat by Unknown Man—Frightened Him Off With Cane.

AN ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY

That some decidedly bad characters are attempting operations in the city is becoming alarmingly evident, and every day a fresh case of lawlessness is in evidence.

This morning Mr. Washington Morse called at this office and reported that last night he was assaulted by a man, whose evident intention was to rob him. Mr. Morse, who boards in the north end of the city, was going north on George street about 10 o'clock.

At the corner of London street he met a man coming south, and, without a word, the stranger jumped at Mr. Morse and seized him by the throat. Mr. Morse, who is 91 years of age, but who is as active and vigourous as a man many years younger, brandished his cane and swung it around, with the intention of clubbing his assailant. With that the man let go his hold, and disappeared. He made no demand for money, but his intention undoubtedly was to rob him.

Mr. Morse gives the credit of his escape from being robbed to his cane. The assailant, he states, was a man of about five feet six inches, with sandy complexion.

BLAIRTON RESIDENTS SAW THEIR HOME CONSUMED

Examiner Special.

Havelock, June 14.—Mr. Althouse, of Blairton, had his house and everything in it burnt to the ground on Tuesday morning of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Althouse were both out in the garden working, when they noticed the chimney burning out. They started at once for the house, but found the upstairs in a mass of flames and the down stairs filled with smoke. They tried to drag some of the furniture out, but in so doing Mr. Althouse had his face and hands burned, so all they could do was to stand and watch everything burn to ashes. Mr. Althouse is at a very great loss, as he had no insurance whatever on the house or contents.

Made Attempt To Drown Himself While Insane

Sensation Caused in the West End by the Incident—Jumped Into the Creek at McDonnel Street.

HAD EPILEPTIC FIT

A sensation was caused in the west end of the city a few days ago, when a man became insane under the influence of an epileptic fit, and attempted to put an end to his life. He became so violent that his family grew frightened and locked him in his bedroom where they thought that he would be safe.

Hardly had they left him, however, when the man jumped out of a window, and running to the bridge over the creek on McDonel street, it is said, tried to drown himself by lying down in the water, which is, of course, shallow at this point.

He would have undoubtedly succeeded had he not been rescued by some men who were passing, and who dragged him from the water.

MR. DRINKWATER WAS DISMISSED

Centretown Merchant, Tried on Charge of Forgery, is Acquitted at Cobourg

LAMP APPLICATIONS CONSIDERED

Fire, Water and Light Committee Inspected Places Where Street Lamps Were Desired

NO DEFINITE DECISIONS

The Fire, Water and Light Committee, accompanied by His Worship the Mayor, the City Clerk and Superintendent Henderson, made a special tour of the city last night in response to a number of applications for arc and incandescent street lights. They began their trip at Lake street and from there went westward towards the boundary, up to Smith town hill, crossing from there to the Court House hill, and finishing in East City.

Although as yet no decisions have been made with respect to the location of the lamps, it is practically agreed that only three arc lamps will be granted. The desires of a number of the other applicants will probably be appeased by the granting of incandescent lights in some places.

The committee discovered that in many places where the owners of residences had incandescent lights in front of their doors, those streets were much better lighted than others from the arc lamps on the corners. It was suggested by one of the members that the Council take this into consideration, and if they deem it advisable and economical, bonus those putting lamps in front of their houses on the poorly illuminated streets. The suggestion seemed to meet with the approval of the committee, and will be fully considered at a subsequent meeting. If this is found to be a cheaper system from that of installing the arc lamps it will probably be adopted.

Superintendent Henderson of the Water Commissioners, who was also present, pointed out to the committee where extra hydrants were needed. He recommended that one be placed on Concession street at the eastern terminus of Hunter street, and another on Water street near the Peterborough Canoe factory. This request of the Commissioners will also be considered at the next meeting of the committee, which is scheduled for Tuesday night of next week.

The committee, from their tour, were of the opinion that Peterborough compared favourably with other cities in the Province in respect to their lighting system.

The Mayor stated that Ottawa had much fewer street lights, according to population, than this city.

PETERBOROUGH BOY PRESIDENT

Rev. J. C. Speer, Who Was Born in This County, Elected President of Toronto Methodist Conference

WAS A POPULAR ELECTION

A native of Peterborough has been honoured by the Toronto Methodist Conference. Dr. Speer, who was born in this county, and who is well known here has been elected to the presidency of that Conference. The Toronto Star last night had the following to say of it:—

At Elm street Methodist church this morning Rev. J. C Speer, D.D., of Grace church, Brampton, was elected President of the Toronto Conference, receiving 166 votes out of 269 cast on the first ballot. Rev. S. Cleaver, D.D., was his closest rival, with 74.

Dr. Speer is known as an Irishman, and was born near Peterborough. "Your may tell them I am on the right side of fifty," said the doctor, who claimed to be one of the most youthful men ever elected to the chair of Toronto Conference. Ordained in 1884, in the old Richmond street church, in this city, under the presidency of the late Rev. E. H. Dewart D.D., Dr. Speer was called nine years afterwards to the pastorate of Broadway Tabernacle. With the exception of three years spent at the Metropolitan church, Victoria, B.C., he remained in Toronto, filling Euclid avenue and McCaul street churches, until his removal to Brampton two years ago. Dr. Speer was escorted to the platform by Rev. W. F. Wilson, D. D., of Trinity church.

SEVENTY-FIVE JUMPED INTO WATER

A Panic on Steamer on Way to Alaska Resulted in Death of at Least Three Persons

Examiner Special.

Nome, Alaska, June 14.—The steamship Ohio, owned by the White Star Steamship Company, struck ice at Fort Safety yesterday. A panic ensued among the passengers, and over seventy-five persons jumped over into the water. Two white men and a Chinaman were drowned.

THE YACHT "EKO" WAS LAUNCHED

Members of Eko Camp Club Witnessed the Interesting Event Last Night

Last night the yacht, Eko, which has been in dry-dock all winter, was launched, with the usual ceremonies attached to such an event. The members of the Eko Camp Club were present, and, under the direction of Commodore Wallace, who acted as master of ceremonies, the trim little launch took the water like the proverbial fish. The only untoward incident connected with the event was an accident which befell First Mate Gemmell, who, as the boat was taking the water, was given a ducking. He was brought to shore, however, little the worse for the accident.

SUNBEAMS FROM CUCUMBERS

Many Conservative journals held high festival because in the recent bye-election in West York Dr. Godfrey, Conservative, was elected. His election, however, does not seem to have been a test of strength as between the two dominant and only recognized political parties in Canada. The opposing candidates represented no constituences of any appreciable importance. The Toronto Star thus refers to the matter:—

Some of the Conservative journals are extracting a surprising amount of comfort out of the election of Mr. Godfrey in West York. There have been five bye-elections. In Kingston, Mr. Pense, the Liberal candidate, was elected by an increased majority. In West Middlesex Mr. Ross was elected by a majority larger than that of his father, the late Premier. In North Toronto Mr. McNaught was elected by a reduced majority. In Hamilton, a seat formerly held by a Conservative was captured by a labour candidate. Anyone who is not absolutely blinded by partisanship must see that the general result is unfavourable to the Government. In this there is nothing surprising. The two parties in Ontario, under ordinary circumstances, are of about an equal strength, and neither party can expect to hold permanently an overwhelming majority in the Legislature. That Mr. Graham's following will be largely increased is one of those facts that is not affected by the proverbial uncertainty of elections.

It is to be remembered that the late Hon. Clark Wallace got West York in the habit of giving thumping Conservative majorities. In the Dominion election of 1891 he rolled up a majority of 4,323 against both the two candidates, who opposed him on that occasion.

HARD TO PLEASE

Some newspapers are hard to please. We find them even taking objection to the condition existing in the Rainy River District, where one of the License Inspectors is also president of the local Conservative Association. We know that Mr. Whitney declared that he would remove the administration of liquor licenses from political influences. We know now great progress he has made in this direction. Here, at home, we have an example of his earnestness in this respect. One of the License Commissioners is an official of the Young Men's Conservative Club, and is active in politics, to the verge of offensiveness. But our case, and that of the Rainy River politician, occupying a position in the interest of license enforcement, are not exceptions. These facts, and the three fifths local option clause, are evidences of the Whitney Governments's earnest desire to divorce license administration from political influences, to promote the cause of prohibition, to give the poor liquor traffic a chance, and to show these intrusive and intermeddling temperance people a lesson about minding their own affairs. Mr. Whitney's placing active politicians in positions, in the administration of the license law, in selecting persons in sympathy with his policy, is an application of the spirit of the saying — the nearer the church, the farther from — righteousness. Mr. Whitney knows what he is doing.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Peterborough's possession of a sewer that won't sew, is due to a neglect of the principle involved in the "stitch-in-time" proverb.

If Uncle Sam's warships cannot prevent themselves from being stepped on by a coal barge, what will happen if they "run up against" a real live Japanese battleship?

Try to imagine, the Toronto Star suggests, the howl that would be raised if a Roman Catholic priest, instead of a Protestant minister, were made Governor of Toronto jail.

It is stated that Mr. John A. Cooper, editor of the Canadian Courier, is to be the Conservative candidate in North York. With a Cooper as "boss of the job" the 'barl' should be kept in good condition.

Peterborough was not honoured with a visit from Prince Fushimi, the Japanese almost heir apparent. We missed the glory, but we also missed a share of the $1500 the prince directed to be divided among the poor of the cities he visited. Thank goodness, we haven't many poor in Peterborough needing help, and if they do, we are generous enough and have money enough, to supply their wants ourselves.

It is already manifest, says the Conservative Toronto News, that in Mr. Graham the Liberals have found a vigorous and progressive leader, while his cheery optimism and excellent good temper must have a stimulating and wholesome effect upon the party. He is in the prime of life, and it is not likely that any party will ever again hold office for thirty years in Ontario. In any event, there is always good work ready to the hand of an Opposition and Mr. Graham is finding this work and doing it heartily and effectively.

The much-poisoned dog has his good. A dog prevented "Orobard," otherwise Horsely, the Northumberland county criminal specialist, from blowing up an American general. This shows that dogs can be useful by their barking to prevent murder, as well as prevent sheep. If the Peterborough dog-poisoner had dosed General Bell's dogs, he might have been distributed over a city block or two by Orobard's dynamite. The watch-dog's honest bark came in on the right beat of the measure that time.

The Toronto Star, with characteristic megalocephalic complaisancy remarks, apropos of the Canadian welcome to Prince Fushimi, that Brockville and Kingston's demonstration meant respectively toleration and endorsation of the "descendant of the gods," but Toronto's reception was magnificent in its enthusiastic spontaneity. Probably. Toronto is great on slopping over; its welcomed Longboat, the Boston Marathon victor, with red-fire effects and throat-splitting cheers, and followed up this wind by contributing a $30 educational fund.

A Brantford minister has been preaching against permitting Armenians becoming British subjects by taking the oath of allegiance. He also condemns the politicians who are responsible for this naturalization. Perhaps the politicians are not of the party the minister favours. Aside from this his protest is not logical. This minister, to be logical, would deny the right of conversion to Christianity to the Armenians, if they had not previously become Christians. If the Armenians are good enough to be made righteous, they are certainly good enough to become citizens and Vote — he wouldn't refuse to "naturalize" them by admitting them to membership in his church.

Hon. George E. Foster has been nominated for North Toronto, and, in accepting, declined to discuss the charges against him. He says that he is saving his ammunition, with an air that leads us to believe that he has "loads of it." A fiery politician, going about the country, with his pockets stuffed with explosives, should be watched. He is distinctly guilty of a breach of the Criminal Code, cap. 146, ss. 113 (b) and 114:

Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to seven years' imprisonment, who makes, or knowingly has, in his possession, or under his control, any explosive substance.

Mr. Foster, knowingly has in his possession, a big magazine of explosives, and he declares that he will use them. It may be a case of "the engineer hoist with his own petard," or blowing somebody, or something, to smithereens.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words.

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE BUGLE BAND USED THEIR TRUMPETS

Not Many Present at Drill Last Night
March-out on Tuesday

The weekly drill was not as well attended as usual last night, but those who were present put in a couple of hours hard work in company drill. The manoeuvres were held on the Central Park, the chief feature of te drill, being the practice of the bugle band. Last night the band used their new trumpets for the first time, and gave a good account of themselves. The trumpets will certainly be an acquisition to the band and will undoubtedly prove popular with the citizens.

On Tuesday night the regiment will hold their second march out of the season with both bands in attendance.

The return trip from Lakefield will be by special train. The return fare for adults is 60 cents and for children 30 cents.

THE FIRE ENGINEER HAS RESIGNED

Disagreement Between Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Wainright Results in Step

Sam Wainright, engineer of the fire department, last night resigned from that position. The step was, it is said, brought about by a disagreement between Wainright and Foreman Packenham, concerning the former's duties around the fire hall. The question of whether the engineer should sleep in the fire hall or not was the principal point of argument between the two, and the discussion finally resulted in Wainright handing in his resignation.

LOCAL ARCHITECT FOR HAVELOCK SCHOOL

Mr. Blackwell Preparing Plans for New Structure—With Inspector He Visited That Town

The Havelock Standard says:—Mr. Blackwell, the Peterborough architect, whom the School Board have secured to draw up the plans and specifications of the addition to the school, was in town on Monday, and, in company with Inspector Lees and a few members of the Board, visited the school and got data with which to prepare the plans, which were to be forwarded to the Board to-day.

The addition may yet be built of solid brick or cement blocks, instead of brick veneer as at first intended, and considerable changes will also be made in the present staircase and lobby.

Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Editor Post-Card Column.

Dear Sir,—In a recent issue of your paper I noticed a letter bearing on the question of the unused fountain at the corner of McDonel and George streets. I see that nothing has been done yet, either towards connecting it up in order that horses may be refreshed, or painting it to make it look a little more presentable. The citizens of Peterborough are certainly virtuous, if patience is a virtue.

HORSEMAN.

Editor Post-Card Column.

Dear Sir,—I am glad to notice that there is not much probability of the experience of a week ago, when the first band concert of the season was given, being repeated. The lights in the park were turned on shortly after the finish of a week ago, and they have been burning ever since, day and night. It seems to me that it is hardly necessary to burn these lights 24 hours a day for the sake of a few hours during the evening. But, then, I am only an amateur in these matters.

The Sufferings of the Dyspeptic

DUE TO NEGLECTING TO KEEP THE LIVER RIGHT, THE DIGESTION GOOD, THE BOWELS HEALTHY BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You may shudder to think of yourself as a dyspeptic—as one who, through stomach troubles, has come to look on the dark side of things, and to be ill-tempered and grouchy—but if you neglect treatment for repeated attacks of indigestion you will most assuredly become a chronic dyspeptic.

The great mistake is to put the blame on the stomach, and strive in vain for lasting benefit from tablets and so-called digestives. The real cause of trouble in nine cases out of ten is with the liver.

Thousands of persons are being cured of complicated cases of indigestion by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because of their direct action on the liver, thus ensuring a good flow of bile—good digestion and healthful action of the bowels.

Mr. C. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Megantic Co., Que., writes: "I had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up. I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured, and can eat any kind of food without feeling any bad effects. They have made a new man and a younger man of me, and I cannot say too much in their praise.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment cured a friend of mine of piles when he was so bad he could not work or even stand up."

Mr. Wm. G. Purdy, Bridgetown, N. S., writes:—"When I wrote to you for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was a sufferer from kidney disease, stomach troubles, and liver and bowel disorders. By using one pill at bedtime every night my health has gradually improved until I can say that I am in better health than I have been for twenty years. All other medicines failed, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me."

This treatment is thorough, far-reaching and of lasting benefit, and cures the most severe cases of chronic and intestinal indigestion, as well as biliousness and constipation; 25 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BATTERY IS READY FOR CAMP

Will Parade To-morrow at Noon—Full Strength of 104 Men All Told

THE OFFICERS ARE PLEASED

The 24th Battery is now in readiness to leave to-morrow for its two weeks training at the Petawawa Camp. The final drill was held last night, and the smart appearance of the men was such as to greatly please the officers. The battery will go into camp with its full complement of 99 men and five officers, and 64 horses. All the vacancies in the ranks have been filled up and the local artillery forces will be in full strength.

The battery will parade at 12.30 to-morrow noon at the Armouries in East City, where the guns, harness, etc., will be fitted up. They will, during the afternoon, parade by way of Hunter and George streets, to the C.P.R. station, where they will entrain after the arrival of the Campbellford section of the 14th Field Battery. It is expected that the artillery will leave here about 3 o'clock.

The advance guard, composed of Captain Hall, in command; Sergt. Jefferson and four men, will leave to-night on the midnight C. P. R. train to get everything in readiness for the arrival of the battery on Sunday evening.

WEDDING BELLS

McNAB-PATTERSON

Examiner Special.

Norwood, June 13. — The marriage of Miss Myrtle Elvena Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patterson, King street, to Mr. James Austin McNab,, of Sault Ste. Marie, took place at the home of the bride's parents, on Wednesday, June 12th, at 6.30 o'clock in the evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Adams, pastor of the Methodist church, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the bride's cousin, Miss Eva Patterson.

The bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away.

The bride's gown was of white silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and insertion, with veil arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Margaret Calder, attired in white surah, with Valenciennes and insertion, and carrying pink roses. The maid of honour, little Miss Doris Patterson, sister of the bride, was in a dress of white muslin. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. William McNabb of St. Catharines. The house was decorated with evergreens and apple blossoms.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl crescent brooch; to the bridesmaid a pearl stick-pin, and to the maid of honour a gold necklace and locket.

Mr. and Mrs. McNabb left on the midnight train for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a grey cloth suit with hat to match. They will reside at Sault Ste. Marie. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

WILLIAMS-RICHARDS

Examiner special.

Havelock, June 14.—On Wednesday morning a pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richards, when their daughter, Claudia, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Williams, one of the most popular and highly respected of the young business men of this town.

The parlour was decorated with apple blossoms and ferns and it was indeed beautiful. At the appointed hour the young couple, unattended, took their places under an arch of marguerites and ferns, to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Gertrude Timmerman, of Ivanhoe. Rev. J. H. Locke, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in white Swiss muslin with insertion and lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns.

After the ceremony the wedding dejeuner was served in the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with carnations and smilax.

The groom's gift to the bride was a solid gold brrooh with a double heart of real pearls, and Mrs. Williams Williams also received a large number of gifts from admiring friends.

The young couple drove to Campbellford and took the train at that place for a honeymoon at The Thousand Islands and Kingston, and on their return will reside with the groom's parents. The bride's travelling suit was of Maisie Vicuna cloth with strapping of brown silk velvet and she wore a most charming white picture hat.

PROTEST AGAINST THE USE OF ARMS

Correspondent Writes to Suggest That Irresponsible Youths Be Kept at Home With Their Guns

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Is there any law to apply to the careless use of loaded firearms on the part of irresponsible youths either inside or out of the city limits? A friend of mine was down the river yesterday afternoon and at Crawford's Grove he noticed a couple of boys, one of whom, a youth who should know better, brandishing a loaded revolver and discharging it in what I considered a reckless manner. Fortunately there was no damage done, but that this was the case was not due to the care exercised by the brave youth with the shooting iron. Because a boy happens to secure access to his father's desk, steal the revolver temporarily, beg a few cents from his mother and buy a packetful of cartridges, is it a justification for his discharging the firearm in a manner, while not, of course, calculated to do any damage, at the same time, quite likely to have this result? I quite appreciate the fact that the boys like to have a little latitude and I sympathize with them in this desire, because I was a boy once myself, but when it comes to the point when lives are in danger my opinion is that the boy should be whipped and put to bed and the revolver taken away from him. This would, I think, be good medicine for the boy whose actions yesterday have been described above.

FISHING SEASON OPENS ON SUNDAY

On the 16th Bass and Lunge May be Caught—No Fishing Will be Allowed To-morrow

On June 16th—Sunday—the season for bass and lunge will open, and with the beginning of the week it is expected that there will be considerable fishing done by local devotees of Isaak Walton. A number of persons are under the impression that the season opens on the 15th—to-morrow—but for the benefit of those who had planned to spend part of the day to-morrow in an expedition searching for the members of the finny tribe, it may be stated that they are labouring under a wrong impression, and that such a course may read them into the police court on a charge of illegal fishing.

The Church Should Take Her Part In Politics

This is the Opinion Expressed by Rev. Canon Davidson at Anglican Synod Meeting in Toronto.

CLERGY ARE HOODWINKED

The place of the church in politics was dealt with in rather an unexpected manner at the Anglican Synod meeting held in Toronto, yesterday. In the discussion Rev. J. C. Davidson, of this city, made some remarks in which he stated his opinion that the "church should be heard upon political conditions." The Toronto Star, referring to the incident in the report of the Synod meeting says:—

The Anglican Synod was this morning discussing a committee report which dealt with a ten days' mission, to be held at Easter time, for the uplifting of the church and country, draw attention to the political corruption was suddenly introduced by Rev. Mr. Jameson, who remarked:

"Could we not put in a clause to draw attention to tthe political corruption in the country? The report does cover the matter in a general way, but I should like to see something definite done."

Rev. T. W. Powell jumped to his feet at this:

"If we raise the tone of the whole, we get at the particulars," said he. "Let us cleanse the fountain head and then the stream will be clean."

Churches Should Lead

Canon Davidson, of Peterborough, dissented from this: "The voice of the Church should be clearly heard upon political conditions," he affirmed. "The Church exists not for herself, but for the whole country. Her first duty is to exert an influence, both in the pulpit and out, to bring about more healthy conditions in the country. The average politician will welcome anything which is done to clear the atmosphere. The ordinary politician of to-day compares very favourably with the members of Church bodies. It is a false idea that Churches should keep away from politics. We should rather take the lead." These remarks were received with enthusiastic applause.

The Clergy Hoodwinked

Mr. Blake volunteered the information that there is no body of men over whose eyes financiers can "pull the wool" as they can over the clergy. "Thank God," said he, "they are for the most part a guileless body of men, but they do not know, very often the first thing about politics, the evil and social life of those people in its most immediate neighbourhood. They preach generalities when what is needed is particulars."

Rev. J. P. Wilson Invited To A Lindsay Church

Asked to Become Pastor of Cambridge Street Methodist Church at Close of Conference Year 1907-08.

DR. BISHOP FOR BELLEVILLE

Examiner Special

Lindsay, June 14.—Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of the Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, and formerly pastor of the George Street Church, Peterborough, has been invited to become the next pastor of the Cambridge Street Methodist Church in this town. At a special meeting of the Quarterly Board, held on Wednesday night, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Bishop, laid before the Board an invitation he had received from Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, to become their pastor for 1908. Dr. Bishop left the matter entirely in the hands of the Board, but called their attention to the fact that the church would probably succeed in getting a more acceptable supply should the change be made next year.

The matter was thoroughly discussed. All agreed that under existing circumstances it would be advisable to relieve Dr. Bishop at the end of the present Conference year.

It was moved by Mr. Taylor, seconded by Mr. Wilson, that an invitation be extended to Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of the Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, to accept the pastorate of the Cambridge Street Methodist Church, Lindsay, beginning in the Conference year, 1908.—Carried.

At the close of the meeting, Dr. Bishop was presented with a purse of $400 in gold to assist in defraying his expenses on a visit to his sons in the Northwest during his leave of absence, granted by the Board at their last meeting. The presentation was made by Mr. Boxall. Dr. Bishop, in a most feeling speech, expressed his appreciation of the generosity of the congregation.

Threatened Prosecution For Discharging The Revolver

An Excitingly Interesting Episode of a Picnic Party Up the Canal Yesterday Afternoon.

THE FARMER'S OBJECTION

For discharging a revolver on private property yesterday afternoon the members of a private picnic party were threatened with prosecution for trespass. A party of ten, or a dozen, young persons, paddled up the canal during the afternoon on a pleasure trip, and, after landing about three miles from the city, proceeded to enjoy themselves, the young men in the crowd setting up a target and shooting at it, while the young ladies prepared the tea.

The marksmen's fun, however, was short-lived. The owner of the farm upon which the picnic was being held hearing the shots, and surmising where they came from, hastily made his way to the scene of festivities and delivered his ultimatum, to the effect that unless the shooting was stopped there would be a party of erstwhile pleasure seekers in the police court to answer a charge of trespass. He pointed out the danger attached to this practice, impressing upon them the fact that they were not only probably endangering the lives of members of their own party, but certainly those of persons living in the vicinity, who might be nearer than they thought.

His line of argument was admitted to be sound, and his advice accepted—anyway the ammunition was all gone.

One-time Dancing Master Of This City Evades The Law

Prof. Sheets, Well Known in Peterborough, is Sought For by Sault Ste. Marie Police---Charged With Criminal Offence Against Young Girl---Story of His Alleged Crime.

Sensational reports have been circulated in the Soo against Professor O. S. Sheets, a resident of Peterborough about six years ago, the nature of which will be made clear by the despatch from Sault Ste. Marie published below. While in Peterborough, Prof. Sheets conducted a dancing school and resided with his wife on Mark and Queen streets. He will be also well known to many Peterborough people as the operator of a "Kermiss" in the old opera house during the year he spent here.

He is now charged with a serious criminal offence, and is being diligently searched for by the police. The despatch from the Soo says:—

Professor O. S. Sheets, who came to the Sault something over a year ago and put on the "Kermiss" for the benefit of the hospital, is wanted by the police. In fact, they have been looking for him for three months without success. When he is found the professor is likely to fare badly. He is charged with a grave offence—the seduction of a 14-year-old girl. The story, as related by the little victim to Crown Attorney McFadden, is a most distressing one. Her name is Miss Mabel Thomson, and she now lives in the Michigan Soo with an aunt. The child's step-father and her mother are residents of Toronto.

A couple of years ago, Sheets, dressed in the knee pants and black silk stockings that he affected in the Sault, was in Midland on the same mission as brought him here—the production of the Kermiss. He fell in there with the little girl, whom he is alleged to have treated so cruelly. She was an unusually bright child, naturally gifted for stage work. She picked up the dances with ease, and, in fact, was a model performer. The professor was delighted with his pupil; so much so that when he got through with Midland, he returned for the little girl whom he wanted, he said, as a companion for his four-year-old child. It seems that it was at North Bay that the alleged crime was committed. As soon as the child realized that she was in trouble she went at once to the home of an aunt in the Michigan Soo.

A short time ago the baby was born, and Crown Attorney McFadden was informed of the facts shortly after. He at once caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of the husky professor, and hearing that he was at Montreal, communicated with the chief of police there. Up till to-day, however, in spite of the fact that the professor's picture and description are in the hands of police officials all over the continent, he has not been apprehended.

The matter came to the notice of the town council on Monday evening, when relatives of the little girl made application for a ticket to Toronto, so that the baby might be taken there to the grandmother. The Michigan Soo council was agreeable to grant half of the cost, and the town council at once decided to put up the other half.

Michael Fallon Committed For Trial For House Breaking

Charged With Having Unlawfully Entered the House of Mr. R. Nimmo on June 8th—Given a Preliminary Hearing This Morning.

THE EVIDENCE STRONG

On the charge of having unlawfully entered the home of Mr. Richard Nimmo, on Saturday, June 8th, at 3 a.m., Michael Fallon was committed for trail by Magistrate Dumble at this morning's session of the police court. Mr. Gordon appeared for the defendant, and did not elect for trial but asked that the preliminary hearing be proceeded with.

The Evidence

Miss Roxie Nimmo was first called and stated that her home was with her parents at 14 Harvey street. Her room is at the rear of the house, up-stairs. About three o'clock on the morning in question she was awakened by a feeling that the door of her room was being slowly opened; it had been left partly ajar. Thinking that it was her mother, she cried out, "What is the matter, mother?" but received no reply, and the sound ceased. She lay listening for the least movement for a minute or two and then turned on the light. She did not see anything, but, with a strange assurance, that someone was near at hand, she got out of bed and walked to her dresser, which faced the door. She did not see anybody in the hall by this means. She carried the electric light to a closet, and peered in, but there was no one there; she then moved towards the door which opened into the corridor.

A Man Kneeling

She glanced through the opening, and saw a man kneeling with his face turned towards her room. At first she thought that it was her father and that he had fallen, but the man wore a Christy hat which concealed his eyes, and a part of his nose. She could plainly see the side of his face; he appeared to have a slight down on his upper lip. Witness said that she looked him in the face and he slowly drew back his features into the shadow. Witness then stepped back and called loudly three or four times.

Man Escaped

After the second shout the man heard Mrs. Nimmo approaching, sprang to his feet, ran towards the stairs, jumped down them in bounds, tried the front door, turned, and ran into the dining room, smashed a large plate glass window, and leaped through on to a flower garden.

At this stage Magistrate Dumble asked the witness to look at the man, saying, "Do you recognize the prisoner?" During a moment's pause in which Miss Nimmo carefully regarded Fallon, she replied firmly, "I do."

The burglar, it is believed, entered the house by the cellar window, tearing off a wire netting that protected it. He stepped into a pot of grease just after he landed on the cellar floor and left his tracks through the house.

It is learned that the prisoner is a painter and there may be some significance in the fact that green finger marks which were not there before June 8th, have been left on the door leading up the back stairs from the dining room. They were seen after that date by the family, who were looking for traces of the marauder.

Identified Last Night

About one o'clock this morning Police Officers MacDonald and Newhall, after asking Fallon to go with them, called at the Nimmo residence, for the purpose of learning if they had found the right man. Fallon was asked to take the positions that the burglar did on the night of June 8th, and did as directed by Miss Nimmo. P. C. MacDonald brought along a raincoat and a Christy hat from their stock at the station, and Fallon posed just as required, and even ran down the stairs.

To Mr. Gordon Miss Nimmo stated that she identified the man for the first time at her home last night.

Other Connections

Although Mr. Gordon objected to the evidence Miss Nimmo's statements of past recollections of Fallon were taken. Four weeks ago last Sunday while going to church she with her mother passed Fallon, who looked at them strangely, Miss Nimmo stated, and she also remarked his likeness to her brother-in-law. Last Sunday night while passing the same place the thought flashed in her mind of her remembrance of the man and she mentioned to her mother that he looked like their relative, and in a vague way the action was connected until Miss Nimmo was almost sure that the police had the right man. In fact she said to P. C. Newhall, "There is no room for mistake; I think you have the right man."

This was the main evidence, and Mr. Dumble considered it sufficient to commit Fallon for trial before His Honour Judge Weller.

One Brother Is Insane, Other Cuts His Throat

A Startling Story Told From Hope Township, Near Garden Hill—Gilmour Brothers' Troubles.

ONE OF THE MEN MAY DIE

The Port Hope Times says:—

John Gilmour, a farmer 45 years of age, who lives a mile north of Garden Hill, has suddenly gone insane and was taken to Kingston asylum yesterday by constables Nattrass and Harley of Millbrook. His brother, Wellington Gilmour, who lives on a neighbouring farm, near Garden Hill, after a night's absence from home, arrived at his mother's home in Cavan township with blood streaming from his throat where he had inflicted three wounds with a jack knife. A quarrel between the brothers is believed to be the cause of both affairs. Both brothers are married. John has a seven year old son and Wellington has two small children.

On Tuesday evening, Wellington left home, saying that he was going to see his brother John. As he did not return, his wife, after putting the children to bed, went to John's house to find him. When she opened the door John fell to the floor frantically insane. Wellington did not return home, but at six o'clock next morning arrived at his brother's house with his throat cut. He is recovering.

To Raise Funds For The Altar In New Church

For This Purpose the Money Raised at T. A. S. Picnic Will be Devoted—A Splendid Programme Prepared.

SOME NOVEL FEATURES

Arrangements for the annual picnic under the auspices of the T. A. S., on Dominion Day, are progressing favourably and, from the present indications, the event will be by far the most successful of any picnics previously held under their auspices. This year grounds have been secured on the west side of the Otonabee River, about five miles from the city. The grove is about ten acres in size, and there is a fine flat of about fifteen acres on which the games will be played. A platform, twenty four by sixty feet will be erected for dancing and tables which will accommodate three persons at one sitting will be built for serving the dinner. There will be no lack of amusement features. The bowling alley which was at Jackson Park last summer will be taken to the picnic grounds and put up for use on this day, and in addition there will be a shooting gallery and other features.

A new feature will be introduced in the form of gasoline yacht races and double and single canoe races. For the different sporting athletic events valuable prizes will be given, the prizes totalling in value about $150.

The steamers Monarch and Rainbow have been chartered for the day and these, with the palace barges, will convey the crowds to the park. The first boat will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock, and every half hour afterwards there will be a steamer leaving the foot of the street railway. Tickets may be purchased entitling the holder to passage on both the steamer and railway both ways.

The proceeds of the picnic this year will be devoted to the fund to buy the main altar for the new Roman Catholic church to be built in the south end of the city.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

TO ESTABLISH NEW DIOCESE

The "Diocese of Peterborough" it Will Likely be Called—Matter Discussed at Meeting of Anglican Synod

GOES TO ARCHDEACONRY

The formation of a new Diocese in the Anglican church, embracing the eastern portion of Ontario, between the Diocese of Toronto, and that of Ontario, with the See of the Diocese at Kingston, has again been discussed, and at the meeting of the Synod held in Toronto yesterday, the matter was under consideration. Should the new Diocese be formed it will likely be known as the Peterborough Diocese, and this will be the cathedral city, and the Bishop will likely be selected from the clergy of the city.

The Toronto News, referring to the proposal, as taken up in the Synod, says:

After the adjournment of the Anglican Synod yesterday, the clergy and lay representatives of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough, met under the chairmanship of Archdeacon Warren.

It was unanimously resolved to hold an Archdeaconry Conference next October, when a proposition will be considered for the organisation of the Eastern Diocese of Toronto Diocese as a separate one. This step was agitated some eight or ten years ago, but since then has been in abeyance. At the present time a revival of the movement is on foot. Rev. W .Creighton of Lakefield, was secretary.

FOUNDRY FIRED CAUSED LITTLE DELAY

All Employees of the Peter Hamilton Establishment Again at Work

Little delay was caused by the big fire at thePeter Hamilton Manufacturing Company's establishment a few weeks ago. The work of re-building has now been completed and the whole establishment, including the paint shop, which suffered severely from the flames, is now operating with its full complement of men.

As a matter of fact, there was only a slight delay caused by the fire as the company in their anxiety for supplying the demands upon them, kept a number of employees at work all the time.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

FORESTERS' OFFICERS ELECTED

Successful Session of the High Court of the Dominion at St. Thomas—Good Year's Work Reported

SOME DETAILED REPORTS

St. Thomas, June 13.—St. Thomas is en fete this week paying tribute to the officers and delegates who are attending the annual meeting of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters—perhaps the most successful and prosperous of all our fraternal association, and which includes over 66,000 Canadians in its membership. It was a great welcome which St. Thomas gave them and one of which the officers and delegates feel justly proud. It was a credit to the members of the local courts, who did themselves great credit by the hearty manner in which they entered into the reception to their brethren. The whole city seemed to unite in showing respect to the gathering, and seconded the work of the local Foresters in a generous manner. The public buildings, places of business and dwellings are decorated with flags and bunting, while the hotels, where the delegates are billeted, are all in gala attire in honour of the guests. The hotel accommodation seems to be quite ample and has given general satisfaction to the brethren. Many of the members, especially those from Montreal and other eastern points, are accompanied by their wives, who are enjoying their trip and their stay in town in a hearty manner.

The delegates began to arrive here on Saturday, and the local Reception Committee and High Court Billeting Committee found no trouble in allotting them to their respective quarters. The largest number arrived on Tuesday, and the remainder came in to-day. The total number of delegates in attendance, according to the High Registrar, is 336.

General Business

Chief Ranger Stewart, of Perth, presided, and all the High Court officers were present.

After receiving the reports of the High Court officers, which were distributed to the delegates in printed form, the meeting received the various civic deputations.

Mayor Lawrence, with Alds. Meehan, Sutherland and Geddes, extended the freedom of the city to the delegates.

President R. M. Anderson and Vice-President M. G. Hay bespoke the Board of Trade's pleasure in welcoming the delegates, as did also Chairman Sanders for the Board of Education, and the greetings of sister fraternal societies were extended by Dr. E. W. Honsinger for the Masonic Order, Ex-Ald. Horton, Knights of Pythias; John Farrell, for the Order of Hibernians, and M. J. O'Hara, for the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Sessional officers were appointed as follows:

Minute Secretary—J. P. Hoag, public school inspector, Brantford.

High Junior Woodward—W. A. Lacey, Saskatchewan.

High Senior Beadle — W. F. Clark, Grimsby.

High Junior Beadle — R. W. Wigmore, St. John, N.B.

High Conductor — T. W. Kinder, Strathroy.

High Marshall — Wm. Couper, Quebec.

High Messenger — G. Luton, St. Thomas.

Reporter, English press — F. J. Jameson, Peterborough Examiner.

Reporter, French press—G. Goyette, Quebec.

A pleasing and agreeable fraternal greeting was one received from the kindred organizations, the Catholic Order of Foresters, whose high court is meeting in Chatham.

The message read:—"The Catholic Order of Foresters, in convention assembled, extend fraternal greetings, and wish your order every success in its great work." It was signed by B. G. Connally, Provincial Chief Ranger; Vincent Walsh, Provincial Secretary.

It was suitably recognized by the meeting and will be responded to in due time.

After the appointment of Standing Committees, High Court adjourned.

Election of Officers

Wednesday, June 13.—The first order of business was the receiving of nominations for the several offices, which resulted as follows:

High Chief Ranger—Bro. J. A. Stewart, Perth, re-elected.

High Vice Chief Ranger — Bro. D. Allan, Grimsby; Bro. M. D. Carroll, Montreal.

High Secretary—Bro. Geo. Faulkner, Brantford, re-elected.

High Treasurer—Bro. R. Elliott, Brantford.

Executive Committee—Bro. W. D. Karngey, Toronto; Bro. M. D. Carroll, Montreal; Bro. F. C. Toom, London; Bro. W. M. Couper, Montreal; Bro. Clovis Lagorte, Montreal; Bro. J. A. A. Brodeur, Montreal; Bro. L. P. B. Tilley, St. John, N.B.; Bro. C. E. Britton, Gananoque; Bro. M. Mundy, Galt; Bro. W. J. Wilson, Gananoque; Bro. W. R. Coulter, St. Thomas; Bro. D. Mowat, Vancouver, B.C.; Bro. A. P. Van Someren, Morden, Man.; Bro. Misener, Berlin; Bro. T. W. Kinder, Strathroy; Bro. W. J. Elliott, Ingersoll; Bro. E. H. Johnson, London; Bro. Dr. White, Lindsay; Bro. P. J. Stephens, Oxbow, Sask.; Bro. A. E. Buchanan, Galt; Bro. R. J. McIntosh, Stratford; Bro. R. L. Malcolm, Banks, Ont.

High Auditor—Bro. W. L. Roberts, Brantford, re-elected.

High Registrar—Bro. Wm. Waller, Montreal, re-elected.

For High Chaplain—Bro. (Rev.) W. T. McKenzie, Edmore, Sask.; Bro. J. W. Harvey, St. John, N.B.; Bro. (Rev.) W. J. West, Bluevale.

The reports of the Standing Committees were presented and adopted.

Entertainment For Delegates

Bro. R. H. McConnell of Court Elliott, St. Thomas, extended the greetings of the local courts, and outlined to the delegates the programme arranged for their entertainment during their stay in the city. Headed by the 25th Regiment Band, the delegates marched from their headquarters in the Grand Central Hotel Block and proceeded to the Pere Marquette station, where a special train was in waiting to convey them to the lakeside, where the afternoon was spent.

On their return they were entertained by the Canton and Cadets with fancy drill exhibition in front of the Grand Central. Following that the delegates were presented with free admissions to the Hockey Club, free admissions to the Hockey Club's minstrel show, given in the Grand Opera House.

Thursday, June 13.—The session of High Court resumed at 9 o'clock. It is expected that the principal business of the session will come up to-day. The election of officers will be completed, and the question of where next High Court is to be held will be decided. Montreal, Niagara Falls and Sault Ste. Marie are in the running for this honour.

An important question which also comes up for discussion is the notice of motion to increase the capitation tax to ten cents per month instead of one dollar a year as at present.

Mr. J. A. Stewart, of Perth, who was re-elected High Chief Ranger for the fourth year, is a young man, apparently not more than 35. He has discharged the duties of the highest position of the large fraternal organization for the past three years and with very great acceptance. He is a barrister by profession and is prominent in political matters, and is spoken of as a coming candidate.

Mr. Geo. Faulkner, of Brantford, the High Secretary, has filled the office for the past three years. He was Vice-High Chief Ranger for a year and a half. He formerly resided in Ottawa and took an active part in building up the order. Upon him devolves the bulk of the work of the Order, and no man filling a similar position seems better qualified to handle it. He has a staff of over 20 clerks employed in his office at Brantford. He has been re-elected to the office again.

Mr. Robert Elliott, the High Treasurer, is a successful newspaper man and one of the founders of the Order. Prior to Mr. Elliott's appointment as high Treasurer, he was for nearly ten years High Chief Ranger. He has been a member of the executive for nearly 22 years. He has been High Treasurer for nearly two years, being elected by acclamation to the position. He was again re-elected this year.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you. Mrs. John Young, Harwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for some time and my back was so lame I could scarcely get around. After using two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I am completly cured. I find there is nothing like them for the cure of all kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

GAVE HIS DRUM TO S.A. BAND

Thos. E. Shea, So Discouraged by Peterborough People That He Decided to Play One Production No More

Those who attended Thos. E. Shea's production of Napolean the Great at at the Grand Opera House some time ago will remember that the house that greeted this strong play was not a very large one. The management of the house knew that Mr. Shea's presentations were only the best and thought that Peterborough people would appreciate something out of the ordinary. The first night the "Bells" was played to a fairly large audience who were pleased with the tragedic passage and the clever impersonation of the main role by Mr. Shea. Mr. Turner asked as a special favour that Mr. Shea put on "Napolean, the Great" the second night, believing that this great play would appeal to the theatre-goers.

But the citizens plainly showed that they did not care for heavy plays and but a small house greeted the great actor. However, he put on the piece and according to his own words it was the last time. After the performance he was so discouraged with the house and their acceptance of the piece that he declared that he would never play it again and to strengthen his words he gave the bass drum he used to one of the stage hands and asked him to give it to the Salvation Army and there is where it is at present. Thus did the people of the city cause Thos E. Shea to forsake one of his best and strongest impersonations.

Belleghem and Clancy of the Excelsiors; Campbell of the Lilies; Butcher, of the West Ends; Curtis, of the Strathconas; and Carton and Ray, of the Karnots. The Lakeviews were not represented.

The protested Strathconas-Lilies' game of June 3 and 6, was ordered to be played over again on St. Andrew's Guild field, on Saturday afternoon, June 29th.

The West End-Karnot game scheduled for June 24 and 26, was ordered to be played on Saturday, June 29th at Nicholls' Oval.

MILLBROOK BOWLERS LOST BY TWO POINTS

Played the Locals on the Brookside Green Last Night

There was a lively and interesting time at the Brookside Green last night, when two rinks from Millbrook played here and put up such a game that they were only beaten by two. The rinks were:—

| Peterborough. | Millbrook. |
|---|---|
| A R Kidd | Sandy |
| Wm. Atchison | Leith |
| J W Green | Winslow |
| D Belleghem, sk. 13 | R J Doak, sk.9 |

| Dr. McLellan | D Holloway |
| D If Moore | W H Dayman |
| Ed. Runnells, sk.9 | Thos. Pratt, sk.11 |

There were also two other games played, but the parties who kept the score were either ashamed of their work, or forgot to leave it for the secretary. Players are urgently requested to leave the results of all games at the club house.

MILLBROOK LOST THE GAME

Shamrocks Won An Interesting Exhibition Contest by 2 Goals to 1 Last Night

VISITORS SHY SOME MEN

Millbrook arrived in the city last night with but eight men to play an exhibition game with the Peterborough Shamrocks, and, reinforced by three local men, succeeded in holding the score down to 2-1, the small end going to the villagers. The game was played on Riverside Park, and, despite the fact that the teams were short a man each and that Millbrook was disorganized by the absence of their regular men, the contest was a good exhibition and was heartily enjoyed by the handful of spectators present. The teams dug in with a vengeance, and although the play was for the most part in Millbrook territory, strenuous defence work kept the goals from piling in more than two. The vetpiling in more than two. Ben Dusty played on the visitors' home, and in spite of the fact that he has had no practice this season, put up a good game.

The Shamrocks played well together, although the home seemed to have difficulty in getting in close. The combination in the centre of the field was generally accurate, but in the neighbourhood of the nets the passing was for the most part inaccurate. The defence was strong. Barber and Devlin took care of anything that got in close, while Kelly, Cameron and Rush made a strong trio farther out. Tucker at centre put up his usual excellent game, and all the home showed up well. Natress did good work for Millbrook.

The goals scored the first two goals, the first after twenty minutes' playing.

Mr. W. Stroud gave satisfaction as referee, and the teams were as follows:—

Millbrook — Dunsford, goal; Galley, point; Weir, cover-point; Oldham, Grandy, Melvor, defence; Donnely, centre; Cochrane. Natress home field; Dusty, outside; Burnett, inside.

Peterborough — McFadden, goal; Barber, point; Devlin, cover-point; Kelly, Cameron, Rush, defence; Tucker, centre; Long, Dobson, home field; McNicholl, outside; Dumble, inside; J. Gorham, field captain.

LAST CONTEST OF THE SEASON HELD

Miss Lexa Ritchie and Mr. Jack Seymour Were the Winners

The last roller skating contest of the season was held last night at the Charlotte street rink and proved decidedly interesting. There was the largest crowd for weeks present and the healthful pastime was greatly enjoyed. The winners in the contest were Miss Lexa Ritchie and Mr. Jack Seymour. The former received a handsome purse and the latter a fountain pen, as prizes. The rink will be closed for the summer season on Saturday night when the band will be present. It will reopen about Sept. 1st, for the fall season.

INTERMEDIATE QUAKERS AT OSHAWA TO-MORROW

Champions of Their Respective Districts Play Off in Semi Finals

To-morrow morning the Intermediate Quaker football team leaves for Oshawa, where they play the eleven of that town in the race for intermediate honours in the Midland League. Oshawa has a great bunch of players, having defeated the Port Hope league team by 11-2 this year on the round, so that the Quakers will have to extend themselves to win on foreign grounds. The following Peterborough players will meet at the Grand Trunk station tomorrow morning at 11.30 o'clock:—Lang, Scrimshaw, Sullivan, Evans, Archibald, Dingman, Deforge, Yates, Brodie, Cauff, Crough and Hadley.

LACROSSE EXCURSION TO TORONTO

No doubt a large number of citizens will go with the lacrosse club excursion to Toronto to-morrow. A special train will leave the C. P. R. station at one o'clock and will reach Toronto in ample time to allow the excursionists to see the lacrosse match at Rosedale between the Peterborough and Young Toronto teams. The return fare is $2.05 and the tickets are good to return on any regular train, Saturday, Sunday or Monday. Take a half day off to-morrow and enjoy it in Toronto.

LACROSSE

The senior Peterborough lacrosse club to-day received their sweaters from Mr. E. N. McWilliams of Clarke & Co., and the team may be seen at practice to-night in their new uniforms. The sweaters are blue and white in colour and are very attractive in appearance.

LUMBER MILL MEN IN ASSAULT CASE

Police Magistrate Edmison Held Court in Lakefield on a Case of Assault

The Lakefield News says:—County Magistrate Edmison of Peterborough held court in the town hall on Monday afternoon last, when Robert Hamilton was charged with an assault upon Burton Hayes. Both men are employed at the Cavendish Company's sawmill, and it appears that the two men got into an altercation which ended in blows. The Magistrate, after hearing the evidence of the complainant, defendant and several witnesses, thought that there was not enough evidence to make a conviction and the case was dismissed. The defendant, by his solicitor, agreed to pay half the costs, if the prosecutor paid the other half. The costs amounted to $2.40 each.

CARL SCOTT AT SUTTON, IS WANTED HERE

Carl Scott, who is believed to have been implicated with Donnelly in the theft of the 200 eggs from Mrs. Manley of Otonabee, has been located at Sutton by High County Constable Cochrane, and he will go to that town after him to-morrow. Mr. Cochrane has been persistent in his search for these two men, and should the ones he has located prove to be the men he is after he will have done a good service. Scott will be brought before the County Police Magistrate and will probably be remanded, to come up with Donnelly.

MOORE'S ALMANAC OF 1802

An Interesting Publication in the Possession of Mr. R. K. Parker, of South Monaghan

Mr. Richard Parker of South Monaghan was in the city to-day and showed the Examiner an interesting book which his grandfather, Mr. Jeremiah Parker, had brought with him from England. It was a copy of an almanac, issued by Francis Moore, who describes himself as a physician, in the year 1802. It is yellow with age, but still well preserved, and contains some decidedly interesting information. This almanac which is still being issued at the first of each year, gives some interesting meterological observationb for certing meterological observations for each for that year.

One of the most interesting features of the book is a chronological history of events which took place up to 736 years prior to the publication of the almanac.

AN EXPLANATION FROM ALD. M'INTYRE

He States That He Did Not Vote Contrary to Convictions

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your report of the meeting of the Trades and Labour Counnoil, I find some injustice has been done me in reference to the stand taken by me in the City Council, in dealing with the question of city work done by day labour. The report of the Executive Committee subjected me to considerable censure for voting against my own convictions in this matter. Evidently the members of the Committee are labouring under some misunderstanding, regarding the stand I took when the question was before the City Council. I desire to say that my vote was entirely in accordance with my views on the subject, as published by the Examiner, prior to the last municipal elections. I then stated that I was in favour of calling for tenders for all city work, and that the City Engineer put in a tender with the contractors, and if the City Engineer's tender was the lowest, that the work be done by day labour. This can be verified by reference to your fyles. I have been called a "staunch supporter" of day labour, and I would not be understood as opposed to it in my vote in the Council, but as dealing with the matter in a common-sense, business-like way.

Thanking you, I remain,
Yours truly,
A. A. McINTYRE.

COMMISSIONER FROM EDMONTON HERE

Mr. G. J. Kinnaird, Inspecting Machine Telephone Plant—Pleased With Results

INSTALLATION IN EDMONTON

Mr. G. J. Kinnaird, city commissioner of Edmonton, was in the city to-day, looking over the Machine Telephone Company's plant, and the working of their telephones here. The City of Edmonton is installing the Machine 'phones there, and have given the contract of supplying the plant to the Machine Telephone Company.

Mr. Kinnaird stated to the Examiner to-day that he was greatly pleased with the working of the 'phones and from inquiries made he believed the system to be an excellent one. He considered that the system, which the city he represented, had decided upon, was advantageous by reason of the fact that it dispensed with the "central" expenses and gave privacy to the subscribers. Also he found that if there was any inefficiency in the new system, it was alwys to be discovered in the machines themselves, and not by reason of any fault of central operation.

Edmonton is A great municipal ownership city, and owns most of its utilities advantageous to the general public. It has begun to construct the outside portion of the new telephone plant and is advancing the building towards completion. Mr. Kinnaird expects that the Machine Telephones will be in operation there by the autumn.

The city of Edmonton, says Mr. Kinnaird, is governed by three commissioners, two of whom are paid, and the third being the Mayor, ex officio. The paid officials spend all their time in the city's interests.

The weather, Mr. Kinnaird says, has been somewhat backward in the west, which has delayed the growth considerably. But, to offset this disadvantage, more land is being tilled than last year, and it is not expected that the amount of farm produce will be any less than usual. On account of the car shortage of last winter half the grain raised last year is yet in the granaries of the farmers or in the elevators.

Mr. Kinnaird left the city this afternoon and, after spending a few days in Toronto, will return home.

When your business becomes irksome and distasteful you are not well. Miller's Compound Iron Pills will make it a pleasure to attend to business. Sold by W. Madill.

CRITICIZED REPORT'S LANGUAGE

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt States That Appeal to Churches Was Sarcastic and Failed of Results

MR. DAVIDSON'S REPORT

Examiner Special.

Toronto, June 14.—At the meeting of the Anglican Synod here yesterday the report of the Widows and Orphans' Fund for the Diocese was presented by Rev. Canon Davidson. It stated that only $401 was needed to meet the October payment, and this was due from parishes easily able to make the payments. The receipts were $9,268.58, and $8,696.09 was paid beneficiaries. Provost Macklem was pleased that the fund was in a healthy condition, after the committee having been for many years indebted to the kindness and generosity of Mr. Blake in making the payments when due. He drew attention to the Theological Students' Fund, which showed receipts of $1,132.83, with a balance of $664.84, and wished it understood that this fund was not lying idle.

In connection with the consideration of the report of the Committee on Episcopal Endowment Fund, there was a somewhat heated discuss on, in which Rev. E. A. Langfeldt of Peterborough took part. He remarked that if there were parishes that had declined to give to the fund, it was because of the phraseology used in the letters sent out by the chairman. They were written in a sarcastic tone which hurt the recipients. The purpose of the fund had been misunderstood, and the reasons given in the report for the non-payment were not to the point. Some parishes had paid up, but it was not due to the letters. Mr. Blake replied that every word of the language used was correct, and, if strong, it was because the churches were not doing their duty. If the report was disagreeable, it was not due to the language used, but to the facts of the case. If they did not like it, the Synod could remove the person responsible for the language, for he certainly would not alter the only way of arousing the parishes.

Prince Rupert, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Terminus, To Be Model City

Absolutely Scientific Basis for the Establishment of the New City on the Pacific Coast as G. T. P. Terminus

THE PRELIMINARY STEPS

Description of the City as it Looks at the Present Time ---Much Work Will Be Done On It This Summer.

From the Stone age communities have grown in but one way. A hunter finds on the shore of a bay, or a farmer on the banks of a stream, a convenient point to form a base for his activities and labours. He rears his cabin, and by and by other families join with him to form a community. Their common needs are soon supplied by village store, and school and church. Increasing population, increased products, and streets, the huts business blocks, organized transportation facilities, first in the form of a wagon or canoe, and ultimately by railway or steamboat. The trails become streets, the huts business blocks, and out of such humble beginnings is evolved the modern town.

A variation from this time-honoured procedure has been apparent of late years in Western Canada. Here, instead of the railway coming to the town, the town has come to the railroad. In hundreds of cases in the west, the railway has preceded the settlement, and the surveyors have staked out the townsites at such distances apart as their whis directed or as local circumstances made convenient. Proximity to the stations has been an inducement to the locating farmer, and settlement has been fostered by the axial growth from the centre thus chosen by the railway company.

To Build Great Seaport.

But the manner of growth of Prince Rupert differs radically from that of any other city in the world, and the old-time methods have been discarded, and from the inception of the first preliminary arrangements the plans made have kept one end in view, the creation of a model city, one in which beauty, convenience, healthiness and space sufficient to serve its original purpose as the great seaport of a great transcontinental railway.

10,000 Acres Purchased

When, by arrangement with the Parliament of Canada, the company was empowered to proceed with the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, one of their first concerns was to secure an ideal deep-water bay, on the shores of which they might found their terminal.

A steamboat was fitted out and dispatched from Victoria in search for a harbour to the north. The cruise lasted for months, but at last, lying behind Digby Island, north of the Skeena, was found an immense basin, fit to float the entire shipping of the Pacific Ocean. To the east the shore line of Kaien Island gave promise of a fitting site for the terminals, and after soundings had demonstrated the depth of water, Kaien Island was selected as the site of the western terminal city of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The next step was the purchase of the site, which was done by negotiations with the Government of British Columbia, from whom 10,000 acres of land were purchased, and here it is that the engineers and surveyors of the company have for the past year been engaged in preparing for the builders of a large city. In the detail work of preparing the plans for the future city the company have reserved all precedent. During last year five survey parties spent the whole of the summer carefully going over every foot of the ground and collecting data for the information of the board of engineers and landscape gardeners. Every point with respect to drainage, water supply, sewerage and artistic effect is being considered.

The site lends itself to the laying out of a beautiful city. The plateau on which the town will be built, extends for a distance of about a mile back from the water, gradually rising to meet the slope of the mountain, which ascend at the back of the townsite till a beautiful view is obtained of the glorious waterways which lead to the harbour, stretching away in delightful vistas. The hills, called the Oldfield range, reach in Mt. Morse the height of 3,300 feet.

Natural Breakwater

Off to the northwest can be seen the little white village of Metlakhatla. Opposite Kaien Island, to the west, forming an effectual breakwater for the harbour, lies Digby Island, occupied as the Indian reserve of the Tsimpshean Indians. To the east, in the Tsimpshean Peninsula, is a beautiful little lake, Shawatlans, meaning fresh water, which will supply a beautiful quality of drinking water to the new city. It has a fifty-foot waterfall, with great power possibilities.

The harbour varies in depth from twelve to thirty fathoms, a mile in width, and the entrance to the harbour, besides being deep water, has the additional advantage of being straight. The tide here runs about 25 to 27 feet. The advantages of the harbour as a factor in the making of a great port are apparent, a spacious roadstead large enough to shelter fleets, an entrance easily navigated, deep water close up to the shores, and the whole sheltered on all sides.

Shipping Accommodation

Indentations of the harbour extend fourteen miles inland with good depth of water, so that the accommodation for shipping is practically unlimited. The shores of the harbour are clothed with the abundant forest and shrubbery common to all parts of the northern Pacific Coast, and while on the immediate foreshore it is not dense, being easy to clear, when the base of the hills is reached, giant firs, and cedar abound.

The city will be built on the northern shore well in from the entrance of the inlet, and not far from the head of the island. Between the Oldfield Range, the backbone of the island, and the harbour front, is a strip of rolling land about a mile in width, and it is here the city is being laid out. The nucleus of a town is already in evidence, and building has gone forward rapidly since its inception. Centre street, the business thoroughfare, extends back from the wharf about half a mile, and along this street are a number of buildings, more or less temporary in character. Among these are the G. T. P. offices and the office of J. H. Bacon, the harbour engineer, under whose direction the town is being built. The Canadian Bank of Commerce has been open for business since February 1, in a large portable building.

All the Comforts of a Home

The principal building is the lodging house for the engineering staff. It is a two story building, thirty feet by forty. On the ground floor are eight rooms for the use of the engineers. One is a club room, with a large fireplace, and a long table well supplied with newspapers and magazines. The sleeping rooms are on the upper floor. The boarding house, twenty-six by forty, contains two stories, the upper one being used as a draughting office and store room. A large mess house has also been built. At right angles to the waterfront for a distance of 275 feet, a plank walk, twelve feet wide, has been laid, and along this thoroughfare twelve buildings have been erected, among them two general stores, a hospital, the mess-house, and residences. The town also possess a barber shop, a drug store, a butcher shop, and a laundry. A first-class hotel is being built in a commanding position fronting the harbour, and on the wharf is a large storehouse for supplies and material. The wharf is to be extended and enlarged to five thousand feet frontage.

Prince Rupert Wharf—The Two Stakes Behind the Dock Are the Indian Reserve Boundary.

Dispute With Local Government

In October last about eighty men were employed on the townsite, surveying, cleaning, erecting buildings and wharves. During the winter the force was increased until over three hundred men were busy in reducing the tangle of the wilderness to a rough semblance of order. At present, owing to the unfortunate dispute with the British Columbia government over the purchase of the Indian reserve, the boundary line of which practically cuts the townsite in two, the force has been decreased to about thirty working around the town, while several survey parties are engaged in completing the topographical work in the outlying districts. As soon as this work is settled, over a thousand men will probably be engaged in the work of laying out the city, and it is expected that during the summer of 1907 progress will be rapid.

The history of the dispute which has given rise to so many rumours that the company were about to withdraw from the building of the city on Kaien Island can be told in a few words. It was asserted that a fraud was perpetrated by the Dominion government in conveying to the railway company the land which they held in trust for the Indians, the title in fee to which was invested by the Provincial Government.

In Trust...

The contention was that the Dominion Government had not the power to sell the land, though standing in the position of trustees between the Indians and the Provincial Government, which latter is said to own a reversionary interest in all B. C. Indian reserves. The question is simply whether the Dominion Government, holding the land in trust for the Indians, had the right to dispose of the tract under consideration.

The tract in dispute is 13,000 acres of land immediately to the west of the centre street and the docks. It includes a strip of territory extending along the whole west coast of Kaien Island from north to south, and also a portion of Digby Island, on the opposite side of the harbour. The stake marking the dividing line between the disputed territory and the company's land lies within a few feet of the lots facing on Centre street, and its acquisition is absolutely necessary under the plans prepared for the laying out of the town. The accepted location of the road running into the town is through this strip on the west side of the island. The company, with the permission of the Dominion Government, purchased the land in question directly from the Indians, when the Provincial Government asserted a right to assume the ownership of the lands if abandoned by the Indians. The G. T. P. has directly addressed the Provincial Government on the subject and received the reply that careful consideration will be given any proposal submitted by the company. It is expected that during the next few days the G. T. P. will formulate a definite offer to the B. C. Government and that a prompt settlement will be reached.

been so reticent at the time of the tragedy? Surely the explanation of all this could not be as innocent as she would have me believe. For the moment I could proceed no farther in that direction, but must turn back to that other clue which was to be sought for among the stone huts upon the moor.

And that was a most vague direction. I realized it as I drove back and noted how hill after hill showed traces of the ancient people. Barrymore's only indication had been that the stranger lived in one of these abandoned huts, and many hundreds of them are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the moor. But I had my own experience for a guide since it had shown me the man himself standing upon the summit of the Black Tor. That then should be the centre of my search. From there I should explore every hut upon the moor until I lighted upon the right one. If this man were inside it I should find out from his own lips, at the point of my revolver if necessary, who he was and why he had dogged us so long. He might slip away from us in the crowd of Regent Street, but it would puzzle him to do so upon the lonely moor. On the other hand, if I should find the hut and its tenant should not be within it I must remain there, however long the vigil, until he returned. Holmes had missed him in London. It would indeed be a triumph for me if I could run him to earth, where my master had failed.

Luck had been against us again and again in this inquiry, but now at last it came to my aid. And the messenger of good fortune was none other than Mr. Frankland, who was standing, grey whiskered and red-faced, outside the gate of his garden, which opened on to the high road along which I traveled.

"Good-day, Dr. Watson," cried he, with unwonted good humor, "you must really give your horses a rest, and come in to have a glass of wine and to congratulate me."

My feelings towards him were far from being friendly after what I had heard of his treatment of his daughter, but I was anxious to send Perkins and the waggonette home, and the opportunity was a good one. I alighted and sent a message to Sir Henry that I should walk over in time for dinner. Then I followed Frankland into his dining-room.

"It is a great day for me, sir—one of the red-letter days of my life," he cried, with many chuckles. "I have brought off a double event. I mean to teach them in these parts that law is law, and that there is a man here who does not fear to invoke it. I have established a right of way through the centre of old Middleton's park, slap across it, sir, within a hundred yards of his own front door. What do you think of that? We'll teach these magnates that they cannot ride rough shod over the rights of the commoners, confound them! And I've closed the wood where the Fernworthy folk used to picnic. These infernal people seem to think that there are no rights of property, and that they can swarm where they like with their papers and their bottles. Both cases decided, Dr. Watson, and both in my favor. I haven't had such a day since I had Sir John Morland for trespass, because he shot in his own warren."

"How on earth did you do that?"

"Look it up in the books, sir. It will repay reading—Frankland v. Morland, Court of Queen's Bench. It cost me £200, but I got my verdict."

"Did it do you any good?"

"None, sir, none. I am proud to say that I had no interest in the matter. I act entirely from a sense of public duty. I have no doubt, for example, that the Fernworthy people will burn me in effigy to-night. I told the police last time they did it that they should stop these disgraceful exhibitions. The County Constabulary is in a scandalous state, sir, and it has not afforded me the protection to which I am entitled. The case of Frankland v. Regina will bring the matter before the attention of the public. I told them that they would have occasion to regret their treatment of me, and already my words have come true."

"How so?" I asked.

The old man put on a very knowing expression.

"Because I could tell them what they are dying to know; but nothing would induce me to help the rascals in any way."

I had been casting round for some excuse by which I could get away from his gossip, but now I began to wish to hear more of it. I had seen enough of the contrary nature of the old sinner to understand that any strong sign of interest would be the surest way to stop his confidences.

"Some poaching case, no doubt?" said I, with an indifferent manner.

"Ha, ha, my boy, a very much more important matter than that! What about the convict on the moor?"

I started. "You don't mean that you know where he is?" said I.

"I may not know exactly where he is but I am quite sure that I could help the police to lay their hands on him. Has it never struck you that the way to catch that man was to find out where he got his food, and so trace it to him?"

He certainly seemed to be getting uncomfortably near the truth. "No doubt," said I; "but how do you know that he is anywhere upon the moor?"

"I know it because I have seen with my own eyes the messenger who takes him his food."

My heart sank for Barrymore. It was a serious thing to be in the power of this spiteful old busybody. But his next remark took a weight from my mind.

"You'll be surprised to hear that his food is taken to him by a child. I see him every day through my telescope upon the roof. He passes along the same path at the same hour, and to whom should he be going except to the convict?"

Here was luck indeed! And yet I suppressed all appearance of interest. A child! Barrymore had said that our unknown was supplied by a boy. It was on his track, and not upon the convict's, that Frankland had stumbled. If I could get his knowledge it might save me a long and weary hunt. But incredulity and indifference were evidently my strongest cards.

"I should say that it was much more likely that it was the son of one of the moorland shepherds taking out his father's dinner."

The least appearance of opposition struck fire out of the old autocrat. His eyes looked malignantly at me, and his grey whiskers bristled like those of an angry cat.

"Indeed, sir!" said he, pointing out over the wide-stretching moor. Do you see that Black Tor over yonder? Well, do you see the lower hill beyond with the thornbrush upon it? It is the stoniest part of the whole moor. Is that a place where a shepherd would be likely to take his station? Your suggestion, sir, is a most absurd one."

I meekly answered that I had spoken without knowing all the facts. My submission pleased him and led him to further confidences.

"You may be sure, sir, that I have very good grounds before I come to an opinion. I have seen the boy again and again with his bundle. Every day, and sometimes twice a day, I have been able—but wait a moment, Dr. Watson. Do my eyes deceive me, or is there at the present moment something moving upon that hill-side?"

It was several miles off, but I could distinctly see a small dark dot against the dull green and grey.

"Come, sir, come!" cried Frankland, rushing upstairs. "You will see with your own eyes and judge for yourself."

The telescope, a formidable instrument mounted upon a tripod, stood upon the flat leads of the house. Frankland clapped his eye to it and gave a cry of satisfaction.

"Quick, Dr. Watson, quick, before he passes over the hill!"

There he was, sure enough, a small urchin with a little bundle upon his shoulder, toiling slowing up the hill. When he reached the crest I saw the ragged uncouth figure outlined for an instant against the cold blue sky. He looked round him, with a furtive and stealthy air, as one who dreads pursuit. Then he vanished over the hill.

"Well! Am I right?"

"Certainly, there is a boy who seems to have some secret errand."

"And what the errand is even a county constable could guess. But not one word shall they have from me, and I bind you in secrecy also, Dr. Watson. Not a word! You understand!"

"Just as you wish."

"They have treated me shamefully—shamefully. When the facts come out in Frankland v. Regina I venture to think that a thrill of indignation will run through the country. Nothing would induce me to help the police in any way. For all they cared it might have been me, instead of my effigy, which these rascals burned at the stake. Surely you are not going! You will help me to empty the decanter in honor of this great occasion!"

But I resisted all his solicitations and succeeded in dissuading him from his announced intention of walking home with me. I kept the road as long as his eye was on me, and then I struck off across the moor and made for the stony hill over which the boy had disappeared. Everything was working in my favor, and I swore that it should not be through lack of energy or perseverance that I should miss the chance which Fortune had thrown in my way.

The sun was already sinking when I reached the summit of the hill, and the long slopes beneath me were all golden-green on one side and grey shadow on the other. A haze lay low upon the farthest sky-line, out of which jutted the fantastic shapes of Belliver and Vixen Tor. Over the wide expanse there was no sound and no movement. One great grey bird, a gull or curlew, soared aloft in the blue Heaven. He and I seemed to be the only living things between the huge arch of the sky and the desert beneath it. The barren scene, the sense of loneliness, and the mystery and urgency of my task all struck a chill into my heart. The boy was nowhere to be seen. But down beneath me in a cleft of the hills there was a circle of the old stone huts, and in the middle of them there was one which retained sufficient roof to act as a screen against the weather. My heart leaped within me as I saw it. This must be the burrow where the stranger lurked. At last my foot was on the threshold of his hiding place—his secret was within my grasp.

As I approached the hut, walking as warily as Stapleton would do when with poised net he drew near the settled butterfly, I satisfied myself that the place had indeed been used as a habitation. A vague pathway among the boulders led to the dilapidated opening which served as a door. All was silent within. The unknown might be lurking there, or he might be prowling on the moor. My nerves tingled with the sense of adventure. Throwing aside my cigarette, I closed my hand upon the butt of my revolver and, walking swiftly up to the door, I looked in. The place was empty.

But there were ample signs that I had not come upon a false scent. This was certainly where the man lived. Some blankets rolled in a waterproof lay upon that very stone slab upon which neolithic man had once slumbered. The ashes of a fire were heaped in a rude grate. Beside it lay some cooking utensils and a bucket half-full of water. A litter of empty tins showed that the place had been occupied for some time, and I saw, as my eyes became accustomed to the chequered light, a pannikin and half-full bottle of spirits standing in the corner. In the middle of the hut a flat stone served the purpose of a table, and upon this stood a small cloth bundle—the same, no doubt, which I had seen through the telescope upon the shoulder of the boy. It contained a loaf of bread, a tinned tongue and two tins of preserved peaches. As I set it down again, after having examined it, my heart leaped to see that beneath it there lay a sheet of paper with writing upon it. I raised it, and this was what I read, roughly scrawled in pencil:—

"Dr. Watson has gone to Coombe Tracey."

For a minute I stood there with the paper in my hands thinking out the meaning of this curt message. It was I, then, and not Sir Henry, who was being dogged by this secret man. He had not followed me himself, but he had set an agent—the boy, perhaps—upon my track, and this was his report. Possibly I had taken no step since I had been upon the moor which had not been observed and reported. Always there was this feeling of an unseen force, a fine net drawn round us with infinite skill and delicacy, holding us so lightly that it was only at some supreme moment that one realized that one was indeed entangled in its meshes.

If there was one report there might be others, so I looked round the hut in search of them. There was no trace, however, of anything of the kind, nor could I discover any sign which might indicate the character or intentions of the man who lived in this singular place, save that he must be of Spartan habits, and cared little for the comforts of life. When I thought of the heavy rains and looked at the gaping roof I understood how strong and immutable must be the purpose which had kept him in that inhospitable abode. Was he our malignant enemy, or was he by chance our guardian angel? I swore that I would not leave the hut until I knew.

Outside the sun was sinking low and the west was blazing with scarlet and gold. Its reflection was shot back in ruddy patches by the distant pools which lay amid the great Grimpen Mire. There were the two towers of Baskerville Hall, and there a distant blur of smoke which marked the village of Grimpen. Between the two, behind the hill, was the house of the Stapletons. All was sweet and mellow and peaceful in the golden evening light, and yet as I looked at them my soul shared none of the peace of nature, but quivered at the vagueness and the terror of that interview which every instant was bringing nearer. With tingling nerves, but a fixed purpose, I sat in the dark recess of the hut and waited with sombre patience for the coming of its tenant.

And then at last I heard him. Far away came the sharp clink of a boot striking a stone. Then another and yet another, coming nearer and nearer. I shrank back into the darkest corner and cocked the pistol in my pocket, determined not to discover myself until I had an opportunity of seeing something of the stranger. There was a long pause which showed that he had stopped. Then once more the footsteps approached and a shadow fell across the opening of the hut.

I shrank back into the darkest corner and cocked the pistol in my pocket.

"It is a lovely evening, my dear Watson," said a well-known voice. "I really think that you will be more comfortabe outside than in."

CHAPTER XII.

For a moment or two I sat breathless, hardly able to believe my ears. Then my senses and my voice came back to me, while a crushing weight of responsibility seemed in an instant to be lifted from my soul. That cold, incisive, ironical voice could belong to but one man in all the world.

"Holmes!" I cried—"Holmes!"

"Come out," said he, "and please be careful with the revolver."

I stooped under the rude lintel, and there he sat upon a stone outside, his grey eyes dancing with amusement as they fell upon my astonished features. He was thin and worn, but clear and alert, his keen face bronzed by the sun and roughened by the wind. In his tweed suit and cloth cap he looked like any other tourist upon the moor, and he had contrived, with that catlike love of personal cleanliness which was one of his characteristics, that his chin should be as smooth and his linen as perfect as if he were in Baker Street.

"I never was more glad to see any one in my life," said I, as I wrung him by the hand.

"Or more astonished, eh?"

"Well, I must confess to it."

"The surprise was not all on one side, I assure you. I had no idea that you had found my occasional retreat, still less that you were inside it, until I was within twenty paces of the door."

"My footprint, I presume?"

"No, Watson; I fear that I could not undertake to recognize your footprint amid all the footprints of the world. If you seriously desire to deceive me you must change your tobacconist; for when I see the stub of a cigarette marked Bradley, Oxford Street, I know that my friend Watson is in the neighborhood. You will see it there beside the path. You threw it down, no doubt, at that supreme moment when you charged into the empty hut."

"Exactly."

"I thought as much—and knowing your admirable tenacity I was convinced that you were sitting in ambush, a weapon within reach, waiting for the tenant to return. So you actually thought that I was the criminal?"

"I did not know who you were, but I was determined to find out."

"Excellent, Watson! And how did you localize me? You saw me, perhaps, on the night of the convict hunt, when I was so imprudent as to allow the moon to rise behind me?"

"Yes, I saw you then."

"And have no doubt searched all the huts until you came to this one?"

"No, your boy had been observed, and that gave me a guide where to look."

"The old gentleman with the telescope, no doubt. I could not make it out when first I saw the light flashing upon the lens." He rose and peeped into the hut. "Ha, I see that Cartwright has brought up some supplies. What's this paper? So you have been to Coombe Tracey, have you?"

"Yes."

"To see Mrs. Laura Lyons?"

"Exactly."

"Well done! Our researches have evidently been running on parallel lines, and when we unite our results I expect we shall have a fairly full knowledge of the case."

"Well, I am glad from my heart that you are here, for indeed the responsibility and the mystery were both becoming too much for my nerves. But how in the name of wonder did you come here, and what have you been doing? I thought that you were in Baker Street working out that case of blackmailing."

"That was what I wished you to think."

"Then you use me, and yet do not trust me!" I cried, with some bitterness. "I think that I have deserved better at your hands, Holmes."

"My dear fellow, you have been invaluable to me in this as in many other cases, and I beg that you will forgive me if I have seemed to play a trick upon you. In truth, it was partly for your own sake that I did it, and it was my appreciation of the danger which you ran which led me to come down and examine the matter for myself. Had I been with Sir Henry and you it is confident that my point of view would have been the same as yours, and my presence would have warned our very formidable opponents to be on their guard. As it is, I have been able to get about as I could not possibly have done had I been living in the Hall, and I remain an unknown factor in the business, ready to throw in all my weight at a critical moment."

"But why keep me in the dark?"

"For you to know could not have helped us, and might possibly have led to my discovery. You would have wished to tell me something, or in your kindness you would have brought me out some comfort or other, and so an unnecessary risk would be run. I brought Cartwright down with me—you remember the little chap at the Express Office—and he has seen after my simple wants; a loaf of bread and a clean collar. What does man want more? He has given me an extra pair of eyes upon a very active pair of feet, and both have been invaluable."

"Then my reports have all been wasted!"—My voice trembled as I recalled the pains and the pride with which I had composed them.

Holmes took a bundle of papers from his pocket.

"Here are your reports, my dear fellow, and very well thumbed, I assure you. I made excellent arrangements, and they are only delayed one day upon their way. I must compliment you exceedingly upon the zeal and the intelligence which you have shown over an extraordinary difficult case."

I was still rather raw over the deception which had been practised upon me, but the warmth of Holmes's praise drove my anger from my mind. I felt also in my heart that he was right in what he said and that it was really best for our purpose that I should not have known that he was upon the moor.

"That's better," said he, seeing the shadow rise from my face. "And now tell me the result of your visit to Mrs. Laura Lyons—it was not difficult for me to guess that it was to see her that you had gone, for I am already aware that she is the one person in Coombe Tracey who might be of service to us in the matter. In fact, if you had not gone to-day it is exceedingly probable that I should have gone to-morrow."

The sun had set and dusk was settling over the moor. The air had turned chill and we withdrew into the hut for warmth. There, sitting together in the twilight, I told Holmes of my conversation with the lady. So interested was he that I had to repeat some of it twice before he was satisfied.

"This is most important," said he, when I had concluded. "It fills up a gap which I had been unable to bridge, in this most complex affair. You are aware, perhaps, that a close intimacy exists between this lady and the man Stapleton?"

"I did not know of a close intimacy."

"There can be no doubt about the matter. They meet, they write, there is a complete understanding between them. Now, this puts a very powerful weapon into our hands. If I could only use it to detach his wife——"

"His wife?"

"I am giving you some information now, in return for all that you have given me. The lady who has passed here as Miss Stapleton is in reality his wife."

"Good heavens, Holmes! Are you sure of what you say? How could he have permitted Sir Henry to fall in love with her?"

Could any operation be easier or simpler?

These four grates are made of heavy cast-iron with the strongest kind of bull dog teeth. Heavy and strong enough to grind up the biggest clinker into particles small enough to sift through the narrow openings between the teeth.

3c. a day will Cure Rheumatism.

The aim of most "cures" for Rheumatism seems to be to relieve the pain. When they have done that, their usefulness is gone. And the next time you take cold, or your feet get wet, or you over-exert yourself, back comes the pain.

is different. It does relieve the pain, as quickly as the best liniment. And it does MORE. IT REMOVES THE CAUSE of Rheumatism, uric acid in the blood.

Every drop of blood passes through the Kidneys. These organs should filter out impurities. When they are weak, inflamed or diseased, the impurities stay in the blood and are carried to the sensitive nerves. Rheumatism is simply this irritation of the nerves, caused by uric acid and other impurities being deposited upon them—their favorite place being the joints and muscles. Make the Kidneys filter the blood properly, keep the blood pure and rich, and there can be no Rheumatism. Bu-Ju does this.

As there were no appeals against the assessment the roll was passed by the court and certified by the clerk.

After Court of Revision the Council went into session.

On motion of Messrs. Graham and Garbutt, the clerk was instructed to notify R. Heard to remove his fence off the street allowance in the Village of Young's Point and also to notify W G Johnston to remove the stones placed upon the highway between lots 4 and 5. W. C. R., and also to notify him that if said attones were not removed by the 1st of July legal proceedings will be taken against him.

The sum of $750 was appropriated for the repair of the roads, to be spent equally by each councillor.

SOME MORE ABOUT THAT WATER TROUGH

Councillor Quinlan Refers to Mr. Crowe's Letter Concerning This Improvement

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I noticed an item in last week's issue, concerning a watering trough which Mr. Crowe speaks of that would be convenient for him. I think it would be very unfair for the council to place a watering trough where it will only accommodate a few people. I am in favour of a watering trough on the main road between Warsaw and Peterborough where I consider it would be a greater benefit to the travelling public, and moved a motion to that effect, but failed to get a seconder. Why does Mr. Crowe single out Mr. Farley and myself, and lay all the blame to us, as Mr. Walsh and Mr. Moher live on the same road, and would not second either motion? The fifteen dollars which Mr. Crowe refers to has been expended by a few ratepayers for their own use, not for the benefit of the public. Mr. Crowe also states that he has given two dollars to encourage this work, but we fail to know to whom he has given it. Mr. Crowe also speaks of this being the first watering-place in Douro township, but if he would leave the stage line and travel other roads with his eyes open he could not fail to see watering-places established by the council years ago, and we sincerely hope that in the near future there will be a watering-place on this main road, so that Mr. Crowe and his horses will not have to go over this long road thirsty.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space in your valuable paper, I remain,

Yours truly,
WILLIAM QUINLAN.

Peterborough Persons Caught By A Swindle

Sent 97 Cents for Case of Silverware and Some of Them Received Trash Worth Perhaps Ten Cents.

STOP PUT TO TRADE

Some Peterborough people have, it is understood, been bitten by the alluring advertisements issued by an American firm, offering to sell—or give—beautiful silverware for 97 cents a set, and, for the benefit of those unfortunates it may be of interest to inform them that in Montreal, where the same concern was operating, a stop has been put to the business of the company, and the mails are now closed to them.

There was a branch of the concern in Montreal, and, it is stated, that during the short time they were operating there no less than 2,700 persons were victimized. The amounts collected were small, it is true, but in the aggregate there was a sufficient sum realised to make it worth while to run the risk.

The schemers were known as "The John Rogers Silverware Company of Providence, R. I., not incorporated, and 'no connection with the trust.'" Then the letter heading goes on to say:

"We guarantee entire satisfaction or money refunded," and "a set of our silverware should be in every home."

The operations were conducted as far as Montreal was concerned, from Providence; Toronto, for instance, might be handled from Buffalo, but it was necessary in the many neighbourhoods selected by the Rogers people to do up their victims, but the early stages of the swindle should be worked from a distance.

The scheme was as follows: With a Montreal date, but mailed from Providence, about 10,000 copies of the following letter were sent from that city to all classes of citizens, eighty per cent. of them being women:

"Montreal, Canada.

"Dear Friend—

"The list is just being completed of the persons who are to be AWARDED A PRESENT, and we are pleased to inform you that you have been selected as one of the fortunate ones.

"The PRESENT which we hold subject to your order, is a beautiful FOUR-PIECE SET of silverware, full size, for family use, which we will send to you all charges prepaid, in an Im. Leatherette Case, silk finish lined, securely packed in a strong outside box, upon receipt of 97 cents, a charge which we make for packing, shipping and the cost of prepaying charges to your home, silverware inclusive. We guarantee safe delivery and protect you against breakage.

"The reason we make this liberal offer is to introduce our silverware into your county, where we have opened up a branch. To avoid the details of additional clerical work and expense we cannot possibly send the goods C.O.D., but we will deliver your present unpacked without charge to anyone who calls at our office and presents this letter duly signed by you.

"Please do not destroy your signature, as it is the only means we have to identify you.

"Kindly fill out the blank below as plainly as possible to avoid mistakes.

"Name..... ... ...Town..... ... ... ...
"St. and No..... ..... ... ...County.....
"Name of Express Co..... ... ... ...
"State..... ... ... ... ... ... ... ...

"In sending charges of 97 cents, kindly do so in stamps or two cent stamps, express order or registered letter; and this 97 cents covers all charges of every description, including prepayment to your very door.

"In order to save a heavy duty please send your remittance to our Canadian branch, 485 St. Catharine, west, Montreal.

"It is necessary that you reply within FIFTEEN DAYS or we will not hold present for you.

"Yours very truly,

"ROGERS SILVERWARE CO."

The fact is that the beautiful four piece set of silverware, full-size, all charges paid, featherette case, silk finish lined, etc., etc., consists of four pieces of "silverware" such as are to be bought in the ten cent stores. Even had these been sent to the people who forwarded the money the swindle might not have been so bare faced, but it is stated that not more than five per cent of those who paid received the "silverware."

A GREAT TRIUMPH

Gained by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

The Doctors of Mount Clemens Institute Prove the Value of These Pills in the Case of Mr. S. Harris, Government Inspector of Elevators at Hamilton, Ont.

From the Star, Dundas, Ont.

We were much pleased to see Mr. S. Harris, the well known Government inspector of elevators of Hamilton, in Dundas the other day, greatly improved in health and appearance since the last time we met him. As is known to many of the Star readers, Mr. Harris has recovered from a long and severe illness, and is now quite able to attend his usual duties.

From this long illness many predicted Mr. Harris would never recover, and the fact that he is once more able to go around very nearly as spry as he did before he was attacked, is little less than marvellous to them.

In reply to our reporter, Mr. Harris related the early stages of the attack and subsequent sufferings which he experienced, and while he did not court publicity, decided that in the public interest he would relate the circumstances of this wonderful cure. About fourteen months ago Mr. Harris woke up one morning with a stiff neck, try as he would, and after applying all the remedies externally that he could hear or think of, he was unable to get rid of it. The stiffness moved to the spine and shoulders, then to his hips, until it made almost a cripple of him, and it was with extreme difficulty that he could get out of bed at all. As for walking it was out of the question with him. The attack became so bad that he was unable to put on either his coat, vest or hat. From time to time he called in various medical men, none of whom were able to give him much relief. It was almost impossible for him to raise his feet from the floor, and all pronounced his a severe case of muscular rheumatism, giving him little encouragement as to his ultimate recovery. However, one medical gentleman finally recommended the baths, and as a last resort Mr. Harris decided to follow his advice, and went to Mount Clemens, Mich. As is customary with all patients, Mr. Harris had to undergo a thorough examination in order to determine if the system can stand this rigorous treatment. After several examinations had been made as to Mr. Harris' condition, the physicians there finally decided that he was not suffering from muscular rheumatism at all, but that his ailment was of the nerves, and told him that the baths would do him little or no good; that he required altogether different treatment. Mr. Harris placed himself in the hands of one of the physicians there, and what seemed quite strange to him they did nothing for him but administer medicine in the shape of pills. Shortly after he commenced this treatment he began to improve perceptibly, and his appetite greatly improved. He began to walk around slowly at first, but soon was able to get around more than he could for a year previous. He was able to put on his coat and vest, and began to feel like his former self. His improvement was so rapid and perceptible not only to himself, but to others, that he was plied with with all sorts of questions as to his wonderful recovery. The medical attendant was questioned as to the nature of the medicine which was being administered. Much to the surprise of Mr. Harris and other patients there, he was told that it was a well known Canadian remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and was advised to continue their use for a time on his return home. Mr. Harris is loud in his praise of the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and consented to make his case public in the hope that he might benefit others similarly afflicted. Mr. Harris has long been a resident of Hamilton, being a well known builder of elevators, as well as Government Inspector of the same, so that his prominence and well known integrity are evidence that he is sincere in the statements he made.

LUCKY BOYS

Gold Mines, Limited,

LARDER LAKE

THOMAS McCAMUS, President.
Vice-President of The Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Mining Company and President of The Temiskaming Telephone Co.

FRANK WESLEY HAYNES, Vice-President.
Director of the New Liskeard and Ontario Mining Company.

The highest recommendation for the shares of the Lucky Boys Gold Mines, Ltd., is the fact that large blocks of them are being rapidly subscribed for at Cobalt, Haileybury, New Liskeard and Larder Lake. These people, being on the ground, are in a position to see the Lucky Boys properties for themselves; they know the wonderful values that have been disclosed. Mine owners and miners from the surrounding mines are all pinning their faith on the Lucky Boys, they are buying all the shares they can, they realize what a splendid investment they are getting in buying Lucky Boys at 6 cents per share. Are you going to join them in making a fortune? The Lucky Boys properties consist of 20 claims of 40 acres each, making a total acreage of 800 acres. Some of the claims adjoin the famous Reddick claims, others adjoin the Proprietary Gold Fields, and others adjoin the wonderful Blue Bell properties.

The properties of the Lucky Boys were staked in the fall of 1906 and were the third property staked in the Larder Lake camp. Considerable work has been done on them. They were staked and discovered by James Thompson, D. Cameron, A. Campbell and others—all Klondike and British Columbia miners. Messrs. Thompson, Cameron and Campbell were also the discoverers of the celebrated Silver Queen mine at Cobalt. Most of the work done has been but surface work, but sufficient to prove the great value of the properties. The formation are dykes of schists and porphyry of great widths, running across the properties, from which free gold is obtainable in large quantities.

We have sent our own mining engineers to examine and report on the properties, we have looked exhaustively into the merits of Lucky Boys before offering the shares to our clients. We question if an opportunity like this will ever present itself to you again. We advise our clients to buy Lucky Boys now at

6 CENTS PER SHARE

(Par Value, $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-assessable)

We advise you to buy all you can, you are bound to greatly profit thereby.

The stock of the Lucky Boys is actually worth a great deal more money than the price we are offering it at. Our engineers figure there is in sight on the properties of this Company gold equal to many times the par value of the total capitalization of the Company. All it requires for investors to make money is to have faith and confidence in the Lucky Boys proposition, and we strongly advise investors to put every dollar that they can in these shares at the present price.

Could you visit the Larder Lake district and examine the properties, as we have done, you would not hesitate a single moment in placing every dollar at your command in the shares of Lucky Boys.

While the rich are enabled to take their private car and personally inspect and invest their money in mining properties, it is necessary for the man or woman who has only a few hundred or a few thousand dollars to invest to depend upon some one in whom they have the utmost confidence, and unless the small investors have a friend or friends in the field they are at a loss as to how to invest their capital.

They must naturally then turn to some legitimate house that deals in investment securities, whose sole aim and idea in carrying on their business is to interest and have their customers invest their surplus funds in properties that, while they may not be fully developed, yet have the indications and proof of being absolutely safe and big dividend payers, with the co-operation of the general public.

We know that our whole future depends upon the success of our customers and our profitable operations for them. If you find you must sell your Lucky Boys that you buy for any reason whatever, send them to us and we will sell them for you, simply charging our regular one per cent. commission, and we will guarantee to get you a better price for your holdings than any other firm of brokers can obtain for you, but our advice to you is that if you do not see your way clear to hold Lucky Boys until the property can be developed and put on a dividend-paying basis, which should come about within six months, we advise you not to buy it.

There is nothing so important to the success of a company as the management, for a company might own the best property in the country and with poor and extravagant management would be a failure. The Directors are all well-known business and mining men who have invested their own money in the enterprise. They believe the properties under their care will eventually become one of the great dividend payers of the country.

It should be noted that all of the Directors of the Company are well-known and successful business men—not men that are simply interested in a mine—but men that are miners in every sense of the word, and who know how to operate, maintain and conduct a mine in a business-like manner and who have been connected with the strongest and most successful mines in the Cobalt camp. These gentlemen are just the kind of mining men that investors should be glad to become identified with.

The fact that some of these gentlemen, who are Directors of the Company and originally owned a part interest in some of the Lucky Boys claims, are buying the shares at 6 cents each with the cash that they receive for their interest in the properties should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. These men know what a splendid investment they are getting in buying the shares at 6 cents each.

As we have heretofore stated in our circular letters and advertisements, we are willing to stake our standing and reputation on the present conditions and the future outcome of the Larder Lake district and as to its possibilities.

We say to our clients follow our advice in the purchase of shares of the Lucky Boys, rely upon our reputation and standing as being reliable and trustworthy. Follow our advice and you will make profits that will astonish you.

Coming to the most vital point of all, when you interest yourself in Lucky Boys you are becoming a partner of people who are either practical mining men, and have made fortunes out of mining, or of mining men who are willing to wait the development of this property to make their fortunes.

A FEW WORDS IN CONFIDENCE.

King Palmetto Compound is a distinct product of the twentieth Century conditions. It is not a secret or patent nostrum, on the contrary the formula is plainly printed on the wrapper. It is the result of the modern investigations into the cause and cure of all disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys.

Science has demonstrated that ninety per cent. of the diseases to which the body is subject have their origin in the retaining of waste and poisonous matter in the system, and that if the bowels and kidneys are properly performing their respective functions, all the other organs and the nerves will continue in a condition of abounding health. King Palmetto Compound is a kidney and liver tonic and blood purifier of wonderful virtue, and the diseases which arise from impure blood and sluggish liver and kidneys are quickly cured by its use, as cystitis, catarrh of the bladder, nervous prostration, general debility and rheumatism.

One dose a day. Pleasant and convenient to take. It contains no dangerous poisons and no narcotics, but just pure vegetable remedies of universally acknowledged efficacy.

Price $1.00 a Bottle.

PRINCE RUPERT, THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILWAY TERMINUS

from Prince Rupert. Beginning at the wharf and walking up Centre street, on the right is the old G. T. P. office, now used principally as a guest house. Joined to this is a large new building comprising draughting offices and the private office of J. H. Bacon, harbour engineer, under whose direction the town is being built. In this building are also the different dining rooms and kitchen of the company, also Mr. Bacon's private suite of rooms. In the large dining room service was held every Sunday, by Bishop Du Vernet, formerly of Toronto Junction until the erection of the Church of England, which is now finished.

Next door to this is a large boarding house. We then come to the drug store, in a temporary stand composed of a walled and floored tent built up with counters, etc. Next comes the Canadian Bank of Commerce. It is a fine, large, portable building, beautifully finished inside. Mr. Hilton, the manager, the teller, and a Chinaman cook, constitute the bank staff, and they are very comfortable, with hot and cold water, bath, furnace, and other modern conveniences. On the opposite side of Centre street, from the lower corner, is first a lodging house. Mr. N. S. Hafler, architect, of Vancouver, has his office in this building. The postoffice is the first tent, in charge of Mr. R. L. McIntosh, formerly of Port Essington. Next door is the Customs office, in charge of Mr. Davy, acting collector.

Bank to Open Branch

Further along is the temporary grocery store, and the United Supply and Contract Co.'s office and the hardware store are all under one roof. Further up the street is the United Supply Co.'s large department store, just finished. The butcher shop is a neat little building on the water front, and there is also a barber shop and a laundry. The Bank of Montreal is about to open a branch at Prince Rupert.

Three donkey engines are in commission clearing and taking out stumps, etc. The new hotel, which will be finished about May 31st, will cost $10,000. At the upper end of the street beyond the new church, several acres have been cleared for a lumber yard, and a huge shed built for sheltering dressed lumber.

At the head of Kaien Island is Seal Harbour, where the B. C. Tie and Timber Company have a large and well equipped sawmill turning out ties for construction. This is in charge of J. Y. Rochester, formerly superintendent of the Government Yukon telegraph line. At Seal Harbour mill electric light has been installed, and, when the proper machinery can be placed in position, Prince Rupert will be supplied with light from this point.

The climate conditions of Kaien Island are good. The weather in spring and fall, like that of all coast places, is principally marked by rain. The winters are clear and cold; there is not much snow, and the thermometer never falls below zero. The summers are glorious.

The topographical survey on Kaien island has been completed, and survey parties are now at work on the peninsula across Tuck's Inlet. The entrance to the harbour has been buoyed by alternating light buoys, of which there are four in position. A telephone line runs from the townsite to the mill at Seal Harbour.

While the harbour on the west side of the island is all that could be desired the channel on the east side is not by any means so navigable. There are two rapids which are only navigable at certain stages of the tide, in what is known as Fern or Canoe passage. There are two parties of men at present engaged in taking soundings on this side of the island and in Tuck's Inlet.

Digby Island, on the west side of the harbour is simply teeming with golden possibilities for the future. It possesses beautiful sandy beaches upon which, in course of time, summer hotels will be built, pavilions and board walks will spring up and Digby island will be converted into the Atlantic city of the Pacific coast. It is about twenty-five miles round and forms a part of the disputed territory. The scenery is as beautiful as heart can desire.

All steamers in the B. C. coast trade now make Prince Rupert a port of call. The swiftest boats on this route are the Alaska liners of the Canadian Pacific. These boats are, however, taken off during the winter. The most comfortable of the winter craft is the Camoeun of the Union Steamship Co. The single trip fare from Victoria to Prince Rupert is eighteen dollars. The time consumed varies according to the speed of the boat. As the Camoeun calls at various canneries on the way her time for the round trip is about ten days. The G.T.P. gasoline launch, with a 20 h.p. engine, running at half speed, journeyed from Vancouver to Prince Rupert sixty-seven hours. With a fast steamer and no stops, Vancouver to Prince Rupert could be made in a day. About two steamers a week each from Vancouver and Victoria call at Prince Rupert, and there is at present a weekly mail service.

The richest halibut banks in the world, those of the Queen Charlotte Islands, lie within five hours' steam of the docks of Prince Rupert. It is to these banks that the New England Fish Co., of Boston, sends its fleet of steamers and loads from their catch the halibut specials which carry the frozen fish to the tables of New York and Philadelphia. Salmon, clams, herring and other fish also abound.

Lying immediately to the south of Kaien Island is North Porpoise Island, about a mile wide by two miles long from north to south. On this island surveys have been made and plans prepared with a view to locating the immense terminal yards of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway at this point. The island is naturally of a character well adapted to the purpose and it has been chosen as being the most eminently practicable site. The main line of the railway will cross from the mainland to Porpoise Island and run thence up the west side of Kaien Island to Prince Rupert.

A feature of the development of Prince Rupert that is arousing the curiosity and interest of the people of North America, is the fact that the G.T.P. management is in no hurry to offer any of the land comprised in the townsite for sale, and that it is proposed, as far as possible, to prevent speculators from acquiring Prince Rupert city lots. No lots are likely to be offered for sale before next autumn, and then sales of lots will probably carry with them building conditions that will have a lasting appearance upon both the appearance and general welfare of the city.

The water supply of the city will at first be drawn from a creek which falls into Tuck's Inlet in close proximity to the town. This stream of beautiful water will be sufficient to satisfy the demands of a town of ten thousand inhabitants. By the time its resources are exhausted a bountiful supply will be available from the waterworks to be erected at Lake Shawatlans, on the mainland, a few miles to the east. This lake is composed of the purest of water, and as its capacity is practically unlimited the water supply for Prince Rupert is decided in advance.

At the foot of Lake Shawatlans is a fall of about thirty feet head, with great power possibilities, and it is from the development of this power that the city will obtain its electricity for lighting, street car, manufacturing and other purposes.

With all the natural advantages it possesses with regard to location, scenery, drainage, good water, power, and magnificent harbour, Price Rupert should be the most beautiful and most perfectly laid out city in the Dominion. It is being built under conditions that are practically impossible with the ordinary city, which starts out with a few nondescript buildings, and grows by rule of thumb. Prince Rupert is foreordained to be a western metropolis before a foundation is laid. Not only are expert surveyors now at work, planning the streets, and parks, and other features of the city, but expert andscape gardeners are engage to see that it will be beautiful in its general outline, as well as a city of broad streets and with all the requirements of a modern metropolis.

The details of the company's plans for starting the city on its way, are about completed, and by the fall of this year the lots and building sites should be ready for sale. The town will probably be well under way before the Grand Trunk Pacific line is completed, as it is in the line of coast traffic, and in the midst of some of the most beautiful scenery in America. There will also be a rapid growth of trade caused by the settlement along the line of the road, as well as by the immense number of men, and the amount of supplies to be used in construction, which will pass through Prince Rupert. It may be confidently stated that Prince Rupert will become not only a great trading city but will speedily become a headquarters for tourists.

Modern business houses experience difficulty in finding capable employees.

The directors of Business Systems, Limited, who, for years, have been closely allied with the systematizing of the largest Canadian commercial institutions, are asked almost every day to recommend men competent to take charge of offices. They are seldom able to do so. Practically all the good men are already placed—the demand far exceeds the supply. So, in order that they may have really capable men—men whom they feel they can recommend—they have arranged for the opening of a training school.

Students of Business Systems Commercial School, Limited, when they enter a business house, will not have to be taken in hand as juniors and taught the work.

Every student who graduates from Business Systems Commercial School, Limited, will be a practical man in every sense, and able to step right in and take complete charge of any office, anywhere. That's the whole story in a nutshell

A.—Business Systems Commercial School, is not confined to the forms manufactured by Business Systems, Limited, but includes all modern accounting ideas

B.—Throughout, practical methods as adopted by the leading commercial houses are taught, going thoroughly into the detail of the work from the time the order is received, following it through the billing department, ledgers, etc., and thoroughly educating the student as a specialist in modern methods.

C.—The School teaches thoroughly, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Spelling, and in the more advanced courses, Commercial Law and modern banking.

D.—After thoroughly investigating the best schools in America, Business Systems Commercial School have installed the latest system of Shorthand and Typewriting teaching.

E.—Only expert teachers who have had practical business experience are employed, and retail as well as wholesale business methods are taught.

F.—There are Special Night Courses for students who already occupy positions, and who are desirous of fitting themselves for something better.

If you only want to make yourself a fair bookkeeper, do not bother writing us; you are not only wasting your own time, but ours as well. If you really desire to make yourself a capable office man and equip yourself to hold down a first-class position, write us for booklet on the courses taught.

ENGLAND

A thrilling story of shipwreck was narrated at Southampton recently, when the crew of the Sunderland steamer, Thornhill, 29 in number, landed from the royal mail liner, Atrato. The Thornhill left New York for Brasil on April 5th. Ten days later a fire was discovered to be raging in the hold. There was just time to throw into the boats some provisions and a small supply of water, and push off, before the Thornhill became a roaring furnace. Then the crew in two lifeboats and two smaller boats, headed for the nearest port, Barbadoes, nearly one thousand miles away. Fortunately, the sea was calm, and with the aid of an improvised sail they made fair progress, but one by one the men fell back exhausted and parched. There was only sufficient water to provide three wine glasses full a day and the whole company suffered terribly from thirst. For eight days they drifted on the Atlantic in a pitiable plight, and many of the men were in a critical state when Barbadoes was sighted. The crew has covered 870 miles, which is said to be the longest distance ever traversed in open boats.

A remarkable story of a woman, who could not keep awake was told at an inquest at the city coroner's court in London recently on Mrs. Mary Ann Dobbs. The woman's husband said that his wife was well until six months ago, and that then the woman began to grow very stout and to suffer from a strange form of sleepiness. She would fall asleep at breakfast, he said, and she often fell asleep when walking about the house. Sometimes she got up during the night but fell asleep again before she could cross the room. Mr. Dobbs heard a crash in the kitchen one morning last April and on going down stairs he found his wife with her leg severely cut. She had slept while standing at the table and had fallen against a coal scuttle. "One has heard of the Fat Boy in Dickens," said the coroner, "but I have never heard of such a case as this."

The captain of the steam trawler Kernevel, which returned to Liverpool the other morning, reports a very strange phenomenon which he observed at sea and which he attributes to a submarine volcanic eruption. The trawler was at sea about 44 miles south east of Croix and 60 miles west of Belleisle, when the crew noticed a cloud of thick black smoke at a distance of about five miles. The captain thought it was a ship on fire but on approaching it to offer assistance he saw nothing but smoke and flames spouting up from the waves. At night the peculiar phenomenon was again seen on an even larger scale. Fierce flames shot up from the swell but the sailors did not dare to approach the spot again. The crew of other trawlers also witnessed the scene.

The identity of the gentleman who wrote the fatal word "Ichabod," over the entrance to the City Temple, London, has been discovered. His name is Henry Edwards Parker, and he is professionally a sign painter. His father was a naval officer. For years he has been a student of the Bible, which he accepts as the literal word of God dictated to the human race and reported by the pens of the prophets. He is an eloquent speaker, well known as a street preacher about Victoria docks and Canning town. His action in regard to the City Temple was dictated by a passionate revolt against the Rev. R. J. Campbell's "New Theology." He slipped away in the early morning, in company with his younger brother, and inscribed the word of doom over the portal of the temple.

An exciting tug of war between gipsies and villagers was witnessed at Norton Heath, near Ongar, Essex, recently. On the previous day the gipsies encamped upon the Heath and declined to withdraw. The assistant overseer and the village blacksmith brought a horse each into the camp, hitched the animals on to the caravans and pulled them to the road. The gipsies vigorously protested, and when the overseer and blacksmith had taken their horses out of the shafts the gipsies harnessed the horses to the vans, and returned to the Heath. The overseer and blacksmith hitched their horses on to the vans again and started for the road. The gipsies resisted and the tug of war which ensued resulted in the gipsies retaining their ground and remaining on the Heath.

At a depth of 1321 feet main coal has been reached in Lord Londonderry's new colliery at Seaham Harbour, after a remarkable engineering feat. Owing to the presence of enormous quantities of water, forming a quicksand, it was found necessary to freeze the ground to a depth of nearly 500 feet. Twenty-eight holes were bored in a circle about the shaft to a depth of 484 feet and freezing tubes were inserted. Brine was the medium used to extract the heat from the strata. The length of time required to form a wall of ice was 185 days, the wall being maintained for 358 days, the shaft bottom the frozen sand was so hard that it could only be penetrated by blasting.

SCOTLAND

A Tyne mystery, which has excited the greatest interest owing to the tragic circumstances surrounding it, has been cleared up to a certain extent. On March 16 last John Tully, a young man living with his parents at Wallsend, left home to go to a football match at North Shields. He was last seen in North Shields late the same evening, and then totally disappeared. For a month he relatives searched for him, and then on April 18 his father was borne down with grief that he succumbed to it, dying—according to the medical attendant—from a broken heart. The publication of this tragic sequel led to a little light being thrown on the disappearance, for some people resident at New Seaham Durham, spoke to a young man of Tully's description visiting them three weeks after his disappearance. This stranger begged shelter and some food, and told them he was tramping to Hartlepool for work. He was then again lost sight of. The last act in the drama occurred the other day, when a much decomposed body was found in the Tyne. It lay unidentified for 2 days, and now the family of Tully have identified it by means of a key, ring and chain as that of the missing man. The reason for his disappearance and his being found in the river are still a mystery.

Gretna Green keeps its jubilee as the Gretna Green at which the village blacksmith may no longer unite flessing lovers in the bonds of matrimony. It was in 1857 that the Gretna Green marriages were made illegal. A glance at the registers may yet inspire the novelist of the future. One entry will be sure to puzzle. Twice within a few days occurs the record of the marriage of Richard Brinsley Sheridan to Miss Grant. There was only on R. B. S., only one bride for same gentleman. The double entries are not the result of any blunder on the part of the Rev. Mr. Vulcan. The parties were really twice married at Gretna Green. Arriving on a Sunday they were duly wedded, and sped away to Edinburgh. There, however, Sheridan chanced to glance at a newspaper in which appeared the lubrications of a lawyer. In these plainly stated was the fact that no contract executed on a Sunday is binding. Clearly, then their wedding was not legal. Back to Gretna Green they scurried, to be remarried on a week-day and leave the dual record to perplex later generations of sympathetic searchers of the records.

A gentleman from Edinburgh, named Harold Webster, had an unpleasant experience one night recently, on the Lammermoor Hills. Arriving from the city at East Linton in the morning, he proceeded to Garvald, thence on to the Lammermoor Hills, with the object of walking across to Duns. In the course of the early afternoon a heavy fog set in along with a nasty drizzling rain, and as he was making for his destination as the crow flies, and had abandoned the road, it was not long before he found himself in difficulties, being utterly ignorant in what direction he was travelling. After walking what he calculated to be a matter of five miles, and being no nearer any habitation, he gave up the search, resolved to spend the night behind a dry stone dyke. It was not till 6 o'clock in the morning that a shepherd came upon him, and acted the good Samaritan.

Adam Keir, a drawer, of Dumfermline, had a narrow escape, recently in a coal pit. He was walking with another miner, and his companion had just passed below a treacherous roof when it collapsed. An iron girder snapped, and Keir was buried between twenty and thirty tons of blaes. There seemed no doubt that he had been killed, but a party was organized either to rescue the man or to get his body. When they got to the spot they found that Keir was alive and impatient to be relieved. On the top of his neck lay one of the wooden bars, making him a prisoner. One of his arms was securely pinned to the ground, and his legs were also firmly fastened. Digging underneath, they got the man's head relieved. Thereafter they cut half of his jacket, which, was caught, and ripped open his boots, setting him free. The rescue operations occupied two hours.

A startling incident occurred in the north end of Dundee recently, when an iron-turner named William Thoms, was choked by a piece of meat while partaking of breakfast. As usual, Mrs. Thoms gave her husband his breakfast in bed, part of the meal consisting of a piece of stewed meat. Thoms had almost finished his repast, when his wife observed him drop a saucer and indicate that he was choking. He could not speak and Mrs. Thoms called her two daughters, who were sleeping in an adjoining room. Thoms managed to scramble out of bed, but all efforts to give him relief failed. Thoms turned blue in the face, and, before medical aid arrived death had supervened.

IRELAND

A curious story comes from Belfast of an inter-county cock-fight between Londonderry and Antrim, which took place one morning recently on a small island in Lough Neagh. About 200 men gathered on the shore of the lough near the mouth of the Moyola River, and having commandeered all the available small boats, rowed out to the island. The birds were soon brought face to face, and a number of battles were fought. Meanwhile, half a dozen policemen arrived at the place where the men had embarked, but all the boats having been taken away, they were compelled to watch helplessly the violation of the law on the island. The jeers of the crowd on the mainland finally impelled them to action. Pulling off their tunics they waded into the water until it was breast high, and then they swam until they reached the island. Finding that the police were on their track, the cock-fighters quickly sped, jumped into their boats and returned to the mainland. The policemen had to make the return journey in the same way as they had gone out, and did not reach the land until all the cock-fighters had dispersed.

A tragic occurrance took place recently at Cloonee, near Holylmount, 14 miles from Castlebar, resulting in the death of a farmer named Michael Morrin. Morrin resided with his father-in-law, James Sherlock. On the day before the shooting occurred the parties, it is stated, quarrelled over some family matters, after which both retired to their respective rooms to rest. About 1 o'clock in the morning, Morrin, it is alleged, went to the door of his father-in-law's room and knocked. When the old man responded to the call he, it is said, saw Morrin with a knife in his hand, while he himself held a gun, ready cocked, by his side. What next took place is a mystery, but the other members of the household were startled by a loud report, and, on rushing to the room, found Morrin lying dead with a portion of his head blown off. Sherlock claims that he committed the deed in self-defence.

The officers and men of H.M.S. Hibernia, which is at present one of the vessels of the fleet in Irish waters, were recently the guests of the governors of the Dublin Exhibition. No less a sum than £1,125 had been collected, principally in Leinster, Munster and Connaught, for the purpose of gifts for the battleship, and the presentation was made on this occasion. The articles took the form of a ship's bell, a white ensign and Union Jack, a challenge Ushield (gunnery trophy) and 11 silver pieces for the mess tables, and without exception were of Irish manufacture. A surplus of £300 is to be invested in Consols, and the dividends devoted to prizes for shooting. The gifts were presented by the Countess of Ormonde, and acknowledged by Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Constance.

A number of Irish organizations in London, including the Gaelic League, the Dungannon Club, the Gaelic Athletic Association, the Irish Parliamentary party and the United Irish League of Great Britain, have unanimously declared that the sole effect of the exhibition now being held in Dublin will be to put back the present national industrial revival, to kill such Irish industries as are weak and to weaken those that are strong, to benefit the foreigner and the foreign carrying companies. It is further declared that the exhibition is one which no Irishman who has the prosperity of Ireland at heart should for a moment or to the extent of a penny, support.

An accident, which horrified the onlookers, but failed to discompose the victim, occurred in the Dublin Exhibition the other night. During a display of mimic warfare by the natives of Somaliland, who have a village in the grounds, a warrior accidentally sent his assegai right through the arm of another combatant. To remedy his mistake he then took a knife and, to the astonishment of the spectators, calmly cut away the flesh at the place where the assegai had entered, and so released the weapon. The injured Somali submitted to the operation with equal coolness, and after the other had washed the wound, retired to his tent and lay down to rest.

When on the way to the bank the other day with a bag containing a large sum of money, Thomas Coffey, a Belfast manufacturer's clerk, was accosted in the street by a man, with whom he conversed for some time. Suddenly Coffey was attacked from behind and an attempt was made to secure possession of the bag of gold. Fortunately, assistance was forthcoming, and the clerk's assailants scampered. Coffey proceeded to the bank, but afterwards became seriously ill and was removed to an hospital.

A climax has been reached in the situation arising out of the Dockers' Union members refusing to work with non-union men at the Belfast Docks. As the result of their action, 150 labourers were imported from Liverpool. While these men were at work the other morning on the Caloria and other vessels, the union hands boarded an adjacent coal steamer and showered coal and stones on them. The imported labourers ceased work and the police dispersed their assailants with a baton charge.

Peterborough's industrial importance and her comparative and relative superiority have been referred to in these columns with pride. A few days ago statistics procured from the Census Department, Ottawa, showed that Peterborough stood sixth in the growth of the volume of the output of her factories and in the total volume of her trade. Thursday another form of comparison was made with Canadian cities having a larger population and a larger volume of output than Peterborough— figures being given to show that in regard to the output per head of population Peterborough stands more than fifty per cent. higher than any city in the Dominion.

To continue the comparison, cities and towns of similar and lesser population are given in the table above.

The comparative figures presented above furnish a truly remarkable, if not wonderful, showing. Peterborough stands sixth in gross amount of manufactured output, fourth in growth of output—in five years—from three and three-quarter millions in 1901 to eleven and a half millions in 1907—and in total output of her factories per head of population far ahead—almost fifty per cent. greater—of any city great or small, metropolitan or minor in the Dominion. This is a record of, and for, which we should be at the same time proud and grateful. What the causes are, it would perhaps be difficult to definitely fix. The condition remains and indicates one fact, namely, that our industries are of capital importance. Other places may surpass us in the number of factories, but none outside the large cities, possess factories of intrinsically greater importance. It behooves us to continue the race, and to endeavour to remain at the head of the procession, in regard to output per head. At the same time, we must try to increase our population. That will tend to reduce our lead per head, but we must compensate by increasing the number of our manufacturing industries, and increasing the efficiency of those we possess. A liberal policy of encouragement is indicated. We have encouraged industries in the past, and the results have amply repaid us. Our industries and their record have made us known with favour in all parts of the Dominion. A good name is said to be better than riches. We have got the good name and also the riches in our splendid collection of manufacturing industries, and it seems good business to continue a liberal policy towards encouragement of industries. We owe it to our progress and good name, we owe it to ourselves, who have reason to be proud of having as our home, one of the most progressive, and not only that, but of the most industrially productive cities in Canada.

THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT FOR AN INTERESTING ILLUSTRATED FEATURE

To-day the Examiner gives its readers the first of a series of articles which will, it believes, prove very popular. By an arrangement with the Manitoba Free Press, this paper has secured the exclusive right to publish in Peterborough the special illustrated articles dealing with Western Canada, prepared by and published by the Free Press, the proprietors of which journal have shown commendable business judgment in securing for that paper, which is in many respects the most enterprising in the Dominion, special features, giving in pen and picture the story of the progress of the Canadian West.

The article to-day gives the story of Prince Rupert, in many respects the most interesting settlement in the Dominion to-day. Following this will be articles on the Eskimo and on the Peace River country. These articles will all be illustrated, and will be published on Saturday.

MONAGHAN CLUB SPENT PLEASANT DAY

Over 100 Excursionists Went on Board the Monarch for Jubilee and Gores Landing

Ideal weather accompanied the Monaghan Club Excursion down the river yesterday which proved to be a delightful event. The excursionists went by the steamer Monarch, leaving the Wolfe street wharf about 9.15, and arriving at Jubilee Point shortly after midday. There they were very hospitably entertained by Mr. John Gilman, proprietor of the Jubilee House, where dinner was served to the greater number of them.

The steamer also sailed across the lake to Gore's Landing before returning and many enjoyed this portion of the trip. Dancing was the chief enjoyment of the day, and both on board the steamer and in the Jubilee Point pavilion the sound of the light fantastic was often heard. Mr. Archie Moore, the veteran floor manager, acted in the capacity of director of ceremonies, in his usual capable manner. The steamer returned to the city shortly after 9 o'clock. There were about one hundred on board.

SCHOOL CADETS PASSED SATISFACTORY ANNUAL INSPECTION YESTERDAY

LIEUT. J. E. HODGSON, of the 57th, Brigadier General of the School Battalion

CITY MARKET CLERK INDIGNANT

Claims That Manner in Which Butter Was Seized is Ruining the Market

MAY TAKE LEGAL ACTION

The light weight butter affair, which happened on the city market last Saturday, and which caused such a commotion among the farmers and their wives, will probably develop into something interesting before it is forgotten. The seizure of the butter has apparently placed a damper upon the attendance at the market as to-day the receipts from tolls were scarcely half of what they amounted to last Saturday.

Mr. W. A. Mellmoyle, the market clerk, is very indignant over the manner in which the seizure of butter was accomplished and, he says, the circumstance has ruined his opportunities to do a successful business this year. Farmers and their wives, who last Saturday brought their produce to the market, to-day, he states, were disposing of it privately around the city. He claimed that only about one-half as many attended the market to-day as a week ago, and attributes the cause to the way in which the police seized the butter. Many farmers' wives—even those who were not guilty of the offense of selling light weight butter—state they will patronize the market no more.

The market clerk believes the butter inspection should have been quietly done and not in a manner to scare those who were selling it, and hinted at taking legal action against the city to recover his loss. He does not believe that the police are competent men to weigh butter as in the police court it was shown that they had made mistakes in two or three cases, he claimed. There will probably be more heard of the matter during the coming week.

THE FOOTPATH TO PEACE

To be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love, and to work, and to play, and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admiration rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbour except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends, and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guide posts on the foot-paths to peace.

EPIDEMIC OF PETTY BURGLARIES STILL ALARMS RESIDENTS

Attempt Made to Gain Entrance to Miss Davidson's Residence in East City — Man Was Scared Away.

LADDER WAS MADE USE OF

The Restaurant at Jackson Park Was Broken Into Last Night —Panels of the Door Were Smashed In.

The campaign of petty burglaries and apparently attempted burglaries is continuing in the city. Last night about 11.30 an attempt was made to gain entrance to Miss Davidson's residence at 453 Mark street, East City. A ladder was secured and placed against a shed at the rear of the house in such a way that entrance could be obtained through an upstairs window. Fortunately, however, the occupants of the house heard the noise and the man was frightened away before he could get into the house. The matter was reported to the police, and a few minutes afterwards Constables Newhall and McHarry went over to East City and investigated the neighbourhood without result. Although the man was seen on the roof it was not possible to give any description of him, owing to the darkness.

Jackson Park Restaurant.

Street Railway men reported this morning that Mr. Tuff Hooper's restaurant at Jackson Park was broken into last night. The panels of the door had been smashed in and entrance gained in that way. At the time of going to press it was not known whether anything had been stolen or not. No money of course, is left there over night, but there is a quantity of candies and other delicacies.

COL. E. B. EDWARDS VISITS PETERBOROUGH

On His Way to 7th. Brigade Camp at Kingston.

Col. E. B. Edwards, formerly of Peterborough, and now of Edmonton, is in the city to-day on his way to Kingston, where he will act as Brigadier Colonel of the 7th Brigade at the annual camp. Colonel Edwards, who is looking hale and hearty, is being warmly welcomed by the citizens of Peterborough with whom he is universally popular.

He speaks in terms of the highest praise of the progress of the west, and of Edmonton in particular, and expresses himself as being delighted with his new location.

NEW TRAIN SERVICE ON GRAND TRUNK COMMENCES MONDAY

On Monday the new train on the G.T.R. running from Peterborough to Port Hope will be put on for the first time, with the inauguration of the summer schedule. This train will leave Peterborough after the arrival of the morning train from Port Hope, and connecting here with those from Belleville and Lindsay, arriving in Port Hope in time to allow passengers to take the trains on the main line east, and returning after the arrival of the morning express from Toronto. It will reach Peterborough on the return trip in time to connect with the train for Lakefield. It will be possible by this arrangement for passengers to leave Toronto at 9 o'clock in the morning and reach Stony Lake the same afternoon.

There are practically all the changes in the time table, so far as it relates to Peterborough. The summer trains to Lakefield will, of course, be commenced on Monday, giving one extra train to the lakes, leaving here after the arrival of the 5.30 train in the evening, and returning at 6.50.

IMMENSE SUN SPOTS REPORTED

Rev. Dr. Marsh To-day Records Spots Covering Area of 96,000,000 Square Miles

Sun spots with an area of 96,000,000 miles were reported on the sun to-day, by Rev. Dr. Marsh. These spots measure 160,000 miles from east to west and 50,000 miles from north to south. The natural consequence of the spots, should the eruptions reach the solar meridian will be the presence of severe electrical disturbances on the earth. These disturbances will not necessarily mean thunder storms, but the effect will probably be confined to such instruments as telephones and telegraphs, especially in the south.

The probabilities are that there will be some beautiful auroral displays, during the next few evenings.

Dr. Marsh made photographs to-day of these spots, and they will likely be photographed by astronomers throughout the world.

REV. J. E. TROTTER PASSED AWAY

Former Pastor of Murray Street Church Dead—As Result Association May Meet Here

INVITATION IS BEING SENT

The sad intelligence was received in the city this morning of the death in Port Hope yesterday of the Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Port Hope Baptist Church, and for some years pastor of the Murray Street Baptist Church in this city. The deceased had been ill about a week, and, while his condition was such as to give cause for alarm, the end was not expected to come so quickly. The late Mr. Trotter was very well known and highly respected here, and the news of his demise will be received with general regret.

As a result of Rev. Mr. Trotter's death it is likely that some change will be made in the meeting place of the Association of Baptist churches, which was to have met in Port Hope next week. This morning the management of the Murray street Baptist church wired the Port Hope congregation and offered to take off their hands the task of entertaining the seventy members of the association who will be present at the convention. It was felt that in view of their bereavement the Port Hope people would not be in a position to look after the meeting. No reply had been received at the time of going to press.

The party will spend a week or ten days at the lakes fishing.

Mr. H. C. Winch, the captain of the club, and Mr. D. J. Lundy, who are acting as the advance party, left for the cottage this morning to prepare for the reception of the party.

CALL FOR TENDERS FOR NEW CHURCH

J. Francis Brown's Plans for Park Street Church Are Accepted

Last night the Building Committee of the Park Street Baptist Church reported subscriptions of $4,360, and were given two weeks to complete their work. The plans of J. F. Francis Brown were adopted, and tenders will be called in a short time for the erection of the new building.

Affair Has Caused a Sensation in Neighbourhood of Garden Hill—"Which Brother Did the Wounding? is Asked."

THEY WERE BOTH INSANE

Rumour That Two Men Had a Quarrel, but This is Denied by One of Them—Problem Most Perplexing One.

Special Staff Correspondent.

Garden Hill, June 15.—Residents of this vicinity are greatly excited over mysterious events which have occurred lately among the Gilmour brothers, who occupy adjoining farms about a mile and a quarter north of this village.

The two brothers during the past few weeks have, it is asserted in the vicinity, been, at times, mentally deranged, the younger, Wellington, aged about 37, so bad, temporarily, that he tried to take his own life by cutting his throat with a jack knife and his brother, John, so crazed as to make it necessary for him to be sent to the asylum at Kingston.

Mystery to Neighbours

The affair is a mystery to the neighbours and forms the principal subject of conversation in the section. There are several stories being circulated concerning the brothers which might serve to explain the mystery, but which cannot be verified.

The two Gilmours are widely known and esteemed by residents of Hope and Cavan townships and up to the present occurrence there has been no trace of mental unbalance amongst them.

Brother Left Home

The trouble began two weeks ago last Tuesday when Wellington Gilmour left his home at 10 o'clock at night informing his wife that he was going to call upon his brother, John, whose home is but a few hundred yards to the west. He did not return and his wife getting uneasy at his prolonged absence went to John Gilmour's house and found that he was not there. A search party was formed and armed with lanterns, started out to look for the missing man. He was traced by his foot steps a short distance along the road but there the trail ended and the party returned to search the fields around his own house. Nothing could be discovered of him and it was not until next morning that his whereabouts was ascertained.

His Throat Cut

This was the first of the mysterious features of the case. At six o'clock the next morning Gilmour arrived at his mother's home at Carmel in Cavan township, four miles away with three gashes in his neck, apparently inflicted with a jack knife. He gave no explanation of the wounds at least the neighbourhood has not heard any, nor did he explain where he had spent the night. The wounds, although ghastly-looking and painful were not serious and he soon recuperated from their effects and seems to have entirely recovered his sanity without any apparent reason for his sudden attack of mania.

Sequel of Story

The sequel of the story is equally mysterious. Following Wellington's escapade it was noticed that his brother John was acting queerly. He became moody and would mutter to himself for long periods. Last Monday he, too, left home unexpectedly and was away all day, his relatives searching the neighbourhood for him without any trace of the missing man. He returned home in the evening and it transpired that he had been sitting all day in a near-by woods, "thinking things over" was the way he explained it. Gilmour steadily grew worse and the Millbrook doctors who examined him on Tuesday decided that he would be safer in confinement and on Wednesday he was taken to Kingston Asylum by

GREAT RECORD OF PROGRESS

Ten years ago the Review, joined with other like political luminaries, in declaring that a vote for the Liberal candidate would be a vote for closing down every factory in Peterborough. Have the tall chimneys ceased to smoke? Has the predicted ruin come to pass? Has the tremendous increase in customs duties, represented by one month in the reign of prosperity being equal to a year's collections in the stagnation days, done anything to justify those doleful forebodings? Has the hum of industry ceased for one moment in busy Peterborough, in the ten years since the time when a Liberal vote was a vote to close every factory in the city? Has the Liberal policy tended to prevent Peterborough forging ahead into first place among the cities of the Dominion as a manufacturing producer? Under a Liberal regime, that was to close down factories right and left throughout this broad land, the manufacturing output value of busy, bustling Canada's humming factories, has increased in five years, by nearly a quarter of a billion dollars — from $481,053,375, in 1901, to $712,654,435, in 1906-07. This increase amounts to $231,611,460 in the five years, or about 46 million dollars a year. Taking the increase in the products of our factories as at the same rate, since 1896, when "the blue ruin," "Grit" Government came into power, the money value of the output of Canada's industrial establishments has increased half a billion, or five hundred million dollars. Facts are stronger than fiction — better than pessimistic prophecies.

THE AXE FALLS AGAIN.

Another head has fallen into the basket, or is ripe to fall. The Whitney spoils system may wind and wriggle and burrow its sinuous way, but it "gets there" at last. Mr. Thomas Woodyatt, Police Magistrate of Brantford, has got his walking papers. At least, he has been the recipient of a letter from the Deputy Attorney General, who "has been instructed to tell Mr. Woodyatt that, having regard to friction between himself and certain persons in the community, and also having due regard for the proper administration of justice, "his resignation as police magistrate of Brantford is requested." In view of the outrageous miscarriage of justice in the Orangeville case, in which the Whitney Government is not held by any means free of complicity, or, at least, responsibility, the Whitney Government's pathetic solicitude for "the proper administration of justice" is, well, cheeky, to put the matter most mildly. The alleged "friction between Mr. Woodyat and certain persons" is another curious touch. Butler tells us that "no rogue ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law," and there, perhaps, is "friction" between Police Magistrate Woodyatt and "certain persons of the community," to whom he has found it necessary to administer a dose of justice. This alleged friction is, very probably, simply a subterfuge. The real motive force behind this invitation to resign is the importunity of some of the faithful who may want Mr. Woodyatt's "job." It is not probable that he will allow the Government the benefit of their subterfuge, but that he will ignore the hint to resign, and leave the odium of his dismissal upon the Government.

The Power of Piano Music.

A piano ceases to be an instrument and becomes a thing of life under the hands of a master. It breathes every human emotion under his fingers and no other instrument so perfectly lends itself to the many phases of musical expression. Of course the instrument itself must be a good one, such as the New Scale Williams Piano, foremost in Canada to-day.

SCHOOL BOOK CONTRACTS

The action of the Whitney Government in connection with the publication of school books, was greatly glorified by Hon. Mr. Hanna, when he spoke in the opera house a month or two ago. But, it appears, there is something in that connection that needs explanation. Mr. John A. Cooper, of Toronto, who was a member of the Ontario School Book Commission, and whose name is mentioned in connection with a Conservative candidature for Parliament in North York, does not like the manner in which the school book contract has been manipulated. The Courier, of Toronto, of which he is editor, contains the following criticism:

When a government calls for tenders on certain specifications, and afterwards changes the specifications, should fresh tenders be called for? This is a question which is now being discussed in certain quarters in the province of Ontario. The Education Department called for tenders for printing the Ontario Readers for a year and a half. Certain specifications were handed to those who proposed to tender, and bids were put in on that basis. After the bids were received the department changed the regulations and made and arrangement for the supply of readers with the Canada Publishing Company, one of the three firms which have had the contract for twenty years.

Was this fair to the other tenderers? Is this the practice followed by all governments? If it should become general, what would be the effect on the system of public tenders? These are the questions which the people are asking.

Suppose, for example, in letting a section of the National Transcontinental Railway, the Dominion Government were to amend the specifications materially after all bids were in, and then make a contract with some political favourite without calling for fresh tenders, what would the public think? Would they not feel that there was something decidedly unfair in such a proceeding? Would they not be suspicious that the Ottawa authorities had some ulterior motive? Would it not on its face, look as if there had been a "deal" of some kind?

It has been claimed on behalf of the Government that the changes made in the conditions were not material. The public, the Brantford Expositor thinks, will be better able to judge of this when the documents are before them. In any event, the Courier's protest is well taken. The successful tenderer in this case undertook to vary the specifications to suit himself, and the proper course for the Government to have pursued under the circumstances was to throw the tender out, or else, before awarding the contract, to have notified the other tenderers of their willingness to consider new figures on the altered basis. There is nothing in connection with contract letting which affords greater opportunity for jobbery than tampering with specifications.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Rev. Mr. Chambers, the clerical Governor of Toronto gaol, can now be sure that wet Sundays won't give him thin congregations.

You remember the fable of the wolf and the lamb in which the wolf, determined to have a grievance against the juvenile sheep, made water run up hill to accomplish his end. In the dismissal of Police Magistrate Woodyatt, Brantford, the Whitney Government has made common sense run against the current to furnish an excuse. The only reason assigned is that the Magistrate, in the discharge of his duty, has created "friction between himself and certain persons in the community." Fining or jailing a law-breaker necessarily produces "friction."

The motion passed by the Anglican Synod of Toronto, for the purification of business, social and political methods is perfectly proper per se, but is a good deal of the "be-ye-warmed-and-filled" variety. If the members of Synods, Conferences and other similar bodies would spend the year in creating the conditions that would lead to such reforms—would work earnestly to raise the moral tone and quicken the consciences of their flocks, instead of putting on sackcloth and donning a wishing cap, they could pass resolutions of congratulation over the improved state of public morals, when they held their annual meetings.

To some persons, the proverbial misfit situation, represented by a bull in a china shop, is paralleled by His Grace Archbishop Bruchesai of Montreal, in company with a number of Protestant clergymen addressing the Y. W. C. T. U. of Montreal in the Y. M. C. A. building on the subject of temperance. But this Grace's position and action are easily defensible. He is doing a great work among his own people in the promotion of temperance sentiment and practice, and his action in co-operating with any agency that has at heart the same cause as himself is but an indication of his sincerity and zeal, so far as he is concerned, and an indication of the fact that Christian men, whatever their ecclesiastical status or denominational name, can consistently and commendably stand upon common ground in combatting a common foe.

CANADIAN INSURANCE

For every $100 of premium income received during 1906, the Canadian companies paid out $49.33. In the previous year, they paid out $46.42. Taking dividends, expenses and losses together, the gross business of the Canadian companies shows a loss of over five per cent. This, however, cannot be attributed to fire loss sustained in Canada. Both the British and the United States companies spend less money upon management than Canadian companies. The respective rates of management expenses to premium income are as follows:

| | PerCent. |
|---|---|
| Canadian Companies... ... ... | 34.22 |
| British Companies... ... ... | 28.80 |
| United States Companies... ... | 27.49 |

More than half the fire risks in Canada are assumed by the British companies. Out of a total of $1,207,045,358, the British companies carry $672,298,145; Canadian companies, $321,134,045, and the United States companies, $213,613,168. The gross premiums received are slightly in excess of the total of last year. In gross amount of risks assumed, the Canadian companies, during 1906, made the greatest proportionate increase.—Expositor.

INTERESTING EVIDENCE IN MINING CASE

$1,600 Was to Have Been Paid, According to Evidence, to Mr. Crowley, for Three Claims

In the case of Lawless vs. Crowley, heard at the recent session of the County Court, and in which judgment was reserved, it may be of interest to note that Mr. Crowley, the defendant in the suit had a counter claim against the plaintiff for $1,600, the price which Mr. Lawless, according to Mr. Crowley's evidence given in the case, agreed to pay him for three claims of white mica, iron oxides and mmagnesia, which the latter located in the county of Hastings. The price agreed upon was said to have been $500 each, and $100 which Mr. Crowley had to pay a farmer for a release of his claim. Mr. Crowley testified in his evidence that he had received $200 from Mr. Lawless, which he claimed, proved the agreement.

Had the deal gone through as anticipated, both parties to this suit stood to make a good stake. Mr. Crowley had given an option to a New York syndicate, headed by a Mr. White for $20,000 and had the option been taken up, both Mr. Lawless and Mr. Crowley were to share equally in the division of the price to be received for the property. The option, however, was not taken up, hence the suit.

The testimony of the defence in this case was that the claims were taken out in Mr. Lawless' name because, according to the Mines Act, Mr. Crowley had taken out all the mineral leases he was able to do and it was necessary to register them under the name of some one else. The $1.00 an acre necessary to hold the lands for mineral purposes was not paid by Mr. Lawless, and the consequence was that they passed from his possession, though Mr. Crowley states that they can still be redeemed by Mr. Lawless.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Summers, Box W. 61, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The Natural Cure For Rheumatism

"Fruit-a-tives" remove from the blood the poison which causes Rheumatism.

Rheumatism means poisoned blood. The kidneys, bowels and skin should rid the system of waste matter. If either of these vital organs become weakened or diseased, the body cannot throw off this waste fast enough.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure almost any case of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia.

One of these body poisons is UREA, which is eliminated both by the kidneys and skin. If the skin action is poor—if the kidneys are inflammed—urea stays in the system—is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to the nerves and joints—and causes Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Rheumatism because they eliminate urea, by increasing the action of bowels, kidneys and skin.

This is the only possible way in which Rheumatism can be cured to stay cured. And "Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world that completely eradicates the disease from the system.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many time increased by the process of combining them.

Then tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets, 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 111

MUNSEY HAS NEW AND BRIGHT IDEA

"Scrap Book" Will Be Issued in a New and Enlarged Form—Largest Magazine Published.

An innovation that is without question the greatest that ever happened in magazine publication has come with the first appearance of the newest Munsey idea for July. Like all of Mr. Munsey's undertakings, it is a little startling, but it will grow on you. Briefly, it is a magazine in two volumes—under separate covers, but under one name. The name is The Scrap Book — a magic name that made a great magazine a great success from the start. Mr. Munsey says there isn't room enough within one cover to make a big enough and strong enough magazine to satisfy the reader of to-day.

The Scrap Book in its new form is the largest magazine ever published—the biggest money's worth to be had. Its conception seems only natural to the man who has achieved fame by sizing up the wants of the reading public and then filling the want.

A MOTHER'S GRATITUDE

Mrs. V. Cheoret, of St. Benoit, Que., writes as follows: "It is with feelings of the deepest gratitude that I write to tell you what Baby's Own Tablets have done for my baby. When I began giving him the Tablets he was so thin and wasted that he looked like a skeleton. His digestion was poor; he was constipated and cried day and night. I got a bottle of Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they did him a great deal of good. His food digested better. His bowels worked regularly, his sleep was natural; he stopped crying and began to grow fat. I got another box and am happy to say that before they were all used he was in perfect health and is now a plump rugged child. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise other mothers to do the same." The above is a fair sample of hundreds of letters that come from all parts of Canada praising Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets cure all the minor ills of babies and young children, and are absolutely safe as they do not contain one particle of opiate or narcotic. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CASE OF GILMOUR BROTHERS CONTAINS SEVERAL MYSTERIES

Constables Nattrass and Harley, of Millbrook.

Baffling Problem

An Examiner reporter spent the greater part of yesterday afternoon in investigating the case and found it indeed a baffling problem full of many things that from the outside appear mysterious.

There is a story circulating in the neighbourhood that on the night before the morning on which Wellington Gilmour reached his mother's home with ghastly cuts in his neck, the two brothers had a quarrel concerning their property, but this the reporter could not verify. Was it a quarrel of such a serious nature that it drove John Gilmour insane and caused his brother to attempt his own life? Did the two men have a fight at John's house in the course of which Wellington was attacked by his brother and wounded in the manner in which he was found the next morning? Or is it possible that the two did not meet on that Tuesday night and some hallucination caused Wellington to try to commit suicide?

No Sign of Insanity Before

Against this latter theory, there is the fact that the people of the neighbourhood, who are well-acquainted with Wellington Gilmour, state that they have never seen in him the slightest sign of insanity, and that since the night on which he was wounded he has appeared as perfectly sane.

The Examiner reporter tramped over the mile and a quarter of uphill sandy road that lies between Garden Hill station and Wellington Gilmour's farm. He found Gilmour engaged in shingling his barn, ing quite harmless and sane. He refused to talk about his injury at all, but was not at all backward in discussing his brother's case. He could give no reason for his brother's sudden insanity, and most emphatically denied the report that they had quarrelled. His brother, as far as he knew, had no reason to worry over his property. This was the sum total of his explanation of the case.

Own Fine Farms

Both men own fine looking farms, as good as any in the neighbourhood, and comfortable dwelling houses. Wellington has a new brick house, and his brother a neat clap-board building, surrounded by pretty shade trees.

The people of the neighbourhood are backward in accepting the theory that a quarrel between the two men was the cause of their insanity and hint at other things. There is a reason suggested that might explain John's outbreak. It is said that there was a mortgage on the Gilmour property, which was divided among the sons on their father's death. This mortgage, it is said, covered the whole farm, while John was under the impression, that if he paid off the mortgage on his farm, that his title would be clear. It is stated that after toiling for years to pay off the mortgage, and having succeeded in doing so, in his own case, he had found that there that there was a mortgage against the whole property, and that he had not an undisputed right to his own farm, and that the shock of the blow drove him insane.

This theory, however, does not explain the injury to Wellington, unless they were inflicted by his brother in a fit of insanity, which is denied by Wellington himself.

These are the facts of the case as gathered by the Examiner, and that there are many mysterious features, is apparent. The neighbourhood is at a loss to explain them. John Gilmour is not in a condition to do so, and his brother refuses to make any explanation. A mystery it will probably remain for some time, unless Wellington decides to reveal the circumstances of the affair, which has caused so much excitement in the neighbourhood.

"PE-RU-NA WAS SUCCESSFUL WHERE DOCTORS FAILED,"

Writes Mr. Cholette After Taking Pe-ru-na.

MR. MENESIPPE CHOLETTE.

Mr. Menesippe Cholette, Ste. Therese de Blairville, P. Q., writes:

"I shall never be able to speak in terms high enough to express the entire confidence I have in Peruna.

"There is nothing better to restore health. I took eight bottles.

"All the pains I had in the head and bowels, also the catarrh of the nose and stomach, as well as all other symptoms disappeared after I had taken the third bottle.

"Peruna was successful where two doctors had failed.

"Were I the first to testify in favor of this remedy, it might be thought that I exaggerate, but many testimonials before mine have pointed out the great virtue of this effective tonic.

"It would be unreasonable to undervalue a remedy which has snatched from premature death poor human beings who were beyond rescue by the doctors.

"This remedy has restored many a victim of incipient consumption and other diseases.

"Peruna is the best remedy for all catarrhal diseases."

WHEN the catarrh has become systemic,—that is, when it has been allowed to spread through the entire system, it is a difficult disease to cure.

Physicians do not always understand it and some of them do not care to treat it. Hence the inability of a great many patients to find a cure.

The correct thing to do for these cases is to make use of some internal, systemic catarrh remedy,—one that will reach every internal organ of the body and exercise a healing, strengthening and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes lining these various organs.

Such a remedy has been found in Peruna.

As Mr. Cholette states, his testimonial is not the first one written in behalf of Peruna, the remedy which brings permanent relief in all cases of systemic catarrh.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of its Distinctiveness

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff, and also for its excellence as a general hair dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later, baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

Brintons' Long Association With Carpet Manufacture

Some Interesting Information Concerning Early History and Progress of Brinton Carpet Company.

NEARLY CENTURY'S RECORD

The name Brinton has been connected with the manufacture of carpets for nearly a century in the Old Land, and, in view of the fact that there is in this city a branch of the English firm, working under a Canadian charter, the following brief history of the progress of the firm contained in the last issue of the Canadian Journal of Fabrics, will be of interest here:

An old employee of the Brinton Carpet Works at Kidderminster supplies us with some interesting information respecting that famous establishment.

The spinning and carpet manufactory associated with the name of Brinton has been for nearly a century more or less a family enterprise in the real sense of the word. John Brinton's grandfather was a carpet manufacturer of repute, and in 1819 a small factory was started by John Brinton's father, in conjunction shortly afterwards with a spinning mill at High Pool, near Kidderminster, where the necessary yarn was supplied for the carpets. In 1821 Henry Brinton established a factory on the very site occupied by the present palatial works, and the expansion of the business was rapid and uninterrupted for seven years, when the historic strike unexpectedly disturbed the placidity of the flourishing little town. Conditions in Kidderminster were so good at that time that the weavers there enjoyed privileges and rates of remuneration which were not conceded in any other carpet manufacturing centre in the country. John Brinton's father was one of the first to suffer in the general excitement that prevailed. His house was stormed, and the occupants ran considerable risk of personal injury.

Sixty-five years ago Henry Brinton brought into his business his two sons, Henry and John, and the name of the firm was altered to Henry Brinton and Sons. When, ten years previously, John Brinton had joined the firm, there were thirty-six hand-looms at work, and the spinning mill was equal to about eight packs per week. A hand-loom for the manufacture of tapestries was added to the business, but this method of manufacture was quickly revolutionized by the introduction of the Crossley Tapestry Power Loom, and the old order of things was quickly changed, as John Brinton quickly decided to lay down the new plant. Then came the disturbing element which soon caused a complete revolution in the Brussels trade which, in Kidderminster, had already assumed important dimensions. When the Bigelow Steam Power Brussels Loom came into the market the death-blow to the supremacy long maintained by the hand weaver was struck. Brintons were the first firm in Kidderminster to adopt this great labour-saving machinery.

In 1881 the firm was converted into a limited liability company, and again, ten years later, was re-constructed and enlarged under its present name. The patenting of a loom for making Axminster carpets by the Jacquard process, and further improvements in this have brought it to a high pitch of perfection, and the department has steadily expanded with the result that a woollen spinning plant was not long ago laid down. There are now spinning frames capable of producing 150 packs or 36,000 pounds per week, and some 200 looms of different kinds which have a production of about 830,000 yards per annum.

Adding the annual output of Peterborough Brintons, we have a total of one million yards, or 570 miles of carpet, made by this company in a year.

ESTIMATED OUTPUTS OF PETERBOROUGH'S PRODUCING PLANTS

Fourteen Manufacturing Establishments of This City Valued at Nearly $4,000.000 — Largest Not Included in That Estimate.

A MANUFACTURING CITY

Peterborough is recognized throughout the Province of Ontario as one of the most promising manufacturing inland centres, and facts can easily be presented to bear up this reputation. For this purpose the Examiner publishes to-day a partial list of the more important manufacturing establishments of the city, with an estimate of the value of last year's output of each and the number of men employed.

The list is only a partial one, because a number of the company officials here had little to do with the general business transacted and were unable to give the information required to make the article complete, according to intentions. Many other officials, through rules set down by the companies they represented, declined to divulge the extent of their output, although quite willing to make known the number of their employees.

The estimated value of the total output of the manufacturing establishments of Peterborough for last year, according to governmental reports, was $11,000,000, making an average output of about $733 per capita. These figures are surprisingly great considering the size of the city, and compare very favourably with the most of them in the Dominion.

It will be seen from the figures below that the output of fourteen establishments during the past year amounted to over three million and a half. This amount does not include the output of the Canadian General, nor the two cereal companies, which would add several millions to the above figures. The total number of men employed in the fourteen factories, and through whose energy the products were turned out, is 1,184, showing the average output of the labouring man in Peterborough last year to be over $3,000.

In the list given below, the Brinton carpet factory, the Rapid Tool factory and a number of others are omitted, since they have not yet been running a whole year. The Sandstone Brick Company's factory mentioned has but recently opened, too, the figures showing the extent of their business for twelve months, although the length of time the factory is opened is only about six months. The Pre-Payment Meter Company has also only begun operations, and has not yet been running at its normal capacity.

The following figures will be of interest to manufacturers, as well as to others interested in the rapid strides of progress the city is making:—

Peterborough Canoe Company — 55 employees; estimated output, $50,000.

Peter Hamilton Company—140 employees; estimated output, $250,000.

J. J. Turner & Sons—55 employees; estimated output, $124,000.

Calcutt Brewing & Malting Company—20 employees; estimated output, $60,000.

Peterborough Lock Company — 135 employees; estimated output, $150,000.

Pre-Payment Electric Meter Company—12 employees; estimated output, $6,000.

Wm. Hamilton Company—225 employees; estimated output, $350,000.

G. W. Greene Foundry—30 employees; estimated output, $40,000.

B. F. Ackerman & Son—66 employees; estimated output, $158,740.

Geo. Matthews Company—110 employees; estimated output, $1,400,000.

Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company—25 employees; estimated output, $52,000.

Canadian Cordage Company — 225 employees; estimated output, $800,500.

Peterborough Shovel Company—40 employees; estimated output, $52,000.

Colonial Weaving Company — 40 employees; estimated output, $30,000.

Presented The Claims Of Queens In Grey County

Rev. J. G. Potter Has Returned After Four Weeks Spent in Work in Interests of Endowment Fund.

HAD A SUCCESSFUL TRIP

The Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, returned home on the local C.P.R. last night, after an absence of four weeks, during which time he attended the Synod early in May and has been spending the remaining time in the interests of Queen's College Endowment. Although the undertaking was novel, and implied incessant visitation of homes in village, town and country, the change of work made Mr. Potter none the worse for the outing over the hills of Grey county. The district assigned was in Owen Sound Presbytery and embraced the congregations of Chatsworth, Desboro, Keady, Kilsythe, North Derby, Dornock, Rocky Saugeen, Markdale and Wiarton. These were so grouped as to give Mr. Potter an opportunity of presenting on Sunday the plan of the General Assembly in seeking to retain the connection with Queen's University, and the effort to raise the Endowment of $500,000. This section of the Province being so far removed from Kingston, presented unfavourable soil to plant the seeds of Queen's with any hope of harvest, but though a lack of knowledge regarding Queen's on the part of the the people was everywhere noticeable, Mr. Potter reports that the congregations everywhere gave him a right royal reception and though in many localities he could not expect much financial returns, throughout his entire visitation to the people in their homes during the week he received kindness and cordiality on every hand—indeed, he has no recollection of one who was displeased as being approached concerning the matter. As a campaigner Mr. Potter has collected a few more excuses than the Bible records, and in his next visit will be prepared.

The visitation will be very largely educative as the people acknowledged everywhere that they would take a deeper interest in the church's University at Kingston in the future. Notwithstanding the fact that church debt in two congregations, poor farms in another and financial depression in the town of another, the people responded liberally, the sum of $1,500 having been subscribed. Mr. Potter returns to complete the canvass for a week in July and expects an additional $200.00 already partly promised.

The pastor of St. Andrew's states that his trip was made all the more enjoyable and satisfactory because of the cheerful acquiescence of his Session and Board of Managers in his mission, together with the fact that from week to week he received the St. Andrew's Manse Bulletin announcing the excellent services of visiting ministers occupying his pulpit, the loyalty of the congregation, the interesting work of the choir, and the devotion of the workers in Sunday School, Young People's and Prayer meetings.

The 24th. Battery Leaves This Evening For Camp

Off for Petewawa at Six O'clock To-day—Will Parade This Afternoon to Station With Guns.

UP TO FULL STRENGTH

Peterborough's artillery force, the 24th Field Battery, Canadian Artillery, leaves this evening at 6 o'clock for a two weeks' course of training at Petewawa Camp on the Ottawa River. The battery went on parade at the East City Armouries at noon to-day, and the artillery men will be busy this afternoon in fitting up the harness as it will be necessary to arrange the equipment for sixty-four horses.

It is expected that between three and four o'clock the battery will parade to the C.P.R. by way of Hunter and George streets, and will entrain upon the arrival of the Campbellford artillery men, getting away about six o'clock.

The battery will be in command of Major Young and the other officers Capt. Hall, Lieut. Leary and Lieut. McDonough. Veterinary Lieut. Blanchard will accompany the battery as will Sergt.-Major Fee, to whose able instruction a good deal of the credit for the smart appearance of the battery is due. The artillery men will represent Peterborough in a proper manner and should prove a credit to the city.

The advance guard in command of Capt. Hall and Sergt. Jefferson, left last night on the midnight C.P.R. train for the east to make all arrangements for the arrival of the battery. The 24th will arrive at Petewawa to-morrow morning and will find everything in readiness. Their instruction will be begun on Monday morning.

The 24th will go into camp with full strength, five officers and ninety-nine men, with 64 horses.

SPLENDID CONCERT IN PARK

57th Band Gave a Delightful Programme Last Night—Popular Music

THE SOLOS WERE ENJOYED

The second open-air concert of the season was given last night by the 57th Regimental Band, under the leadership of Mr. Gliddon, in Victoria Park last night, to a very large audience, the sloping banks of the park being crowded with people. The programme, which was composed for the most part, of the lighter variety of music, was evidently just to the taste of the crowd, and every number was heartily applauded, and in some cases an encore was demanded. The fine playing of the band was much appreciated and Mr. Gliddon and his men received many eoniums from the audience among which last night there were many strangers, who seemed to be particularly impressed with the work of Peterborough's crack musical organization.

The heaviest number played last night was the beautiful overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," which was splendidly executed by the band, the work of the reeds being especially clever.

The opening number, "Dunlap," was a spirited number played with with effective vim and dash.

The lovers of what is popularly called popular music, were well looked after, the programme including the ever-popular "Yankee Consul" selection, the characteristic Japanese number "Karama," and a medley of the songs of the day, including such favourites as "Cheyenne," "Sympathy," "San Antonio," "Poor Old Man," "Happy Hoinie," "Silver Heels," "Why Don't You Try?" "When the Mocking Birds are Singing in the Wildwood," "In Dear Old Georgia," and other popular numbers, all of which were splendidly rendered by the band.

Bandsman Nix was heard to splendid advantage in the trombone solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," which was very effectively rendered. Bandsman Cronk was given an opportunity to display his skill with the euphonium, his solo on that instrument, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," being one of the features of the programme. The number included some very difficult variations, which were handled with ease and charming effect. The selection merited the encore it received. Other numbers which were much appreciated were the sacred march, "Dominicale," and the patrol "Wee McGregor," one of the favourites of last year's repertoire.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO. PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

MRS. THOMAS J. BEGLEY, Victoria Ave., Peterboro.

Dairyman From 'Frisco Gives Evidence Regarding Orchard.

VERDICT MAY BE DELAYED

Haywood's Defence Will Occupy Four Weeks—Guibbini Tells of Orchard's Actions While Living In His House—Was at Bradley's Store Night of Explosion — Detective Says Orchard Is Right.

Boise, Idaho, June 15.—The trial of Wm. D. Haywood for the murder of former Governor Steunenberg was resumed at 9.30 a. m. yesterday, with L. B. Guibbini, dairyman, of San Francisco, on the stand.

Guibbini introduced Harry Orchard, known as "Barry," to the servants in the Bradley household. He said that Orchard came to his store and hung around and spent considerable money. Orchard asked questions about the Bradley household, asked to be introduced to the servants, and asked Guibbini to get him a room in the neighborhood.

Saw Poisoned Milk.

Guibbini saw Orchard moving his luggage the night before the Bradley house was dynamited. He also saw the poisoned milk. Guibbini described the result of the bomb Orchard placed at the front door leading to the Bradley apartments in Washington.

The whole front of the house was blown out.

Guibbini said he saw Orchard at his store the day the explosion occurred.

The defence moved to strike out the testimony of the witness, as not connecting Haywood with the offence charged, but was overruled.

Attorney Darrow, on cross-examination, devoted himself to learning the conditions under which the witness was brought to Boise to testify.

Guibbini said the detectives told him he had to come to Boise, and there was no use "trying to dodge it."

To Kidnap Witness.

"So they were going to kidnap you?" commented Darrow.

"No, sir," said the witness. "They just told me I had to come."

Guibbini got $200 for expenses.

Guibbini said Orchard told him he lived by gambling at night. He slept during the daytime.

The prosecution then called Hull McClaughry, assistant postmaster at San Francisco, who was interrogated as to a registered letter Orchard said he received from Pettibone while in San Francisco. Orchard said he was going by the name of "John Dempsey" at the time, and Pettibone used the name of "J. Wolff" in transmitting the letter, which contained $100.

What Detective Says.

[redacted] ous detective, who has figured so largely in the testimony, and who has been attacked by the counsel for the defence, prefers not to be interviewed at length on the subject of the Orchard confession.

"It would be superfluous for me to reiterate," he said Thursday. "Orchard has told the literal truth about the confession and the way it was given to me. I made him no promises; I never made a promise to a criminal in my life. Orchard first confessed to me, but said he was not quite ready to give it to me finally.

"I promised to hold it for some time, and I did so. He told me that when he was ready to tell the whole story he would let me know, and some time later he again told me the incidents of his life, leaving out nothing. Every word that he has said on the stand as to the confession is the truth, and there is nothing to add."

No Verdict Till August.

The state expects to close its case in ten days or two weeks. Clarence Darrow, for the defence, says their case will take about four weeks, though it is possible that it may be concluded in less. It is generally conceded, however, that the verdict will not be reached before August 1.

BURGLARS DYNAMITE SAFE.

Burford Postoffice Scene of Daring Robbery Yesterday.

Brantford, Ont., June 15.—The postoffice at Burford village, in Brant County, was entered by burglars early yesterday morning. They effected entrance by a skeleton key, dynamited the safe, and stole money, stamps and private papers. The money loss was small, probably $25.

The perpetrators got away, locking the doors behind them.

SHOT BY POLICEMAN.

Arrested Wrong Man and Was Mistaken for a Burglar.

Dalhousie, N.B., June 15.—A shooting affray took place on Thursday in St. Maure, when Peter Fontaine was shot dead by Policeman Sealy, from the town of Dalhousie. Sealy and Constable Gallop left Dalhousie early in the morning with warrants for the arrest of Andrew Fontaine and Peter Fontaine, charged with assault. On arriving at the home of Andrew Fontaine they placed him under arrest, and George Sealy left alone to go to the next house, where Peter Fontaine made his home. On Sealy's arrival there he met George Jalbert, with whom Peter Fontaine lived. He arrested Jalbert by mistake for Peter Fontaine. Jalbert, not having committed any offence, was surprised to find himself in the hands of the law, and, not knowing who Sealy was, and seeing he had a revolver in his hand, he says he mistook him for a burglar, and made a fight, as he was very much afraid. Meanwhile he called on his wife and Peter Fontaine for help. Fontaine came downstairs undressed, and, seeing a stranger with a revolver, a general row occurred. The policeman, noticing his mistake, let Jalbert go and made an attempt to arrest Fontaine. Jalbert, having received a severe blow, made for the woods. Meantime Gallop came on the scene and took part in the scuffle, which resulted in Fontaine receiving several shots, one ball lodging in his liver and another just above the heart, death ensuing in a few minutes. Sealy surrendered himself to the County Sheriff.

LONGSHOREMEN BEATEN.

Men Go Back to Work at Old Wages —Thirty Cents.

New York, June 15.—There was a pathetic scene at the meeting of the longshoremen, whose strike for increased pay was declared off. Patrick Connors, leader of the strikers, broke down and wept when compelled to make the acknowledgment that the men were beaten.

There was a moment's silence, and then the hall rang with cheers for the leader, while many of the men who had faced privation in the effort to win their demands hurried to the platform, shook Connors by the hand, and assured him that he had made a good fight. More than 12,000 of the original 20,000 strikers who remained firm will return to work today.

The strike has lasted nearly six weeks, and was a great financial loss to the steamship companies and to the workers. The loss in wages to the longshoremen has been close to a million dollars.

CHURCH WAS SILENT.

Refusal of Synod to Condemn Graft Causes Much Comment.

Ottawa, June 15.—There is more than a trifle of excitement amongst the clergy over the refusal of that body to pass a resolution condemning corruption and immorality among our public men.

It seems that the resolution, which was tabled by C. S. Smith of Cornwall and Dr. A. A. Weagant of Ottawa, was conveniently classed, under such business as could only be discussed if the synod was unanimous that it be brought forward. It only required one dissentient voice therefore to defeat the bringing forward of the resolution. Justice Burbidge was the dissentient.

In view of the action taken by the Toronto synod upon the same matter, many of the local Anglican clergy express themselves as disconcerted and chagrined.

Prominent Man Murdered.

Houston, Texas, June 15.—Col. H. S. Wreford, a prominent business man, was shot and killed yesterday at Brownsville as the result of a circular he issued Thursday, in which he bitterly denounced Capt. William Kelly, because of Kelly's testimony before the Senate committee which is investigating the Brownsville affair in Washington. Jesse Thorham, the stepson of Capt. Kelly, is charged with the shooting.

C. N. R. Gets Permit.

Winnipeg, June 15.—A permit was issued yesterday to the Canadian Northern Railway for the erection of its new shops in Fort Rouge. The permit provides for three buildings—blacksmith shop, 100 by 144 feet; planing mill, 100 by 144 feet, and a car repair shop, 100 by 192 feet.

The total cost of the buildings will be $7,000 and the architect is Samuel Brown.

Secretary Taft Ill.

St. Paul, June 15.—Secretary of War Taft became suddenly ill at Fort Snelling yesterday noon, while witnessing the review of troops and fell over. Medical aid was at once summoned and the Secretary was immediately brought to this city to the home of J. S. Hill, on Virginia avenue. Ptomaine poisoning is suspected, as he was very sick at his stomach.

KAISER'S CUP RACED FOR.

Winning Automobile Ran 312 Miles In 5 1-2 Hours.

Hamburg, Germany, June 15.—The automobile race for Emperor William's cup, began a few minutes after 6 o'clock yesterday morning under favorable auspices. The rains of Thursday had ceased, and the roads had partly dried off during the night, while the sky showed signs of clearing up.

The circuit selected for the race covered a distance of 125 kilometres, which had to be traversed four times in order to complete the total distance, 500 kilometres, or about 312 miles.

The prizes, consisting of one huge cup, a vase and table centrepiece from the Royal porcelain manufactory at Charlottenberg, were placed in an elevated position on the balustrade of the court tribune, in full view of the contestants.

The winner of the race was Nazzaro, in 5 hours, 34 minutes, 28 seconds.

Hantvast was second, in 5 hours, 39 minutes, 10 seconds. Michel, a German, was third, time, 5 hours, 39 minutes, 49 seconds.

RAILWAYS RESPONSIBLE.

G.T.R. and C.P.R. to Be Prosecuted For Criminal Negligence.

Toronto, June 15.—Premier Whitney yesterday instructed Crown Attorney Drayton to proceed under the criminal code against the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways on the charge of criminal negligence for not properly protecting the Bay street crossing, and also for maintaining a nuisance at the crossing.

The Premier ordered that the indictments should be preferred before the next grand jury, which will meet on Sept. 10 next.

It has not yet been decided by the crown authorities whether the city was partly to blame for the accident. It is just possible that the municipality may be made a party to the suit.

Guelph, June 15.—A man whose name is given as A. W. McLeod, from Texas, staying at the Royal Hotel since last Saturday, narrowly escaped being asphyxiated by gas Thursday night.

It seems there are two jets on the same pipe, and on turning off the one the other was partially turned on.

Many Improvements To The Grand Opera House During Present Season

Messrs. J. J. Turner and Sons Intend to Make Many Changes to the Popular Play House This Summer.

WILL INCREASE COMFORT

The Grand Opera House during the next three months will be probably idle, as the present season is practically closed and the shows will not return until September. But in the meantime the management, Messrs. J. J. Turner and Sons, intend to make improvements that the public should appreciate and which should add greatly to the service of the Opera House. The management have shown that they wish to cater to the public, and since they have come into possession of the house have done all in their power to conduct the house in a businesslike manner and at the same time with a view to winning new patrons. This is their first experience, and their efforts have been highly successful. Opera House during the summer months, and have many pleasing Their intentions are to improve the changes ready for the re-opening.

Some Improvements

In the first place, it is learned that the interior will be decorated by painters, and the walls and ceiling given a new touch of paint throughout. The boxes will be enclosed as the fixtures will not interfere with the view of the stage. These changes alone will brighten the interior and give the house a finished appearance.

The present check room will be turned into a lavatory, and the large room south of the main entrance will be fitted up and will be used as a check room. Needless to say, this change will be most acceptable.

It is also learned that the management intends to make application to the city for the right to erect a large, glass-covered portico similar to those generally used in the playhouses in the larger cities. It will extend to the street and will be as wide as the main entrance. It will give the front of the Opera House a finished effect, and will be of great service to the patrons. Especially on rainy nights, the people may have a chance to prepare themselves for the blasts, and those using cabs will entirely escape the inclement weather.

These are but a few of the improvements that Messrs. Turner and Sons have in project, and it is hoped that they will be able to carry them out. So far as can be learned, the management are determined to gradually equip their house until they have everything arranged according to modern notions.

Collegiate Institute Cadets Competed For The Prizes

Marching Manoeuvres on Riverside Park in Which They Display Their Efficiency as a Battalion and in Company and Section Movements—A Credit to Lieut. J. E. Hodgson.

F. BROWN, CADET MAJOR

The Cadet Corps of the Collegiate Institute held a competition at the Riverside Park yesterday for marching and general field manoeuvres, and the work that they performed was a credit not only to themselves, but to Lieutenant J. E. Hodgson, of the 57th Regiment, who drilled and instructed the boys. There are three companies, forming a battalion under the command of Cadet Major Fred Brown. The officer in charge of the several companies are A. Munro, Lieut.-Adjt of the Battalion —Company No. 1—Captain Ed. Wood, Sergeants McGuire, Mann, Dobbin and O'Brien; Lieutenants, Ingham and Austin.

Company No. 2—Captain Herb Conroy; Sergeants, Lees, Pringle, Kidd and Roseboro; Lieutenants, Anderson and Picard.

Company No. 3. — Captain Holden Blackwell; Sergeants, Wallace, Denham, Clegg and Hooper; Lieutenants, Hall and Letellier.

The Prizes

The prizes were donated and won as follows::

Five dollars, presented by Captain Eastwood of the 57th, for the best company, was won by Company 3, captained by H. Blackwell.

Five dollars, presented by Mr. T. F. Matthews, for the best half company, was won by right half of No. 2 Company, with Lieutenant Anderson in charge.

Three dollars, presented by Lieutenant E. Best of the 57th, for the best section, was won by section No. 1 of Company No. 1, under Sergt. M. O'Brien.

Two dollars, presented by Lieutenant Higgins of the 57th, for the second best section, was won by Sergeant McGuire's No. 4 section of Company No. 1.

The Judges

The inspecting officer was Lieut.-Col. Miller, assisted by Major Stevenson and Major Clegg. They decided upon the winners of the prizes and in doing so mentioned the fact that the battalion showed the results of careful instruction, so that it was with difficulty that the best could be selected. After the inspection Lieut.-Col Miller addressed the companies drawn up in front of the band stand, saying that it was a pleasure to have seen them drill and that they had much to be proud of. The militia were always glad to see those drill who will, in a few years, be officers and men in some regiment. The military training received in the schools is a sound basis for the volunteer regiments and generally instills a desire for advancement in later years. Not only that, but it is a benefit physically to the members of the corps who will unconsciously bear themselves manly and erect, thus strengthening the lungs and invigorating the whole system.

The speaker continued in his remarks pointing out that the drill was not all fun, but a national necessity. A nation finds it to its advantage to maintain a strong force of fighting men, thus assuming a standing among other nations and indirectly keeping peace. Lieut.-Col. Miller expressed the hope that the Government will see their way to providing uniforms for the cadets, that they may appear in public with the volunteers. He complimented the cadets on their efficient work, especially as a battalion. There was also an absence of talking and disorder in the ranks, which was a strong asset. The officers also received compliments upon the manner in which they handled thhe companies.

The Judges

All the boys in the Institute are pressed into service in the Cadet Corps and this has resulted in a numerically strong corps. There were about 165 officers and men present yesterday and they appeared to good advantage. Company number one is composed of the tallest boys, number two, boys of medium height and the smallest constitute number three. The work of the last mentioned was very good. Orders were executed promptly, the column marching was in excellent order and the section work was carefully performed.

The Cadets are in the pink of condition and are a credit to those who have trained them. The members of the teaching staff were present and other friends of the Collegiate, including Messrs. W. H Hill and V. Eastwood and one in all were apparently pleased with the performance.

People who know say York Sparks, that purest charged water, adds zest to the best whiskey and flavor to that not quite so good. Certainly it is perfection as a thirst-quencher; and it aids digestion besides. Try

DOWNIE STREET BEING REPAIRED

At Last the Board of Works Commences Work of Levelling It

At last the Board of Works has undertaken the levelling of Downie street—removing the hogs'-backs that have ruined the street since last year. The result, when completed, or even completed, will speak for itself. The first heavy rain will convert the street into a quagmire, for the filling of the sewer not having been tamped, will, ten to one, sink, and instead of a hog's-back, a hog-wallow will result. Rubidge street, from Simcoe to Brock streets, which has been in a condition of villainous roughness, from sewer and gas main operations for two long years, is still left severely alone. Perhaps the idea of putting this stretch of street into a condition fit for traffic will come to the Board of Works in a dream.

BIG INCREASE IN THE PRICE OF OATS

It will cost money to make a horse "feel his oats" at the present price of that grain. During the last week oats have jumped in price from 40 cents to 50 cents a bushel, and that is not the worst of the story. The market clerk is of the opinion that they will go as high as 60 cents before the new crop is ready for harvest.

Yesterday one man delivered a load to the fire hall, and received 52 cents a bushel, which is almost an unheard of price.

There is apparently a scarcity of oats available for the market and the demand locally has been much greater than the supply, the result of which is seen in the rapid increase in price.

PROSPEROUS YEAR FOR THE I. O. F.

One Hundred Members Initiated—Church Parade To-morrow Night—Labour Day Celebration

Independent Forestry is having a great boom in this city. In the last ten months Court Chemong, No. 530, assisted by Messrs. R N Brown, of Belleville, and A Bradshaw, of this city, Dy. S. C. R's, has increased its membership by one hundred. They held a special meeting on Thusday evening and initiated a class of ten. Another large class will be put through the forest rambles on the last Thursday evening of this month, in the S.O.E. Hall.

This Court will attend church at George street Methodist church, to-morrow evening, meeting in their Court room at 6.15 p.m. sharp. Large delegations will arrive in the city to-night and to-morrow from the Courts at Lakefield, Keene, Briar Hill and other Courts near the city, to accompany the members of the local Court. All members who are not connected with Court Chemong are invited to meet with them in the S.O.E Hall, and go with them to church to return thanks for the unparalleled prosperity of the Order.

The members of Court Chemong will wear the new official badge Badge which has been lately authorized by the Supreme Court, for the first time, also their new officers' sashes.

At their meeting on Thursday evening arrangements were made to hold a monster demonstration at Idyl Wyld, on Labour Day, when it is expected excursions from all Courts within a radius of fifty miles will be run. The Supreme Chief Ranger, the Hon. Elliott G. Stephenson, is expected to be present. A good programme of sports, dancing and everything that will interest the public will be arranged for and the most enjoyable outing of the season may be expected. A steamer has been chartered to carry the Peterborough contingent to this popular summer pleasure grounds.

ROCHESTER MAN ON AN AUTO TOUR

Mr. J. E. Kelso, Former Peterborough Resident Here

Mr. J. E. Kelso of Rochester, accompanied by his wife and two children, Masters Charlie and Arthur, are visiting friends in the city. They have made the trip around by Buffalo and Niagara, and through Western Ontario in a large touring car, and ran up here yesterday from Port Hope for a few days' fishing, before going into Kingston, where they will cross on the boat.

Mr. Kelso is an old Peterborough boy whom Uncle Sam has been good to, and he speaks in glowing terms of the progress our city has made since he left it as a boy.

That he does not display an American flag in his car is not an evidence of disloyalty, but he says it is best at times not to be too well known, especially by the farmers, for they have not yet learned that the King's highway is not their pasture field.

IS BACK FROM THE C. O. F. CONVENTION

Mr. J. P. Bryson Will Represent Ontario Convention at St. Paul

Mr. J. P. Bryson, who has been representing Court Peterborough, No 225, of the Catholic Order of Foresters at the Provincial Convention, in Chatham, this week, returned home yesterday and reports a most successful and enjoyable gathering. One hundred and sixteen delegates from all parts of Ontario were present and they were royally entertained by the people of Chatham. Mr Bryson was elected as one of the 15 delegates to represent Ontario, at the International Convention of the order to be held in St. Paul, Minn., in August.

THE RECORD ADMIRAL FURNACE

Is fitted with the improved Record Triangular Grate—the most perfect furnace grate on the market. Of the four triangular grate bars, each bar is operated by the use of a handle applied to either of the two centre bars. To remove this handle after shaking is impossible until the grate bar has been returned to its original position, flat and in place, without any of the cogs sticking up. The result is that the bars are always flat under the fire and that it is impossible for lumps of coal to drop through and be wasted. The Record Triangular Grate can be entirely removed from without without lying on stomach or bothering with a light. 106

New Steamer "Otonabee" Ready For Her First Trip

Equipment is Modern in Every Respect and the Comfort of Passengers Has Been Provided For as Far as Possible—Electricity Generated on Board.

A LARGE SEARCHLIGHT

When the citizens of Peterborough board the Otonabee Navigation Company's new steamer "Otonabee" they will be agreeably surprised with the many improvements that have been effected and the trimness and comfort that the boat possesses. Although built from the old "City of Peterborough," there is scarcely a plank that is not just from the lumber yards. Perhaps the most noticeable feature is the increase in floor space which has been made by enlarging the hull and economizing in every possible manner. The dimensions of the "City of Peterborough were 108 feet by 18 1-2 feet; the "Otonabee" shows a length of 125 feet 6 inches and a beam of 25 feet 6 inches. There are three decks, including the hurricane, on which the pilot house is stationed.

The Upper Deck

The upper deck was built for the accommodation of passengers and the rooms that formerly occupied the centre have been removed so that from the head of the stairs leading from the lower deck, there is not an obstruction. The bow is practically the same as before, except that a modern lavatory has been installed with the latest fittings, and adjoined to this is the captain's cabin, which is roomy and costly fitted. Thirty 16-candle power electric lights are placed over this deck, which is a decided improvement on the old-time, smoky lanterns. Seats have been built around the outside and a new steel wire netting makes a suitable guard. The centre will probably be occupied by chairs and benches, as there is a great deal of room in this part of the boat. The new floor is canvas covered, the wood work has been recently painted in attractive colours and the whole is calculated to catch every breeze.

Lower Deck

The steam of this deck is partitioned off into a dining room and kitchen, where the best meals will be served. The engine and boiler room occupy the centre of the hull and are compactly placed. The motive power is a double compound engine made by Doughty, of Toronto, each of at least 150 h.p., and should drive the steamer at the rate of eleven or twelve miles an hour on the river, and much faster in open water. A dynamo has been installed to provide the electricity that is required. In the bow a candy stand has been erected and several sleeping apartments in suitable places.

Strong Searchlight

An electric searchlight has been placed on the thurricane deck, which will be the strongest ever used in this city. Its strength is estimated at 5000 c.p., and will clearly light a path for several miles. There is a single smoke stack, but it is a large one and is so fitted that it can be dropped for the lower bridges.

The steering gear is another improvement. A scientific principle has been used and a new and effective apparatus results.

The boat is the largest that has ever sailed these waters, so it is claimed, and will accommodate a large crowd. It should soon be a favourite with those who ply the Otonabee River, but was especially prepared for excursions. The first is a moonlight, under the auspices of St. Luke's Sunday School, on Wednesday evening, June 19th and on June 20th the farmers will run an excursion to Idyl Wild.

The navigation company may well be proud of their new steamer and Captain White will soon be breaking records with it and winning many friends for it.

The Government inspector pronounced the hull of the Otonabee as one of the best he had inspected.

OBITUARY.

BRIDGET CELIA SULLIVAN

Yesterday afternoon at one o'clock the death occurred of Bridget Celia, youngest daughter of Mr. John Sullivan, of Wisconsin, at her uncle's residence in Smith, at the age of 27 years. The deceased had been ill for some time previous to her demise, her death being caused by lung trouble. Surviving her are her father, and sister, Miss Josie Sullivan, her mother having died some 26 years ago.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, from the residence of her uncle, Mr. J. Galvin, lot 13, concession 5, Smith, and the remains will be buried in the Ennismore cemetery.

PATRICK LEAHY

After an illness of about a month, Patrick Leahy passed away at his residence on the seventh concession of Douro, near the five corners, yesterday evening. The late Mr. Leahy was 60 years of age and was highly respected by a great many people who knew him. He leaves his wife, formerly Mary Dwyer, and a large family of children. No report has been learned yet of the funeral.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

KEEPS RIGHT ON STEPPING

The Right Sort of Spirit for a Fast Progressing World

The weight of the human body has a certain relation to height and width, and the expert designer of clothes can get the correct measurements. The variations from the average or normal man are accounted for by occupation and environment. The athlete is heavier than the office man of the same height and width. This accounts for the division into types of the Semi-ready physique type system. The sturdy coal miner in Fernie and Lethbridge has a better developed shoulder than the equally hardy resident of Winnipeg.

"Semi-ready" tailoring is not the entire distance to knowing how. It's only a stepping stone, and its makers keep right on stepping.

Popular Cure For Croup

Anyone who has tested Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for croup will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success. It is wonderfully prompt in loosening the cough, clearing the air passages, and soothing the excited nerves. Many mothers who realize the suddenness with which croup comes on, and keep this great medicine constantly at hand for use in case of emergency.

Mr. Jas. Bourne The Victim Of A Terrible Accident

While Working in the Packing House on Saturday His Head Was Severely Crushed by the Elevator—Is Now in Precarious Condition.

A DISTRESSING AFFAIR

A distressing accident occurred on Saturday afternoon at the Matthews Packing House in which Mr. Jas. Bourne was seriously injured and narrowly escaped instant death. His condition at present is considered dangerous as the full extent of his injuries are not known.

Mr. Bourne is an elderly man about 78 years of age, and is employed at the Matthews establishment as a carpenter. To explain the accident it is necessary to give a description of the place where it occurred. On every floor of the building there is a wooden fence or gate about the elevator shaft to prevent anyone from accidentally falling in when the elevator is on another floor. Mr. Bourne was engaged in repairing one of the gates and the elevator was on the floor above. He had partly climbed up the gate on the inside of the elevator shaft and had placed a board in the shaft on which he could rest.

The engineer of the works was on the floor above and being obliged to come down stairs took the elevator. He did not know, of course, that any one was in the shaft and started his downward journey until it struck Mr. Bourne, who apparently did not notice the approaching elevator. His head and shoulders were badly squeezed and his nose was flattened on his face. Blood squirted in every direction from the jam and it is feared that several ribs that were broken have entered his lungs.

Dr. Scott, the Company's physician assisted by Dr. M. McCullough, attended Mr. Bourne and he was later removed to his residence on Rink street, refusing to be taken to the hospital. Although severely injured Mr. Bourne did not loose consciousness. It is learned that he is progressing favourably and it is hoped that he will soon have fully recovered.

New Port Hope Train Made Its Inaugural Trip To-day

New Service, Which Promises to Prove Very Popular—New Summer Time Table Goes Into Effect

LAKEFIELD TRAIN FASTER

To-day the new summer time-table of the G.T.R. went into effect, and for the first time the new morning train to Port Hope made its trip. This train leaves Peterborough at 9.40, connecting with the express going east on the main line. Returning, it leaves Port Hope at 10.40, arriving here at 11.45.

The new steamer service to Stony Lake also goes into effect to-day. The trains leave Peterborough for Lakefield now at 8.30 and 11.55 a.m., and at 5.40 p.m., and returning, arrive at 10 a.m., 4.30 and 6.40 p.m. The running time between this city and Lakefield has been cut down to 20 minutes, and in future no freight will be carried on these trains, making them purely passenger.

By the new schedule, too, an improved service is being given on the branches between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls and Lindsay and Cobconk.

KNOX S. S. PICNIC WAS A SUCCESS

Most Enjoyable Event at Stoney Lake on Saturday—The Prize Winners —Delightful Weather

The annual excursion of the Sunday School of Kno xChurch was held on Saturday afternoon at Stony Lake and was a most successful and delightful affair. The weather conditions were perfect and there was nothing to mar the enjoyment of the day. OOn arriving at Lakefield the steamer Stoney Lake was boarded and carried the 225 excursionists to Burleigh Falls. Dinner was partaken of here and an hour and one half spent at this delightful spot. The steamer then took the happy party on a trip to the eastern end of the lake, the beautiful scenery being enjoyed by every one.

On the return trip Sandy Point was reached at 3 o'clock and three hours were spent there the following programme of races being run off,:—

Primary Girls' Race.—Madge Chartreen, Jean rIwin.

MILES AHEAD OF ANY OTHER GARDENER

New Potatoes Reported by Mr. W. Miles, Which Measure 5 1-2 and 6 1-2 Inches

Mr. Wm. Miles, 95 Water street, is miles ahead of his competitors in the production of early potatoes. This afternoon he left at the Examiner office a small basket of Early White Pride, of edible size, the largest measuring 5 1-2 by 6 1-2 inches. The potatoes were planted on Good Friday and protected from frosts by a covering of cotton. Mr. Miles is an enthusiast and also an experimenter. He is aiming to develop from his earliest potatoes a still earlier variety. He takes a potato stem, cuts it off close to the joint, below and thrusts it into the soil. At each joint that is below the soil a potato develops. The sets are kept well watered and cultivated. The stems shown to-day had infant potatoes growing on one side at the joint of a size varying from that of a arrowfull pea to that of a hazel nut. One stem, which had been thrust two joints below the soil, bore two baby potatoes. Last year Mr. Miles grew from stems quite a supply of potatoes, which reached the size of a small egg. These he planted early this spring, and, taking a record of the date, he hopes to have potatoes mature earlier than those of the same variety, grown from the latter, planted in the ordinary way. Other growers do well, but Mr. Miles does better.

WOOD WAGGON IN A LIVELY RUNAWAY

Chamberlen Street the Scene of Fast Run on Saturday

A runaway occurred on Chamberlen street on Saturday afternoon which might have resulted seriously for the driver, Mr. John Stewart. He was driving a waggon-load of wood for the A. McDonald estate, and had crossed the C.P.R. tracks and proceeded west. A train was close at hand, and as it commenced blowing off steam the horses became frightened, and bolted. They swerved into the hollow by the roadside, upsetting the box of wood, and continued with the trunk out into the street. Soon a wheel became detached, then another, until merely the harness was left.

The team turned into a field, and careered around for a while, finally stopping to eat the grass. Beyond the damage done to the waggon there were no injuries sustained, although it was said that Mr. Stewart had his arm slightly hurt, but it has since been learned to the contrary.

HIS MOTHER WENT INTO HYSTERICS

When She Heard Her Son Was to Go to Jail—Pitiful Sutton Case

High County Constable Cochrane went up to Sutton last week, and on Saturday evening returned with Harold Scott charged jointly with John Donnelly, with stealing eggs from Mrs. Manley of Otonabee. The constable has a pitiful tale to relate of how the arrest of Scott affected his mother, who went into hysterics over the occurrence.

Mrs. Scott was for 24 hours under the doctor's care, and was only relieved when he promised that her son would not be put in gaol.

Scott, who is only a lad of about 17 years, was therefore placed in the Shelter where he will remain until the trial on Friday. He states that he knows absolutely nothing about the theft of the eggs, and claims that on the day in question he was in the Manley residence attempting to sell varnish to Mrs. Manley, when the alleged robbery was committed. The authorities are rather inclined to believe his story.

TWO OUNCES OF GOLD IN QUARTZ

Mr. Patterson Has Exceedingly Rich Specimens From the Laurentian Mines

Five ounces of gold quartz containing two ounces of gold, or at the rate of $150,000 in gold to the ton of ore, is pretty rich. That is the percentage, however, of a piece of quartz which Mr. Patterson, the Simcoe street mining broker, is carrying around these days. It came, he states, from the Laurentian mines in the Rainy River district, the richest mining proposition, according to Mr. Patterson, in the Dominion. The little piece of ore which he carries in his vest pocket contains $40 worth of gold.

PERMITS ARE GOING OUT SLOWLY

Only a Few Have Been Issued Since Last Saturday

A. W. Cressman, enlarging 335, 337 and 339 George street; estimated cost $5,000. Contractor, W. J. Johnston.

Mrs. Robt. Nelson, dwelling, 525 Aylmer street; estimated cost $1,500.

Miss J. T. Glover, dwelling, Mark street; estimated cost $1,900.

Ontario Coal Co., Limited, office and scale house, 140 Aylmer street; estimated cost $150.

ARTILLERY FORCES ARE OFF TO THE CAMP

24th and 14th Field Batteries Left on Saturday Night

Peterborough's Artillery Force, the 24th Battery, got away to camp in good style on Saturday evening. The battery paraded to the station with their guns about 4 o'clock, and made a very favourable impression.

The Campbellford section of the 14th Field Battery, arrived at 5.30 on a special G.T.R. train and the two battalions entrained at the C.P.R. station about 7 o'clock.

SMITH MAN CHARGED WITH INSANITY

Brought to County Gaol Yesterday—Reported to Have Attacked His Wife

Trouble was experienced at the Jewell residence in Smith township, near Jackson Park, yesterday afternoon, when it was claimed that Robert Jewell suddenly became insane, and attacked his wife. His actions yesterday evening became so strange that High County Constable Cochrane was notified, and, together with Constable Archie Moore, arrested Jewell, and placed him in the county gaol.

Jewell, it is also stated, attempted to kill one of his horses, and to do other acts of violence contrary to the laws of the land.

The prisoner appeared before Magistrate Edmison at three o'clock, and it is probable that he will be sent to the Asylum. This will depend on the doctors' examinations.

THIS PASTOR WAS A COUNTERFEITER

But Claims the Bad Money Was to be Used as Medals for Sunday School Pupils

Springfield, Ill., June 15.—A Federal Grand Jury last night returned an indictment against the Rev. James R. K. Kaye.

Moulds for the manufacture of counterfeit dimes, quarters, half-dollars and dollars were found in the basement of the hall which Rev. Kaye occupied while pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Lincoln.

When arrested he confessed to making the moulds, but explained that he was only experimenting with them to see if he could manufacture medals to be presented to the children of the Sunday schools, as rewards for getting new pupils.

PLAINLY TO BLAME

In these days of Conferences and Synods, the air is full of academic resolutions, and bewailings of unsatisfactory moral conditions. Luridly gloomy pictures are drawn of the deplorable conditions in politics, social, commercial and popular circles. If there is the amount of gambling on race tracks which conferences declare there is; if there is wholesale gambling at afternoon social gatherings; if the members of Stationing Committees of Conferences are looking more after their personal interests than after the interests they Kettlewell declared they are; if the Kittlewell declares they are; if the people at large, if society, if politicians are drifting entirely away from their moral moorings; if all these things are happening, what is the church doing? Has it lost its influence? and if so, who is responsible? If things go wrong in the administration of public affairs, governments, not the people, or even their representatives, are held responsible. Clergymen and ministers are the guardians of their flocks, and if they permit them to go astray, who is to blame? These ministers sharply resent any encroachment upon their prerogatives; yet they deplore the results arising from the watchmen on the walls of Zion going to sleep, and call upon their flocks to help do the work which the ministers are not doing. The resolutions referred to are a confession of helplessness on the part of the churches; they are not doing what is expected of them. If the consciences of their flocks were awakened; if the moral sense were quickened, then the acts that characterize them singly and severally would not be committed.

THE SECESSION MOVEMENT

The secession movement in Northwestern Ontario, while perhaps not justifiable, and not to be entertained, is, nevertheless, plainly excusable. It would appear that, not only are the complaints of the settlers that their claim for larger and more effective expenditure on roads, is ignored, but that there is a serious maladministration of the laws. In a word, it is successfully undeniable that Conservative office holders, are to the front in party political organizations and movements. In proof of this it may be mentioned that the license inspector of Rainy River South, Mr. George Campbell, is president of the Fort Frances Conservative Association; that Mr. W. N. Elliott, clerk of the Division Court, is secretary of the District Conservative Association, and the secretary of the Fort Frances Conservative Association, is homestead inspector for the district. With the Government at Toronto hostile to the demands of the mass of the settlers, is it not natural to suppose that the office holders will co-operate with the Government; that they will be more loyal to their bread and butter, than to the people, who have distinct grievances. The office holders get the fat things, and are tempted to use their official positions under the Government, and their official influences in the party, to uphold the Government in its course, which is antagonistic to the welfare and wishes of the people at large. Naturally the local office holders in the party, will get the ear of the Government, in preference to the ordinary humble citizen. The secession movement is not a fad; it is based on genuine grievances. If the office holders will let the Government do justice to that part of Ontario, there will be heard no more demand for secession. If the Government would administer their trust in the interests of the people, and not in those of political favourites, there would be peace and contentment, with prosperity; for the conditions would be created that would remove the handicap which impossible roads impose. Instead of spending their time fighting for their rights, which they should not have to do, the people could devote their whole attention to their farms. Southern Ontario should not absorb the whole attention of the Government, nor the lion's share of the public expenditure, to the exclusion of a due measure to the newer portions.

SUFFERED EIGHT YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

Doctor's said Female Trouble.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "For eight years I suffered from Kidney Complaint, and until twelve months ago doctors said I was suffering from 'Female Trouble.' Last November (1905), I was seriously ill, resulting I believe from kidney trouble. Finding doctor's medicine doing me no good, I persuaded my husband to purchase me a box of Dean's Kidney Pills, after having read of a case somewhat resembling mine. I commenced taking them according to directions (not taking the doctor's medicine), and on second day a swelling commenced in my feet, legs and body. The following day I was so changed and swollen my husband, in alarm, hastened to Mr. Johnson's drug store, who told him to tell me he thought the pills were drawing something out of the blood, and to keep on taking them. I did so and after taking them a week, the swelling disappeared leaving me with a complexion free from pimples, tired, weary feeling gone, constipation, from which I suffered for years, gone, pain in the back, gone, and a general feeling of joy and light heartedness, I have not felt since a child, took place in me.

My sister-in-law (Mrs. Bryan), seeing the action of Dean's Kidney Pills, and the change for good they accomplished in me, sent for a box and they completely cured her. When there is an opportunity of telling people what Dean's Kidney Pills did for us, we always take advantage of it, and tell them to give them a fair trial."

Dean's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, for sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Dean Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

FORESTERS DOING GOOD WORK

Objects of the I. O. F. Eulogized by Rev. Dr. Crothers, in Annual Sermon to Members of the Order

WAS A GOOD ATTENDANCE

One of the largest fraternal church parades held in Peterborough for some time was that of Court Chemong No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters, to George street church last evening. Over 150 members were in line, a number of visitors being present from courts in the surrounding district. The special sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Dr. Crothers, who dealt with the point that no man lived for himself, that brotherly love and brotherly assistance would make the world brighter and detract from human suffering and human sorrow.

The Foresters assembled at their hall on Hunter street at 6.30, and marched in a body to the church where they occupied the central section of seats. There was a large congregation present, and the musical service was bright and appropriate. Rev. Dr. Crothers' discourse was based on Romans, 14-7, "For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." At the commencement he pointed out that true Christian religion consisted mainly of self sacrifice. The spirit of Jesus Christ should dwell in every true Christian and Christ's life on earth was devoted to helping others, of alleviating suffering and of promoting the gospel of charity and love to fellow men. Experience had shown that a life devoted to self had never been successful in the proper sense of the word; there were no truer words than those of the apostle when he said "No man liveth of himself."

The speaker enlarged upon the point that to do service to one's fellowmen, to assist in carrying the burdens of those around you, to help those in distress, were the brightest things in human life and too noble to even be compared to a life devoted to selfish motives and filled with the money-making spirit. Dr. Crothers congratulated the Independent Foresters upon the great growth of their order and the splendid work they had done and were doing towards giving help where help was most needed. Hundreds of widows and children throughout the land blessed the order for the assistance that had come to them from the Foresters. But not only in insurance matters was the I. O. F. doing great work, but also in following the example of the ones who were referred to when it was said, "I was sick and ye visited me, I was hungry and you fed me, I was naked and ye clothed me." When life was drawing to a close the thing that would give most pleasure to the dying one would not be the amount of riches acquired, nor the worldly fame attained, but the remembrance of the helping hand given to some brother man in his hour of trouble, the bearing of another's burden, the helping smile that helped to make the world better and brighter. To help one's brother was the precept to be followed if one was to make the most of life.

A duet by Miss Reesor and Mr. F. C. Freeland was one of the features of the musical service and was greatly appreciated by the Foresters and others present.

On the return to their hall the Foresters passed votes of thanks to Rev. Dr. Crothers for his excellent sermon, to the choir for their contribution to the service and to the trustee board for the use of the church. The marshall for the parade was Bro. W. H. G. Armstrong, and the committee in charge consisted of Chief Ranger Wm. Miles; Vice C. R. Geo. McKee; Secretary W. J. Buyers, Bros. A. Allston, E. Rourke, G. Metcalfe and N. Howard Moore, convenor.

The handsome new badges were worn for the first time and attracted attention. The design is very pretty and they are finished in a more artistic manner than the ordinary lodge badge. The new officers' sashes, recently presented to Court Chemong by the High Court of Eastern Ontario, were also worn for the first time. They are something of which the court may well feel proud. Last night's church parade was the largest in the history of Court Chemong and much credit is due the committee in charge.

After returning to the hall, following the service, votes of thanks were passed to the visiting members of the order from Lakefield, Keene and Fowler's Corners.

It was also decided to send a letter of congratulation to the new Supreme Chief Ranger, Hon. Elliott G. Stevenson, upon his elevation to the head of the order.

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

PROGRESS MADE BY LOCAL CHURCH

Under the Pastorate of Rev. J. B. Webb Prosperity Has Followed the Murray Street Baptist Church

IS A SUCCESSFUL PASTOR

The last issue of the Canadian Baptist, has the following reference to the work done in the Murray street church since the inauguration of the pastorate of Rev. J. B. Webb:—

While your columns have not been heralding the advances being steadily made in the Murray street church, nevertheless the word we can gladly pass to you is that blessings have surely come with Mr. Webb's pastorate, commenced in January. Mr. Webb's gift of organization, clear vision and determined character, combined with militant virtues and evangelical work, has surely taken hold of the hearts and minds of our people. Evidences of this acceptability has been repeatedly shown in the numerous occasions to our number by baptism, and especially of the baptism of older members of our congregation, who have stepped out and accepted Christ as their Master and Leader. Attendances at all services have steadily increased, and financial contributions for all branches of the work continue to advance. Our preaching pastor faithfully laboured with pronounced approval. Bro. Webb has all the work in front of him, and all the people with him, and he is general in every respect who can know naught but triumphant victory.

Eczema is Baby's Enemy

CAUSING KEEN DISTRESS FROM THE DREADFUL ITCHING—SOMETIMES LASTS FOR YEARS—CURE EFFECTED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The first indication of eczema is a red pimple, or blister-like eruption. The points run together, and make a moistened patch, which "weeps" at first, and then dries into a crust.

The intense itching of eczema of the face and scalp is very hard for the little one to bear, and the result is scratching until free bleeding takes place, and recovery is further retarded. Besides the suffering from the distressing itching, the child is restless and sleepless.

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, covering the body with sores, but fortunately there is positive cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, a preparation which by its marvellous soothing and healing powers, brings quick relief from itching and heals up the sores.

Mr. William Crafts, jr., Burk's Falls, Ont., writes: "Our little boy, aged three years, broke out with eczema all over his face, hands and back, and we had a terrible time trying to relieve his suffering. It was so bad that when he scratched it would almost make the blood flow. The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment quickly brought relief and made a thorough cure, as there has never any return of the disagreeable ailment. We always keep Dr. Chase's medicines in the house and find them very useful."

Mrs. M. McCann, 4 Short street, St. John, N. B., writes: "My little girl, three years old, had her face covered with eczema and it was beginning to spread all over her body. I tried many different ointments, and the doctor could not do her any good. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment and she was completely cured by one box. I cannot praise Dr. Chase's Ointment enough for the good it has done her."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven especially successful in the cure of baby eczema, as well as the prevention of this torturing disease, when used for chafing and skin diseases, in which eczema finds its beginnings. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

DUTY OF PARENTS TO THEIR CHILDREN

A Strong Sermon Delivered by Rev. Dr. Crothers on a Subject That is at Everybody's Door

IS A FEARLESS SPEAKER

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Rev. Dr. Crothers dealt with an important subject yesterday morning at the George Street Methodist Church when he pointed out to parents that the children of the present age are not receiving proper attention, that the homes are not doing their duty, and that, morally, the children are in imminent danger. He dealt with the subject fearlessly and comprehensively, and clearly proved that his statements were only too true. The moral training of the youth is a vast question, one demanding immediate attention, and Rev. Dr. Crothers' attitude should be followed by others, and thus the people generally should be awakened to the real state of affairs.

The Sermon

Referring to Solomon's weighty words of wisdom, the speaker said that they described the model wife and mother, the ideal son and father, the business man's best qualities, and also the surroundings that one looks for in the home. Continuing, he said that the home is the germ of all our institutions. Society is composed of a number of families, and the characteristics of the unit are generally noticeable in the whole combined. Similarly, the Government, public and business life depends upon the homes from which the members are taken. After showing how the home has many strong influences, Rev. Dr. Crothers said that in the city of Peterborough, where the educational advantages are unsurpassed, there is an increasing element that is most disorderly. He was glad that the Examiner had called the public's attention to the fact, and considered that it was a splendid example for this paper to take the reins in the matter. The pulpit, he said, had been remiss and had shown too much platitude. What is needed are plain spoken statements of truth.

Parents Responsible

The parents themselves are responsible for the care and education of their children. If they do not culture them, who will? Rev. Dr. Crothers declared that the great ambition of a father and mother should be to train their children in the highest ideals, namely, honour, truth and purity. Few people consider that on the one hand their children receive a home training, and on the other is an array of forces for evil that only the strongest can cope with and conquer.

Respect and honour for woman was dealt with by the speaker in clean-cut words that carried conviction. This is not an age of chivalry, and the good old Anglo-Saxon love and support of the weaker sex is sadly wanting in the characters of our boys. And then Rev. Dr. Crothers pointed out what the forces were that had wrought this alarming result.

Bad Company

The first mentioned was evil companions, whose vile expressions of corrupt minds soon lead the young boy from the ideas that his mother may have instilled in him. Then there is scandalous literature that need not be described. Pictures and stories of the blackest nature, smuggled into the country, for our mails will not handle them. Questionable posters that are seen about the city and for which the mayor and aldermen are responsible, also received attention, and lastly, the general street education that children receive by frequenting them.

Rather a Rattlesnake

Regarding pernicious literature in the hands of the young, Rev. Dr. Crothers told of a judge who had to deal with two postoffice employees who were charged with allowing papers of that character to pass through the mails. The men were declared guilty, and as he sentenced them to three and two years in prison, respectively, he said, "I would sooner see a rattlesnake on my child's couch than that vile trash."

Duties of Parents

In closing, the speaker showed how parents might take proper care of their children, and how to implant a love for the home. First, it should be made bright, attractive and cheerful. There should be plenty of legitimate amusement provided and no fault found with a boy's games and simple fun. There should be sympathy between parents and children and the former should have their every confidence. Who can cure like a mother, no matter what the trouble may be? The parents should know where their children are and what they are doing. They should teach them the right things to do, rather by love than by the birch rod. In many ways the parents' duty was distinctly mapped out, and those who have been last night take the earnest words of Rev. Dr. Crothers to heart and try to live up to his ideal.

Transportation Facilities Are Greatly Improved

New Wharf at Smithson's, in South Monaghan, Officially Declared Open by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., on Saturday.

PARTY FROM CITY PRESENT

Probably few persons in Peterborough have an adequate conception of the volume of traffic on the Otonabee River, between Rice Lake and Peterborough. It is a fact, however, that a very material proportion of the business of the merchants of the city, during the summer months particularly, is that secured through the medium of the steamers which ply the river and bring those who live along the shores of the river to the city to do their trading. On Saturdays, the three steamers on this route are usually filled with passengers, and the quantities of freight carried would prove a revelation to those who saw it for the first time.

In view of the importance and the growing volume of this traffic, it is not to be wondered at that the improvement of the facilities for transportation along the river should be given consideration by the representatives from this county in the House of Commons. In the past the landing stages along the river have not been altogether adequate to the demands made upon them, and those who had to travel by steamer up and down the river, as well as those who navigated the craft, were sometimes put to more or less inconvenience.

Recognizing the importance, both from the standpoint of the city, so far as its business interests were concerned, and from that of the residents of the section served by the river steamers, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., has taken the matter up, and, under the direction of the local officials of the Trent Valley Canal, a part of which waterway the Otonabee river forms, a new wharf has been built at Smithson's Landing in South Monaghan, and other wharves along the river on both sides are in contemplation.

On Saturday afternoon the official opening of Smithson's wharf took place and the event was of more than usual interest.

The Government steamer Sovereign took a party of gentlemen from the city down to the wharf, which is situated about half a mile below Hall's Bridge, in a central position in the township of South Monaghan, and serves a large section of that township. In addition to the party which the Sovereign conveyed, the passengers on the steamers Water Lily and Monarch, numbering several hundred, were present and participated in the opening function. As evidenced of the utility of the wharf is furnished by the fact that at one time there were three steamers tied to it, whereas in the past it was almost impossible for one steamer to tie to the wharf.

Among the passengers and steamboat men there were only words of praise for the energy and enterprise displayed by Mr. Hall in securing for them the convenience afforded by the new wharf, which, during the summer months, is one of the busiest points on the river.

After the arrival of the three steamers a short programme of speeches was held, when the new wharf was declared well and truly opened for the use of the public. Mr. T. F. Matthews acted as chairman, and, in opening the proceedings, referred to the great convenience which the wharf would afford the residents of South Monaghan, who would, he was sure, fully appreciate this display of interest in their welfare. He was glad to be present on an occasion of this nature, and was pleased to see that Mr. Hall was fully alive to the needs of his constituents, as the erection of this wharf gave evidence.

Mr. Hall Speaks

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., was the next speaker, and in opening his short address expressed his pleasure at meeting so many of the residents of the prosperous township of South Monaghan on an occasion of this kind. They were, he remarked, standing on the shores of one of the most prosperous and wealthy townships in the Province, and also on the route of the greatest waterway in the Dominion; a waterway of which there were at present 150 miles navigable, and which, when completed, would prove of untold benefit to the whole Dominion, and to the section through which it passed especially.

In order, however, to derive the greatest benefit from it, transportation facilities must be provided, and, in an effort to secure this, so far as the constituency which he represented was concerned, the wharf which had done service at Smithson's for a number of years, was being replaced by the new structure, which was that day being declared open. He was sure that everyone of his hearers would appreciate the convenience which the new wharf would afford. It was on one of the leading thoroughfares of the township and in that way would serve a large proportion of its residents.

Another Wharf

It was the intention in a short time to build a new wharf at the foot of the street railway line in Peterborough, which would still further facilitate transportation, saving considerable time to those travelling on the river steamers.

He had pleasure in declaring the wharf well and truly opened for public service.

Hon. J. R. Stratton

Hon. J. R. Stratton on being called upon, stated that he was glad to see that Mr. R. R. Hall had been carefully looking after the wants and requirements of his constituents. These public conveniences along our waterway were of much benefit to those who have occasion to use them and facilitated transportation. It was much more convenient and pleasant for those who came to Peterborough on Wednesday and Saturday to market their produce, to comfortably and conveniently take the steamer from well-constructed landings, such as this, and the sail on the water and the completion of the trip by street car, was quite an improvement to driving twenty or twenty-five miles, on roads that are, perhaps, not always all they would like them to be. The marketing of the farmers' grain in the fall of the year by steamer, was getting to be quite a business on the line of the canal, and now that the revenues of the country were sufficiently buoyant to admit of expenditures of this nature, he felt that the public were getting advantages that fully justified the expenditure. The three or four wharves that had been erected, or would be erected, the bridges that had been completed along the river, had all made conditions more agreeable. Peterborough was interested in seeing that the people could reach their city as conveniently as possible. He was glad to see that those who have occasion to travel in this direction, will find that when Mr. Hall has the wharf approaches, etc., completed, that all conveniences will be supplied. He believed in a reasonable expenditure of public moneys in this way. He did not know of any small expenditures that gave greater advantages, than some of the improvements that were being made upon the river. He congratulated the people of South Monaghan upon having another improvement of so much importance to them.

Canal Superintendent

Mr. J. H. McClellan, the superintendent of the Trent Canal, was next called upon, and in a few words expressed his pleasure at being present. He believed that the Government was getting good value for the money being expended on the wharf, and that it would prove a great benefit not only to the people in the vicinity, but to the city of Peterborough as well. He paid a compliment to the class of steamers plying on the river. They were a credit, he said, and the efforts of the steamboat men to serve the public, were to be commended.

Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, editor of the Daily Review, who was the last speaker, referred to the great convenience which the new wharf would afford, and complimented Mr. Hall on the energy displayed in the interests of his constituents.

After three cheers for Mr. Hall, and the ladies, the proceedings came to a close.

The wharf, which was built under the direction of Mr. Clem. Gordon, overseer on the canal, gives ten feet of water on the outer end, and will, as has been stated, accommodate three steamers, or more, at one time. It is the intention to widen the approaches in order that wagons may be driven on to the wharf, and unloaded directly to the steamers.

TO-DAY IS HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR

Thermometer Registered 87 Degrees in Shade at Noon—Warm Weather Here to Stay Now

THE THREE DAYS' RECORD

Yesterday was a hot one. It was not so hot, though, as many persons thought it was. As a matter of fact, the thermometer registered 83 degrees in the shade during the warmest time in the day, and this was the highest point registered to date this year. On Saturday the high point was 81, and on Friday it was one point higher, going to 82.

Those sun spots are being blamed in some quarters for this hot spell. It was stated that yesterday they could be seen quite plainly with the aid of a smoked glass.

There is good prospect of the present warm spell continuing for a few days, at least, and the change in weather which we have been looking for so long is actually here.

While yesterday was hot, to-day was worse still, the thermometer registering 87 degrees in the shade at noon, and two hours later it had gone up three points. Ninety degrees above zero in the middle of June is going some.

FISHING SEASON OPEN TO-DAY

Many Anglers Travel the Lake and River in Early Morning

Descendants of old Izaak Walton turned out in large numbers this morning to have the first pursuit after the finny tribe, and the lake and river in the early morning were swarmed with hopeful anglers. But so far as can be learned, ill-luck accompanied the majority of them, as is usual on such occasions. The fish seemed in no humour to grasp at the counterfeit bait, which, of course, was somewhat annoying to the fisherman.

A few of the anxious anglers, however, fared much better yesterday, according to reports, and several big fish were caught on the trawl in the Otonabee.

The prospects for a good fishing season are bright, and old anglers along the river, who are acquainted with the habits of the bass and lunge, say that they are very plentiful. Stories of the heavy weights are daily expected.

THROWN OUT OF RIG HIP BROKEN

Sixth Man Injured on His Way to Church Yesterday

Jas. Tyndall, who resides in Smith township, a short distance down the lake from Chemong Park, was badly injured yesterday as the result of an accident. He was driving to church with one of his farm employees, when his horse became frightened and, as is the habit of the animal, bolted, throwing the two men out into the road. The other man fell across Tyndall, breaking his hip-bone and inflicting other injuries of a less serious nature. Medical assistance was summoned from Peterborough. Mr. Tyndall will be confined to his bed for some time. His companion was not hurt.

SPOKE OF THE SYNOD FEATURES

Interesting Address Given by Rev. Canon Davidson at St. John's Yesterday

THE IMPORTANT MEASURES

At St. John's church yesterday morning, Rev. Canon Davidson, followed his usual custom, and gave an interesting account of the general features of the Synod meeting.

He spoke, first, of the constitution of the Synod, saying that it is composed of the clergy, and three delegates from every parish and mission. There are 200 clergy of all ranks in the diocese, who come from 134 parishes and missions, containing 246 churches. This parish was represented by Mr. Jos. S. Bell, Mr. R. J. Devey representing the mission of Apsley.

The Synod was a business meeting, to manage the business and general work of the church, like the parochial vestry meetings. As to the tone of the meetings generally, he asked the people not to be misled by sensational reports in the press, as the meetings were ordered and orderly.

The most important question that came before the synod was that of episcopal assistance. The request for a coadjutor having been withdrawn by the Bishop, it only remained for the Synod to vote a stipend for an assistance Bishop, which was done unanimously, and Bishop Reeve of Mackenzie River, has been appointed.

Among the different reports the Diocesan Mission Board reported the funds in good condition, sufficient to pay grants to the missionaries, and stated that they had distributed a bonus of $3000 among them. It has been decided to increase the stipend to a maximum of $900 for those who have been ten years in the service.

The speaker next referred to the work being done in the prisons and among the immigrants. The church in Toronto, maintained a chaplain at the Central Prison, Mercer Reformatory and Toronto Gaol. A work was being done among the migrants.

In connection with the observation of the Lord's Day, it was announced that the Archbishop had been elected Hon. President of the Dominion Alliance, and Dr. Shearer, the secretary of the Alliance, gave a strong address upon the work of the Alliance.

The Hymnal Committee reported that satisfactory progress was being made with the new hymn book, and that it would be published in the autumn of 1908.

A strong measure was the unanimous passing of a resolution, calling upon the church as a whole, and the clergy and members to bring influences to bear to change the present alarming conditions of political and commercial life, and to raise the standard of morality in the country generally.

In conclusion he pointed out the duty of the members to the church, as represented by the Synod.

Local Staff Officers In The Composite Regiment

Majority of Members of Staff Will be Taken From 57th—Volunteers Will be Called To-morrow Night.

THE BUGLE BAND GOING

To-morrow night volunteers will be asked for the two companies to form the composite regiment for the camp at Kingston. Those who went to camp last year speak in high praise of the outing, and it is expected that there will be a larger number anxious to take the trip this year. So far as Peterborough is concerned, there will be more than the usual interest taken in this regiment, this year by reason of the fact that practically all of the staff officers outside of the colonel will be officers from the 57th, the following appointments having been made on the staff from the local regiment:—Major Clegg, Adjutant Captain Bennett, Quartermaster, Capt. McLean; Chaplain, Major Davidson.

The two companies going from the 57th will be commanded by Capt. Mills and Capt. McWilliams, the former's subaltern being Lieut. Hodgson and Lieut. Merritt, while for the latter they will be Lieut. Higgins and Lieut. Best.

A new feature this year will be the presence of a bugle band, and it is expected that the members of the band will be taken from the local bugle band, which will hold a practice to-night.

The two companies for the composite regiment will leave here on the morning of Tuesday, June 25th and will return on Friday, June 28.

WANT THE PASTOR TO REMAIN

Picton Methodists Express Their Confidence in Rev. J. J. Rae, and Want to Keep Him as Pastor

Picton, June 14. — Rev. J. J. Rae, pastor of the First Methodist church, and last year President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and about whom occurred an unfortunate incident at this week's conference at Bowmanville returned home this afternoon and got a particularly cordial reception. The principal members of the congregation, together with the ministers of the town churches, welcomed him at the station and expressed sympathy with Mr. Rae in his trouble. The congregation met the trustee board last evening and expression was fully emphasized of the unbounded faith and love they held for Mr. Rae.

A committee has been appointed to induce Mr. Rae to complete his pastorate among the Picton congregation by whom he is dearly beloved.

ANNUAL MEETING OF INSTITUTE

West Peterborough Farmers Had Successful Season—Balance of Over $24 in the Bank

SOME NEW SUGGESTIONS

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute of West Peterborough was held on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the City Council Chambers, when the reports of the past year's business were received and officers elected. Considerable discussion took place on other questions of importance, including suggestions of points at which to hold the regular and supplementary winter meetings of the institution. A decision was reached by the directors in a subsequent meeting to hold the regular meetings in Lakefield and Ennismore, instead of in Peterborough and North Monaghan, as formerly.

There was a deplorable lack of interest shown by the members at the meeting on Saturday, as there was but a small attendance, and it is to be hoped that the farmers will in future lend more liberal assistance to help advance their own interests.

The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. J. N. Telford, who, in his address, resumed briefly the business of the past year and spoke on the success of the recent farmers' excursion to the Experimental Farm, which he considered was well patronized.

Secretary Wm. Collins next read the report of the secretary-treasurer and Executive Committee, which was received and adopted, and which was as follows:

Secretary's Report

To the members of West Peterborough Farmers' Institute:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your Executive Committee and Directors, I beg leave to submit for your approval, the 18th annual report for the financial year, ending May 31st, 1907. Our first institute meetings were held in December, in Lakefield, Peterborough and North Monaghan. At Lakefield, three addresses were given, by the delegates, Messrs. J. G. Clark, and Mr. Glendenning. In the afternoon—attendance forty-five. In the evening a joint meeting with the Woman's Institute was held, when the same delegates with Miss Maddock (lady speaker) addressed an audience of four hundred and twenty-five. The next day in the afternoon in Peterborough, with only twenty-seven in attendance, and in the evening at North Monaghan, attendance 55, good addresses were given, but the superintendent suggests that we drop off some of those places at which such a small attendance is gathered, as it is an evidence that they are not sufficiently interested to warrant the efforts and expense attending those meetings and he suggests that we strike out more to the county places and villages, if the farmers near the city do not turn out better.

The supplementary meetings were held in January. Delegates were Messrs. Annis and Zufelt. Meetings were held as follows,—Lakehurst, afternoon attendance 25, evening at Buckhorn, attendance 32; at Selwyn, afternoon and evening, with attendance, 10 afternoon, 60 evening; Ennismore, two meetings, attendance, 55 afternoon, 50 evening. We are greatly indebted to Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and some of the local gentlemen and ladies, for the help and addresses given. The next meeting was held at Union Hall, Stewarts, two meeting, attendance, afternoon 25, evening 150, and in March a special dairy session was held jointly with the local Dairymen's Association, two sessions, morning and afternoon, at which addresses were given by A. H. Campbell, Central Smith Cheese Factory, Mr. Ward, instructor, Mr. A. Hume, T. G. G. Publow, T. D. Young, E. M. Elliott, G. A Gillespie, director of Eastern Dairymen's Association, J. N. Telford and others.

The attendance was 28 at morning meeting and 42 in the afternoon.

Taken as a whole our meetings are as good as we ever had, the delegates being all well posted in their lines and able and willing to impart knowledge and instruction to the farmers. We are at a loss sometimes to know how apathetic the farmers are as a class, as to joining the Institute and helping it along and keeping themselves in line by receiving and reading the various reports that are sent out by the Department of Agriculture to the members. There is a very valuable lot of information in those reports that cannot be obtained except through the Institute membership. Last season the crops were abundant and prices satisfactory, making the farmers' calling very remunerative and pleasant. But this season we find that, owing to the unseasonable weather and backward spring, the crops do not appear to be so promising, but with the present fine weather, which is likely to continue, we hope to have a fairly good return, nearly, if not altogether, up to the average.

On Wednesday last we had our joint annual excursion to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph which was largely attended. This is becoming a very pleasing and profitable event and gives our people an opportunity to see and learn how things are being done on the premier Agricultural College Farm of this continent.

We cannot close without tendering our hearty thanks to the press who have given such splendid reports of our meetings, and also to the mayor and aldermen, who have always so kindly allowed us the use of the council chamber for holding our meetings in Peterborough.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. COLLINS, Sec.-Treas.

June 16, 1907.

Balance on Hand

The treasurer's report showed that there was in balance on hand of $23.44, about $7.00 less than last year's balance. The total receipts were $189.09 and the expenditures, $165.65. The receipts included the municipal and legislative grants of $25 each, and $50.70, the profits from the excursion to Guelph. The auditors were Messrs. T. M. Hunter and Jos. Barnard.

Suggestions were then asked for regarding the places for holding the regular meetings, and it was decided that they be held this year in Lakefield and Ennismore. The members considered that the meetings would be better attended if held in these two places. The supplementary meetings will be held in Peterborough, North Monaghan, Selwyn, Hall's Bridge, Lakehurst, 4th line of Smith, and at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee. These decisions were afterwards endorsed by the passing of a resolution by the directors.

Officers Elected

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—Mr. J. N. Telford.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. Fred McKee.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. Wm. Collins.

Directors — Messrs. T Milburn, Alex McGregor, G W Mann, Jno McConkey, T J Culpin of Smith, Robt Shaw, Archibald Wilson, Henry Coones of Harvey, J K Galvin, Daniel Crough, Jno Flood of Ennismore, Robt Hanbidge, Samuel Deyell, S Mitchell, Robt Chambers, W B Stewart, A A Stewart, Otonabee; Jno Brown, Thos Hunter, T D Young of North Monaghan, and Ed M Elliott, R H Leary and J E A Fitzgerald of Peterborough.

Auditors—Messrs. Jos. Barnard and Jno. Riddell.

Following the election of officers, the president made some suggestions as to how the Institute might be improved and made more useful, and believed that seed meetings, judging classes and farmers' clubs would be of much benefit. No action, however, was taken along these lines as there were not enough members present, and shortly after, the meeting adjourned.

3RD DRAGOONS LEAVE FOR KINGSTON CAMP

Capt. Johnston in Charge of the 75 Men in Camp for Two Weeks

The Third Dragoons to-day went into camp at Kingston for their two weeks drill. The regiment consisted of four squadrons, "A," of Colborne; "B," of Millbrook; "C," of Peterborough; and "D," of Wellington, Prince Edward County. It is in command of Lt.-Colonel W. W. Brown of Colborne, with Major G. H. Syer of Millbrook second in command.

"C" Squadron entrained this morning at the G. T. R. station with their full strength of 75 men and 68 horses, under the command of Capt Thos. Johnston, of Otonabee, who succeeded Major George Hall since last camp. The other officers of the squadrons are Lieutenants Robert Cleghorn, Otonabee; Wallace Anderson, Warsaw, and W. Campbell, Keene. The only staff officer now resident in Peterborough is Veterinary Officer Capt. Poole.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Peterborough, June 14.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In last night's issue of your paper I read with some regret the statement, that Mr. Thos. E. Shea has resolved to play the magnificent production "Napoleon the Great" no more, on account of the discouragements he met with here. I am extremely sorry if such is the case. It is too bad for such a play to be lost to the public. I admit the house was shamefully small but I think there is some excuse when we consider the number of good plays that came along just before Mr. Shea, and I think Peterborough is hardly large enough to give a full house to so many expensive plays following each other so closely. I venture to say that if Mr. Shea could be persuaded to play here again and play Napoleon the Great first, he would be well received.

Thanking you for space, I am,

Yours truly,

"THEATRE-GOER."

PUBLISH MILK TESTS IN ABOUT A WEEK

Inspector Ball Expects That Tests Will be Ready for Publication in a Week

The first report of the milk tests instituted by the Board of Health will probably be ready for publication in the course of a week. This is the information given to-day by Sanitary Inspector Ball, who was sending samples of milk collected this morning to Toronto. He expected that the report on these samples would be back by next Monday and the publication of the tests would then follow.

WEDDING BELLS.

LABARGE—WESLEY

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Church this morning, when Miss Ida LaBarge of East City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaBarge, became the wife of Mr. Chas. Wesley of "My Valet." The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Davidson. Miss Shirley and Mr. George Wesley, sister and brother of the groom, were the bridesmaid and groomsman, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley left this morning on a wedding trip and will, on their return, reside in the city.

PRESENTATION TO THEIR TEACHER

Miss O'Sullivan Honoured by Pupils of Union School

The children of the Union School, Douro and Otonabee, gathered on Friday evening to express their regret at the departure of their teacher, Miss Margaret O'Sullivan, and to show their esteem for her by presenting her with a beautiful gold watch chain. Before the presentation, the following address was read by Miss Theresa Garvey:

Dear Miss O'Sullivan,—

It is with feelings of deep regret that we, your pupils, have learned that you are about to leave us. We have spent one very happy and profitable year under your tuition. We feel that we have often given you trouble, for which we are exceedingly sorry. Will you kindly accept this slight remembrance from us, your loving pupils. We wish you brilliant success at your examinations.

Signed on behalf of the school, Anastasia Allen, Lilah Hall, Molly Porter, Marguerite Allen, Thirza White, Leo Allen, John F. Allen, Wm. Smith, Stewart Hall.

The presentation was made by Miss Anastasia Allen.

Miss O'Sullivan replied in a few sincere words, in which she expressed her gratitude. She said that the chain might wear out, but the loving memory she held of her pupils she was sure could never wear out. She also remarked to the pupils that they did not now realize the efficient trustee they had in Mr. Hall. His untiring interest in their welfare made him worthy of the important position he held. She wished there were many such trustees in the country. She spoke very highly of the interest Mrs. Allen took in the school, and of her kindness to her. She said that unless the teacher is well cared for she is unable to perform her work in the best manner. Mrs. Allen, she said, was a woman who understood that thoroughly. In closing, Miss O'Sullivan wished the pupils success and many bright and happy years.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO. PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

MRS. THOMAS J. BEGLEY, Victoria Ave., Peterboro.

THE RUSSIAN DOUMA IS DISSOLVED

Czar Issues Manifesto—Coup d'etat Justified By Necessity.

BREACH OF CONSTITUTION

Ukase Sets Forth Reasons — Plot Against Emperor Said to Have Been Hatched—Demand for Exlusion of Democrats Turned Down—Refused to Condemn Terrorism—Newspapers Are Gagged.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday morning affixed his signature to an imperial ukase abolishing the Douma and ordering that the election of members to its successor, which was to meet Oct. 14, was to be held under the new election law, which provides against the "submergence of the educated classes by the uneducated masses."

This act constitutes a virtual coup d'etat and overrules the specific provisions of fundamental laws of the realm, solemnly proclaimed by His Majesty on the eve of the convocation of the first Douma, without the consent of Parliament itself.

This breach of the constitution is justified by the great law of necessity, the Emporor's advisers holding it impossible under present conditions to secure a Parliament capable of cooperating harmoniously with the crown to rescue Russia from anarchy and revolution.

The Reasons Why.

The ukase is accompanied by a manifesto setting forth the motives which led the Emperor to dissolve the Douma.

His Majesty adverts to the Douma's rejection of temporary laws, its refusal to condemn terrorism, the delay in ratifying the budget, the open revolutionary spirit of a large portion of its members, the abuse of the right of interpellation, and finally, the failure of the Douma to comply immediately with the demand for exclusion of the 55 Social Democrat members charged with conspiring against the present regime.

CENSOR WILL BE BUSY.

Russian Press Gagged — Criticism Means Going to Jail.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Active preparations for the dissolution of the Russian Douma included an order from Gen. Drachefiski, prefect of St. Petersburg, addressed to the municipal press, announcing that the publication of any article inimical to the Government will be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $1,500 and three months in jail.

This is the most drastic measure proclaimed against the press since the days of the Black Reaction, and if it is enforced it will entail the suspension of every Liberal newspaper in St. Petersburg. The Socialist Tovarisch has already thrown up the sponge, and did not attempt to appear Sunday morning, feeling that suppression was inevitable.

Over 700 arrests were made in St. Petersburg Saturday.

Sentenced Reduced.

London, Ont., June 17.—Owing to an oversight on the part of the authorities, Thomas Harleton, who was on Friday sentenced to four years in the Kingston penitentiary, was brought before Judge Elliott and his sentence changed to two years, on two counts, one year on the charge of common assault, to which he pleaded guilty last August, and was released on suspended sentence, and the other year on the charge on which he was convicted on the present sessions.

In presenting the case to his worship, the crown gave the impression that the prisoner had pleaded guilty to having committed assault, with occasion to do serious bodily harm.

Government Will Help.

Winnipeg, June 17.—To date the subscriptions are $35,000 for the Manitoba sanitarium. Seventy thousand dollars will be necessary to defray the expense of the enterprise. The local government promised if the people will give $15,000 more it will make up the balance.

FATAL BOMB WAS DUG FROM THE ICE

Orchard's Story Corroborated By Several Witnesses.

MONEY SENT BY HAYWOOD

Simpkins and Steve Adams Often Received Assistance — Bank Drafts Produced—Grievances of the Miners Put Forward by Defence—Ex-Governor Peabody and His Daughter Give Evidence.

Boise, Idaho, June 17.—In support of its case against Haywood Saturday, the state submitted to the jury the testimony of a dozen witnesses, tending to confirm several details of the story of Harry Orchard, and at adjournment announced that it would close its case this week. The announcement as to the conclusion of the prosecution's case was a surprise to the defence, and clearly pleased the prisoner and his counsel.

In response to a request from the defence for notice from the state as to the time it should assemble its witnesses, Senator Borah fixed next Wednesday as the time. He explained later, however, that he had given an early day, in order to avoid delay. As the trial now stands adjourned until Tuesday morning, the prosecution would not be able to conclude before the end of the week.

Among the day's witnesses were ex-Governor Peabody of Colorado and his daughter, Miss Cora Peabody, but neither was on the stand long. It was anticipated that the defence would lengthily cross-examine Peabody and open the entire contention involved in the Colorado labor war, but a noon recess conference of the united counsel for the defence decided that it would be better tactics to refrain from such questioning.

Against a sustained fire of objection and motions to strike out, the prosecution got the admission of much evidence bearing on points of Orchard's testimony.

Sent to Haywood For Money.

First, it was shown that Steve Adams while stranded in Ogden in 1906, on the way hence from California, where it is alleged he went to kill Fred Bradley, sent a telegram to Haywood at Denver, for money. It showed by the originals of six drafts on New York banks, five of which were purchased at the First National Bank of Denver by Haywood himself, that during 1904, 1905 and 1906 money was frequently remitted by Haywood to L. J. Simpkins, formerly a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, who, as "Simmons," went to Caldwell with Orchard and assisted in the first attempt to kill Steunenberg. The last draft, sent in January, 1906, after the murder of Steunenberg, was cashed by Mrs. Simpkins, presumably after Simpkins fled.

Then came the shattered and twisted fragments of the device by which the Vindicator mine bomb was set off. This led to an extensive enquiry by the defence into conditions and events centering about Cripple Creek during the strike and martial law days. The defence tried to show that there was unwarranted deportation of union miners; that the use of the militia was unwarranted; that union stores were looted; that agents of the mine owners committed acts of violence and incited others to violence; that union miners were flogged and driven from their homes, and the peace officers controlled by the mine owners, employed deputies who were "gun-fighters," thugs and criminals.

History of Bomb.

Next, the state completed the legal history of the Peabody bomb by showing that it was dug out of the ice in the Coeur d'Alene River, brought to Boise, and taken to Denver, and by having its casing identified by the plumber who made it. Ex-Governor Peabody and his family watched the bomb cover every moment that it was displayed before the witness stand.

Then the state once more took up the general thread of Orchard's story and successively offered the testimony of Miss Peabody, as to the testimony of Orchard, that he and Steve Adams followed the Peabody carriage home; the testimony of ex-Governor Peabody that he saw Orchard in Canon City, and that he repaired his house, as Orchard testified; testimony showing that at various times in 1905 Haywood, Pettibone and Orchard were seen together, and confirmation by William Vaughan of the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Lastly, proof was adduced that Steve Adams was at Pocatelle in September, presumably to meet and throw "Pettibone dope" at a carload of non-union miners, as related by Orchard.

Judge Wood goes to Caldwell to-day to continue the case of Harry Orchard, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg and there will be no session of the court. Orchard will be taken to Caldwell for formal appearance when the case is called.

Packing House Teamsters to Strike.

Chicago, June 17.—Final preparations were begun for the strike of the packing house teamsters. The teamsters have expressed themselves as willing to take an increase of 1 1-2 cents an hour, but this the packers have refused.

OVENS A FEATURE OF THE NEW BUILDING

The Transformer Building is Completed Entirely—Working on Inside

The work on the new transformer building at the C. G. E. is completed, so far as the exterior is concerned, and on the inside rapid strides have been made with all the work. The cement walls present a solid appearance from the neighbouring streets and are apparently most suitable for this kind of building. An oak floor is nearly finished. It is laid on a mixture of asphalt, sand, etc., and will be solid and firm when the grounding has setted.

An electric crane has been installed and runs from one end of the building to the other. It is a powerful machine like the large one in the main building, and its tracks are higher than any of the others. On the east side of the shop is a gallery, which is in a finished condition. There is a spacious room built off the building on the south side, which will be used as a large drying oven. Also on the southeast corner are several ovens of less size, which will be used to dry smaller work.

The feature of the work has been the dispatch with which it has been advanced, and it is expected that it will not be many moons before it is completed.

Peterborough Juniors Won From Oshawa Saturday

Beat Lake Shore Bunch in Exhibition Struggle by 4 Goals to 2---Locals Had All the Best of it After The First Few Minutes

Although Saturday's lacrosse match between the Oshawa and Peterborough Shamrocks, lost some of its interest in view of the fact that it was only an exhibition game yet the small crowd of enthusiasts who crossed over to the Riverside Park were rewarded with a good article of the National Game. The local juniors won out by a score of 4—2, after having all the best of the contest after the first quarter. The visitors started out at a clip that for a few minutes looked as if the locals would be swept off their feet, but it was evidently only a flash in the pan. They scored the first two goals in quick style, but their scoring ended right there, and for the balance of the game they were busy staving off the attacks of the Peterborough home. Neither team seemed to be in good shape, and the warm sun soon had its effect upon the players, and on the game which, in spots, was decidedly slow. It was by no means clean, and at times, Referee Cave of Beaverton, had his hands full in preserving law order. The penalty list was a long one.

As has been stated, Oshawa scored the first two goals, getting them in the first five minutes of play.

Peterborough scored their first before the end of the first quarter. In the second period Oshawa was blanked, while the locals found the nets twice, and landed another in the third, while the visitors failed to score. Neither team scored in the last period.

Considering that they have had no practice to speak of and that they were manifestly not in condition, the local juniors put up a good exhibition of lacrosse, especially on the defence. The home seemed to have difficulty in working in close, and their passing at times was inaccurate and ill-timed, faults that were due to the fact that they have had no practice together. On several occasions they worked in well with some pretty passing, but these cases were the exception and not the rule. The defence put up an effective and strenuous article, covering their men well and checking vigorously, some times too much so. They kept the fast Oshawa home, which started out in whirlwind fashion, at a distance, after the first few minutes, breaking up the combination, and intercepting the passes cleverly.

On the home, Dumble and Long were the most prominent. The former played a fine game at inside shooting and catching well, while Long proved himself a good ball getter, and was in the game at all times. Dobson also showed up well on the attacking division. Tucker, while he was on the field, did good work at centre, but unfortunately he incurred the referee's displeasure at regular intervals during the contest.

All the defence played good games, especially Dorris and Barber.

On the start in the Oshawa home looked very speedy, but from lack of condition or from some other cause they soon wilted. In the first few minutes they exhibited some pretty combination, their short passes seeming to have the local defence beaten, but it was only for a short period. Lalonde, the ex-Cornwall man, was the pick of the home, and did some very pretty stick-handling. He is fast and decidedly clever. Kempt and Canning were prominent at all times. Swanston was the best of the defence men, although Guinette and McCullock also did good work.

Referee Cave of Beaverton, handled the game to the satisfaction of everybody concerned. He nipped any attempt at rough play and gave general satisfaction. Cave in just breaking into the refereeing game and should make good without trouble, as he knows the game from cover to cover.

The game was played with the teams one man short. Hawkes and Carter played alternate quarters for the visitors.

The teams lined up as follows:

| Oshawa. | | Peterborough. |
|---|---|---|
| Thomas | Goal. | McFadden |
| Guinette. | Point. | White. |
| Swanson. | Cover point. | Barber. |
| Harding. | First defence. | Devlin. |
| McCulloch. | Second defence. | Dorris |
| Robinson. | Third defence. | Cameron. |
| Hawkes, (Carter) | Centre. | Tucker. |
| Rousselle. | Third home. | McNicholl. |
| Lalonde. | Second home. | Long. |
| Kempt. | Outside home. | Dobson. |
| Canning. | Inside home. | Dumble. |

The play was fast in Oshawa's favour at the start. The home seemed to be too much for the local defence and they were carrying the ball well in, with short and accurate passes. In four minutes Kempt scored for the visitors on a pass from behind the nets and thirty seconds after Lalonde repeated the trick, putting one past McFadden on a good shot.

There was a change in the game after this; Peterborough seemed to come to life and carried the warfare into Africa, Dumble scoring the first for Peterborough in 2 1-2 minutes.

In the second quarter the play was all in the local favour, the Oshawa defence being kept busy staving off the attacks of the locals. In a little less than four minutes Long scored on a neat pass in front of the flags by Dumble. Five minutes after Long put Peterborough ahead by getting the ball from Dumble after some pretty combination.

The only goal scored in the third quarter went to Peterborough, Dobson getting it on a long shot from away out.

Although Peterborough was always dangerous in the last quarter, the locals were unable to score, and the game ended with Oshawa two to the bad.

OSHAWA OUTCLASSED BY QUAKERS

Defeated on Their Own Play Grounds on Saturday by the Score of 2 to 1

A SURPRISE FOR OSHAWA

The much-tooted Oshawa soccer team met their Waterloo on Saturday afternoon on the lakeshore town, town when they ran up against the intermediate Quaker eleven, who snatched the victory by the score of 2 goals to 1, on Oshawa's own playground. The game was the first in the intermediate semi-finals of the Midland eLague and the result meant much to both teams. Both were the winners of their respective districts, Oshawa having defeated Port Hope by 11 goals to 2, while the Quakers won from Omemee after four games by the score of 5 to 4. It was therefore expected by many that on Oshawa grounds their team would be more than a match for the Quaker men, so that the result was somewhat of a surprise, particularly to the Oshawa followers of the game.

The Quakers left here on the 11.45 G.T.R. train on Saturday, arriving at their destination shortly after 2 o'clock. Returning they drove to Whitby and arrived home again at 10 o'clock via Lindsay.

The match was played in the afternoon before a fairly large crowd which by no means showed many favours to the Peterborough team. The game was one of the hardest and best ever witnessed on Oshawa grounds neither team having a great deal on the other. Oshawa started off strong and, before the visitors rightly wakened to the fact that a match was in progress, scored the first goal amid great enthusiasm from the fans.

Their victory, however, was short lived. By steady and assiduous work the Quakers forced the play into the home territory on several occasions and early in the game missed the stakes by narrow margins. Then Crough by one of his famous individual stunts carried the ball from centre field past the whole Oshawa defence and evened up matters. The Oshawa fans had scarcely swallowed the bitter pill when Hagley, by a pretty shot from his wing, sent in a swift one that the home team's goal artist found too hot to stop. The Quakers were then ahead by 2 to 1, and the first half ended like that.

In the second period of play the visitors had to kick up hill and against the wind which began to rise steadily. Yet they successfully guarded their citadel and although failing to score took every precaution lest their opponents should neglect to do the same. When the final whistle blew the Quakers were ahead by 1 goal.

The whole Quaker team recognizing the importance of a victory played the game of their lives. Laing made some brilliant stops in goal and considering that this in his first season is playing a phenomenal game. The defence was safe with Scrimshaw and Sullivan playing back and Archibald, Dingman and Deforge holding down the half line. They literally checked the Oshawa forwards off their feet and followed up rapidly with the Quaker line of attack. The forward line could be improved but little. Brodie and Yates are past-masters in the art of combination and lived up to their reputation they made in Lindsay. Crough at centre was at all times effective, his rushes being a feature of the game. Caniff and Hagley on the other wing put up fine football both in combination and kicking on goal.

The Oshawa team was the hardest proposition the Quakers have yet met. They have a great forward line and a defence which is almost impossible to pass. Bircham of the forwards, and Duffy in goal were the most prominent of their team. Dr. Devitt, of Bowmanville, refereed and handed out a number of penalties to the visitors who at times failed to see the cause.

The return game will be played here next Saturday and will no doubt be a great game.

The line-up of the Quakers on Saturday was—Laing, Sullivan, Scrimshaw, Archibald, Dingman, Deforge, Yates, Brodie, Crough Canniff and Hagley.

LAKEVIEWS TRIMMED THE KARNOTS

Long List of Victories Broken by Defeat to the Tune of 14-4.

Saturday was an off day for the Karnots and their usual luck was noticeably absent in their game at the Driving Park with the Lakeviews. In a nine innings game the boys from the south swamped them by the wide margin of 14 runs to 4. With Bravender in the box for the Karnots they were booked to win out, but his control was weak although he has the shoots and the result was a palatable swatferte for the Lakeviews. At no time was the game in doubt and except during the first three or four innings it was a draggy game. There were not many errors, but somehow it was not a fast game. Mahoney for Lakeviews was in fine form and at every stage had the game under control. The feature was the batting of the Lakeviews, Doherty particularly doing excellent work with the stick. He had one home run to his credit and knocked out another, but stopped between third base and home and was finally tagged. He also had a two bagger. Holland and Wilson were also strong in this department.

With practice Bravender should make good as he has speed and the necessary curves but poor control. The Lakeviews had an innings to spare. The teams lined up as follows:—

Karnots—Long 2b, Johnston ot, Lang c, Lewis rf, Geale as, Borradaile lf, Ray 3b, Bravender p, V Craig fb.

Lakeviews—Carson 2b, Holland as, Doherty lf, Menzies c, Wilson 1b, Mahoney p, Theobald 3b, McGill cf, Letellier rf.

The score by innings:

Karnots ... ... ... ..... ...010100200— 4
Lakeviews..... ... ... .....03115121x—14

BADLY BEATEN IN TORONTO

Senior Lacrosse Club Lost to Young Torontos by a Score of 14-0

WERE IN POOR SHAPE

The Peterborough senior Lacrosse Club were badly defeated in the first intermediate C.L.A. game of the season in Toronto with the Young Torontos on Saturday, the score at the finish being 14—0 in favour of the Rosedalers. Lack of condition was the primary cause of the defeat. Some of the locals had not had a stick in their hands before Saturday's game and none of them had enough practice to put them in shape for a gruelling game under the hot sun. The condition of the Young Torontos won for them, their speed simply sweeping the Peterborough twelve off their feet. Two of the Peterborough team collapsed from exhaustion and the remainder were not in much better shape. A few practices will make the greatest difference in the team and the players are not worrying much over Saturday's game.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Peterborough.—Goal, Backus; point, Regan; cover, Darocher; defence field, Glover, Main, Meagher; centre, McGrath; home field, Judd, McDonough, McLean; outside, Best; inside, Tracy; field captain, George Lynch.

Young Torontos.—Goal, Mitchell; point, Woods; cover, Jardine; defence field, Madill, Brennan, Corker; centre, McArthur; home field, Mara, Murphy, Bead; outside, Stollery; inside, Lowes; field captain, Jimmy Murphy. Referee, Peter McMillan, Baverton; penalty, W. Mitchell, Newmarket.

A DISPUTE OVER THIS GAME

Strathconas Claim Saturday's Game Was a Draw Contest

The Strathconas and the Excelsiors played an exciting game in the Intermediate city league on Saturday on the oval, and the Excelsiors claim the victory by 16—15, while the Pirates state that the score was a tie.

When the Strathconas went in to bat in the ninth the score was 16-8 against them, but they came close to winning out, landing on Bellegham hard for seven runs.

There is a dispute over a run scored by the Strathconas and the matter will have to be taken up by the League as the Strathconas have protested.

The batteries were for Excelsiors, Coughlin, Bellegham and Billington; Strathconas, Curtis, Parnell and Wilson. Umpire, T. Heaslip.

QUINLAN PITCHED GAME AGAINST H. WILLIAMS

Local Twirler Up Against Crack Toronto Man at Brantford

"Prunes" Quinlan one of the clever twirlers of the local ball team, was in Brantford Saturday and pitched for the Dufferen Rifles in the City League, stacking up against "Dubbe" Shea's Malleable Iron team. The latter was out after a hard game by 3—2, errors by the Dufferin catcher giving the game to them. Quinlan held them down to six hits. Harvey Williams, the famous Toronto pitcher, occupied the box for the Malleable Iron team.

LACROSSE

Saturday's lacrosse game between Peterborough and Oshawa, while scheduled as a C.L.A. game was only an exhibition struggle the locals having defaulted before the game, which leaves Oshawa the district champions. The intelligence that Peterborough is out of junior lacrosse will be heard with regret, but the step was necessary owing to the lack of junior material in the city. It was found impossible to get enough men under the age limit to turn out so that there was nothing left but to drop out of the running. It is probable that friendly games will be arranged from time to time during the season.

BASEBALL

CITY LEAGUE STANDING.

As a result of Saturday's games, the standing in the City League is as follows:

| Lakeviews | 1 | 1 |
| Excelsiors | 1 | 2 |

Youngsters Inscribed Initials on the Soft Concrete

Some mischievous youngsters will find themselves in serious trouble one of these days if they keep up the practice they started on Saturday night. A number of them did considerable damage to the pavement on Water street near the Goose Pond, which is being laid under the supervision of Mr. John Thirnbeck. Initials and other marks were inscribed in the pavements before it hardened, and as a result a section of the pavement is almost completely spoiled.

Peterborough Battery Arrive At Camp In Good Shape

Men Have Already Made a Good Impression Upon the Militia at Petawawa — Instruction Has Begun.

DESCRIPTION OF CAMP

Petawawa, June 17.—The 24th Field Battery of Peterborough, with Major Young in command and a total strength of 103 officers and men, arrived here yesterday morning with men and outfit in first-class condition. Their camping ground had been marked out for them by the advance guard, which arrived on Saturday, and which looked after the erection of tents and the food supply. The 24th has already made a good impression on the militia in camp. Their instruction began today and the men showed good discipline and attention to orders.

The camp has now the appearance of a small settlement. Wooden buildings are fast springing up, including a hospital, general offices, messes for men and officers, also extra stables for horses. The officers have now three mess rooms and ten buildings have been run up at mess quarters for the different corps and batteries. The horses are stabled in ten lots, the stables having open fronts, but being well covered above. They are scrupulously clean. "Stables" bugle call sends the men off to clean up their horses and their feeding quarters early each morning.

When the batteries arrive, wagons convey them to the camp. The ride is exhilarating, not to say hazardous. A narrow road, over-hung with pines, leads one north. It is just these overhanging branches that cause the "Tomahawk" apprehension lest their hats should be swept away. If by any chance a "shapeau" is knocked off, necessitating the stoppage of the wagon, the driver will turn and, with great naturalness and vigour, swear at the careless party. About half way along this most curious path the trail takes a sudden dip. At the foot of this crosses the Petawawa River. It is usually choked with logs sent down from the lumber camps. The drivers are not in the habit of slackening down when in the habit of slacking down when they approach this declivity. They go at it full tilt. Away rattles the conveyance. The horses, big, muscular animals, caught by the spirit, toss their manes, and, urged by voice, race straight towards the bridge.

Glimpse of Grounds

On the other side of this stream the track takes an upward trend and the impetus gathered on the descent is needed to carry the vehicle onward. Up to then nothing can be seen but pines and undergrowth. Arriving on the hill's apex, and previous to another descent, the first glimpse of the gigantic training ground can be had. The white tents, the distant bugle calls and perhaps the crack of a rifle, all suggest the martial. A sudden trend downwards and a turn towards the final destination hides the scene, and another drive is taken through the pines, with which the country abounds. The driver, after a few more minutes' run, pulls up his horses as the team emerges into a giant clearing—the camp is reached.

It is just at this spot that the Peterborough battery have their tents. The ground is covered with low-growing shrubbery. A little further on, the Kingston battery has its quarters. Striking towards the east, the young militiaman can obtain an excellent bird's-eye view of his surroundings by standing on a rise at the rear of the camp, or better still, by obtaining permission to climb on the water tanks. From here the Ottawa River, a majestic waterway, dotted with small islands, can be viewed. The river is wider here than at the capital, and has the appearance of a lake. The mess rooms of the officers, three in number, the quarters of the commandant, a telephone central, together with a number of officers' tents, are situated on the edge of this cliff, overlooking the waters. Below them, and a little to the left, or northeast, is the pumping station, built over several springs. This was erected by the Royal Canadian Engineers, who, taking the question of water supply in hand, constructed two large tanks on the cliff, each guaranteed to hold about 12,000 gallons of water. Four others of these are dotted about the camp, three being the work of the R. C. Engineers this season alone. From them, water pipes lead to the mess rooms and open air taps. The water supply is thus unlimited, and cleanliness strictly the rule.

The Wash House

When the Peterborough boys run short of clean underwear, they will be requested to tuck up their sleeves, bring shirts and socks to the wash-house, and ply the trade of the washerwoman. By the wash-house is meant a wooden open-air trough fed with lots of clean water, and supplied with a ledge on which to scrub garments. Sunday is the favourite washing day and convenient trees are hung with all manner of strange apparel.

The whole camp has the appearance somewhat of a corral or enclosure. Buildings, stables, mess rooms and offices are built in a rectangle, and inside these lines the troops are bivouacked. The northern line is formed of the officers' mess rooms; the south, of dining quarters for the men and miscellaneous offices, and stables mark the boundary on the east and west sides.

The rifle and artillery ranges are a matter of especial interest. Here the militiamen and permanent force, both gunners and riflemen, will be instructed in the finer points of the game of war. Twenty targets, with ranges at 200, 300, 500, 600 and 800 yards have been made ready. The telephone connects both the firing parties, and the target markers. These ranges are run on the same plan as those at Rockliffe, the usual signals being run up for a bullseye, outer, inner or magpie. The ranges have not as yet been used, but on the arrival of the militia, an instructor will, it is said, take them in hand.

The artillery will pound at marks to the east of the riflemen's targets, which in turn are east of camp. Two hills are here close together, one giant under the name of Signal Hill, the guns being stationed on the other. The targets are from about one to three miles from the firing point. Various means are used to imitate an enemy. Horses will sometimes be undentable objects and as they are drawn across the open country the gunners take aim. The Peterborough battery will have much experience in this line of training and in a week or so will be able to plunk its enemy's transports with the best of them. To judge of the good or bad aim of the artillerymen splinter-proof pits and "crow's nests" are habited by observers, who peer from the safety of their posts and telephone the result of each shell to the firing commander.

The Guns

The guns—big, lumbering pieces—are the source of much worry and work. They have to be hauled to a high point and the hauling is no mean job. Tons of steel are no light weight for men and horses. Big wooden rails are usually laid, as the wheels of the mighty gun-carriages are wont to sink in the sand and stick there. Even when safely on their platform, the vibration of firing often shakes them off their foundations.

The food supplied to the militiamen is on a par with that on which the permanent forces exist. It is said that the food is pure and wholesome, but the Canadian Government has done even better than that and variety is one of the charms. The cooks have been specially selected. The meals are always hot, odorous and welcome to the hungry man, and as nature has a knack of supplying healthy appetites in the camp, meal times rarely finds an absentee.

The sleeping tents are models of cleanliness. Each morning the Peterborough men imitate the regulars in rolling up the lower portion, and laying out their beds for inspection. Each article must have a reserved nook for its reception.

Decoration Day Settled For Thursday, June 27th

Only One Week Later Than Usual Date—Matter Decided at Special Joint Meeting of Oddfellows.

THREE DEAD DURING YEAR

Decoration Day this year will be on Thursday, June 27th. This was decided last night at a joint meeting of Otonabee and Peterborough Oddfellow Lodges.

A new departure will be made this year, too. Instead of the ceremonies occupying the whole afternoon, as has been the case in the past, only the latter part of the afternoon will be spent. It is the intention to have the procession of members of the order leave the city at 5 o'clock instead of 2, as has been the custom in the past.

The merchants of the city will be asked to close their stores in time to allow those who are members of the order to assemble at Central Park at 5 o'clock.

Decoration Day this year will be held only one week later than the date usually celebrated. For a number of years it has been held on the third Thursday in this month, but the backward spring prevented that arrangement being carried out this year.

Mr. Frank Wise, the superintendent of the Little Lake cemetery, informs the Examiner that by the date set everything will be in readiness, if the present warm weather continues.

More than ninety graves of deceased members of the Oddfellows Order will be decorated this year. During the past year three deaths have occurred, all members of Otonabee Lodge.

Plasterers To Enter Ranks As Contractors

Strike Went Into Effect Yesterday and Four Employing Contractors Are Affected.

CAUSE OF THE DISPUTE

After having given the four contracting plasterers in the city six weeks' grace, after having made their demand for an increase in wages from $3 to $3.25 a day, the members of the local journeyman plasterers, struck yesterday, and decided, as a result to individually enter business as contracting plasterers in opposition to their former employers.

In the first place the plasterers asked for an increase, to take effect on May 1st. To this the employers are said to have objected, giving what was then considered reasonable grounds for the postponement of the final day of reckoning until six weeks later. To this the journeymen agreed and gave until Saturday night for a decision to be reached, but at the expiration of the six weeks the employers are represented to be still unwilling to give the higher pay, and the result is that yesterday the plasterers did not go to work, and they have decided upon the action taken.

There are four contracting plasterers in the city, W. J. Henry, Wolstenholm Brothers, Johnston Brothers, and Saxby & Co., and the strikers claim that none of the journeymen formerly employed by these firms, are at work.

The following journeymen will accept work on their own responsibility in future:

James Garside.
John Henry.
William Farrell.
Peter Warner.
James Morrison.
Joseph Emmerson.
James McCluskey.
Joseph Veenman.
Charles Watson.
James Deline.
James Anderson.

James Deline, who has been employing plasterers enters into the arrangement and agrees to accept not less than 17 cents a yard for plastering, from June 17th, 1907, and the men named all agree to work for no less than $3.25 a day in future.

The men claim that there is plenty of work in the city and that they will have no difficulty in securing employment.

New Line to Muskoka

Canada's greatest railway, in building a line to connect Toronto with the main transcontinental track at Sudbury, has incidentally given us a new direct route to the Muskoka Lakes district, over which fast passenger trains will be running after Saturday, June 22. Bala, which is reached in three and a half hours from Toronto, will be the Lakes terminus this summer, and there steamers of the Muskoka Navigation Co. will connect with trains, carrying travelers to all points on Lakes Muskoka, Joseph and Rosseau. The roadbed is heavily aid and well ballasted, train equipment is new and handsome, and excellent time is made. In addition to the local trains, there will be two flyers to the Lakes, the Lakeland Limited and Sunrise Express, and two flyers southbound, the Queen City Flyer and Twilight Limited. Through sleepers will run to and from Toronto, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and New York, and, of course, a splendid equipment of parlour cars, dining cars and luxurious day coaches. C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, C.P.R., at Toronto, will be glad to mail full particulars of trains and handsome illustrated Muskoka folder, or same may be obtained from local C.P.R. agents.

WEDDING BELLS.

JAMES-WALLACE

The Winnipeg Free Press in a recent issue contained the following report of a wedding, which will be read with interest by many Peterborough persons, who are acquainted with the principals:

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, 216 Chestnut street, St. James Place, when their eldest daughter, Miss Lottie Wallace, was married to Mr. George F. James, of Toronto, the Rev. Mr. Shaw performing the ceremony. The rooms were tastefully decorated with palms and flowers, and the bridal couch stood under a bell of red roses and smilax. The bride was gowned in a pretty green silk made empire and trimmed with Irish crochet lace, fine lisse with a girdle of green velvet. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Maud Wallace, who wore a pretty green silk organdie embroidered with sprays of daisies and trimmed with Irish crochet lace; she carried pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. R. Bowes of Montreal. To the bride the groom gave a beautiful gold watch and chain, and to the bridesmaid a set of turquoise pearls. After the ceremony a reception was held, and then the bride retired to dress for travelling. She wore a suit of claret-coloured chiffon broadcloth, the outaway coat opening over a pretty lace blouse. Her hat was of peach-coloured milan straw with ribbon of the same shade and deep red roses. Mrs. Wallace was gowned in black silk with a black and white hat. Miss Edith Wallace wore a dainty dress of white dotted Swiss muslin with Roman ribbons. Mr. and Mrs. James left by the 5.20 train for Chicago and Philadelphia, going then to Toronto, where they will reside.

GOOD GROWING WEATHER

When the New Scalp Antiseptic is Used

A good head of hair is as much of "crown of glory" for a man as it is for woman, notwithstanding all poetry on the subject applied to the female sex exclusively. In the season when flies bit, the bald-headed man can sympathize with the Egyptian who were so sorely plagued on account of the children of Israel. Why not try Newbro's Herpicide? Others have been benefitted and are loud in its praise. It cleanses the scalp, kills the germ at the root of the hair, and by keeping the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, regardless of the temperature. Try it and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

RESIDENCE FOR SALE

The undersigned will dispose of at a bargain THE BRICK RESIDENCE, corner of George and Dublin Sts. (formerly occupied by Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P.) The residence has fourteen-inch brick wall, brick kitchen and summer kitchen, parlor, folding doors, splendid dining-room and six bed-rooms. As this property must be turned over quickly the purchaser will get a good bargain.

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage Her—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 311 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

WORTH TAKING

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salatone;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, as pronounced by a prominent physician to be the best mixture for the cure of the kidney, bladder, and all urinary troubles.

This says the doctor, is the most simple though remarkable prescription ever written to cleanse the system of impurities and waste matter. It acts as a powerful tonic to the kidneys, forcing them to filter out the acids and poisons, overcoming rheumatism, lame back, sciatica and other afflictions arising from sour, impure blood.

The ingredients can be procured at any good drug store, and being purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can easily be mixed at home.

If you have a suffering friend show this to him, as he will undoubtedly be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended a remedy.

CHAPTER I.

THIS is to be a story of a battle, at least one murder and several sudden deaths. For that reason it begins with a pink tea and among the mingled odors of many delicate perfumes and the hale, frank smell of Caroline Testout roses.

There had been a great number of debutantes "coming out" that season in San Francisco by means of afternoon teas, pink, lavender and otherwise. This particular tea was well intended to celebrate the fact that Josie Herrick had arrived at that time of her life when she was to wear her hair high and her gowns long and to have a "day" of her own quite distinct from that of her mother.

Ross Wilbur presented himself at the Herrick house on Pacific avenue much too early upon the afternoon of Miss Herrick's tea. As he made his way up the canvased stairs he was aware of a terrifying array of millinery and a disquieting staccato chatter of feminine voices in the parlors and reception rooms on either side of the hallway. A single high hat in the room that had been set apart for the men's use confirmed him in his suspicions.

"Might have known it would be a hen party till 6 anyhow," he muttered, swinging out of his overcoat. "Bet I don't know one girl in twenty down there now—all mamma's friends at this hour, and papa's maiden sisters, and Jo's schoolteachers and governesses and music teachers, and I don't know what all."

When he went down he found it precisely as he expected. He went up to Miss Herrick, where she stood receiving with her mother and two of the other girls, and allowed them to chaff him on his feriorness.

"Maybe I seem at my ease," said Ross Wilbur to them, "but really I am very much frightened. I'm going to run away as soon as it is decently possible, even before, unless you feed me."

"I believe you had luncheon not two hours ago," said Miss Herrick. "Come along, though, and I'll give you some chocolate and perhaps, if you're good, a stuffed olive. I got them just because I knew you liked them. I ought to stay here and receive, so I can't look after you for long."

The two fought their way through the crowded rooms to the luncheon table, and Miss Herrick got Wilbur his chocolate and his stuffed olives. They sat down and talked in a window recess for a moment, Wilbur toeing in in absurd fashion as he tried to make a lap for his plate.

"I thought," said Miss Herrick, "that you were going on the Ridgeways' yachting party this afternoon. Mrs. Ridgeway said she was counting on you. They were going out with the Petrel."

"She didn't count above a hundred, though," answered Wilbur. "I get your bid first, so I regretted the yachting party, and I guess I'd have regretted it anyhow." And he grimaced at her over his cup.

"Nice man," she said, adding on the instant, "I must go now, Ross."

"Wait till I eat the sugar out of my cup," complained Wilbur. "Tell me," he added, scraping vigorously at the bottom of the cup with the inadequate spoon—"tell me—you're going to the hoedown tonight?"

"If you mean the assembly—yes, I am."

"Will you give me the first and last?"

"I'll give you the first, and you can ask for the last then."

"Let's put it down. I know you'll forget it." Wilbur drew a couple of cards from his case.

"Programmes are not good form any more," said Miss Herrick.

"Forgetting a dance is worse."

He made out the cards, writing on the one he kept for himself, "First waltz—Jo."

"I must go back now," said Miss Herrick, getting up.

"In that case I shall run. I'm afraid of girls."

"It's a pity about you!"

"I am. One girl, I don't say, but girl in the aggregate, like this," and he pointed his chin toward the thronged parlors. "It unmans me."

"Goodby, then!"

"Goodby until tonight about"—

"About 9."

"About 9, then."

Ross Wilbur made his adieu to Mrs. Herrick and the girls who were receiving and took himself away. As he came out of the house and stood for a moment on the steps, settling his hat gingerly upon his hair so as not to disturb the parting, he was not by any means an ill looking chap. His good height was helped out by his long coat and his high silk hat, and there was plenty of jaw in the lower part of his face. Nor was his tailor altogether answerable for his shoulders. Three years before this time Ross Wilbur had pulled at No. 5 in his varsity boat in an eastern college that was not accustomed to athletic discomfiture.

"I wonder what I'm going to do with myself until supper time," he muttered as he came down the steps, feeling for the middle of his stick. He found no immediate answer to his question. But the afternoon was fine, and he set off to walk in the direction of the town, with a half formed idea of looking in at his club.

"I got your bid first."

At his club he found a letter in his box from his particular chum, who had been spending a month shooting elk in Oregon. It read:

Dear Old Man—Will be back on the afternoon you receive this. Will hit the town on the 3 o'clock boat. Get seats for the best show going—my treat—and arrange to assimilate nutriment at the Poodle Dog—also mine. I've got miles of talk in me that I've got to reel off before midnight. Yours, JERRY.

I've got a stand of horns for you, Ross, that are glory hallelujah.

"Well, I can't go," murmured Wilbur as he remembered the assembly that was to come off that night and his engaged dance with Jo Herrick. He decided that it would be best to meet Jerry as he came off the boat and tell him how matters stood. Then he resolved, since no one that he knew was in the club and the installment of the Paris weeklies had not arrived, that it would be amusing to go down to the water front and loaf among the shipping until it was time for Jerry's boat.

Wilbur spent an hour along the wharfs, watching the great grain ships consigned to "Cork for orders" slowly gorging themselves with wheat harvests of wheat from the San Joaquin valley; lumber vessels for Durban and South African ports settling lower and lower to the water's level as forests of pine and redwood stratified themselves along their decks and in their holds; coal barges discharging from Nanaimo; busy little tugs coughing and nuzzling at the flanks of deep sea tramps, while hay barges and Italian whitehalls came and went at every turn. A Stockton river boat went by, her stern wheel churning along behind like a huge net reel; a tiny maelstrom of activity centered about an Alaska commercial company's steamboat that would clear for Dawson in the morning.

No quarter of one of the most picturesque cities in the world had more interest for Wilbur than the water front. In the mile or so of shipping that stretched from the docks where the China steamships landed down past the ferry slips and on to Meiggs' wharf every maritime nation in the world was represented. More than once Wilbur had talked to the loungers of the wharfs, stevedores out of work, sailors between voyages, calkers and ship chandlers' men looking—not too earnestly—for jobs, so that on this occasion when a little, undersized fellow in dirty brown sweater and clothes of Barbary coast cut asked him for a match to light his pipe Wilbur offered a cigar and passed the time of day with him. Wilbur had not forgotten that he himself was dressed for an afternoon function. But the incongruity of the business was precisely what most amused him.

After a time the fellow suggested drinks. Wilbur hesitated for a moment. It would be something to tell about, however, so, "All right, I'll drink with you," he said.

The brown sweater led the way to a sailors' boarding house hard by. The rear of the place was built upon piles over the water, but in front on the ground floor was a barroom.

"Rum an' gum," announced the brown sweater as the two came in and took their places at the bar.

"Rum an' gum, Tuck. Wattle you have, sir?"

"Oh, I don't know," hesitated Wilbur. "Give me a mild Manhattan."

While the drinks were being mixed the brown sweater called Wilbur's attention to a fighting headdress from the Marquesas that was hung on the wall over the free lunch counter and opposite the bar. Wilbur turned about to look at it and remained so, his back to the barkeeper, till the latter told them their drinks were ready.

"Well, mate, here's big blocks an' taut hawse pipes," said the brown sweater [illegible].

"Your very good health," returned Wilbur.

The brown sweater wiped a thin mustache in the hollow of his palm and wiped that palm upon his trousers leg.

"Yes, sir," he continued, once more facing the Marquesas headdress. "Yes, sir; they're queer game down there."

"In the Marquesas islands, you mean?" said Wilbur.

"Yes, sir, they're queer game. When they ain't tattooin' theirselves with Scripture tex's they git from the missionaries, they're pullin' out the hairs all over their bodies with two clam shells. Hair by hair, you understan'."

"Pull'n out 'er hair?" said Wilbur, wondering what was the matter with his tongue.

"They think it's clever—think the women folk like it."

Wilbur had fancied that the little man had worn a brown sweater when they first met. But now, strangely enough, he was not in the least surprised to see it iridescent, like a pigeon's breast.

"Y' ever been down that way?" inquired the little man next.

Wilbur heard the words distinctly enough, but somehow they refused to fit into the right places in his brain. He pulled himself together, frowning heavily.

"What—did—you—say?" he asked with great deliberation, biting off his words. Then he noticed that he and his companion were no longer in the barroom, but in a little room back of it. His personality divided itself. There was one Ross Wilbur, who could not make his hands go where he wanted them, who said one word when he thought another and whose legs below the knee were made of solid lead; then there was another Ross Wilbur—Ross Wilbur the alert, who was perfectly clear headed and who stood off to one side and watched his twin brother making a monkey of himself, without power and without even the desire of helping him.

This latter Wilbur heard the iridescent sweater say:

"Bust me, if y' ain't squiffy, old man. Stand by a bit, an' we'll have a bail."

"Can't have got—return—exceptionally—and the round table—pull out hairs wi' tu clamsh'ls," gabbled Wilbur's stupefied double, and Wilbur the alert said to himself: "You're not drunk, Ross Wilbur; that's certain. What could they have put in your cocktail?"

The iridescent sweater stamped twice upon the floor, and a trapdoor fell away beneath Wilbur's feet like the drop of a gallows. With the eyes of his undrugged self Wilbur had a glimpse of water below. His elbow struck the floor as he went down, and he fell feet first into a whitehall boat. He had time to observe two men at the oars and to look between the piles that supported the house above him and catch a glimpse of the bay and a glint of the Contra Costa shore. He was not in the least surprised at what had happened and made up his mind that it would be a good idea to lie down in the boat and go to sleep.

Suddenly, but how long after his advent into the boat he could not tell, his wits began to reason and settle themselves like wild birds flocking again after a scare. Swiftly he took in the scene.

The blue waters of the bay around him, the deck of a schooner on which he stood, the whitehall boat alongside and an enormous man with a face like a setting moon wrangling with his friend in the sweater, no longer iridescent.

"What do you call it?" shouted the red man. "I want able seamen. I don't figger on working this boat with dancing masters, do I? We ain't exactly doing quadrilles on my quarter deck. If we don't look out we'll step on this thing and break it. It ain't ought to be let around loose without its ma."

"Rot that!" vociferated the brown sweater. "I tell you he's one of the best sailor men on the front. If he ain't, we'll forfeit the money. Come on, Captain Kitchell; we made show enough gettin' away as it was, and this daytime business ain't our line. D'you sign or not? Here's the advance note. I got to duck my nut or I'll have the patrol boat after me."

"I'll sign this once," growled the other, scrawling his name on the note, "but if this swab ain't up to sample he'll come back by freight, an' I'll drop in on me dear friend Jim when we come back and give him a reel nice time, an' you can lay to that, Billy Trim." The brown sweater pocketed the note, went over the side and rowed off.

Wilbur stood in the waist of a schooner anchored in the stream well off Fisherman's wharf. In the forward part of the schooner a Chinaman in brown duck was mixing paint. Wilbur was conscious that he still wore his high hat and long coat, but his stick was gone and one gray glove was slit to the button. In front of him towered the enormous red faced man. A pungent reek of some kind of rancid fat or oil assailed his nostrils. Over by Alcatraz a ferryboat whistled for its slip as it elbowed its way through the water.

Wilbur had himself fairly in hand by now. His wits were all about him, but the situation was beyond him as yet.

"Git for'd," commanded the big man.

Wilbur drew himself up, angry in an instant. "Look here," he began, "what's the meaning of this business? I know I've been drugged and mishandled. I demand to be put ashore. Do you understand that?"

"Angel child," whimpered the big man. "Oh, yes lilies of the vallee, you bright an' mornin' star! I'm realy pained, y' know, that your vally can't come along, but we'll have your piano set up in the lazarette. It gives me genuine grief, it do, to see you bein' obliged to put your lilee white feet on this here vulgar an' dirtee deck. We'll have the Wilton carpet down by to-morrer, so we will, my dear. Yah-h!" he suddenly broke out as his rage boiled over. "Git for'd, d'ye hear? I'm captain of this here bathtub, an' that's all you need to know for a good while to come. I ain't generally got to tell that to a man but once, but I'll stretch the point just for love of you, angel child. Now, then, move!"

Wilbur stood motionless, puzzled beyond expression. No experience he had ever been through helped in this situation.

"Look here," he began, "I"—

The captain knocked him down with a blow of one enormous fist upon the mouth, and while he was yet stretched upon the deck kicked him savagely in the stomach. Then he allowed him to rise, caught him by the neck and the slack of his overcoat and ran him forward to where a hatchway not two feet across opened in the deck. Without ado he flung him down into the darkness below, and while Wilbur, dizzied by the fall, sat on the floor at the foot of the vertical companion ladder, gazing about him with distended eyes, there rained down upon his head first an oilskin coat, then a sou'wester, a pair of oilskin breeches, woolen socks and a plug of tobacco. Above him, down the contracted square of the hatch, came the bellowing of the captain's voice:

"There's you fit out, Mister Lilee of the Vallee, which the same our dear friend Jim makes a present of and no charge, because he loves you so. You're allowed two minutes to change, an' it is to be hoped as how you won't force me to come for to assist."

It would have been interesting to have followed, step by step, the mental process that now took place in Ross Wilbur's brain. The captain had given him two minutes in which to change. The time was short enough, but even at that Wilbur changed more than his clothes during the two minutes he was left to himself in the reeking dark of the schooner's fo'c'stle. It was more than a change—it was a revolution. What he made up his mind to do, precisely what mental attitude he decided to adopt, just what new niche he elected wherein to set his feet, it is difficult to say. Only by results could the change be guessed at. He went down the forward hatch at the toe of Kitchell's boot—silk hatted, melton overcoated, patent booted and gloved in suedes. Two minutes later there emerged upon the deck a figure in oilskins and a sou'wester. There was blood upon the face of him and the grime of an unclean ship upon his bare hands. It was Wilbur, and yet not Wilbur. In two minutes he had been, in a way, born again. The only traces of his former self were the patent leather boots, still persistent in their gloss and shine, that showed with grim incongruity below the vast compass of the oilskin breeches.

As Wilbur came on deck he saw the crew of the schooner hurrying for-

SUNSHINE FURNACE

The Sunshine is differently and better constructed than common furnaces. It's stronger, safer, more healthful

The dome, the two sections of the fire-pot and the frame of the ash-pit are all securely fastened together by our famous "cup joint." Three "cup joints" in all, you see.

All sections, you will notice, fit together perfectly, and are lined with a layer of asbestos cement, which unites them so firmly together that they become, in every purpose, one solid piece of metal. Can never spring or fall apart.

And that's not all! The top of the dome is fastened to the sides with cement and boiler rivets, making the Sunshine just as smoke, gas, heat and dust tight as a steam boiler. From a hygienic standpoint it takes precedence in the furnace world.

Notice, too, the Sunshine is equipped with an automatic gas damper. This damper automatically opens when the gas in the furnace reaches a certain pressure and allows it to escape up the chimney. Eliminates all danger of an explosion or gas escaping through the registers

Safest as well as most healthful, easiest managed, cleanest, greatest labor-saving and fuel-economizing furnace you can buy.

ward, six of them, Chinamen every one, in brown jeans and black felt hats. On the quarter deck stood the captain barking his orders.

"Consider the Lilee of the Vallee," bellowed the latter as his eye fell upon Wilbur the transformed. "Clap on to that starboard windlass brake, sonny."

Wilbur saw the Chinamen ranging themselves about what he guessed was the windlass in the schooner's bow. He followed and took his place among them, grasping one of the bars.

"Break down!" came the next order. Wilbur and the Chinamen obeyed, bearing up and down upon the bars till the slack of the anchor chain came home and stretched taut and dripping from the hawse holes.

"'Vast heavin'!"

And then as Wilbur released the brake and turned about for the next order he cast his glance out upon the bay, and there, not 150 yards away, her spotless sails tense, her cordage humming, her immaculate flanks slipping easily through the waves, the water hissing and churning under her forefoot, clean, gleaming, dainty and aristocratic, the Ridgeways' yacht Petrel passed like a thing of life. Wilbur saw Nat Ridgeway himself at the wheel. Girls in smart gowns and young fellows in white ducks and yachting caps—all friends of his—crowded the decks. A little orchestra of musicians were reeling off a quick-step.

The popping of a cork and a gale of talk and laughter came to his ears. Wilbur stared at the picture, his face devoid of expression. The Petrel came on, drew nearer, was not a hundred feet away from the schooner's stern. A strong swimmer, such as Wilbur, could cover the distance in a few strokes. Two minutes ago Wilbur might have—

"Set your mains'l!" came the bellow of Captain Kitchell. "Clap on to your throat and peak halyards!"

The Chinamen hurried aft. Wilbur followed.

CHAPTER II.

IN the course of the next few moments, while the little vessel was being got under way and while the Ridgeways' Petrel gleamed off into the blue distance, Wilbur made certain observations.

The name of the boat on which he found himself was the Bertha Millner. She was a two topmast, twenty-eight ton keel schooner, forty feet long, carrying a large spread of sail—mainsail, foresail, jib, flying jib, two gaff topsails and a staysail. She was very dirty and smelled abominably of some kind of rancid oil. Her crew were Chinamen—there was no mate—but the cook, himself a Chinaman, who appeared from time to time at the door of the galley, a potato masher in his hand, seemed to have some sort of authority over the hands. He acted in a manner as a go-between for the captain and the crew, sometimes interpreting the former's orders and occasionally giving one of his own.

Wilbur heard the captain address him as Charlie. He spoke pigeon English fairly. Of the balance of the crew, the five Chinamen, Wilbur could make nothing. They never spoke, neither to Captain Kitchell, to Charlie nor to each other, and for all the notice they took of Wilbur he might easily have been a sack of sand. Wilbur felt that his advent on the Bertha Millner was by its very nature an extraordinary event, but the absolute indifference of these brown suited Mongols, the blankness of their flat, fat faces, the dullness of their slanting, fishlike eyes that never met his own or even wandered in his direction, was uncanny, disquieting. In what strange gesture was he now to be involved, toward what unknown vortex was this new current setting, this current that had so suddenly snatched him from the solid ground of his accustomed life?

He told himself grimly that he was to have a free cruise up the bay, perhaps as far as Alviso. Perhaps the Bertha Millner would even make the circuit of the bay before returning to San Francisco. He might be gone a week. Wilbur could already see the scareheads of the daily papers the next morning chronicling the disappearance of "One of Society's Most Popular Members."

"That's well, y'r throat halyards. Here, Lilee of the Vallee, give a couple of pulls on y'r peak halyard purchase."

Wilbur stared at the captain helplessly.

"No can tell, hey?" inquired Charlie from the galley. "Pullum disa lepe, sabe?"

Celluloid Starch

Wilbur tugged at the rope the cook indicated.

"That's well, y'r peak halyard purchase," chanted Captain Kitchell.

Wilbur made the rope fast. The mainsail was set and hung slatting and flapping in the wind. Next the fore'sail was set in much the same manner, and Wilbur was ordered to "lay out on the ji'boom and cast the gasket off the jib." He "lay out" as best he could and cast off the gasket—he knew barely enough of yachting to understand an order here and there—and by the time he was back on the fo'c'stle head the Chinamen were at the jib halyard and hoisting away.

"Thatis well—y'r jib halyards."

The Bertha Millner veered round and played off to the wind, tugging at her anchor.

"Man y'r windlass."

Wilbur and the crew jumped once more to the brakes.

"Brake down, heave y'r anchor to the catshead."

The anchor chain, already taut, vibrated and then cranked through the hawse holes as the hands rose and fell at the brakes. The anchor came home, dripping grey slime. A nor'west wind filled the schooner's sails; a strong ebb tide caught her under foot.

"We're off," muttered Wilbur as the Bertha Millner heeled to the first gust.

But evidently the schooner was not bound up the bay.

Must be Vallejo or Benicia then," hazarded Wilbur as the sails grew tenser and the water rippled ever louder under the schooner's forefoot. "Maybe they're going after hay or wheat."

The schooner was tacking, headed directly for Meiggs' wharf. She came in closer and closer—so close that Wilbur could hear the talk of the fishermen sitting on the string-pieces. He had just made up his mind that they were to make a landing there when—

"Stand by for stays," came the rancous bark of the captain, who had taken the wheel. The sails slatted furiously as the schooner came about. Then the Bertha Millner caught the wind again and lay over quietly and contentedly to her work. The next tack brought the schooner close under Alcatraz. The sea became heavier; the breeze grew stiff and smelled of the outside ocean. Out beyond them to westward opened the Golden Gate, a bleak vista of gray green water roughened with whitecaps.

"Stand by for stays."

Once again, as the rudder went hard over, the Bertha Millner fretted and danced and shook her sails, calling impatiently for the wind, chafing at its absence like a child reft of a toy. Then again she scooped the nor'wester in the hollow palms of her tense canvases and settled quietly down on the new tack, her bowsprit pointing straight toward the Presidio.

"Well, we'll come about soon," Wilbur told himself, "and stand over toward the Contra Costa shore."

A fine huge breath of wind passed over the schooner. She heeled to it on the instant, the water roaring along her quarter, but she kept her course. Wilbur fell thoughtful again, never more keenly observant.

"She must come about soon," he muttered uneasily, "if she's going to stand up toward Vallejo." His heart sank with a sudden apprehension. A nervousness he could not overcome seized upon him. The Bertha Millner held tenaciously to the tack. Within fifty yards of the Presidio came the command again:

"Stand by for stays."

Once more, her bows dancing, her cordage rattling, her sails flapping noisily, the schooner came about. Anxiously Wilbur observed the bowsprit as it circled like a hand on a dial, watching where now it would point. It wavered, fluctuated, rose, fell, then settled easily, pointing toward Lime point. Wilbur felt a sudden coldness at his heart.

"This isn't going to be so much fun," he muttered between his teeth. The schooner was not bound up the bay for Alviso nor to Vallejo for grain. The track toward Lime point could mean but one thing. The wind was freshening from the nor'west, the ebb tide rushing out to meet the ocean like a mill race. At every moment the Golden Gate opened out wider, and within two minutes after the time of the last tack the Bertha Millner heeled to a great gust that had come booming in between the heads, straight from the open Pacific.

"Stand by for stays."

As before, one of the Chinese hands stood by the sail rope of the jib.

"Draw y'r jib."

The jib filled. The schooner came about on the port tack; Lime point fell away over the stern rail. The huge ground swells began to come in, and as she rose and bowed to the first of these it was precisely as though the Bertha Millner were making her courtesy to the great gray ocean, now for the first time in full sight on her starboard quarter.

The schooner was beating out to sea through the middle channel. Once clear of the Golden Gate, she stood over toward the Cliff House, then on the next tack cleared Point Bonita. The sea began building up in deadly earnest. They were about to cross the bar. Everything was battened down, the scuppers were awash, and the hawse holes spouted, like fountains after every plunge. Once the captain ordered all men aloft, just in time to escape a gigantic dull green roller that broke like a Niagara over the schooner's bows, smothering the decks knee deep in a twinkling.

The wind blew violent and cold, the spray was flying like icy small shot. Without intermission the Bertha Millner rolled and plunged and heaved and sank. Wilbur was drenched to the skin and sore in every joint from being shunted from rail to mast and from mast to rail again.

The cordage sang like harp strings. The schooner's forefoot crushed down into the heaving water with a hissing like that of steam, blocks rattled, the captain bellowed his orders, rope ends flogged the hollow deck till it reverberated like a drumhead. The creaking of the bar was one long-drawn roar of confusion and discordant sound.

When they were across the bar the captain ordered the cook to give the men their food.

"Git for'rd, sonny," he added, fixing Wilbur with his eye. "Git for'rd. This is fawble dee hote, savy?"

Wilbur crawled forward on the reeling deck, holding on now to a mast, now to a belaying pin, now to a stay, watching his chance and going on between the inebriated plunges of the schooner.

He descended the fo'c'stle hatch. The Chinamen were already there, sitting on the edges of their bunks. On the floor, at the bottom of the ladder, punk sticks were burning in an old tomato can.

Charlie brought in supper—stewed beef and pork in a bread pan and a wooden kit—and the Chinamen ate it in silence with their sheath knives and from tin plates. A liquid that bore a distant resemblance to coffee was served. Wilbur learned afterward to know the stuff as black jack and to be aware that it was made from bad barley and was sweetened with molasses. A single reeking lamp swung with the swinging of the schooner over the center of the group, and long afterward Wilbur could remember the grisly scene—the punk sticks, the bread pan full of hunks of meat, the horrid close and oily smell and the circle of silent, preoccupied Chinese, each sitting on his bunk ledge, devouring stewed pork and bolding his pannikin of black jack between his feet against the rolling of the boat.

Wilbur looked fearfully at the mess in the pan, recalling the chocolate and stuffed olives that had been his last luncheon.

"Well," he muttered, clinching his teeth, "I've got to come to it sooner or later." His penknife was in the pocket of his waistcoat, underneath his oil-skin coat. He opened the big blade, harpooned a cube of pork and deposited it on his tin plate. He ate it slowly and with savage determination. But the black jack was more than he could bear.

"I'm not hungry enough for that just now," he told himself. "Say, Jim," he said, turning to the Chinaman next him on the bunk ledge—"say, what kind of boat is this? What you do—where you go?"

The other moved away impatiently.

"No sabe, no sabe," he answered, shaking his head and frowning. Throughout the whole of that strange meal these were the only words spoken.

When Wilbur came on deck again he noted that the Bertha Millner had already left the whistling buoy astern. Off to the east, her sails just showing above the waves, was a pilot boat with the number 7 on her mainsail. The evening was closing in, the Farallones were in plain sight dead ahead. Far behind, in a mass of shadow just bluer than the sky, he could make out a few twinkling lights—San Francisco.

Half an hour later Kitchell came on deck from his supper in cabin aft. He glanced in the direction of the mainland, now almost out of sight, then took the wheel from one of the Chinamen and commanded, "Ease off y'r fore an' main sheets." The hands eased away, and the schooner played off before the wind.

The staysail was set. The Bertha Millner headed to southwest, bowing easily ahead of a good eight knot breeze.

Next came the order, "All hands aft," and Wilbur and his mates betook themselves to the quarter deck. Charlie took the wheel, and he and Kitchell began to choose the men for their watches, just as Wilbur remembered to have chosen sides for baseball during his school days.

"Benny, I'll choose you. You're on my watch," said the captain to Wilbur, "and I will assume the responsibility of your nautical edification."

"I may as well tell you at once" be-

"But you will be soon," answered the captain, at once soothing and threatening. "You will be, Mister Lilee of the Vallee. You bin lay to it as how you will be one of the best sailor man along the front, as our dear friend Jim says. Before I git thee with you you'll be a sailor man or shark bait, I can promise you. You're on my watch. Step over here, son."

The watches were divided, Charlie and three other Chinamen on the port, Kitchell, Wilbur and two Chinamen on the starboard. The men trooped forward again.

The tiny world of the schooner had lapsed to quiet. The Bertha Millner was now clear of the land, that lay like a blur of faintest purple smoke, ever growing fainter, low in the east. The Farallones showed but their shoulders above the horizon. The schooner was

When Your Health Fails—What Then?

BETTER TO GUARD AGAINST SUCH AN EMERGENCY BY KEEPING VITALITY AT HIGH-WATER MARK BY THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle.

In these days of strenuous life and keen competition there is no place for tired brains and weak bodies.

Success is for the strong and alert for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy.

It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health, and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion, such as brain fag, headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, failure of memory and loss of power to concentrate the mind.

While Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has succeeded in curing many cases of partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and the most severe forms of nervous prostration and exhaustion, it is not well to delay treatment until these stubborn and dangerous diseases set in.

At the slightest indication of waning nerve force, begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and with a few weeks' treatment you will be able to restore the vitality of the body to high-water mark, remove the cause of nervous disorders, and prevent serious results.

Miss Mary Leitch, Coulson, Simcoe county, Ont., writes: "When I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my nervous system was all run down, and I suffered terribly with nervous headache and sleeplessness. Sometimes I could not sleep for three or four nights in succession. By the use of several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food these troubles were entirely overcome, and I consider the preparation an excellent nerve tonic."

CANADA'S COASTING LAWS.

Federation Is Communicating With European Governments.

The matter of the coasting trade of the United States was brought before the Intercolonial Conference by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

According to the coasting laws of the United States, no foreign vessel can proceed from port to port of the United States.

Those entitled to such privilege must have been built in the United States, and carry the United States flag.

The coasting trade of Great Britain is open to all vessels. The restriction in the United States goes as far as to declare a voyage of some 12,000 miles from New York around Cape Horn to San Francisco to be a coasting voyage, and as such restrict it to vessels carrying the United States flag. When the United States took Porto Rico they immediately applied the coasting laws to it, so that no mails or passengers could be carried between that island and the United States, unless the United States flag were carried.

Discussed at Conference.

This matter has been brought to the notice of the Imperial authorities, and it was discussed at the last Intercolonial Conference. Nothing was done in the premises.

In local shipping circles, not a great deal of importance is attached to the matter. The policy is frankly a selfish one, intended to encourage the growth of native shipbuilding. Canada, according to a member of the Shipping Federation, suffers somewhat from it on the upper lakes, where the United States boats out-number ours; but even if there were reciprocity, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier desires, the United States, with their greater facilities for shipbuilding, could easily swamp us. It may be said, however, that the Shipping Federation is in communication with the important European Governments on the question.

Gave Mutual Privileges.

In connection with this subject, it may be stated that in 1815 a favored nation treatment was entered into between the United States and Great Britain, giving mutual privileges as to the use of ports, rivers, free communication, etc. And yet, notwithstanding this treaty, while an American vessel could proceed to London and take cargo for India, an English vessel could not go to New York and take a cargo for any other portion of American territory.

England, in fact, gives access to the American to all her ports in any part of the Empire, while the latter refuses reciprocity of treatment.

CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

Preference For the Present Seems To Be Shelved.

Judging by the reports from Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, there has been, along with some disappointment at the negative results of the Intercolonial Conference, an outburst of Imperial feeling, as a consequence of the gathering in London of the representatives of the over-sea possessions of the British Empire.

Public opinion in this country has been, if anything, rather quiescent; and it would be difficult to guage the exact feeling of Canadians in respect, say, of the preference, which has, for the present, at any rate, seemed to have received its quietus.

Hon. Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Ontario Government, has gone on record as saying that there are not a hundred people from Newfoundland to the Pacific coast who could be found to favor separation from the British Empire; but he thinks that the colonies have suffered a good deal at the hands of the British authorities, and hints that they might not be disposed any longer to put up with hurtful or belittling treatment, due, in great part, to ignorance.

British officialdom, on the other hand, was a little shocked at the rather masterful tone of the Colonial Premiers, and is asking, through the press, who supports the Empire, in the last resort? The colonies, it is said, want all the favors, while they contribute nothing to Imperial maintenance.

The Home Government, it is claimed, must be allowed to be the best judge of questions, the outcome of which might, conceivably, affect British power and stability very seriously.

Continued connection with the British Empire cannot be guaranteed by a contribution. It is best sustained—first, by the sentiments of loyalty which were cheered to the echo at the recent Toronto meeting; and, second, by a spirit of mutual accommodation, which shall cordially recognize an identity of interest throughout all parts of the Empire.—Standard.

CONGO ATROCITIES.

Bishops Urge Steps Towards Immediate Reform.

The subject of Congo misrule was discussed in the Upper House of Convocation of Canterbury, the Primate of all England presiding.

A series of resolutions were passed expressing profound regret and indignation at the methods of administration in the Congo Free State, declaring that the members of that house felt keenly the burden that was cast upon the conscience of England, as one of the powers by whose consent the Congo Free State was established and its neutrality guaranteed, and stating that the gravest responsibility will lie upon the consenting powers to bring to an end, in some way, abuses which are so crying, and which may be of the most sinister effect upon the relations between white and colored races throughout the African continent, and upon the work intrusted to the Christian nations of Europe for the service of civilization and humanity.

British Government Responsible.

The Bishop of Southwark, in introducing the subject, said the Congo State began on commercial, philanthropic and civilizing principles. The British Government had considerable responsibility for it, and there was ample evidence that things had gone signally ill.

Dr. Talbot went on to allude to the suppression of the evidence of the royal commission, and directed attention to the facts contained in Mr. Morel's book on "Red Rubber: The Story of the Slave Trade on the Congo." No doubt a condition the most barbarous and terrible existed. To get a certain amount of rubber out of the poor natives, the most horrible methods had been resorted to, such as cutting off the hands, and there was a great system of hostages, these hostages being largely women. No responsibility rested upon Belgium itself in the matter. If all the powers were keen about it, a very summary result, he said, could be obtained.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells said the Free Church Council, to their honor, had been far before the Church of England in trying to arouse public attention, but this might be partly explained by the existence of so many Baptist missionary stations, from which information had come.

Described as an Abomination.

The Bishop of Birmingham spoke in general support of what had fallen from the Bishop of Southwark, and the Bishop of London pleaded for increased British consular representation in the Congo Free State. They ought to be prepared to back up the Government in any further step which they might wish to take with the view to wiping away this abomination from the face of the earth.

The Primate, in summing up the debate, said the House had discharged an imperative duty in calling attention to well-established facts. In the last decade we seemed to have fallen into something which rivaled if it did not exceed, the horrors of the old slave trade. He could not suggest what diplomatic action should be taken, but they desired the country to know that they cared so much about this matter that they did not intend to let it alone.

"AULD BRIG OF AYR."

Structure Immortalized by Burns to Be Preserved.

The "Auld Brig of Ayr," immortalized by Burns, is to be turned over for preservation to a committee which has collected $50,000 for the work.

"AULD BRIG OF AYR."

The struts shown in the cut were put in about two years ago for the temporary support of the structure, which is about 700 years old. Subscriptions to aid the restoration have come in from all parts of the world. Burns referred to the bridge as "o' ancient Pictish race, the very wrinkles Gothic in his face."

To please will always be the wish of benevolence; to be admired, the constant aim of ambition.

LIFETIME IN BED.

Many People, Born Tired, Have Clung on to Their Beds for Years.

George Thompson, "the laziest man on earth," who, as recently reported, stayed 30 years in bed, although in perfect health and in full possession of his faculties, has had many predecessors of the "born-tired" nature.

A large proportion of them, however, have been women. There was, for instance, the case of Annie Dyer, a young servant girl, who one day took to her bed for no apparent reason, and lay there until her death, some 36 years later. Annie, however, would appear to have been something of a cataleptic, for it is recorded of her that she used frequently to sleep for fifteen or sixteen days and nights on end. Once, too, she went fourteen weeks without waking, and this notwithstanding many cruel tests to which she was subjected.

Another and more certainly genuine born-tired lady was Carrie Catchpole, a Surrey worthy, who, being disappointed in love when 19 years of age, took to her bed and vowed never to leave it again so long as a breath remained in her body. She kept to her resolution for 17 years, and then rose one morning without any particular reason and resumed her household duties where she had left them off. Apparently, however, she soon grew tired of active life, for a few months later we find her back in bed; nor did she leave it again until within a year or two of her death, which occurred at the age of 76.

Altogether, this extraordinary woman lay in bed continuously—for the one brief interlude referred to above can hardly be said to count—for more than 55 years, during the whole of which time she not only retained full possession of her faculties, but remained bright and cheerful, full of life and vivacity, and apparently in the best of health.

SHAKESPEARE'S BIRTHDAY.

Crowds Lay Flowers On the Bard of Avon's Tomb.

Shakespeare's birthday was observed at Stratford-on-Avon recently with a procession in which the mayor, the vicar, Mr. F. R. Benson, and the members of his theatrical company took part.

The processionists, laden with floral offerings, marched from the birthplace, through the High street, to Holy Trinity Church. A picturesque sight it was to see this crowd, composed of countrymen from the villages around, schoolboys and schoolgirls, workmen, silk-hatted gentlemen, and ladies in velvet and satin, carrying bunches of roses, daisies, and daffodils, to be laid on the poet's tomb.

At the service in Holy Trinity Church the vicar delivered an eloquent commemoration address.

In the afternoon the people repaired to the banks of the Avon to witness the performance of the specially trained band of Morris dancers.

The day's celebrations concluded in the evening with the production of Love's Labor's Lost at the Memorial theatre, by Mr. F. R. Benson and his company. This is one of Shakespeare's earliest productions, and has been but rarely seen on the stage.

Teachers' Visit Prevented.

Some regret will be felt by the teachers of Ontario who expected that arrangements could be made by Mr. Alfred Mosely, C. M. G., with the steamship companies to enable the visits of British teachers to Canada last year to be returned by Canadian teachers. A letter from Mr. Mosely has been received by the Deputy Minister of Education, in which he says: "I regret to say that I find it will be impossible for the Canadian and American teachers to visit Europe this Fall. The matter was all arranged as far as the English, Canadian and French lines were concerned, but to our surprise the German lines stepped in and refused to acquiesce in the arrangements, and as all the steamship companies work in a combine on this and many other questions, they have succeeded in stopping what I venture to think would be a most useful piece of work. I can only hope in the future that the difficulties will be overcome, and I trust it will be possible to arrange for some other year."

Washing Paint.

The best way to wash paint is to mix together half a pound of bar soap and an ounce of borax. Cut the soap into thin strips and put in a saucepan to melt with the borax. Add two or three handfuls of whiting and three pints of water. Mix all together. Rub the paint with a flannel dipped in the mixture, then wash off with warm water.

Found an Excuse.

One Easter a Methodist minister in the south wrote to J. Pierpont Morgan and asked him to subscribe to the erection of a new church.

"Since I am an Episcopalian," Mr. Morgan wrote back, "I can't conscientiously join this Easter subscription to the building of a Methodist church. Before erecting your new church, though, you are going, I understand, to tear the old church down. For that purpose I gladly inclose my check for $250."

DOOR KEYS IN SWEDEN

Curious Custom of Hanging Them Outside the Doors.

HOUSES LOCKED, YET OPEN.

The Dangling Key Informs You the Tenants Are Out, but Friends Who Call Are at Liberty to Unlock the Door and Enter and Rest.

When the Swedes go calling, they lock up and then hang the door key on the bell or the doorknob or some other conspicuous place. When they go visiting for a few weeks, bolts and bars are slid into place, and then out goes the key. If the house is shut up for an entire season or a full year, the gayly swinging door key says "Not at home" to passersby.

There is no kicking your heels on the doormat in Sweden while the bell or knocker awakes the echoes in an empty house. Agents, peddlers, friends and relatives all know this message of the door key and seeing it out pass by.

As can be readily imagined, this strange custom has been put to good use in many instances when visitors were not wanted. Instead of telling the maid to inform callers that Mrs. Jones is not at home the mistress says to Jennie: "Hang out the door key at 3 o'clock this afternoon and bring it in at 5. I don't wish to see any one for a few hours."

About the first of the month in certain districts door keys swing to the breezes in great numbers, and collectors, knowing the custom and also its misuse, scratch their heads in perplexity at this not at home signal.

Many amusing stories are told of creditors sitting down to await the return of their man while the debtor sat on the other side of the locked door and chuckled. There have been instances where a collector has taken the key, unlocked the door and entered the house to be met by the owner, who calmly laughed over his ruse. Again a creditor has entered a house in which he supposes the owner to be hiding only to find it vacant and to be caught by the irate master, arrested and made to pay a fine, while the debtor got an extension of time on his bill.

These illegitimate uses of this very old custom of not only leaving the latchstring out, but also putting the door key at the disposal of all who pass, are not discovered at first glance, and they are really very much in the minority, for Sweden is pre-eminently an honest land. In and around about Stockholm there is very little need of policemen or strong boxes, for every man, however low down in the social scale, seems to have due respect for another's property.

Although a few of the more suspicious, or the foreigners who have not been brought up in this strange custom of leaving the door key out, may lock up with bolts from the inside and use another door for exit when they leave home for an extended visit, the old residents actually leave their homes at the disposal of any who may care to enter.

Friends who call and find the key out feel at perfect liberty to unlock the door, enter and rest a bit before passing on. Strangers seldom misuse the confidence.

The custom started ages ago when it was the usual thing for "holy men" or priests to travel through Swedish villages, stopping to leave their blessing on the households of the neighborhood. These visits were looked forward to with eagerness by the pious Swedes, and it was considered an act of grossest discourtesy to bar the door, for whatever reason, against a holy man. Consequently if a family left home the key was always put out against the arrival of the priest. Meat and drink were left, and should the holy man stop at a vacant house he entered, refreshed himself, left his blessing in the form of a candle or a bottle of holy water or a bit of consecrated green and passed. Thus the custom originated, and, although these quaint villages have become towns and traveling priests have passed away and the influx of other nations has modernized Sweden and brought the evil of theft with it, the door keys still hang out as evidence of trust and open doored hospitality.

A thief seldom takes down one of the keys and enters, for there is the uncertainty about the absence of the residents spoken of to hold him back, and the knowledge that an exposed door key may merely mean that the owner has stepped across to the store and will return any minute makes tampering with property risky business.

These facts, together with the big one that Swedes are one of the most honest people on the face of the globe, make a custom safe there which would be a foolhardy tempting of misfortune in our "land of the free."

FOOTWEAR NOTES.

How Fashionable Women Will Dress Their Feet This Season.

White shoes of kid and canvas, some leather and linen duck are to be as much to the fore as they were last season, which is saying much, but they will have contrasting touches of color in heels, bows and collar trimmings.

Black and white effects are reckoned exceptionally desirable combinations in footwear as in other directions, and tan and white are almost as popularly approved.

Slippers, as might be expected, show the extremes of fanciful adornment in slashings, embroideries, beadings and trimmings, while the making of these in materials that match the gowns continues as popular as ever.

There is a new shoe which in the smart set is taking the place for street wear of the too much worn pump. It is a low buttoned boot, hardly reaching more than an inch or two above the instep, of brown kid trimmed with black. The same style is carried out in white with black trimmings. A pair of pumps of dark brown suede are made that are very good style. Around the edge is a narrow binding of brown leather, ending in a tiny bow and two ends. Handsome brown silk stockings to wear with them would be charming with a brown costume.

Dotted batiste has the double merit of being dainty and charming and of laundering to perfection. So it is in demand for girls' dresses. Pictured is one made with a becoming bertha. The skirt is shirred to form a girdle, giving a princess effect. The trimming is bands of insertion and medallions.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Dainty Bonnets For the Babies—Smart Bretelle Effects.

Dainty lingerie bonnets, trimmed with flutings of fine linen and batiste edged with narrow valenciennes lace, will be worn by small children now and during the summer.

Bretelles of lace, ribbon and galloon are quite a feature of the new frocks. Sashes are also much worn, especially in the graceful empire fashion, with the knot between the shoulder blades and wide, long ends of the ribbon soft sweeping down the skirt.

An exquisite cream colored leather girdle exhibited is covered with green polka dots as large as a pea.

A tiny wreath of flowers tied with a minute bowknot is a good design both in swiss and batiste, and shaded dots on a white ground, while not exactly new, for they were used last season, are among the effective designs of the summer stock.

Ladder trimmings of contrasting color or material are as much in evidence as if they were a novelty and are used for bands on skirts and also for a matching trimming for the whole suit.

The size of the newest bag except where a large receptacle is required is less exaggerated, and leather strap handles have taken the place of chains. Many have the sides carried up in detached flaps hiding the frame and clasp.

Chameleon or changeable taffetas are very smart this season for elaborate costumes. The frock shown in the cut is of champagne taffeta shot, with threads of blue and trimmed with pale blue velvet and deep cream lace. The tiny little jacket gives just a suggestion of a wrap without a hint of warmth.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

New Hand Bags—Dainty Auto Hat. Close Fitting Skirts.

Entire skins of alligators are used to make some of the new hand bags. One has a head hanging menacingly at one side and the tail and four feet at the other side and the corners. The bags are a beautiful rich brown, but it seems incredible that any woman would carry such a grewsome thing.

A little brown auto hat with a low wide crown and a narrow but sheltering brim has two big rosettes of brown chiffon in front and the usual long scarf ends.

Skirts mold the hips and hang in graceful folds, widening at the feet.

The waist line has descended to its normal position.

The linen collar worn with a colored bow is popular. Some of these bow ties are multicolored or made of ribbon shading in the several tones of blue, red or green.

Westminster gray is neither smoke nor steel gray, and danish blue is a deep china blue. Orchid is a lovely yellow with a pinkish cast about as dark as amber yellow. Indian red is a brownish red of a medium tone, and bien mort is a lovely pale blue toning gray.

Everything bearing the Japanese stamp is popular just now. The illustration shows a waist with this oriental feature made of champagne marquisette trimmed with a latticework of velvet ribbon. In lieu of this adornment any banding of applique can be substituted.

Leaves of Desert Plants.

There is a very good reason for the lack of leaves in desert plants. The object is to check the transferation of moisture by offering as small a surface as possible to the dry air. For the same reason the roots of desert plants usually run deep into the soil so that they can suck up all the available moisture. In some instances the leaves assume a vertical position and thus avoid the direct rays of the burning desert sun. On the other hand, the leaves of trees in very wet countries are provided with points, such as the maple, from which the rain drips off. Were the leaves flatter the rain would collect and make them rot.

FEMININE FANCIES.

How to Distinguish Some of the New Materials.

Marquisette is woven like a very fine grenadine, and mexicana is a sheer barred muslin with printed floral designs. Spider silk is a silk and cotton fabric in a loose poplin weave printed also in floral designs. Eolienne is of the same nature. Plumetis is on the order of swiss muslin, with a little woven dot or all over design.

Columbine is a pinkish red, and coquelicot is almost a flame color. The shade of reseda shown this season is fairly bright and very soft and clear. It hovers between sage green and a deep emerald. Gobelin blue is a greenish gray blue, deeper than cadet and very attractive.

A toque of green leaves has a mass of pink wings at one side and not a single flower on it.

Cherries and lilies of the valley are one of the combinations fancied for a spring hat.

Yoke and neck garnishments of all evening dresses are of white or cream

lace, except in the case of an all black gown. Even the dyed laces, so profusely used as decorations in other ways, give place to the yoke of white or are lined with white chiffon or net.

Dotted swiss is one of the latest materials to be used for corset covers, and some dainty, charming effects are the result. Here is one that is made in jumper style that is drawn on over the head without any opening, ribbon threaded through beading regulating the size.

DRESSING HELPS.

Some Professional Advice For Cutting Out Clothes.

In cutting out, so some tailors say, it is better to cut with the nap up instead of down, as in cloth. This method is said to prevent rubbed spots, the material retaining its bloom for a much longer period.

Mark all the perforations and notches carefully and baste with the utmost precision, using fine silk instead of cotton and taking a long stitch on the wrong side and an extremely short one on the right.

In making the placket cut the underlap double (about one and a half inches wide when finished) and allow the underlap to extend one and a half inches below the placket opening, then join underlap to seam. When stitching, be careful that the skirt seam does not pucker. After this turn the remainder of the lap over and hem neatly to seam on the inside. The opposite side should be faced the same width as the lap over side. The hooks and eyes should be sewed in place with a space of one and a half inches apart, with hooks on right side, eyes on the opposite side.

The trouble with the necks of blouses is caused by two mistakes of most frequent occurrence. The space between the shoulder seams in the back is too narrow. That causes hump. The neck should be divided into three equal portions, back and two fronts. Shoulder seams must always be straight at the neckband and alterations made toward back or front at the armhole.

The wrinkles around the neck will be quite done away with if the neckband is made longer than the neck of the blouse, the latter being "necked" here and there as it is sewed on. This is a simple remedy, but most complete.

SNAPSHOTS OF FASHION.

Golfing Dresses in Various Materials. Stripes For Tall Women.

The golfing dresses of the year are made of various materials—cheviot, English suiting, Scotch plaid, French face cloth and even the heavier grades of silk. But the most fashionable of fabrics is serge. There are cashmere golfing suits that are very smart, made as trim pony coat suits, though the flannel ones are liked by women who are on the field constantly.

Even very tall women are affecting stripes this season, contrary to all rules, and in striped batiste a frock of this material makes even the fat woman look comparatively thin.

Chamois gloves are the proper thing for traveling. They can be washed in soap and water and look as well as ever. They must be dried on the hands.

Colored patent leather belts are the newest. They have large gilt buckles, and the price of the belt depends on the elaborateness of the buckle.

All white embroidered swisses are always modish and serviceable, and there are many pretty new designs in these popular fabrics. A charming piece is of gray and white with lavender dots. This combination, by the way, is a favorite one with designers.

The Chesterfield coat pictured is one of the latest developments of the mannish idea among wraps that is essentially smart in effect. This one is designed for young girls and can be made either in the hip length, illustrated, or longer if liked. Covert cloth is used in the present instance.

A Jolly Memory Game.

Arrange ten or a dozen articles on a table and place a very clearly marked number beside each one. Then call in your company and give them just one minute to the second for observing the articles and numbers.

Then they must return to the other room and try to write down the articles in the order they were arranged, numbering each properly.

At first it will be most difficult for most players to remember everything and every number, but with practice they will find they can depend on their memories more and more.

It is one of the very best games for the family to play. If father or mother complains of failing memory recommend it to them. It will really benefit them, just as some form of calisthenics will benefit their stiffening muscles.

NONE READY TO TAKE INITIATIVE

Peace Delegates Shy of Introducing Disarmament Question.

IT MIGHT CREATE DISCORD

Dissolution of Douma Has Depressing Effect on Conference — May Change Attitude of Great Britain —Report That Russian Deputies Are on Their Way to Make an Appeal—Precipitate Conflict.

The Hague, June 18.—Although the "Pacifics" still insist that the question of the limitation of armaments must be raised in some form before the adjournment of the peace conference, the last chance of any government coming forward to openly propose the discussion, has disappeared with the knowledge that the Government of United States considers that the initiative belonged to Europe and not to America.

M. Nelidoff's depressing utterances at the opening of the conference, coupled with the unfortunate dissolution of the Douma at the very moment the conference had assembled, have produced many expressions of regret that President Roosevelt yielded the initiative of the second conference to Emperor Nicholas. The correspondent of the Associated Press has heard dozens of delegates speculating on the differences in effect which would have been produced had the keynote been sounded by a country inspired by democratic tendencies.

At matters now stand, neither England, nor any of her continental friends, are ready to move lest the mere suggestion of debating the question of the limitation of armaments inject a spirit of discord, which would endanger the useful work achievable and possibly break up the conference under circumstances which would postpone another conference indefinitely.

The dissolution of the Douma, with its possible consequences, continue to absorb as much attention as the prospects of the conference, and there is considerable speculation as to whether public sentiment may not force Great Britain to change her present attitude. Many stupid stories are afloat, including one to the effect that Great Britain or America may raise the matter in the conference.

Russians to Appeal.

A serious report alleges that some members of the late Russian Parliament are on their way to The Hague, to appeal to the conference. Their appearance here, clamoring to be heard, which manifestly is impossible, would be regarded as extremely deplorable by those who believe the conference should avoid everything likely to precipitate a conflict, and confine itself strictly to progress along the lines of the original assembly.

FRANCO-JAP TREATY.

Agreement Guarantees Peace, and is Entirely Pacific.

Paris, June 18.—Speaking on Sunday of the new French-Spanish and British-Spanish treaties, the signature of which virtually creates a new triple alliance, M. Pichon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, said:

"Such arrangements are the best guarantees of peace that can be conceived. Our agreement with Spain is surely pacific. It accords with the interests as well as the sympathies of both nations. The negotiations for this safeguarding of the common interests of the two countries have been going on for several months, and the instrument now signed has been communicated to the other powers, with explanations as to its scope. Its intent is purely pacific, the object being to assure the status quo of that region, which could not be altered without injury to the two contracting signatories, and the security of the communications of the respective outlying territories, which is especially important in the case of our possessions in Africa, and on both the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts."

SHOT THROUGH THE HEAD.

Husband Says His Wife Agreed to Kill Herself.

New York, June 18.—Laura, the 19-year-old wife of James Woardell, was shot through the head and killed at their home in West 25th street to-night.

The husband, who is six years the senior of his wife, notified the police, explaining that his wife had taken her life in accordance with an agreement to kill themselves into which the two had entered.

He was placed under arrest

AUTOS FARE BADLY IN BOSTON FIRE

Spontaneous Combustion Starts Blaze With Disastrous Result.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $100,000

Firemen Had Narrow Escapes From Explosions—Flax Mill Also Gutted at Listowel — Bush Fires Cause Destruction of Two Railway Bridges — School Destroyed—Children Kept Perfect Order.

Boston, June 18.—A fire, which for a time threatened Boston's automobile district, consumed about forty automobiles and caused a loss estimated at $100,000 yesterday. The blaze is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion, and was in the garage of the Back Bay Automobile Co. The firemen were handicapped by frequent explosions, but managed to confine the blaze to the building in which it started.

Railway Bridges Burned.

Cornwall, June 18.—Two small bridges on the O. & N. Y. at Black River, just north of Cornwall, and at Santa Clara, N.Y., were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

Bush fires fanned by a strong breeze were the cause in each case. Repairs are being rushed. Trains met at Black River last evening and transferred mails, passengers, etc.

Flax Mill Destroyed.

Listowel, Ont., June 18.—This evening the flax mill owned by the J. & J. Livingstone estate, was completely destroyed by fire, which is supposed to be of an incendiary origin.

The building is estimated to be worth about $9,000, and is a total loss.

High School Burned.

Lockport, N.Y., June 18.—The High street public school was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The pupils marched out in perfect order.

MEN GET NO INCREASE.

Arbitrators Make Their Award in the Longshoremen's Dispute.

Ottawa, June 18.—The award has been made by the board of arbitration in connection with the Montreal longshoremen's strike and has been received by the labor department. This is the committee of which Archbishop Paul Bruchesi is chairman.

Owing to the desire, however, of the department to forward the award first to the parties concerned, the department stated that the terms would be made public to-day.

It is understood, however, that the wages of the longshoremen will not be increased. The evidence submitted tend to show that the men were paid as well, if not better, than those in other ports.

The decision of the board of arbitration was unanimous.

FISHING SCHOONER QUITS.

Cruiser Canada Now on Look Out For Vanished Vessel.

Halifax, N.S., June 18.—After his vessel had been seized by the Canadian custom officials at the Magdalenes for an infraction of the fishing laws, Captain Henry Arsenault, of the American fishing schooner Henry M. Stanley, hoisted sail and put to sea, while a prize crew were preparing to board her.

Customs Collector Delaney had seized the Stanley on Saturday, June 8, for buying bait without a license.

The cruiser Canada is looking for the vessel.

Eighteen Hurt in Wreck

Trinidad, Col., June 18.—(C.A.P.)—Eighteen passengers were injured, three probably fatally, in a wreck yesterday of an east-bound passenger train on the Santa Fe Railroad, near Earl.

The wreck was caused either through a defective brakebeam or spreading rail.

First Time In 172 Years.

Ste. Genevieve, Mo., June 18.—The saloons closed their doors on Sunday, and for the first time in 172 years the town was "dry." The action was taken on the advice of the prosecuting attorney. Ste. Genevieve was founded in 1735, and since its founding drinking places have never been closed.

Austrian Parliament Opens.

Vienna, June 18.—The first Austrian Parliament elected on the basis of equal universal suffrage was opened yesterday. Thousands of persons gathered about the Parliament building to watch the arrival of the deputies, who wore flowers symbolizing their parties and nationalities.

CZAR'S RELATIONS TO THE DOUMA

Dissolution Was Entirely On the Emperor's Initiative.

RESTRAINED BY STOLYPIN

Empress Was Vigorous Enemy of the Parliament — Age Limit of Voters Now Increased—Manifesto Drafted Fortnight Ago — Reactionaries Are Jubilant—News Received Quietly—Guarded Comments.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—From a well-informed source the Associated Press learns that the decision to dissolve the Douma and abolish the former election law was due to the initiative of the Emperor, whose original intentions went far beyond the steps actually taken. His Majesty wished to dismiss Parliament a fortnight ago and prolong the interval between the convocation of a new assembly, thinking that this would permit the agitation throughout the country to subside.

He was encouraged in this attitude by court circles, but finally yielded to the argument of Premier Stolypin, who strongly advocated the convoking of the Douma in the autumn. The Premier also succeeded in having stricken from the electoral law provisions increasing the educational and property qualifications for suffrage and raising the age limit of voters from 25 to 30 years, working upon His Majesty, by what is disgustedly described by one of his opponents as, "the bugaboo of reaction."

It is learned that the manifesto was drafted at Tsarskoe-Selo over a fortnight ago, only a few minor changes being introduced Saturday night. Copies of the manifesto reached the papers, with the date Tsarskoe-Selo uncorrected. It is stated that the Empress was one of the most vigorous enemies of the Douma.

Reactionists' Jubilant.

Reactionary circles here are jubilant over the dispersion of the Douma, the Conservative deputies holding an all-night fete at the Conservative Club in celebration of the Emperor's decree. Champagne was served to all comers. The Emperor's decision was hilariously cheered, and ultra-loyal speeches were delivered. Ex-Minister Yermoloff, hitherto considered a moderate Liberal, in an oration, glorified the change in the Douma as rescuing Russia from the hands of aliens and Jews and restoring the power to the classes which heretofore ruled the empire.

Telegrams from practically every city in the empire announce that the news of the dissolution of Parliament was received quietly and with almost an entire absence of demonstrations. Even at Odessa and Kiev no disturbances occurred. The prefect of police of Kiev issued orders that no demonstrations on the part of the reactionists or revolutionists be allowed, and that no open discussion of the dissolution of Parliament be permitted.

Press Muzzled.

The order of Gen. Drachefski, prefect of police of St. Petersburg, prohibiting hostile criticism of the Government, was copied almost universally throughout Russia by the Governer-generals and completely muzzled the Liberal press.

The few newspapers appearing here yesterday make extremely guarded comments on the situation, the radical Russ contenting itself with expressing the hope that two election campaigns in one year will widen the political horizon of the people and make them firm adherents of the idea of parliamentarism.

The Novoe Vremya, which has aligned itself with the reactionists, attacks the new election law as a half-way measure, affording the possibility that the revolutionary elements will again be able to enter Parliament.

A close study of the new election law, which is a bulky document of eighty pages, in complicated phraseology, has somewhat dispelled the feeling of gloom in Liberal circles. The idea is gaining ground that the Government has failed in its intentions, and that there is a possibility there will be an oppositional majority in the third Parliament, as in the case of its predecessors. Even under the new law it is thought that the Constitutional Democrats will retain control of the cities, though perhaps they will be swamped by the Social Democratic proletariat in the elections of the second and poorer categories of urban voters.

The Constitutional Democrats also hope to return a considerable number of the sixty land-owning representatives whom the Government believed would be exclusively Conservative.

Too Much or Too Little.

According to the opinion of a foreign diplomat, who is in close touch with the court, the Government has done either too much or too little. It has violated the fundamental laws, or constitution, and laid itself open to the charge of accomplishing a coup d'etat without altering election law sufficiently to produce the desired results.

The feeling in court circles against Premier Stolypin, who has undertaken full responsibility before His Majesty for a speedy convocation of Parliament on the present basis of suffrage, is said to be most bitter, and he is alleged to be the object of a strong reactionary intrigue.

The grant of seven Parliamentary representatives to the Armenians and Tartars was decided upon at the last moment. The original plan was to disfranchise the Caucasus entirely, but this was abandoned owing to the representations of Count Von Vorontsoff-Dashkoff, viceroy of the Caucasus, who is now here fighting to save his political head.

The holy synod has ordered the imperial manifesto to be read in all the churches next Sunday.

The committee of the lower House of Parliament, consisting of 22 members, appointed to investigate the charges against the Social Democratic deputies, decided to issue its report posthumously. It came to the conclusion that the evidence was too weak to justify the suspension of any of the accused deputies. Even Moderates like Prof. Kusmin-Karavaioff, the Democratic Reformer, who favored the surrender of any of the culprits against whom there was definite grounds for suspicion acquiesced to this finding.

The chances of the proclamation of a general strike in answer to the Government's coup d'etat are steadily lessening.

ACCIDENT OR DESIGN?

Sailors Fire Torpedo at Admiral's Cutter in Black Sea.

Sebastopol, June 18.—Rear-Admiral Wiren, in command of the Black Sea fleet, was cruising in a steam cutter while a torpedo boat in command of Lieut. Rushek was practising firing Whiteheads in the spacious inner bay.

When the admiral's cutter was at short range the torpedo boat suddenly changed her position and fired a blank Whitehead directly at the cutter, penetrating the latter's water tank. Only the promptitude of the crew in beaching the cutter in a sinking condition saved the admiral.

Lieut. Rushek explained that the Whitehead was fired through an accident, but he and three junior lieutenants, who were sullen and refused to salute the admiral, were degraded, and as a result of later evidence, were arrested on the charge of attempting to sink the cutter.

A Bombardment Prevented.

Odessa, June 18.—It now appears that the mutiny here of the Black Sea fleet, consisting of eight battleships, eight cruisers and a division of torpedo boats, whose crews in all number 5,000 men, was discovered just in time to prevent the planned bombardment of Odessa and the Caucasian coast towns, so as to incite the revolutionists and Caucasians to revolt. The fleet came here June 12 for practice, and had just entered Odessa Bay when the commanding officer, Admiral Tschtsinsky, on board the flagship Rostislav, seeing that the orders were not promptly obeyed and knowing of the mutinous spirit animating the crews, suddenly signalled an order to dismantle the guns and head back to Sebastopol, where, after troops had been sent on board the warships, several hundred sailors were disembarked and imprisoned.

THREE CHILDREN KILLED.

Mother Gave Them Potato Gin as Cure for Seasickness.

New York, June 18.—"Potato gin," administered as an antidote for seasickness, caused the death of three children who were passengers on the White Star line steamship Cradic, which arrived here from Liverpool and the Azores.

The poison was given by the children's mothers, one of whom, when the little bodies were buried at sea the following day, tried to throw herself from the deck in a frenzy of grief.

Bonds Stolen.

New York, June 18.—Chubb and Sons, marine insurance brokers, of this city, have reported to the postal authorities that 45 six per cent. gold bonds of the Guayaquil and Quito Railroad Co., with an aggregate value of $20,000, have been lost or stolen in transit from London.

HORSE ARTILLERY ON THE MARCH TO THE PETEWAWA CAMP

"B" Battery, Regular Troops, Bivouacked at the Exhibition Grounds Last Night—Marching From Toronto to Petewawa.

CARRY FOUR 12 POUNDERS

Not for many years has Peterborough been honoured by an encampment of regular troops within the city limits, until yesterday evening, when a troop of 56 men and 80 horses, with guns and equipments, arrived here after a long and hard day's march. The regulars are "B" squadron of Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, with headquarters at Toronto, and who since the 13th of the month have been on the line of march to the summer camp at Petawawa, where, for the first time in the history of Canada, the two Canadian Horse Artillery Batteries, the Dragoons, and other military forces, will have mustered on the same camping grounds.

The battery is in command of Major Burstard. Other officers with it are Capt. Kirkland, and Lts. Elkins and Jamieson. Lieut.-Col. Dr. Nattrass, Mrs. Nattrass and Mrs. (Major) Burstard are also accompanying the troops.

The battery broke up camp at Port Hope yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, and at 5.30 was on the line of march for Peterborough. After making two halts in the thirty mile journey they arrived at the exhibition grounds in the evening about 5 o'clock. Four big 12-pounders were also brought along, and these created a great deal of interest along the road, and as they stood in commanding positions on the exhibition grounds. They have also one forage wagon an eight transport wagons, carrying food and equipments.

No Tents Used

Their camping grounds are always in the open air, with no covering to protect them from the elements. At night they sleep on the grass, beside their saddles, and throw blankets over their bodies to protect them from the night air. For rainy weather they are provided with waterproof oilcloths, and sleep on the earth more comfortably than many do on their downy couches. The officers' tents last night were pitched a short distance to the west of the general camp site.

The fodder for the horses and the food for the men is almost altogether obtained wherever the battery goes into camp. The horses are tied to long thick ropes, attached to the wheels of the cannon, and to prevent a stampede their riders make their grassy beds close by.

Kicked by a Horse

The artillery have had a most pleasant march so far, all rejoicing at getting away from the barracks and out into the open air. They experienced no accidents until yesterday evening, when Driver Dominer was kicked in the loins by one of the horses during the watering parade to the river. Dominer was knocked unconscious but soon after recovered, and it is not probable that he will suffer any serious results.

From Toronto to Petawawa, the distance is about 250 miles, so that yet the battery has some 150 miles to make before reaching their destination.

They broke up camp this morning at 11 o'clock and marched up through the city on their way to Young's Point, where they remain over night. From there they go to to Burleigh Falls, and then to Apsley, cross over to Hastings county, and on through the northern parts of old Ontario to Petawawa Camp, which is expected to be reached on the 30th of the month, when they will rest after their long ride of over 250 miles along dusty and rocky roads.

Regular Day of Rest

For three days the battery marches without halting, except for night, and on the fourth they rest. Their average daily journey is about 21 miles.

Lured by curiosity hundreds of the citizens visited the camp last night and inspected the stores and equipments, and kept the regulars busy answering questions. They are a courteous troop of merry fellows, always ready to give any information desired, and as well built and as muscular as it would be possible to find. They are mostly of English descent, which was betrayed by their accent, many of whom have served in the navy, and with the regulars of the old country.

Their parade up through the city streets this morning was certainly a martial one, and particularly the four 12-pounders made a great impression on the bystanders.

JUNE SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL OPEN

WARDEN P. McNULTY

Who Presided at the opening of the June Session of the County Council

NEW WHARF TO BE BUILT AT IDYL WYLD

Lumber Went Up Canal for Cottage Erection at Sandy Point

The steamer Water Lily left yesterday afternoon for the head of Clear Lake with a scow load of lumber for the erection of Mr. W. F. Nelson's cottage at Sandy Point.

The Government tug Sovereign left yesterday morning for Idyl Wyld with a gang of men who will construct a new wharf there. The boat made the round trip in good time and had returned at 3 o'clock. It afterwards proceeded up the canal to Lakefield.

Mr. Louis LaPlante left yesterday on his trim little yacht tthe Arthemeais for the upper lakes.

NOVEL FEATURES OF ENTERTAINING

A Delightful Evening Spent under the Auspices of the Epworth League

Some new features were introduced into the social gathering under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Charlotte street church last night.

They included a spiral hand-shake and an autograph contest, both of which proved very interesting and entertaining and helped the fair sized attendance of young people to pass a pleasant evening.

Mr. A B Cunningham presided at the meeting, which was opened with a piano solo by Mrs. Tremeer. A delightfully varied programme was given followed by refreshments.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday was a very warm day, but to-day is a little warmer. At noon the official figures were 89 degrees in the shade — identical with the official figures as the highest for yesterday. The lowest recorded during the night was 65 degrees, quite a difference from a few weeks ago, when in the neighbourhood of the freezing point was a usual occurrence. A thunderstorm is not improbable.

PRESENTED PRESIDENT WITH GOLD CROSS

Mrs. Walter Boswell Kindly Remembered by Members of Girl's Auxiliary

Last night the home of Mrs. Walter Boswell, 575 AAylmer street, was invaded by a large number of young ladies, members of the Girls' Auxiliary of St. Luke's church to bid farewell to their reSident, prior to her leaving on an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. Casaan, in Alberta.

The object of the visit was to present her with a gold cross on which her initials were engraved, as a token of affectionate regard for Mrs. Boswell.

ANKLE WAS BADLY CUT WHILE YACHTING

Accident to Mr. Hugesson on the Otonabee River Last Night

Mr. T. Knatchbull Hugessen, electrical engineer from Edmonton, who is a guest of Mr. G. P. Preen, manager of the Brinton Carpet Factory, met with a painful accident yesterday evening which will confine him to his bed for probably a week or more. He was enjoying a sail on the Otonabee on Mr. Preen's yacht when his ankle was accidently struck by the set pin on the collar of the shaft and badly cut.

Mr. Hugessen was taken to the Nicholls Hospital where he will be obliged to remain for a week at least.

HAVELOCK BARBERS JOIN LOCAL UNION; WILL NOW CHARGE CITY SCHEDULE

Yesterday three new members were received into the Peterborough Barbers' Union. They constitute the tonsorial population of Havelock, and henceforth, following their admission into the union, the prices of hair-cuts in that town will be increased to those prevailing in Peterborough, 20 cents, while the same rate will apply to shaves, ten cents for a straight shave, and five cents for a neck shave.

The prices hitherto have been 10 and 10 cents.

The increase into the union was effected by Mr. George Brosseau and H. C. Gainey of this city, who went to the railway town for that purpose. The proprietors of the two shops in Havelock are Messrs. Williams and Morris.

Immense Sun Spots Were Discovered By Dr. Marsh

91,000 Miles Length of Largest Spot—Had Increased Materially in Size Up to Last Night.

MASTERPIECE OF LATE FRANK NORRIS SECURED FOR EXAMINER READERS

Commencing to-day the Examiner publishes the opening chapters of a new story, "Moran of the Lady Letty." This is one of the best works of the late Frank Norris, one of the most brilliant of modern writers. Instalments of this story will not be published every day — space will not permit — but they will be given every day that a 12- or 16-page paper is issued, except Saturday, when the regular story, "The Hound of the Baskervilles," will be given.

"Moran, of the Lady Letty," is a good story. Do not miss the opening chapters, and be sure and get a copy of every paper in which it is given.

PUBLIC WARD RATES ARE RAISED

Secretary of Nicholls Hospital Has Received Letter of Notification From Dr. Smith

RAISED TO 70c. PER DAY

The following letter has been received by the secretary of the Nicholls' Hospital, Mr. J. Crane, from the Inspector of Hospitals, and Charities:

Dear Sir, — I beg to inform you that at the session of the Legislature of Ontario, for 1907, the Charity Aid Act was amended, so that the clause now relating to free patients now reads:

"But no person shall be deemed a paying patient by reason only of the payment by any municipal corporation to such institution, of any sum which, together with the amount contributed by such patient or on his behalf from other sources will not exceed each week the sum of $4.90.

Until further notice this Department will regard patients paying $4.90 and less per week as free patients under the terms of the Act.

This change in the law was approved April 20, 1907, and will come into effect on and after May 1st, 1907.

I have the honour to remain,
Your obedient servant,
R. W. BRUCE SMITH,
Inspector.

Previously the free patient rate receiving a Government grant was 50 cents per day. The Government has considered the increased cost of maintenance under which hospitals are now working and have sanctioned the increase of 20 cents per day.

The Nicholls Hospital will place the new rate in operation on the 17th inst.

MR. ADAM DAWSON HAS PASSED AWAY

MAGNETIC INFLUNCES

By some means an error was made in giving the size of the sun spots referred to in the Examiner of Saturday. The revised measurements of the area of the spots are 80,000 miles long by from 35,000 to 40,000 miles wide.

On Thursday last, Rev. Dr. Marsh, from whom the Examiner obtained the information relative to the spots, noticed a disturbance on the eastern limb of the sun, and was, of course, prepared for what followed.

The despatches contained in the papers yesterday, announcing the discovery of the spots at the Washington Observatory by Prof. Peters, also contained some errors. They stated that the area of the spots amounted to 800,000 square miles, whereas the total area of the sun is only 866,000 square miles.

At 7 o'clock last night a measurement was made by Dr. Marsh and it was found that they had increased to 91,160 by 34,050 square miles. It is anticipated that in the course of a few days there will be a disintegration of the whole disturbance, but in the meantime there will be some severe magnetic disturbances on the earth, though it has never been established that these solar disturbances have any effect on the meteorological conditions.

Rev. Dr. Marsh made a number of excellent photographs of the spots during Saturday and Monday.

JUNE SESSION COUNTY COUNCIL OPEN

Adjourned Until Evening to Attend the Ennismore Picnic

The regular June Session of the County Council opened at one o'clock-to-day with Warden McNulty in the chair. No business other than declaring the session open was done, as the councillors and the Warden wished to attend the Ennismore picnic, which they drove out to this afternoon.

Those present were Warden McNulty and Councillors Porter, Fife, Darling, Breault, Scott, Killen, Thompson, Moher, Johnston, Shaw, Booth, Coben, Dr. Burgess and Hales.

A night session will be held this evening beginning at 8 o'clock, when Warden McNulty will deliver his opening address.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

EDWARD MORAN PAID FINE WITH SILVER

Had Plenty of Loose Coin—Arrested for Being Drunk

At the police court this morning in the absence of Police Magistrate Dumble, Mr. Armstrong, City Clerk, occupied the bench to deal with three men whom the police had locked in the cells.

Edward Moran was charged with having been drunk in a public place. He pleaded guilty and was fined $2, which he paid. Moran said he was from Boston, Mass., and was working with Mr. John Grady, of Indian River. He had a handfull of five, ten and twenty-five cent pieces, and Chief Rossel remarked, "Where did you get all the silver? Have you been robbing a church?" The prisoner replied in the negative.

Charles Beavis was fined $2 and costs, amounting in all to $5.50 for disorderly conduct while drunk. He was given seven days to pay for it, and three days grace.

John McIntyre was charged with being a vagrant. He is an umbrella repairer and a few shady stories are reported about him. The Chief asked for a remand until Thursday, when a number of witnesses will be on hand.

Products Of Brinton Carpet Factory In Great Demand

Mr. Reginald S. Brinton, of Kidderminster, One of Directors of the Company, in the City—Greatly Pleased With Progress Made by Local Factory.

METHODS OF MANUFACTURE

Mr. Reginald S. Brinton, of Kidderminster, England, a director of Brintons, Limited, and also a director of the Brinton Carpet Company of Canada, Limited, arrived in the city last Friday on a three weeks' visit to the Canadian factory in Peterborough. When seen by the Examiner this morning, Mr. Brinton expressed himself as being highly satisfied with the great progress the local factory has made since its erection only a few months ago.

Mr. Brinton was one of the three men representing the English company who first came to Canada over a year ago to search for a Canadian site upon which to build a factory to cope with the Canadian demand for their products. The other two men who accompanied him at that time were Mr. G. P. Preen, the present managing director, and Mr. Whitehead, sales manager.

The present distinguished visitor of the big firm, remarked that it was certainly a pleasant surprise to find the factory running so smoothly and also to discover that the demand for their products was greater than the supply. This was a feature of the business most desirable and of much encouragement to the directors.

"The Brinton Carpet Company," he said, "have accomplished everything expected to be done in the short time since we started," and the company, he considered, had reason to rejoice over that fact.

"We have never yet felt the least cause for regretting establishing a Canadian branch," he added, "and we are all glad of the general prosperity of the country, in which we all believe."

Speaking of the manufacturing of carpets in England, Mr. Brinton said that recently they had had rough times with the high prices of material, and were unable to get their prices up accordingly. But things were shaping better lately, and the demand for their products was entirely satisfactory.

Recently, he stated, Brinton had formed into a limited company, as has been previously published. The president of the Brinton Carpet Company of Canada is Mr. Reginald Brinton's father, who is also chairman of Brintons Limited. The directors are Mr. G. N Preen, his son, Mr. G. P. Preen, the local manager, Mr. Reginald S. Brinton, and his brother, Major J. C. Brinton, M.V.O., D.S.O. Mr. Cecil Brinton, a younger brother, who was here from last November until March, is the secretary.

Mr. Brinton sailed on the Adriatic, which was on its second voyage across the Atlantic, and states that he had a very pleasant voyage. The Adriatic is 725 feet in length, and is said to be the largest passenger steamship afloat. He arrived in Peterborough on Friday and will remain her for about three weeks. He is greatly pleased with the city, both as a location for a factory site, and for its natural beauty and resources and hopes that within a short time the Brinton Carpet Company's Canadian factory will be one of the most important manufacturing establishments of the city.

No Band at Park

Owing to the march out of the 57th Regiment there will be no band at Jackson Park this evening.

Spontaneous Combustion Destroyed Douro Barn

Mr. J. A. Crowe's New Outbuildings Totally Destroyed Yesterday Afternoon Near Warsaw.

THE LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, June 18.—Yesterday afternoon the large new barn of Mr. J. A. Crowe, who lives on lot 15, concession 1, of Douro, was totally destroyed by fire which occurred in rather a mysterious manner. It is believed that spontaneous combustion was the the cause of the fire's origin. After once having started the fire gained headway so rapidly that it was impossible to check its progress and the building was destroyed, together with four horses and about 900 bushels of grain. The cow and horse stables were destroyed with the barn.

The barn, which was practically new, was worth about $1,500, and Mr. Crowe's loss will be heavy.

THE STRATHCONAS ARE AHEAD

One Run in Lead of West Ends as a Result of Last Night's Game

The intermediate City League game between the West Ends and Strathconas last night at St. Andrew's Guild field furnished a surprise. The invincible West Ends playing on their own grounds were thought to have it on the Strathconas in every way, but the boys from the north played snappy ball and as a result of the first four innings played, the Strathconas are ahead by one run, the score being 2—1 in their favour. The West Ends scored one in the first, after two were down, while the Strathconas filled the bases with no one out, but Butcher steamed up and held them there. Two were scored by the north end aggregation in the second on a hit through short stop and a low throw to the plate.

The game was the best in the league, both teams played clean, fast ball. Weatherston saved two possible scores by pretty stops and throws at short stop. Both Butcher and Parnell pitched good ball, but former was not as effective as usual. The will be finished on Wednesday night and the finish should be exciting.

The teams were as follows:—

Strathconas.—Parnell p, Wilson c, Allison 1b, Dormer 2b, Weatherston ss, Curtis, 3b, Regan lf, Parnell cf, Heard rf.

West Ends.—Butcher p, McNern c, King 1b, Halpin 2b, Rowe ss, Cameron 3b, L Dobson lf, C Dobson cf, Moore rf.

Umpire—F. Craig.

CONSISTENCY

The aim of conferences and synods in combatting evil by resolution is, in every way, commendable. These bodies, as a whole, no doubt, are in earnest and really mean what they say. But are they consistent? Motions of the nature of the Toronto New Year resolution are not all; they must be complemented by consistent action throughout. Are "grafting" and all that that odious word stands for, confined to political, social and commercial life? Rev. Mr. Kettlewell, a Methodist minister of St. Thomas, has resigned from the ministry rather than accept the "small and unimportant" station of Lambeth." He claims that he "has been jockeyed out of a better station by the scramble of the members of the Stationing Committee to improve their own condition at the expense of those whose terms have expired by limitation." What is the use or sense or consistency in synods denouncing race track, bridge whist and other forms of gambling and crookedness, when the most important and responsible committee of a conference is guilty, if Rev. Mr. Kettlewell's charge is true of analogous (wrong-doing? We give it many name to the action of a Government office-holder who prostitutes his position to his own advantage or that of his party. But, according to synods and conferences, we don't expect much from that class of persons. We naturally expect more from ministers, whose calling is regarded as sacred and who raise their clarion voices in condemnation of the misdeeds of secular sinners. Have we not a reason to be disappointed when we see, as charged by one of themselves, these same ministers committing the same crime—in principle—which they condemn in secular sinners? If we could see into the hearts of ministers in their gatherings, we are assured by those who claim to know, that we should see the same bickering, the same spirit of jealousy, the same spirit of "graft" in its form that we see in the hearts of members of our Legislatures. And it may be asked, do we not see the same anxiety to condone crookedness and wrong-doing, to hush up compromising matters that we see in political life?

But Mr. Kettlewell is not, himself, quite consistent. He claims to be the victim of "graft," but is he not himself, in one sense, a disappointed grafter? He wanted, to enjoy the profane language of the profane world, "a soft sit." Is he quite consistent in declaring that, in default of his getting the parochial plum he was seeking, he will enter into some worldly business there is more money in? That is to say, his action justifies the reproach that the scoffer will be sure to make that he followed his Lord for the sake of the loaves and fishes. He claims to be an imitator of St. Paul, who was a maker of tents. But with a difference. St. Paul made tents to keep body and soul together, so that he would be independent and not "be a charge on any man." At the same time he never, for a moment, lost sight of the holy mission to which he was called. He was "not disobedient unto the heavenly vision," but pursued the bitter path of duty—obeyed the call—to the bitter end. If Rev. Mr. Kettlewell had a "divine call" to the ministry of the Gospel only one authority can release him and he is bound to obey that call to the end. If, however, he entered the ministry as a money-making occupation and when, to again use the profane language of the vulgar, it "doesn't pan-out" as expected, he is perfectly consistent in going into something else that pays better.

What is the moral of all this? That ministers who are governed in their divine calling by worldly considerations, have no warrant to reprove in others the sins which, in principle they, themselves, practice, according to members of their own bodies. What force can their reproof possess? The love of money—worldly profit and advancement—is the root of all evil—

And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given he offered them money, saying, give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him. Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money. Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter; for thy heart is not right in the sight God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

If clergymen and ministers set up a high standard for politicians, business men and society people, let them live up to the high standard their Master has set—"first cast the beam out of thine own eye, then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye." These remarks are founded upon, and are claimed to be fairly deducible, from the information given and the motion taken by the St. Thomas minister. Such conditions do not for one moment impugn the verities of religion. There are hosts of ministers who serve their calling with a single eye, and without ulterior motives. There are thousands of honest men in political life. There are thousands of honest business men. They might speak words of reproof consistently. But what would you think of a political crook reproving political crookedness? Ergo—

HONEYMOON ON WHEELS.

Novel Car Utilized For Comforts of Ordinary House.

In a builder's yard in Fulham stands the quaintest little home in London, a caravan resplendent with brass and mahogany fittings. During the winter months this snug little home has been occupied by a young married couple, who toured the eastern counties in it during the summer.

"We shall not tour again this summer" said W. Barron, the proud owner of this house on wheels, "because my wife thinks it is time we settled down, and for that reason I am thinking of selling it. But I shall be sorry to part with our little home, for in spite of its small dimensions we have been very happy in it."

Mr. Barron believes that his caravan, which is built on Pullman car lines, is the replica of one owned by Lord Dudley. He bought it from the first owner, who fitted it with mirrors in the walls and ceiling and many ingenious devices for saving space. Over all the car is 21 feet long and 8 feet wide. It has a front door and a side door, so that the owner can attach a portable kitchen or a tent to one end.

Every inch of space is utilized, and it is really remarkable how many things are to be found in the long, narrow sitting room and the tiny bedroom. There is a smart little range, which, Mrs. Barron says, cooks splendidly. The coal cellar is a large, deep drawer, which pulls out from underneath the range, and holds at least half a hundredweight. On one side of the chimney-piece, which is furnished with a miniature overmantel and china ornaments, is an airing cupboard.

Cupboards are indeed to be found in the most unexpected places. On one side of the end entrance door is a hanging closet for Mrs. Barron's dresses; on the other side the china closet, with a "wine cellar" underneath. Two upholstered seats lift up and reveal spacious recesses. The flap of the table folds upward instead of down, and becomes a chest of drawers. In the bedroom, which is about 8x8 feet, the bed occupies most of the space, but there is room for a washstand and dressing table as well.

Waiting God's Time.

When God makes a promise to His people, it is certain that He means to keep it; but the time thereof He has kept in His own hands. A long interval may elapse between the one and the other. When the seed is cast into the soil, we do not go forth immediately to reap the harvest. We must wait. Many long weeks come and go before the golden grain is gathered home. The promises we plead in prayer go straight to heaven, but sometimes they wait there, like a ship in foreign ports; then, after a time, and perhaps after long seasons of weeping and waiting, they return with their precious cargoes to enrich and refresh our souls. But this is not, be it remembered, God's invariable mode of dealing with His children. It often happens that as soon as the promise is brought to the throne of grace, or the sigh escapes the lips, or the tear falls, the answer comes. "And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear."

It is enough to know that God has an appointed time for the performance of His purposes, and that they are not left to chance. Every promise of His is stated, but with a mysterious character; and it is because of our inability to read His chronography that we so often give way to deepair, and think He has forgotten us. If the promise seems to tarry, wait for it—"it will surely come it will not tarry." It may tarry beyond the expected time, but not beyond the appointed time.

Formula for Eyebrow Grower.

Ordinary vaseline makes the very best tonic for both brows and lashes, as it promotes the growth and also strengthens the eyes. Mix two ounces red vaseline, an eighth of an ounce tincture of cantharides and fifteen drops each oil rosemary and lavender. Apply once a day with a tiny tooth brush. The constant use of vaseline on the eyebrows will darken them.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS AGNES IRWIN.

The Accomplished Dean of Radcliffe College.

Fully able to shine by the light of her own intellect and accomplishments is Miss Agnes Irwin, dean of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass. Although a great-great-granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin, she has no need to depend upon the luminosity of her distinguished ancestor to bring honors to herself.

This fact was emphasized by Andrew Carnegie when, representing St. Andrew's college of Scotland, he conferred upon her the degree of LL. D. The degree was conferred upon Miss Irwin in Witherspoon hall, Philadelphia, on the night of April 17, 1906, at a meeting of the American Philosophical society, held to celebrate the Franklin bicentennial.

It was a rare honor too. Only three women had ever received it. Mr. Carnegie made it plain that the honor was never given except in recognition of personal achievement.

MISS AGNES IRWIN, LL. D.

Miss Irwin might have descended from plain William Brown, although she is justly proud of holding in her veins the blood of America's great printer, philosopher, statesman. She has won her own way to the front rank of modern educators.

Since its organization in 1894 Miss Irwin has been dean of Radcliffe college. Previous to her service there she had distinguished herself in educational work in Philadelphia.

The lectures at Radcliffe are delivered by the professors of Harvard, so that Miss Irwin's mission there has been not to teach, but to influence and guide young women in their choice of studies—to be to them an example of rare scholarship, combined with womanly charm.—Buffalo Times.

Diet That Cleans the Complexion.

In the diet much may be done to improve physical conditions. Fruit should always be eaten, but especially at this season. Baked and stewed apples, prunes, stewed figs and dates should be taken freely. Bananas are the least desirable of any fruit. Fresh rhubarb, stewed, has a positively beneficial effect upon the complexion and should be eaten at least once a day, but not in the form of tarts or pies. As a sauce it is most helpful.

Any fresh vegetables should be put on the diet list. Spinach is excellent, so are beets, and summer squash is in market and is not costly. Heavy meats, such as roast beef, pork and the like, should be eaten sparingly and fish, eggs and poultry substituted.

Every effort should be made not to eat food difficult of digestion. The liver is inclined to be torpid, and this condition immediately affects the complexion. Pastries and all fried things should be given up entirely, and one should exercise all that is possible, for this is an aid to the organs performing their functions.

If pimples appear, make an ointment of two grams of beta naphthol, twenty grams of sulphur precipitate and twenty grams of potash soap. Rub over the pimples at night.

Cucumber is one of nature's own cosmetics. Try using a slice of cucumber instead of soap for washing the face. Don't throw away the rind. Boil it and use the water for washing the face.

Moist Hands.

Much can be done to improve the condition of moist hands, and one may begin by wetting thoroughly every day with a mixture of two ounces of cologne and two drams of tincture of belladonna. Always use this after washing.

Make another lotion of one dram of isinglass, one dram of turpentine and two drams of oxide of zinc ointment. Put the turpentine into a small basin and set into boiling water. When the turpentine is warm, add the isinglass and keep at a gentle heat until the isinglass is dissolved. Care must be taken that the turpentine does not come into direct contact with heat or it will burn. The basin will have heat enough if put over a radiator.

When the isinglass is dissolved, pour the liquid slowly over the ointment, working it smoothly.

Rub this thoroughly into the palms at night and if possible twice during the day. Finish with any powder in the daytime.

Pretty Centerpiece.

At a child's birthday party a pretty table center was made with a bowl of goldfish set in a wreath of flowers. The wreath was made of as many small bouquets as there were children, each tied with narrow ribbons with long ends. After the refreshments were served the children gathered around the table and to each a ribbon was given. At a signal there was a general pull, and the pretty wreath broke up into separate pieces, to the delight of the youngsters. The supper was a model for the purpose, bouillon in cups, cream chicken served in little paper cases, with mock sandwiches rolled and tied with narrow ribbons, then a simple lemon ice served in small punch mugs, a candied cherry in each mug, and with this was handed round home made sponge cake baked in large roasting pan sheets and broken, not cut, in generous pieces. Finally came some gay mottoes and a few bonbons.

Baby's Bath Blanket.

One of the most useful articles for the layette is the flannel blanket for baby's bath. The bath blanket is not only an apron for the protection of the mother's gown, but also a soft warm wrap to infold the delicate little body of the infant as it is taken from the tub. These blankets are usually made of a good heavyweight wool flannel, and two yards of material are required. Double the goods, which gives two lengths of one yard each. Make a tuck an inch deep where the flannel is folded over, and run through it inch wide wash ribbon of any preferred color, having it sufficiently long to tie around the waist when in use. The edges of this blanket apron may have a binding of wash ribbon corresponding in color to the waist ribbon, or they may be simply buttonholed with wash silk.

WITNESS FOR DEFENCE DEAD.

Orchard Will Give Further Evidence —Adams and His Confession.

Boise, Idaho, June 18.—When the Steunenberg murder trial is resumed to-day Harry Orchard will be called to the stand by the state. The defence will put a series of formal impeachment questions to him and then the prosecution will take him for his redirect examination. There are several points relative to the Steunenberg murder and the alleged conspiracy behind it that were not developed last week, and these the state will bring out.

Counsel for the state had an extended conference yesterday afternoon as to the concluding moves in their case. The conference was entirely relative to the course to be pursued toward Steve Adams. The decision as to Adams was not final, but it was tentatively agreed to call him as a witness for the state, and to leave him for the defence if it sees fit to make him a witness. Adams stands by the repudiation of the confession which he made to Detective McPartland, and there his connection with the case other than in the use of his name, rests for the present.

Important Witness Dies.

Canon City, Col., June 18.—Charles King, an important witness for the defence in the Haywood trial at Boise, Idaho, died from neuralgia of the heart on Sunday. Bloodhounds belonging to King were used in tracking, after the dynamiting of the Independence Depot. An hour after his death a telegram came addressed to King, summoning him to Boise.

YOUNG HERO DROWNED.

Tried to Save Companion But Lost His Own Life.

Ottawa, June 18.—While attempting to save a companion with whom he went in bathing, Joseph Laviolette, aged 21 years, of Scarsfield, was drowned Sunday evening in Fowes Creek, a little below Rockland.

The name of his companion was Lamoureux, a fellow employe on the Canadian Northern, who was unable to swim. He got beyond his depth, and, calling for help, Laviolette went out to him with a stick. Lamoureux caught hold of it, and in his struggles pulled Laviolette in.

The latter got into a hole near the rapids, and, not being a swimmer, soon was drowned.

DOCTOR SHOT HIS WIFE.

Resented Her Interference In Quarrel With Maid Servant.

New York, June 18.—Dr. Samuel S. Guy, a Far Rockaway dentist, was placed on trial in the supreme court at Flushing, L. I., yesterday, charged with having murdered his wife at their home last April. Mrs. Guy came into a large fortune at the death of her father, B. B. Mott, two years ago.

It is alleged Guy came home after having been drinking and began to annoy a servant. When Mrs. Guy interfered there was a quarrel and Mrs. Guy was fatally shot. The doctor is 59 years old. His wife was 52.

Eleven jurors had been secured when court adjourned till to-day.

FARMER BADLY ROBBED.

Safe Forced In His Absence and $1,000 With Jewellery Abstracted.

Mineola, L. I., June 18.—The Oswald farmhouse, on the old Jericho Turnpike, between this place and Westbury, was the scene on Sunday of one of the boldest robberies in years.

The thieves drove up to the farmhouse in a red touring car, knocked down Herman Schwester, a farm hand, forced several ounces of chloral down his throat, then broke open a safe and carried off $1,000 in cash and several pieces of valuable jewelry.

CHILDREN'S GRUESOME FIND.

Discovered Their Parents Dead With Their Throats Cut.

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—William Boulo, a carpenter, aged 35 years, cut his wife's throat Sunday night in their home at 427 Beard avenue, and then slashed his own throat with the same razor. Both died where they fell, in a bedroom where there were two children sleeping.

When the two children, aged seven and five years, awakened, yesterday morning, they found the bodies on the floor and called the neighbors.

PRISONER SCORES JUDGE.

Sent to Prison For Life—Says Evidence Was Perjured.

Rochester, N.Y., June 18.—Big Ed. Kelly, of Boston, who on Saturday was convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Edward Pullman, of Sodus, was yesterday sentenced to Auburn Prison for the rest of his life by Mr. Justice Sutherland in the Supreme Court. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, Kelly replied that there was. He said he had been convicted by perjured testimony and that the judge had acted as a thirteenth juror.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 17.—(Special.)—At the Montreal stock yards, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 15, were 3570 cattle, 879 sheep and lambs, 3512 hogs and 1416 calves. The supply for local consumption to-day consisted of 1200 cattle, 350 sheep and lambs, 425 hogs, and 295 calves. Since this day week a much stronger feeling has prevailed in the market for cattle and prices have advanced ¼c to ½c per lb. Such is a gain of ½c to ¾c over the decline noted in these columns last week. A feature of the market for hogs was the exceedingly small run, there being only 425 head offered, as compared with 1800 a week ago. This fact, however, had no influence on the situation, as packers and local dealers were fairly well supplied with stock. Consequently the competition between buyers was not keen and this, coupled with the easier advices from all foreign sources on Canadian bacon, tended to check any advance in prices and sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.50 per cwt., weighed off cars. Supplies of sheep and lambs were more plentiful, but as the demand for this class of stock is very good, prices are still well maintained, all the good to choice sheep meeting with a ready sale at 5c per lb. for export account, and lambs sold at $4 to $6 each, while calves brought from $3 to $8 each.

OPPOSED WINE TAX.

French Government Defeated in the Chamber of Deputies Yesterday.

Paris, June 18.—The Government was defeated yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies on the sugar clause of the wine bill, designed to prevent fraud. Finance Minister Caillaux insisted on a supplementary tax of sixty-five francs per hundred kilos on sugar used in the manufacture of certain wines but the chamber rejected the proposal by 294 to 256 votes, whereupon the session was suspended.

It is expected that the Government will compromise on the lower rate suggested by the northern deputies.

Later M. Caillaux announced that the Government had decided to reduce the supplementary tax to forty francs per 100 kilos. This was adopted 341 to 215 votes, and the Government's position was thus saved.

Will Prosecute Leaders.

The Government has decided to arrest and prosecute all the leaders of the wine growers' revolt. Instructions yesterday were telegraphed to the local authorities at Argelliers to arrest Marcelin Albert, the leader of the movement, but Albert, anticipating the Government's action, concealed himself.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS FIRM.

May Leave the Province of Ontario As Result of Trouble.

Ottawa, June 18.—There is little likelihood that the trouble with the Christian Brothers will be smoothed over, and they will carry out their original intention of removing entirely from the Province of Ontario. This only affects Toronto and Ottawa.

Brother Philadelphus stated yesterday that they refused absolutely to attend the normal school with female teachers.

KILLED BY DYNAMITE.

Thirty Lose Their Lives as Result of Vengeful Act.

London, June 18.—A despatch to The Standard from Lisbon says that an explosion of dynamite at Covihilo, a manufacturing town, killed thirty persons. It is believed that the explosion was caused by dismissed workmen, who sought vengeance.

Estimate of Wheat Average.

Winnipeg, June 18.—The Northwest Grain Dealers' Association issued their estimate of acreage up to June 1 yesterday. In the three western provinces, Frank Fowler, the secretary, says there are 8,155,457 acres under cereals.

CANADIAN INDIANS.

Red Men Come Miles to See a Circus Display.

Canadian Indians are in some respects more interesting than those in the United States, due partly to the fact that in sparsely settled parts of Canada they still retain their old dress and customs. They have always been peaceful on account of the Mounted Police, who in the early days taught the Indians to consider them as friends. As a result of this treatment there has been no Indian massacre, and the red men come into town be-decked in gaudy apparel and take their place in barter and trade with as much assurance as their white brethren.

The Canadian Indians are particularly fond of circuses and on circus day they may be seen on the street corners eagerly waiting for the procession. Usually the braves are dressed in a combination of store clothes and Indian finery. Over the coat is thrown an expensive but dirty Indian blanket, around the neck is worn a flaming colored bandana, and the hair is worn in two long braids, the ends of which are lengthened by twisting in ermine skins, which in this region sell for a few cents each. The brave is always smoking a queer shaped pipe, sometimes made of pipe stone and at others whittled from a piece of hard wood.

Down on the street corners, squatting on the curbing, are the squaws, old hags and young women, all careworn and usually holding in their blankets a little papoose, which is hoisted up on its mother's shoulder as the procession passes. The Indians seem dumfounded by the street parade, and as soon as it passes prepare to trudge home to the reservation, many miles away, with the air of people who have witnessed the sight of their lives.

A Good Card Game.

"The happy pair" is played with two packs of cards, from which a king of hearts, a queen of diamonds, a knave of clubs and queen of spades have been extracted. They are then dealt around equally, and the company proceed to pair, as if playing "old maid." Finally the persons left with the queen of hearts and king of diamonds, the queen of clubs and knave of spades hand each other their cards till one of the party gets both the red cards and another both the black ones. The owner of the king and queen will be married happily, while the other will be the hero or heroine of an unlucky love affair.

Much Work On Streets Finished This Season

Board of Works Made a Tour of Inspection Yesterday ---Well Satisfied With the Progress that is Being Made and With the Work Done

The Board of Works Committee, accompanied by the City Engineer, and City Clerk Armstrong, drove around the city yesterday, for the purpose of inspecting the work that has been done this year, and, on the whole, discovered matters in a fairly satisfactory condition. A large amount of work has been done, and done well, this season, and although in some cases, improvements will have to be made, the general result is gratifying to the committee.

The members of the Board present were Ald. Duncan, chairman; Ald. Wilson, and the Mayor. The party left the city hall in a carriage, at 4 o'clock, and headed for East City, stopping for a moment to inspect the new pavement that has been laid on the south side of Simcoe street, east of Water. The sidewalk was considered well laid, but some work will have to be done in cleaning up the street.

The first place visited in East City was Driscoll Terrace, where a new pavement has been laid under the supervision of Foreman J. Thirnbeck. The condition in which this was laid was very satisfactory.

The party next visited the work which is being done on the diversion of the East City Creek. A large number of men are at work under Mr. R. Tivey, and satisfactory progress is being made. A cement drain into the river, 3 1-2 x 4 feet is being constructed, and this is expected to be sufficiently large to take care of any overflow of water that may come its way.

Leaving this point the Board inspected the extension of Hunter street east to the Lift Lock, after first looking at the new pavements on Mark and Rogers street. On Rogers street the Engineer was instructed to have the bridge over the creek lowered.

The work on the extension of Hunter street is going ahead rapidly. A large number of men are at work cutting down the grade, and this much needed improvement will be carried ahead as quickly as possible.

The condition of Hunter street, between Concession and Rogers streets, was the subject of unfavourable comment, and Contractor Sheehy, who constructed a sewer there, will be asked to have the street put in as good shape as he found it. At present it is in a disgraceful condition.

Rogers street south needs some improvement also, and this will be done at once.

Returning to this side of the river, the Board inspected Water street north, first visiting the section of pavement between Dublin and Antrim streets, which is being laid under the supervision of Foreman Thirnbeck. This work is being pushed ahead rapidly and a satisfactory job is being done.

It is probable that the street will have to be widened at the Goose Pond as the sidewalk is being built on a line with the southern and northern sections of the walk and is well into the middle of the road.

Water street north, where considerable work has been done this spring, was found in a greatly improved condition. The road roller has been at work on one side of the street and a large amount of broken stone and gravel has been used to good effect. The northern part, between the Colonial Weaving Company's mill and the city boundary, which was formerly characterized as the worst thoroughfare between Apsley and Peterborough, is now a very creditable piece of road, having been built up and rolled. The improvement made is wonderful, and no doubt is being greatly appreciated by the hundreds of people who drive over the road each day.

On the way south the Board examined Antrim street and Division street, on both of which sewers have recently been constructed. The streets, as a result, are not in as good a condition as they might be, but they will be put in shape at once.

The Board next visited Brock street where a pavement is being laid from Aylmer street to Stewart street, under the supervision of Street Commissioner Evans. This was found to be progressing favourably.

From there the Board went by way of Aylmer street to King street where a block of sewer is being laid from Bethune street to Stewart street under Foreman Neary.

Sherbrooke street was next visited, and the long section of sewer 1900 feet in length that has been laid by Foreman White and his gang, was inspected. The section which runs from Park street to the boundary, is almost completed with the exception of a few private connections.

The party drove down the boundary road upon which the Monaghan township council had asked the city to do some work.

The opening of George street, south, was found to be very nearly completed, with the exception of the crossing over the G.T.R. tracks and a small section at Lake street, the latter not interfering with traffic. A small house on Mr. Rush's property has been moved to one side. Some gravel will have to be put on, after which the road will be in good shape.

Returning to the city hall by way of George street, the party was given an opportunity of inspecting that thoroughfare, the condition of which south of King street needs some attention.

The new concrete crossings laid on George street as well as the section of pavement on the west side of George street between King and Charlotte street were also looked over.

Before dispersing the Board discussed the problem of how to deal with the streets upon which sewers have been laid. Different methods will be tried by the Board to remedy the condition of affairs as it was felt that the streets should be left in as good condition as possible.

The following work has been done or is under course of construction by the Board of Works:

Sidewalks—

Douro street, north side, Driscoll to Rogers.

Driscoll street, east side, Hunter to Douro.

Mark street, both sides, Hunter to Robinson.

Mark street, west side, Hunter to Douro.

Rogers street, east side, Hunter to Douro.

SUMMER COTTAGES ALONG THE OTONABEE

Mr. Tully is Contemplating the Erection of a Number of Villas

It is probable that by next year the banks of the Otonabee river, about a mile below the Locks, will be dotted with summer cottages. Mr. William Tully, who resides on the Otonabee side, across from Crawford's Grove, is contemplating the erection of a row of summer cottages along the bank of the river, fronting his property.

The situation is the Yankee Bonnet, and one of the prettiest that can be found on the banks of the Otonabee. It is covered with some pretty trees, and green grass, two necessary qualifications for the erection of a summer home. There is also a never failing spring on the bank, which is an invaluable convenience.

The cottages will be put up for rent to the business men of the city, who cannot go too far away from their places of business. They will be able to have their families spend their summer by the Otonabee, and to spend a considerable portion of their time there also.

Mr. Tully has not yet definitely decided to erect the cottages but it is likely that he soon will, as a number of the business men of the city have agreed to rent them when erected.

IRISH COUNCIL BILL

Mr. Birrell Introduces Measure In British House of Commons.

The British Government's long expected measure looking to home rule for Ireland was introduced in the Commons by the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Augustine Birrell, amid an uproar of shouts and protests of "gag" as it was forced to the first vote under the closure rule. It passed the first reading, 16 to 121. It appears to be one of those compromise enactments which are safe for the party enacting but not altogether satisfactory to any party.

Mr. Birrell said that it contained no new legislative power, that it changed no taxes and that the Irish people would continue to send representatives to the Imperial Parliament in London. Though thus limited in scope, the bill would have the object of associating sentiment of the Irish people with the administration of many purely local affairs. He would admit that "Dublin Castle rule" had proved a failure. To take over the control of the boards of local government, agriculture and technical instruction, public works, education, correction and the registrar's office, the bill proposes to set up a national council consisting of eighty-two elected and twenty-four nominated members besides the Under Secretary ex-officio. The members would be elected from a local franchise which gives peers and women the right to vote. The King would name the first non-elective members and after that they would be named by the Lord-Lieutenant. But no act of the council would be valid unless approved by the Lord-Lieutenant, and any vetoes by him would be open for discussion before the Imperial Parliament. For funds it is proposed to create an Irish treasury to be replenished every five years by act of Parliament, starting at about $10,000,000 a year for current expenses.

PREMIER WHO SINGS SONGS.

Hon. Thomas Bent Is An Unconventional Statesman.

The Hon. Thomas Bent, Premier of Victoria, is the latest addition to the numerous array of colonial public men now in London. He is a decidedly unconventional statesman, and the habit into which he has fallen of late—introducing snatches of song into his speeches—has brought some severe censures on his head from the Australian press. He was told that such eccentricities were entirely out of harmony with the dignity of the office he held. But apparently the electors have no objection to the innovation, for a few weeks ago they maintained him and his Government in power at a general election by a large majority. Mr. Bent is a remarkable man of some seventy years, frank, outspoken, and genial. He began life as a market gardener, and entered the State Assembly in 1873. Since then, with one brief interval, he has followed a political career, and has held many offices in the State Government. Many stories are told of his bluff manners. A member of a deputation was rude to him on one occasion, and Mr. Bent advanced to him with such a demeanor that the offender rushed from the room. But the Minister followed him, and brought him back again to apologize.

Two years ago he presided at an entertainment at Bendigo, and sang two comic songs, reminiscent of gold mining days. In a speech afterwards he said no Minister was worth his salt who could not sing a good song or recite well.

THE USE OF FLOWERS.

Their Value at the Table—What Martin Luther Said.

The fact that the daily use of flowers on the home table has grown to be almost universal among some classes of the American people argues well for their appreciation of the aesthetic and the artistic in combination with the more material things of life. Flowers have a refining influence, and it is well to use them where this influence will be exerted over the children most effectively, and at no place about the house do they seem to come into closer companionship with them than at the table.

Martin Luther knew whereof he spoke when he said that a plant in the window was powerful enough sometimes to keep the devil outside. Let the child come to the breakfast table to find himself face to face with a flower or a bit of "green thing growing," and he will have a pleasant memory of the morning meal to carry him throughout the day.

The housewife who neglects to make use of flowers in the administration of the affairs of the home overlooks a potent factor for good. Make it a rule always to have something on the table besides fine china and silver and cut glass to brighten it and make it more attractive than these things can. A few flowers will make the table of the poor man pleasanter than the rich man's without them.

Bishops Use Autos.

The Bishop of London is the latest member of the episcopate to succumb to the motor-car. Dr. Winnington Ingram used to say that his horses were the hardest-worked in London, but, as he now states that, with the aid of an automobile, he hopes to visit his parishes more frequently, the inference is that he will gain rather than lose in influence by shutting down his stable—if, in fact, that step is actually contemplated. Although one bishop after another has taken to the motor-car, there is an impression that the archbishops have yet to be converted to it. Nevertheless, while in the Roman Catholic Church it is still an open question whether it is in accordance with propriety that high dignitaries should employ the automobile, the problem must be regarded as having been solved long since so far as the Anglican hierarchy is concerned.

GREAT BALL GAME THIS WEEK

Port Hope Will Meet the Locals Here on Thursday

Local fans will have an opportunity on Thursday afternoon of seeing the best ball game of the season, when the invincible Port Hope team, leaders in the Midland League race, will meet Manager Johnston's Peterborough aggregation at the Riverside park. The lakeshore bunch is playing great ball this season, and are apparently unbeatable, with the great Surphlis in the box. On Saturday they put the Indian sign on Oshawa to the tune of 16—1, only two hits being made off Surphlis. The locals will work hard to take their measure. They had a good practice last night and played very snappy ball. Either Flaherty or Burns will pitch on Thursday and the team will be strengthened by the presence of Haliburton at 3rd base; Haliburton filled the third corner to perfection for the Artics in the series of games here and will be of great assistance to the locals. There will no doubt be a big crowd on hand for the game. The Port Hope and Cobourg moulders are running an excursion to the city on that day and will bring with them 500 people, most of whom will undoubtedly take in the game.

THE AGONY OF PILES

Is Ended by Zam-Buk

The alternate burning, aching, itching and smarting of piles, and the misery to the body generally which this ailment brings, are cured by Zam-Buk. Piles result from congestion of certain veins, and Zam-Buk speedily gives ease by softening the tissues and reducing the congestion. Stops bleeding, too.

Mrs. A E Gardner, of Catalina, writes: "For 12 years I have been troubled with blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and have been using various kinds of ointments, etc., but never came across anything to equal Zam-Buk. This balm cured me completely. You are at liberty to do what you will with these remarks. And that they may be the means of helping some of those who are suffering from piles to try Zam-Buk is the wish of one who has found great relief."

Mr. Enoch Mills, of Walsall, says:—"I suffered forty years from piles. The itching, burning and smarting were so terrible that when I went to bed at night I could sometimes hardly lie still. I tried sulphate of zinc ointment, coal-tar ointments, and everything I could think to get ease from, but until I got Zam-Buk I got no relief. Zam-Buk cured me, and made me like a different man. My general health is vastly improved.

Sure to be so, because where piles exist the general health is bound to suffer. If you have piles remember this case, and try Zam-Buk. If you suffer from skin disease, eruptions, scrofula, eczema, ulcers, ringworm, abscesses, etc., Zam-Buk would benefit you. It also cures cuts, burns, bruises, scalds, insect stings, sore feet, sore nipples, barber's rash, and all skin diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere sell at 50c. a box, or post post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price (6 boxes for $2.50.)

LILIES SURPRISE FANS IN LAST NIGHT'S GAME

Defeated the Lakeviews by Wide Margin in Four Innings

Fortune does not rest long with the teams in the Intermediate City Baseball League, or the teams have not reached that efficiency which will win a string of games. After batting the Karnots unmercifully on Saturday, the Lakeviews fell before the Lilies last night by the score of 10 to 3 in four innings. The fun started right at the beginning by Theobald dropping an easy pop to third that Hillier bit out. That was the first innings and by a series of errors the Lilies notched six runs. The Lakeviews were by no means playing the ball that they are capable of, whereas the Lilies were there for everything. The remaining three innings will be played on Wednesday night. The teams faced the music as follows:

Lilies.—Hillier c, Graham p, Price 1b, Shambo 2b, Foley ss, Webb 3b, Connors rf, Pilling cf, Simmons lf.

Lakeviews.—Mahoney p, Menzies c, Holland ss, Wilson 1b, McGill, 2b, Theobald 3b, Carson cf, Letellier rf, Doherty lf.

Struck out by Graham 6; Mahoney 4. Hit by pitcher Pilling and Webb. Base on balls, off Graham 2; two base hits, Foley 2, Hillier. Passed balls Hillier 1, Menzies 1. Scorer, Ed. Carr. Mr. Stacey as usual conducted the game in a creditable manner.

JAP PRINCE IN LONDON

METROPOLIS GIVES ROYAL WELCOME TO MIKADO'S COUSIN.

Received by Brilliant Gathering of High Officials—Guarded by "Sovereign's Escort" — Drives Through Cheering Crowds to Buckingham Palace Where Prince Fushimi Has Audience of the King.

A most royal welcome was given to Prince Fushimi, cousin of the Emperor of Japan, when he arrived in London recently, as special envoy of the Emperor to the Court of St. James, in return for Prince Edward of Connaught's visit to Japan, the object of which was to convey the Order of the Garter to His Majesty. The Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family, the Premier, the Cabinet Ministers and a number of army and navy officers of high rank greeted the Japanese prince at the station.

Then followed a brilliant state procession, with what is known as a "sovereign's escort" of troops, through cheering crowds to Buckingham Palace, where Prince Fushimi had an audience, lasting an hour, with King Edward. The Prince afterward proceeded in state to York House, where he will reside during his stop in London. The prince was accompanied by Admiral Yamamoto, former Minister of the Navy, and a distinguished suite. Soon afterward King Edward formally returned the visit.

The ridicule with which prohibition of the presentation of "The Mikado" has been received has caused a reconsideration on the part of the Lord Chamberlain, and it is now announced that if certain modifications are made in the text the restriction will be removed.

A petition is in preparation for presentation to Prince Fushimi, cousin of the Emperor of Japan, asking him to intercede for the removal of the ban, and the latter is reported to have remarked that he would like to see the opera himself, as he had always understood that it was delightful and harmless.

A SILLY MISTAKE.

But It Did Not Turn Out as the Colonel Expected.

Beef was very scarce in Ladysmith during the seige, but Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, then a colonel, insisted that "horse is not half bad when properly cooked and when one is used to it. In fact," he said, concluding a discussion, "I have a joint cooked tonight which I hope you will all sample. Of course there's beef, too—tonight!" Everyone at the table preferred the beef, with the exception of Colonels Ward and Ian Hamilton, who ostentatiously carved generous slices from the "horseflesh."

The dinner was nearly over when one of the servants whispered a communication to Ward. Up he sprang. "I'm distressed, gentlemen," he announced to the startled company. "A silly mistake has been made. Those joints were mixed up somehow, and you have been eating the horse! I'm really annoyed, but I hope you'll be convinced now that the meat is splendid eating! I'm sure you all seemed to enjoy it!" Glances were exchanged; moustaches were twirled. Nobody seemed ready with a response. Then a voice from the bottom of the table piped up: "Oh, don't distress yourself, Ward. I thought some mistake had been made. So I just changed those dishes as they stood on the sideboard. It was you and Hamilton had the horseflesh all right!"

Vandal At Shelley's Grave.

A correspondent who visited the Protestant Cemetery at Rome the other day reports an act of silly vandalism at Shelley's grave. "As we wandered about," says the correspondent, "we saw for about half an hour a young man tourist sitting on Shelley's grave, carefully occupied in cutting the marble with a sharp instrument.

"We thought he was restoring the lettering, but, coming to his side, we found that he had cut his own name (which I will not give), 'New Zealand, April, 1907. I love thee,' close to the inscription on the flat white marble surface. He had then soaked with ink his own work, leaving the disgraceful fruits of his vandalism for all who visit this interesting place. How any professing admirer of Shelley could be guilty of such conduct passes belief.

Appointed to High ——

The Executive Council of the I.O.F. has appointed Mr. Wm. H. Hunter of the law firm of Hunter & Hunter to the post of Supreme Counsellor of the Foresters.

Mr. Hunter is a son of Mr. J. Howard Hunter, K. C., inspector of insurance, registrar of friendly societies and loan corporations. For years he has been associated with the order and was solicitor for the organization, appearing for it at the Insurance Commission.

At the winding up proceedings in connection with the Atlas Loan Co. of St. Thomas Mr. Hunter represented the liquidators, the National Trust Co.

His duties will now consist of revising the decision of the Supreme Court and Executive Council. The vacancy was created by the appointment of Mr. Elliott G. Stevenson to the office of Chief Ranger at the death of Dr. Oronhyatekha.

The following gentlemen compose the Executive Council:—Messrs. Elliott G. Stevenson, Supreme Chief Ranger; Victor Morin, Montreal, Past Supreme Chief Ranger; J. D. Clark, Dayton, Ohio, Supreme Vice-Chief Ranger; R. Mathison, Supreme Secretary; H. A. Collins, Supreme Treasurer; Dr. Millman, Supreme Physician, and W. H. Hunter, Supreme Counsellor.

Good For Twenty.

"Lawyers get stung as easily as other people," said one who practices in the criminal courts. "Here's what happened to me the other day: A friend of mine tipped me off that there was a case coming up in special sessions and it would be easy to get the defendant, a negro, free.

"'There's a twenty in it for you,' he added. 'I've got another case on upstairs or I would take it myself.'

"Sure enough, I got the fellow off, and when we reached the corridor I politely intimated that I had heard there was a twenty awaiting me for my trouble.

"'Sure thing, boss,' said the negro, diving into his pockets. 'It certainly am worth twenty, all right.' Without a smile he handed over two dimes."

How to Be Miserable.

Charles Kingsley's recipe for being miserable is as follows: "Think about yourself, about what you want, what respect people ought to pay you and what people think of you—in other words, centre all your thought on self—and you will have abundance of misery."

SNAPPED AT LAST.

Miss Marie Corelli and the Photographer—An Amusing Scene.

Miss Marie Corelli's well-known antipathy to photographers was responsible for an amusing scene at Stratford-on-Avon church the other day.

The authoress of "The Sorrows of Satan" was just leaving, after having laid a floral tribute upon Shakespeare's grave in remembrance of the poet's birthday, when two photographers, who had been taking pictures of the church, noticed her.

Seizing their snap-shot cameras they crept out and stationed themselves in the churchyard path. Miss

MARIE CORELLI.

Corelli, however, noticed them, and turned sharp round to the right, while a gentleman friend stood between her and the cameras. The manoeuvre was successful, and the lady walked quickly round the church till she met the sexton.

Novelist's Strategy.

She enlisted him in her service, and he walked before her, while the gentleman guarded the right flank. Meanwhile the snapshot artists hovered round, and made several futile attempts to get a front view of the lady. At last one of them sprang out from behind a buttress right in front of her, and secured a picture before she had time to turn away her face.

Here the popular novelist proved herself a strategist. Instead of railing at the man she walked up to him, and smilingly said, "I ask you, as a gentleman, to promise me that you will not publish that photograph." The look of elation vanished from the photographer's face, but he granted the lady's request. Miss Corelli shook him by the hand; he raised his hat, and they parted.

Meanwhile the other artist had been focussing his camera on this little scene. He was caught in the act, however, and a similar promise was extracted from him.

Rhodes' Oxford Memorial.

The tablet shown in the cut was recently unveiled at Oxford by Lord Rosebery. It commemorates the foundation of the Rhodes' scholarships.

RHODES OXFORD MEMORIAL.

The late Cecil Rhodes was a student at Oriel College. In view of the fact that the Rhodes' scholarships are open to American competition the unveiling of this tablet is of especial interest.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

AN ODD TRICK.

The Goblets Remain Intact, Though You Smash the Stick.

Here's a little experiment with which you may amuse and surprise your friends, provided you can convince your mamma that you have no desire to smash her glassware and that the trick you are about to perform will not injure in the least the goblets you want her to lend you.

Place two chairs facing each other, with a glass goblet on the edge of each.

HOW THE STICK IS LAID.

Take a stout stick of almost any kind and place it so that each end will rest on the rim of one of the goblets.

Having completed your apparatus, take a stout broom handle and strike the suspended stick a violent blow in the middle. Every one will be certain that both the goblets will be smashed to pieces. But they will remain intact, and the stick, stout though it may be, will be broken in the middle. The philosophy of this experiment is simple. The force of the blow breaks the suspended stick before it can be communicated to the goblets.—Exchange.

Gardening Game.

This is gardening made easy.

Each of the players is asked in turn what was planted in his garden and what came up.

Articles planted may be of any description, but must come up plants of some kind whose names have some punning connection with the articles planted—for example:

First Player—I planted a ball, and it came up a rubber plant.

Second Player—I planted the United States, and it came up a motor carnation (car nation).

Third Player—I planted a calendar, and it came up dates.

Fourth Player—I planted a ship, and it came up a dock.

Fifth Player—I planted an old coat, and it came up firs (furs).

Sixth Player—I planted a watch, and it came up 4 o'clock.

Seventh Player—I planted a pert young miss, and she came up a wallflower.

Eighth Player—I planted some steps, and they came up hops.

Ninth Player—I planted an Irishman, and he came up a potato.

Notorious Fenian Dead.

In Dublin, at the age of 77, John O'Leary, the famous leader of the Fenian brotherhood, has passed away.

At an early age O'Leary joined the Young Ireland party, which, full of passion and fine poetical ideals, early drifted into rebellion. When in 1849, Queen Victoria visited Ireland, O'Leary joined James Fintau Lalor in a wild scheme to capture the Queen, convey her to some fastness in the Wicklow Mountains, and there hold her prisoner until ransom was paid, in the form of Irish freedom. Fortunately, this mad conspiracy was frustrated by the illness of Lalor, without whom the other plotters could not act.

In September, 1865, O'Leary, became editor of the "Irish People," and was arrested and sentenced to 20 years' penal servitude for treason. He was amnestied in 1870, and after passing the remainder of his sentence in exile in France, returned to Dublin, where he devoted himself to journalism and literature.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

We are reminded of this story by a recommendation of the Royal Commission. Those gentlemen would lim[illegible] margin of safety which a life company may retain in the form of undivided surplus to a maximum of four per cent. of the policy liabilities in a large co[illegible]. This remarkable regulation would keep the companies always at the very edge of the precipice of insolvency. Bonds of the highest class have declined in value more than four per cent. in a single year. The securities of one American company (which owns no stocks) declined in value last year over $10,000,000, and those of other companies in proportion. Our commissioners gravely propose that the business shall be so conducted that any great financial crash must send a number of the best companies into insolvency! A substantial rest is a merit in a bank, but a crime in an insurance company! The foolish idea comes, of course, from New York. But the Canadian Commissioners have gone even further than their model. New York permits a margin of five per cent. Our Commissioners reduce that to four. New York permits companies to retain larger margins, if they already have such. This our Commissioners refuse. New York allows the undistributed surplus on Deferred Profit policies to be retained as a further safeguard. This surplus, our Commissioners declare, must be alloted and converted into a legal liability! If their desire was to wreck our best companies, no surer method could have been suggested. But what is the verdict of the policyholders? Do they wish the companies to drive close to the precipice or to keep far from it?

The Kirkfield Lift Lock Opening Saturday July 6

Date of Official Opening is Announced--- Postmaster-General and Minister of Labour Will be Present.

PROGRAMME FOR FUNCTION

The date for the official opening of the Kirkfield lift lock has been decided on. It will be on Saturday, July 6. The Government will be represented on this occasion by Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, Postmaster-General. The details of the opening programme have not yet been fully decided upon, but the function will be on a scale in keeping with the importance of the event.

The opening of this lock will throw open for navigation a stretch of water 160 miles in length, from Lake Simcoe on the west to Healey Falls on the east, and it will now be possible for steamers to navigate from Peterborough to below this city direct to Orillia and Barrie.

The opening ceremonies will take place at 1 o'clock, and it has been suggested that, in order to permit many Peterborough persons to attend, some society in the city should arrange to run an excursion to Kirkfield. This could be done either by an all-rail route or by part rail and water, going from Lindsay through the beautiful lakes of Sturgeon, Cameron and Balsam, to Kirkfield.

The importance of an event of this kind cannot be too much emphasized, indicating, as it does, the beginning of the end so far as the completion of the canal is concerned. It will be remembered that $700,000 have been placed in the estimates for expenditure this year on the canal, and it is expected that before the year is closed, contracts for upwards of $2,000,000 will have been entered into.

The details of the programme for the opening, which are in charge of the superintendent of the canal and his staff, will be announced in a few days.

MORE NAME PLATES ARE DISCOVERED

Central Park Excavations Reveal Graves of the Dead—An Amusing Incident

More evidences of the graves of the long forgotten departed have been unearthed by the discoveries at the new armoury excavations.

Yesterday evening a couple of skeletons were dug up, together with coffin plates in a partial state of preservation. One of the skeletons was that of a young girl, and on the skull the hair still remained.

The coffin plate which was more preserved than the others bore the inscription "Mary Coughlin, Died April 1, 1842, aged 40 years." Another plate bearing the words, "Daniel Sheehy, Died 28th J——, 184—, aged 79 years," was found. The rust had eaten away the letters and figure indicated by the blanks, and also the outside of the plate was gone. The name on the third was undecipherable, although one or two letters could be still made out.

A rather amusing incident is related of an Irishman, who only yesterday joined the staff of employees on the excavation work. Mr. Murphy, when placed on the job, was told not to be frightened if he happened to run across a skull or two. "Holy Moses! skeletons here! I won't sleep to-night!" was this startling exclamation.

A few minutes later his pick crashed through the skull of a skeleton, and the name plate was discovered and read. Mr. Murphy was highly elated, however, when he was told that he had found ——'s grandfather.

Lightning Struck Town Hall During A Storm

Ennismore's Municipal Building Was Struck During Electrical Storm Yesterday Afternoon and Damaged.

THE RAIN DID MUCH GOOD

The town hall, Ennismore, was struck by lightning last night and the farmers are in a high state of rejoicing. Not because of the fact that the building was smitten, but because the lightning accompanied the welcomed deluge of rain, which one enthusiastic farmer this morning said was worth more than a dozen town halls.

About 5.30 last evening, during a severe electric storm, the tower of the town hall was struck by lightning, and considerably ripped up, but not set on fire. The loss by damage is covered by insurance.

But the mishap to the town hall pales into insignificance before the blessed boon of the plentiful rain that fell in Ennismore. For about an hour yesterday evening the rain descended in torrents, accompanied by some hail, which, however, did no damage. But the rain was a blessing to the crops, which to-day, with the heat and moisture are fairly leaping in growth. The chief volume of rainfall confined itself to a belt between two and a half and three miles in width, crossing over Ennismore and extending west and east into Emily and Smith townships. The benefit to the crops of this timely rain is simply incalculable. The storm extended south to Chemong, but was comparatively light, and only a few drops of rain fell in Peterborough.

Masked Burglars Enter Young Ladies' Bed Chamber

Operations Extending to Southern Part of City—Mr. Shaughnessy's Residence Entered During the Night.

SEEN BY ONE OF GIRLS

The burglars are again on the warpath, their latest base of operations being in the south end in the vicinity of the locks bridge. This morning about 3 o'clock two men entered the residence of Mr. Stephen Shaughnessy, who lives on the other side of the bridge, and ransacked everything in one of the rooms occurrence.

in which two of Mr. Shaughnessy's daughters were sleeping.

One of the girls heard them coming up the stairs and enter the room, but she was too frightened to sound an alarm. They wore masks over their eyes, so that their features were not recognized.

While one of the invaders watched at the door of the chamber, the other searched the dresser and clothes closet, apparently, for money, as nothing was found to be missing this morning. Their search was fruitless, as they overlooked the spot where the money was kept.

Mrs. Shaughnessy heard the front door open and the steps on the stairs, but thinking that some of the boys were coming in, took no notice of the Tea was served on the lawn from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which a delightful programme was rendered by the choir, Rev. Dr. Metzler acting as chairman. The programme consisted of choruses by the choir, vocal solos by Mr. E. Dodge and Miss Irene Mowry, and recitations by Miss Eva Stevenson. The different numbers were much appreciated.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Mathieson arrived home after an eight months' visit in the Western States and in British Columbia, where the roses bloom in winter and where the sight of snow is a novelty. Mr. Mathieson states he is much improved in health since leaving Peterborough and his appearance indicates the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson spent the greater part of the time at Coos Bay on the Pacific Coast in the State of Oregon and one of the prettiest spots along the coast of America. Coos Bay is at town of about 4,000 people where the chief industry is lumbering which makes the air there all the more refreshing.

GOOD ROADS

A drive through the country demonstrates that there is the same lack of system in the management of county highways as prevails in cities, like, say, Peterborough. The pathmasters seem to select the most beautiful season of the year for what, with a great stretch of imagination, is called repairing the roads. When the trees bordering the highways are in their fullest leafage, when the countless perfumes of flowers and clover meadows coming into bloom, impregnate the air with sweetly composite scents, when other conditions conduce to the greatest pleasure, that is largely destroyed by being bumped over mounds of newly laid gravel stretching in unrolled ridges long distances. With the gravel and earth dumped on the roads there are mixed large stones and no attempt seems to be made to rake out the stones and firm the gravel by rolling. These stones present bad obstacles for years after the gravel is placed; they project high above the adjacent level of the roadway and a wheel coming against them, a shock is communicated to the vehicle which produces more wear and tear than miles of progress on a smooth road surface. It is difficult to understand why farmers thus injure their own interests. It is to their interest more than to that of any other class to have good roads, which represent comfort in travel, saving of time and saving of wear and tear to vehicles and horses, amounting collectively, in the course of a season, to ten times the amount of money which would be required to put the roads in decent shape.

One utterly fails to see why they are so indifferent to the question of good roads, why they are so shortsighted and even blind in this matter. In the county of Welland an example is given of the manner in which the farmers, or their representatives, stand in their own light and resist progress in the direction of securing good roads, as strenuously as if they were defending themselves from somebody attempting to rob them of their farms. The County Council considered the adoption of a good roads system in the county. It is a fact difficult to believe, but nevertheless a fact, that of the seven members voting for the immediate passage of the bylaw, only one represented a country municipality—the other six represented town or village municipalities. The country municipality would get the lion's share of the benefit, while the urban municipalities, which would be taxed for their share of the cost, would in some cases pay a larger share, while receiving only an indirect benefit. The country municipalities would get nearly all the direct benefit. So long as this spirit is to the fore, so long shall we continue to have our country lying under the bane of bad roads. The only way seems to be to persist in the crusade of education, to perpetually present the wisdom of making good roads, and the waste and folly of keeping bad roads.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Alas for the rarity of human charity under the sun! It seems, says the Lindsay Post, that when Mr. Crothers, of Stt Thomas, returned that $2,000 check he had his eye on the nomination. And now his party laughs, and says that the man who would give back $2,000 of Government money isn't the kind to get favours for West Elgin.

COUNTY CONSTABLE HAS A LONG DRIVE

Getting Information in Otonabee About the Egg Stealing Case

Yesterday was a busy day for County Constable Cochrane in the discharge of his duties as constable. In the morning he drove through Smith township in search of witnesses for the case against Robert Jewell, who is charged with insanity. Jewell has been examined by Doctors Boucher and Eastwood, who have declared that his mind is deranged. Evidence was taken this afternoon before Magistrate Edmison, and it is probable that as soon as the necessary papers can be gotten out, Jewell will be sent to the asylum.

In the afternoon Mr. Cochrane accompanied by Harold Scott, who is accused of participating in the theft of eggs from Mrs. Manley, of Otonabee, drove to the residence of Mrs. Manley, to Allandale and to Keene in search of witnesses.

Mrs. Manley recognized Scott as the youth who varnished the chair to show the good quality of the varnish he had for sale.

At Allandale it was found that Donnelly disposed of a crate of eggs to a lady in a store who states she had discovered as soon as he had gone that a few on the top were good, that a couple of rows were empty and that the rest were half hatched. The case comes up before Magistrate Edmison at 10 o'clock on Friday morning and promises to be an interesting one.

THE CITY COUNCIL WILL ATTEND FUNERAL IN A BODY

As Mark of Respect for Memory of Late Adam Dawson

As a mark of respect for the memory of the late Adam Dawson, who was for many years a prominent member of the City Council, the members will attend the funeral in a body. On Friday afternoon when the remains will be interred, the members of the council will meet at the city hall at 2 o'clock where carriages will be in waiting.

MICHAEL FALLON BEFORE JUDGE WELLER

Case Was Enlarged Until Monday Afternoon—D. O'Connell, Counsel

Michael Fallon, who was committed for trial by Magistrate Dumble, appeared before His Honour Judge Weller yesterday afternoon. The only new feature was the evidence given by the prisoner's mother and sister.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the defendant. Owing to the case not being concluded His Honour enlarged it until Monday afternoon.

It will be remembered that Fallon was accused of having broken into the residence of Mr. R. Nimmo, early on the morning of June 8th.

At the trial yesterday, Miss Nimmo, Mrs. R. Nimmo, P. C. Newhall and P. C. MacDonald gave their testimony as recorded in this issue a few days ago in reporting the preliminary hearing at the police court. This composed the prosecution, and for the defence Mr. D. O'Connell called the prisoner's sister and mother, who declared that Fallon was at home all the time mentioned.

All the evidence was not in, and the hearing was adjourned until Monday.

Large Number Handed Over Their Greenbacks for Neglect

Norman LeBar, Walter LeBar, Percy Holland, Gordon Holland, Jos. Ahearn, George Ahearn, Edwin Armstrong and Geo. Brisbois appeared at the Police Court this morning, charged with having stolen oats, the property of the Quaker Oats Co. Mr. S. R. Armstrong, City Clerk, again occupied the Magistrate's chair in the absence of Mr. Dumble. The boys were remanded until next Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

The careless neglect to pay statute labour tax meant that the following men had to pay their dollar in court, with an additional 90 cents for the trouble caused to the city: M Halighan, Harry Udy, Laurence Connors, Wm. O'Keefe, J R Dundas, Thos. Bosworth, R W Graham, Ed. Lechlire, David Beavis, Thos. Hickey, Harry Cain, Ed. Barnette, Jas. Judd, George McClephan, Fred Roddy, Mr. Roddy is in Detroit, and Mr. McClelland is at camp with the soldiers. Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., with his chorus at the minstrel show, certainly made a hit, but it was easy, when compared to the grand ensemble of voices this morning, when, as Chief Roszel said, "Well, say nae," they burst fourth in mournful numbers, "Good-bye, Mr. Greenback; well, I Hates to See You Go." It was a very touching scene, the court room was resounding with many deep sighs, but the Chief only smiled as his pile of two-dollar bills increased.

After the gold had been harvested by poll-tax, the Magistrate tacked off in another direction and gathered in $1.20 from Mr. Jas. Ball. It seems that Harry Dunsford had given him a thrashing, but latterly had apologized, and Mr. Ball was satisfied. He asked that the case be withdrawn, and the Chief was willing.

SOME OF THE FIRST FISH YARNS

Reported Catch of a 16 3-4 Pound Lunge —Only a Few Successful

Little Lake and the Otonabee River were again dotted with hopeful anglers at an early hour yesterday morning, and although many fish stories of catches of the "big 'uns" have been reported, there is little evidence to show that more than a few were successful. A couple of well-known local sportsmen reported a catch of a 16 3-4-pounder off Cemetery Point, but when the facts of the case were ventilated it was discovered that only one of them went after the finny monsters of the deep, while the other framed a vivid story of how it was hooked on the trawl and hauled into the canoe.

Yesterday morning Mr. Al. Haskill was a fortunate angler and landed a beauty in Little Lake. So far as is known he was the only lucky fisherman on the lake.

This morning Mr. W. F. Green of Water street was reported to have caught a 10-pounder in Little Lake. Mr. Robt. Glover was also the lucky capturer of a 6-pound bass off Cemetery Point.

CHEMONG LAKE ANGLERS SUCCESSFUL

Two Peterborough Men Captured Four 'Lunge Yesterday Afternoon

Examiner Special.

Chemong, June 18.—The fishing season here opened very brightly yesterday and a number of good catches were made. Among the successful anglers were Messrs. D. W. Porter and S. A. Trude, of Peterborough, who between the hours of 4 and 6 in the evening, hooked and landed 4 'lunge averaging about 6 pounds. The 'lunge are reported to be very gamey this year as the boys had difficult tasks in landing their captures.

Mr. and Mrs. Cardoff and daughter, of Rochester, are guests at the Chemong Hotel.

OTONABEE FARMERS' CROPS LOOKING WELL

Mr. Cochrane Believes Them to be Advancing Rapidly

Mr. Geo. Cochrane drove to Allandale and Keene yesterday and was surprised to find the crops in Otonabee township looking so well. Mr. Cochrane has done considerable travelling during the last week or two and states that in no place has he observed the grains making such rapid growth as in the township to the south.

FIRST EXCURSION OF THE NEW STEAMER

Moonlight Trip To-night and Farmers' Excursion To-morrow to Idyl Wyld

To-night the first trip of the new steamer Otonabee will be made, when the moonlight excursion of the Men's Guild of St. Luke's Church will be run. It is probable that this trip will be well patronized and the prospects for a successful season for this new steamer seem bright.

To-morrow the Farmers' Excursion will be run to Idyl Wild, where a gigantic picnic will be held. If the day is fine, and the prospects for fine weather are good, there should be a record crowd to-morrow.

WANT A HALF HOLIDAY ON THURSDAY

Clerks Will Petition Their Employers to That Effect

Local clerks are agitating for a Thursday half holiday during the summer months, and will, it is understood, present a petition to the merchants to that effect. The clerks feel that the half holiday system last year was a success, and say that there was no loss of business to the merchants as a result; while the clerks were able to give better service by reason of their respite from duties, and their being able to be away from a hot and dusty city for a few hours.

It is hoped that when the employers are approached in respect to the matter that they will accede to the request of the clerks, and grant them a boon that will have no harmful effect upon their business and, at the same time, will greatly benefit the clerks.

STUDY IN PASTEL FROM MENDEL STUDIO

A very pretty and animated photograph, delicately coloured by a new process of pastil, is attracting attention in the hall show case of Louis Mendel's studio, George street. The bright young lady appears in a Japanese costume, in which the artist has been particularly lucid in delineating a characteristic Japanese pose and effect throughout. The colour treatment is soft and warm, enhancing the happy sitter's character representation; while the attention given to the shading and accessories, gives evidence that Mr. Mendel possesses an artistic interpretation of his "Study in pastel," and which he has so cleverly elaborated.

In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

NEW PIANOS FOR THE HOTEL AND STEAMER

Two new pianos were received yesterday by the Otonabee Navigation Company, one for the hotel at Lily Wild and the other for the steamer Otonabee. With this music there should be no dull moments on the new steamers.

RARE EXPONENTS OF THE CABINET MAKERS' ART.

The cases of the New Scale Williams Pianos are indeed rare exponents of the cabinet makers' art. Nothing made surpasses their chaste simplicity, or, if you are a lover of the ornate, the gorgeousness of their finish.

The New Scale Williams Piano itself, however, is the real value of the instrument, and it fully carries out the promise of its beautiful exterior.

ENNISMORE'S ANNUAL PICNIC YESTERDAY A SPLENDID SUCCESS

One of the Largest Gatherings in the History of This Parish Held in Tara Grove Yesterday Afternoon.

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

A Brilliant Array of Speakers—Congratulations Extended on Success of the Event—A Prosperous Township.

Ennismore picnic, the day of days was yesterday, the feature of attraction for a number not only of the residents of the city of Peterborough, but it also proved sufficiently attractive to bring many from other counties, the bordering county of Victoria being well represented.

There was a special significance in the celebration yesterday. It was the anniversary of the day on which one of the greatest of British Generals, an Irishman, Wellington defeated the great Napoleon at Waterloo.

Good weather generally favours this picnic, and, during the greater part of the day yesterday ideal weather conditions prevailed, the only feature which marred the pleasure in any way was a shower of rain which came up rather unexpectedly towards the close of the afternoon. It takes more than a shower of rain, however, to spoil an Ennismore picnic, and this was merely an incident of a thoroughly delightful day.

The picnic each year is made the occasion for a day's outing by many citizens of Peterborough, and they find a warm welcome awaiting them from the hospitable parish priest of St. Martins and his open-hearted people.

The attendance yesterday was fully as large as usual, about 1,000 persons being on the grounds. There were not too many, however, to be handled, complete arrangements having been made in advance for practically an unlimited number of visitors.

The object for which the funds resulting from the picnic will be devoted is that of wiping off the remaining indebtedness upon the beautiful and commodious T.A.S. Hall, under the auspices of which enterprising society the picnic was held.

At the close of the day Rev. Father Fitzpatrick announced to the assembly that the amount secured during the day would be ample for this purpose and that in the next few days the hall would be free from debt. The amount for which the indebtedness been incurred was for the purpose of providing for the continuation classes in the school, and this most worthy object deserved the heartiest support of every member of the parish.

The picnic yesterday was the fifth annual event held since Rev. Father Fitzpatrick assumed charge of the parish, and the thirteenth he has held during his career as a parish priest. That the picnic was such a success is due, doubtless, in a large measure to the enthusiasm and industry which Father Fitzpatrick has instilled into his people.

The usual refreshment features were again prominent at this picnic, and the dinner provided with lavish hands by the ladies of the parish was greatly enjoyed by those who partook of the good things so generously provided.

In addition to the large dining enclosure there were two booths presided over respectively by Mr. P. Scollard and Misses Lizzie and Lottie Scollard and Mr. Jos. Galvin and Misses Josie Brick and Nellie Donoghue.

A dancing platform was erected and on it the young people enjoyed themselves, the music being supplied by Misses Theresa Guiry and Gertie Maloney and Hickson Brothers. Later in the evening the Ennismore Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. K. Galvin, rendered a number of selections.

A programme of athletic contests, for which the young men of Ennismore are famous, was run off during the afternoon. A complete list of the winners in these events will be published in a few days. The committee in charge of this feature were Messrs. Michael S. Crough, Peter Galvin, W. Killen, John Geary. Those in charge of the gates were Messrs. Stephen O'Reilly, John Scollard, P. and W. Crough and C. O'Reilly.

Those in charge of the arrangements for the tea were Messrs. Paul Costello, J. O'Reilly, Len. McAuliffe, Rich. Killen.

The members of the clergy present were Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville; Rev. Father McCool, Rev. Father Galvin, Rev. Father Kelly and Rev. Father O'Leary, of the Cathedral staff; Rev. Father John O'Brien, of North Bay and Rev. Father Crowley, of Sturgeon Falls.

The T. A. S., under the auspices of which the picnic was held, has a membership of about two hundred and fifty. The officers are:—

President—Mr. M. S. Crough.
Vice-President—Mr. Jas Killen.
Secretary—Mr. P. Galvin.

The members of the committee for this occasion were Messrs. S. Killen, Reeve; W. Killen, John Geary, John Moloney.

The Addresses

A programme of addresses, which are always a feature of Ennismore picnics, was held during the afternoon, Mr. W. Rudkins acting as chairman. Warden McNulty was the first speaker called upon and in a few words expressed his pleasure at being present to meet the Ennismore people and to do honour to his old friend and school-mate, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. He complimented the people of the parish upon the prosperity which was everywhere given evidence to, and congratulated them upon the success of their picnic.

Mr. Ed. M. Elliott, County Clerk followed and remarked that he had first commenced his career as a speaker in Ennismore and had always been given a good reception by the Ennismore people. He also congratulated them upon the success of their annual gathering.

County Councillor Thompson said that he would carry away with him very pleasant memories of this, the first, visit to an Ennismore picnic.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, who can be depended upon to give the humorous speech on an occasion of this kind, lived up to his reputation yesterday, and gave an address when brought him abundant applause.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., congratulated Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and the good people of Ennismore, upon the excellent weather conditions prevailing on this, the occasion of their annual picnic. He thought that the committee in charge had every reason to feel gratified at the success of the event. Ennismore was showing signs of the prosperity prevailing throughout the Dominion, and it was a pleasure to him to see evidences on every hand of the material progress and prosperity of the people of that favoured township.

The immense strides which the county town of Peterborough had made during the last five years, so far as the increase in the volume of the manufactured products was concerned, was a matter for congratulation not only to the city itself, but throughout the county as well, for the prosperity of the city meant the prosperity of the townships surrounding it.

One of the conditions tending to make Peterborough a great city, was the fact that it was on a national waterway, the Trent Canal, with 160 miles of navigation from Lake Simcoe ports to Healey's Falls. He looked forward to the time when there would be a wharf on the Ennismore side of the lake, and when the products of the farm could be shipped direct from its shores to the market.

Mr. Hall concluded his address by wishing Ennismore and its popular priest every success.

In a neat speech, Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's, Peterborough, spoke of the pleasure of joining his former parishioners in their annual picnic. The parish of Ennismore, was, with possibly one exception, that of Peterborough, the richest in the county. He was glad that on an occasion of this kind, they could all meet as brothers in unity.

Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville, brought greetings from the bordering parish, and made his characteristic humorous address.

An interesting address was that given by Rev. Father Crowley, of Sturgeon Falls, in the Diocese presided over by His Lordship Bishop Scollard, a native of Ennismore. Rev. Father Crowley spoke of the great progress being made in that district, and said there was room and plenty of good agricultural land for some of Ennismore's young men.

Ald. Phelan added his congratulations, on a short speech, and Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was also heard briefly, and expressed himself as delighted to be present on such an auspicious occasion.

Hon. J. R. Stratton said there were present many happy people. Everybody seemed delighted and pleased with the day's enjoyment. He was glad to meet his old friends, who had so often shown their kindness and confidence in him. He was glad to meet their popular pastor, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, who, as a young man in sport, and in his work since he assumed the serious duties of life, showed the same zeal, threw his whole heart into the work, and met similar success. He did not know of a parish where pastor and people pull better together, a magnificent hall—none better in the district—being one of the results. After referring to the conditions of trade and commerce, and the prosperity of the city and county, he congratulated them all on the success of the picnic.

After Mr. Stratton's address, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick was heard briefly, and in a few words he expressed his deep thanks to those who had in any way contributed to the success of the gathering, to the people of his parish and to the speakers who had joined in the picnic, and had helped to make it the success it was.

The speeches concluded, the gathering dispersed to again visit the dining enclosure, and here they they were well received and generously treated.

My daughter has improved so much that you would scarcely know her—Miller's Compound Iron Pills did it. Sold by W. Madill.

AN AUSTRIAN FAMILY DEPORTED

Man Developed Insanity and Was Sent Back to His Home in Old Country To-day

MR. LANGFELDT'S INTEREST

To-day Tobias and Emily Wuschko, a family of Austrians, who have been living in the city for the last few months, were deported to Austria. The family is highly respectable, and the husband came to Peterborough to work as a designer for the Colonial Weaving Company. About two months ago he developed signs of insanity, and, through the efforts of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who took a deep interest in their case, they were to-day sent back to their home in Odrau, in Austria Selesia. Mr. Langfeldt came in contact with the family shortly after their arrival in Peterborough, his services being in requisition as an interpreter. When the husband's trouble came the wife naturally turned to Mr. Langfeldt, and through his interest in his welfare money was secured from the Government sufficient to send them back to their home.

SECOND MARCH-OUT OF SEASON

Was Well Attended Last Night—The March Past and Battalion Drill

IMPORTANT ORDERS ISSUED

The second march-out of the season of the 57th Regiment proved a big attraction for the citizens last night, who turned out in large numbers to watch the regiment on the march. Over 270 officers and men mustered at the drill hall at 8 o'clock, marched, down George street to Simcoe street, west on Simcoe to Aylmer street, south to Charlotte street, by way of Water street to McDonel, and entered the park again at the north east corner.

The regiment was accompanied by both bands and martial music predominated. On Central Park, at the conclusion of the parade, the regiment was drilled in the march-past and battalion drill, with music by the 57th Band.

General orders last night contained the announcement that shooting will be called off on June 23, so that all must qualify before that date, and also some orders regarding the composite companies which go into camp at Barrefield next week. The following were the orders issued by Lt.-Col. Miller:

No. 1—Detail of duty for week ending June 25, 1907. Captain for the week, Capt. Hounsell; next for duty, Capt. Watt. Subaltern for the week, Lieut. Fairweather; next for duty, Lieut. Merritt.

A Summer Training School For Separate School Teachers

Special Training Will be Given Them in St. Peter's School During the Month of July This Year.

ONE OF SIX CITIES CHOSEN

The News understands that the Provincial Government has practically decided upon the location of the six summer schools provided under the legislation of the past session, for a training course for Separate school teachers and members of the Roman Catholic educational and religious communities. It is anticipated that the towns chosen will be officially announced to-morrow.

It is probable that the following will be chosen:

Ottawa — For English French teachers in the D'Youville Separate school; for other teachers in the Normal School.

Peterborough — In the St. Peter's Separate school.

Toronto — For male teachers, in De La Salle Separate School; for female teachers, in the Toronto university.

Hamilton — In the St. Anne's Separate School.

Berlin — In the St. Mary's Separate school.

London — In the Sacred Heart Separate School.

It is believed that over five hundred teachers have already intimated to the Education Department their intention to avail themselves of the courses.

The schools will open at 2 p.m. on July 3rd, and continue until August 3rd. The hours of study will be in the morning, 9 till noon, or 8 to 11, and in the afternoon, 2 till 4.

SECOND ANNUAL SUMMER SCHOOL

Under Auspices of Provincial Sunday School Association to be be Held at Port Dover

Mr. Richard Lees has received word from J. A. Jackson, secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association, of the second annual Summer School under the auspices of that association. It will be held at Port Dover, Ont., July 15 to 20, inclusive. The staff of lecturers and their topics are: Rev. Dr. Johnston, Montreal, Old Testament Outlines; Rev. Dr. Courtice, Toronto, New Testament Outlines; F. Tracy, Ph.D., Toronto University, Sunday School Pedagogy and Child Study; J. A. Jackson, B.A., Sunday School History and Organization; and H. W. Brown, B.A., Sunday School Methods and Management.

The school will open on Monday, July 15th, the first lecture being given at 3 o'clock. On the following days of the week, the hours of study will be from 8 o'clock until noon, the afternoons being left free for enjoying the boating, bathing and fishing privileges for which Port Dover is famous. The evenings will be devoted to Conferences on practical Sunday school topics in charge of Mr. Yellowlees, and to addresses of a somewhat popular character by members of the staff.

The expense is not large, as board and lodging can be obtained in Port Dover at rates ranging from four to eight dollars per week. It would literally pay hundreds of the schools to reward a faithful teacher or superintendent by giving them a brief holiday and bearing the expense incident to attendance at the school. For syllabus and full particulars write to J. A. Jackson, rooms 99-100, Confederation Life Building, Toronto.

HOGS AND CATTLE DIE FROM INTENSE HEAT

Shippers Finding it Difficult to Get Animals to Their Destinations

The intense heat of the past few days is playing havoc with the live stock shipping. This morning Mr. W. A. Stubbs found 13 dead hogs in a double-decked car, which contained about 150 altogether. They were shipped from points below Port Hope by Mr. Skinner. The dead animals were burned this morning.

The heat of yesterday was also responsible for the deaths of eight beef cattle, all weighing over 1200 pounds, while they were being shipped to Toronto by Mr. Murphy from points to the northwest of that city. The carcases were sold at one cent per lb. for their hides.

NO DAIRY SHOW BECAUSE OF HON. N. MONTEITH'S OPPOSITION

The Canadian Dairyman in its last issue said:—There is little or no likelihood of its being possible to hold the proposed National Dairy Show next January. Hon. # YOUNG BOYS DESTROY THE PARKS

Caretakers of Victoria and Central Parks Complain of Damage Done

Jordan Bros., who have charge of Victoria and Central Parks, are complaining of the nuisance of small boys tampering with the hose and apparatus for sprinkling the grass. Almost every every day they find it their duty to chase half a dozen or more boys off the parks who are tampering with the sprinkling apparatus or walking all over the flower beds.

They attempt to stop the water by doubling up the hose, and in this way a number of them are destroyed. Mr. Jordan also states that they tramp over the flower beds in Victoria Park and destroy the growing flowers.

The Jordan Bros. have placed over 8,000 plants in the parks this year and have taken considerable pains in making them beautiful. The parents of such children who run at large should have a little more control over them than to allow them to destroy the beauty spots of the city.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver, "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added. In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of bitter replaces one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a box—$2.50 for 6 boxes. # ADDRESS OF WARDEN TO COUNCILLORS.

Refers to Progress of Past Decade—Expenditure of Past Year Spoken Of

DELIVERED LAST NIGHT

To-day was deputation at the County Council session. Two deputations were present asking for grants to the East and West Peterborough Agricultural Societies, both requests being referred to the Finance Committee.

The committee on the Wardens' address, composed of Messrs. Booth, Fife, Moher, Brown, Thompson and Darling, presented its report this morning, through the chairman, the report being as follows:

The committee appointed to consider the Warden's address begs to report as follows:

1—That we heartily concur with the Warden in recognizing the kind hand of Providence in our ratepayers being the recipients of bountiful harvests during the past decade, and still hope for good returns for the present year.

2—The Council is glad to learn that that sufficient funds have been provided for the full completion of the House of Refuge, and that, taking into consideration the condition of the money market, the debentures issued for that purpose have been disposed of on such favourable terms.

3—The Council is very pleased to learn that the Dominion Government has considered so favourably the application presented by the Council to the Government regarding a bridge over the new dam at Buckhorn, and recognize the fact that the action of the Government will result in a very considerable saving of expense to the county.

4—The Council desires to unitedly express their recognition of the very active interest the Warden has shown in county matters since his acceptance of that position and of the able manner in which he has represented the county on all occasions.

Respectfully submitted,
C. R. D. BOOTH,
Chairman.

THE AUTO CAR TO THE RESCUE

Helped a Party of Gentlemen Whose Carriage Was Disabled on the Way to Ennismore Picnic

The auto car came to the rescue yesterday afternoon of an unfortunate party of gentlemen on their way to the Ennismore picnic. While crossing the floating bridge at Chemong their carriage lost one of its wheels, and the car, coming along shortly afterwards, picked the party up and took them to their destination.

PAVILION FOR DANCING IS BEING ERECTED

Dancing Will be a Feature of T. A. S. Picnic

The committee in charge of the T. A. S. picnic have almost completed arrangements for the great event that is to take place on July 1 at the society's park. The men have worked hard to trim the grounds and to make the place as tidy and pleasant as possible. This was not very difficult since the grounds are, naturally, almost perfect and are now in excellent condition. The amusements and games that have been arranged for are too numerous to mention, but everything has been prepared for the purpose of entertaining the people. The men are busy this week building a large dancing pavilion, which will be one of the features of the day for those that care for dancing. The ladies are organized for the purpose of providing meals on the grounds, and only the very best are assured. The people may feel confident that the prices of the various things will be reasonable.

BLAZE AT ST. PHILLIPPE.

Town Almost Wiped Out—Loss Estimated at $50,000.

Montreal, June 19.—About half the village of St. Phillippe, near Laprairie, about 20 miles from Montreal, was wiped out by fire yesterday morning. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

The postoffice, Bank Nationale branch and hay merchant's store in the same building were destroyed, as well as eight residences and a number of barns.

The wind settled on to the southwest, however, and the fire burned itself out on the edge of the ravine.

Had the wind shifted to the east the entire village would have been wiped out.

New York, June 19—Abraham Hummel will be the only person to suffer imprisonment on the conspiracy charge growing out of the Dodge-Morse divorce scandal. Indictments against former Supreme Court Justice Edgar L. Fursman and Charles F. Dodge were dismissed yesterday. Benjamin Ste. Cabinet Backed Up by Chamber of Deputies After Noisy Debate—Government Receive Vote of Confidence—People Prepare to Resist Troops—Barricades Erected—Telegraph Wires Cut Down.

Paris, June 19.—The action of the Government in determining to prosecute the agitators in the south of France led to a lively debate in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, but after a tumultuous session the Cabinet secured an indirect vote of confidence by the large majority of 254.

In a speech which was frequently interrupted by noisy protests, the Premier declared that all means of conciliation were now exhausted, and that as chief of the Government he was bound to enforce respect for the law.
